Dedication

When we first came to Liberty High School in the fall of 1947 as sophomores, we found that we weren't the only novices. The principal, Charles A. Klein, was just beginning his first year as head of the institution which we had just entered. During these three years, as he has helped us to ripen our education, Mr.

Klein has ripened his own experience as an educator, administrator, and civic leader. For him we hold both an honorable respect and a deep affection. Because of this, and the special significance of our being his first full class, the seniors of 1950 choose to dedicate this CAULDRON to Mr. Charles A. Klein, our principal, guide, and friend.

CHARLES A. KLEIN

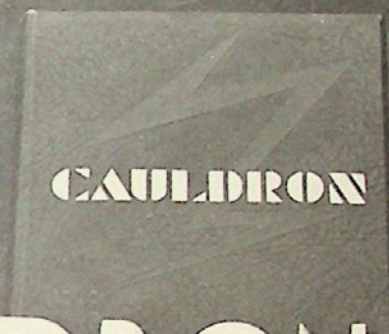

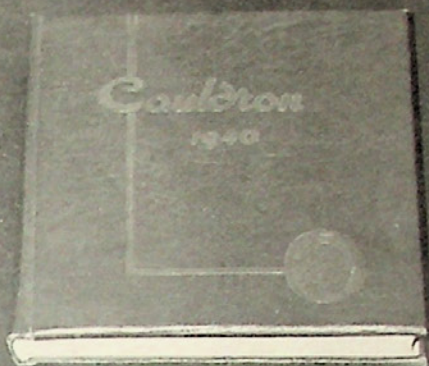

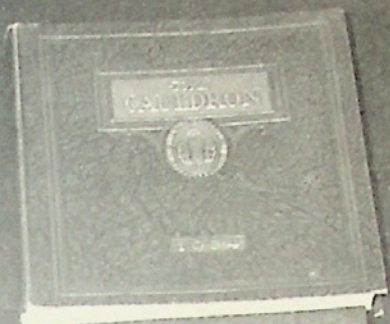

In the past, the CAULDRON was dedicated to academic teachers. Never has anyone thought of dedicating it to a shop instructor. A shop instructor is a man who deals both in a vocational trade and a great deal of academic work. With his understanding and good, sound, advice, the students learn the fundamentals very easily. Such a man is Mr. Joseph Risbon of the electrical shop of the Vocational Department.

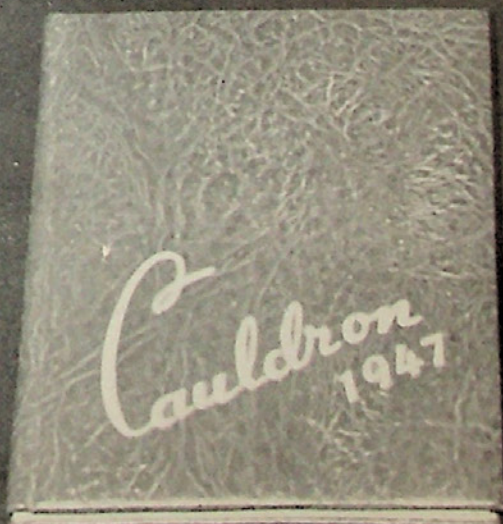

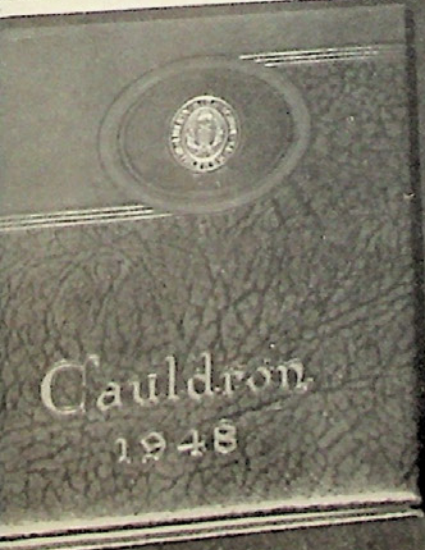

JOSEPH RISBON

A few years ago, he was new to the Vocational Department faculty. However, through his eagerness to get along with his fellow men, he soon knew the students. Now, five years have passed, and through his pleasing personality and friendly talk, he has risen to the top as one of the best-liked instructors of the Vocational Department. It is to you, Mr. Risbon, instructor of the electrical shop, that we proudly dedicate Technical High School's portion of this CAULDRON.

Foreword

The CAULDRON Staff proudly presents the CAULDRON of 1950. Bound within the covers of this book are the fondest memories of good times, trying hours, and true friends.

Within the next several years, each of us will assume our position in life. Naturally, not all of us will attain the same level. Therefore, an element will have to be devised that will bring all of us together again, from time to time, to recall those "good ol' days." Let this year's CAULDRON serve that purpose . . .

OFFICERS

President .....	FRANCIS KOSTELNIK
Vice-President .....	STEPHEN HOWELL
Treasurer .....	DOUGLAS COOK
Secretary .....	SOPHIE BUCKO

Few of us realize the great job which our Senior Class Officers have carried through for us during our three years in high school.

They have shouldered all the responsibility organizing and planning our class activities. Often this involved staying after school many times till late, consulting with our able class advisors, Mr. Cook and Miss Harrison. How can we raise more money? Will the students co-operate? These and many more questions were asked.

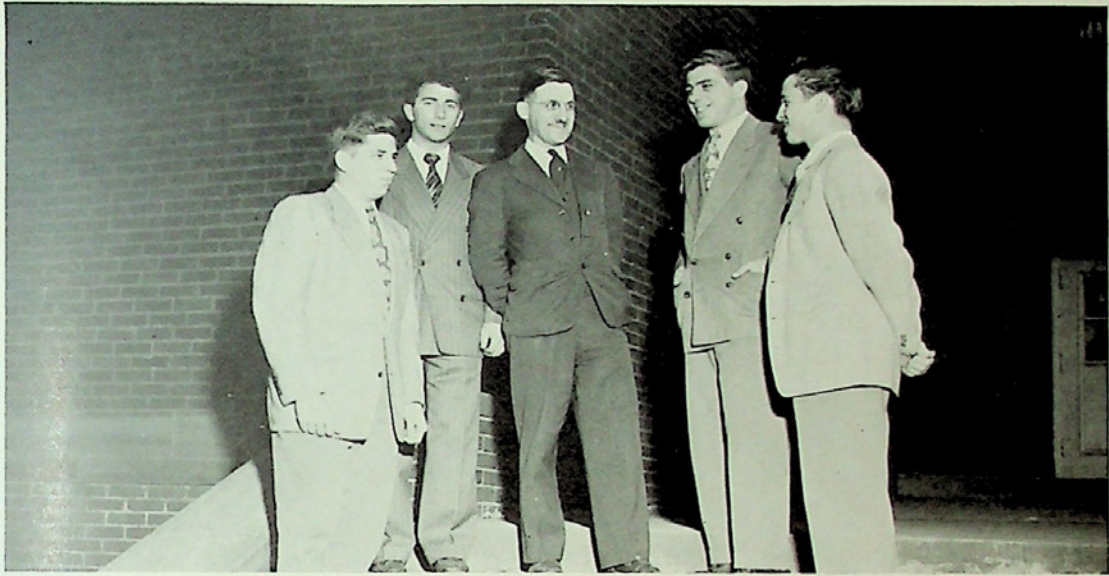

How would you like the job of presiding at a meeting of our class? Francis manages it and in a nice, orderly procedure, also.

And then there are the other officers; Sophie, straightening out notes; Doug, keeping accounts; and Steve; head of all committees. Besides this, they all work at the Pep Dances, too.

After graduation, is it any wonder that our class officers heave a deep sigh of relief? Our senior class expresses its appreciation to you, our chosen representatives who have so faithfully served during our high school years.

TECH SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Left to right: L. Rogacs, Vice-President; V. Villani, Treasurer; Mr. William A. Moyer, Class Advisor; M. Smith, President; M. Pearl, Jr., Secretary.

When we entered the eleventh grade, the Class of '50 elected the following officers:

President . . . . .	MARTIN SMITH
Vice-President . . . . .	LOUIS ROGACS
Treasurer . . . . .	VITO VILLANI
Secretary . . . . .	MICHAEL PEARL

These officers got the class going on all four by planning means of raising funds.

After the vacation following our Junior year, we again returned to complete our final year of education. Through popular demand, the officers who had served the Junior class had been re-elected.

Mr. Moyer who had been our class advisor in '49 was again our advisor.

With Mr. Moyer aiding us, we again had a successful year, thanks to the thirteenth annual minstrel which added tremendously to our class treasury. The minstrel was a success, and because of this fact we received more money. Through Mr. Moyer's and Mr. Ross's assistance, the Senior Class had a prosperous and happy year.

Advisor . . . . . MR. JOSEPH J. MCINTYRE

Let us go back to an ordinary Wednesday afternoon, about 3:30, during the winter of 1949-50. As we pass through the halls on our way out of the building, we notice that there seems to be quite a bit of activity in Room 116, the office of the CAULDRON staff. We decide to enter the room and have a look around.

Back in the corner we see Tom Price, the Editor-in-Chief, who looks like a real executive with piles of papers spread all around him. At his side, of course, is Bob Cook, Tom's managing editor and right hand man. Upon the shoulders of these two fall most of the hard work concerned with the assembling of this book. Scattered in various groups around the room are the associate editors, Ann Adams, Nancy Green, Ruth Hursh, Pat Leamon, Dick Toohey, Barbara Wallace, and Don Ziegenfuss. These have finished their big job of the year, that of writing biographies for each individual senior, and now they are serving the staff in various writing and clerical capacities. Nancy Penniman and Joan Hanto, activities editors, are running around trying to gather the material on the various clubs in Liberty High School. Dorothy Ruyak comes into the room, probably from the office where she made a telephone call as part of her job as business manager. Peggy Ann Harte, her assistant, is running from room to room collecting pictures. Steve Howell comes in from class officers' meeting to get an assignment from Tom for some of the many photographs appearing in the back of this book. Joan Zakeski is also getting some work lined up for the art staff, which is under her charge. Olive Cochran and Marlene Spector, feature editors, are hounding the staff for suggestions for witty ideas to put in the feature section. "Bunny" Levitz stops singing for a moment to do some serious thinking concerning a problem confronting him and his assistant, Don Green, in the boys' sports department. Jane Fegley, girls' sports editor, is either working or just "chewing the fat" over there with her assistant, Frances Ambrush. The material, as it is ready to be typed, is handed to Joan Brodt, chief typist, and her subordinates: Virginia Angelucci, Eleanor Miholics, Mary Donchez, Catheryn Check, Helen Posh, Lucille Reinhardt, and Constance Cunningham.

Well, we've been in the "office" for almost five minutes now, and nobody has even looked over to notice us. C'mon, let's sneak quietly out of here and not disturb these busy seniors, hard at work on this CAULDRON.

The Cauldron staff has worked exceptionally hard this year to produce a book far better than previous years. Along with Liberty High's Cauldron staff we have made many changes. As you read the book you will detect the changes made.

Through the year the boys of the vocational department sacrificed much of their time to produce their section of the Cauldron.

The editors along with our capable advisor, Mr. Franklin Brown, wish to thank the members of the Liberty High Department for the co-operation and willingness to work together to produce this Cauldron.

We of the vocational department thought that the two Cauldron staffs working together was another milestone in bringing the two departments closer together. We hope that the Cauldron staffs next year will have as much enjoyment as we have had working with our fellow students.

THE BARRETTS OF WIMPOLE STREET

Director . . . . . MR. TRUMAN REESE

As you wandered out of the front doors after school early in November, remember all the bustle in the auditorium? This can easily be explained—the seniors were completing their last preparations for the presentation of their annual production. The members of the cast worked tirelessly to perfect their play practicing after school each day, and even giving up their holidays to come to school to run through and put the finishing touches on the many scenes and acts.

This year's play, "The Barretts of Wimpole Street", depicted the thrilling romance between Robert Browning and Elizabeth Barrett. The action of the play taking place in England during the nineteenth century called for the typical dress of that day. This meant fancy long dresses, hoop skirts for the girls, and stiff waist-coats with lacy vests and high starched collars for the boys. What a time the girls had trying to manage those hoop skirts, and remain cool and composed at the same time! Remember how everyone squirmed under all that grease paint and what a time the boys had trying to get used to wearing lipstick?

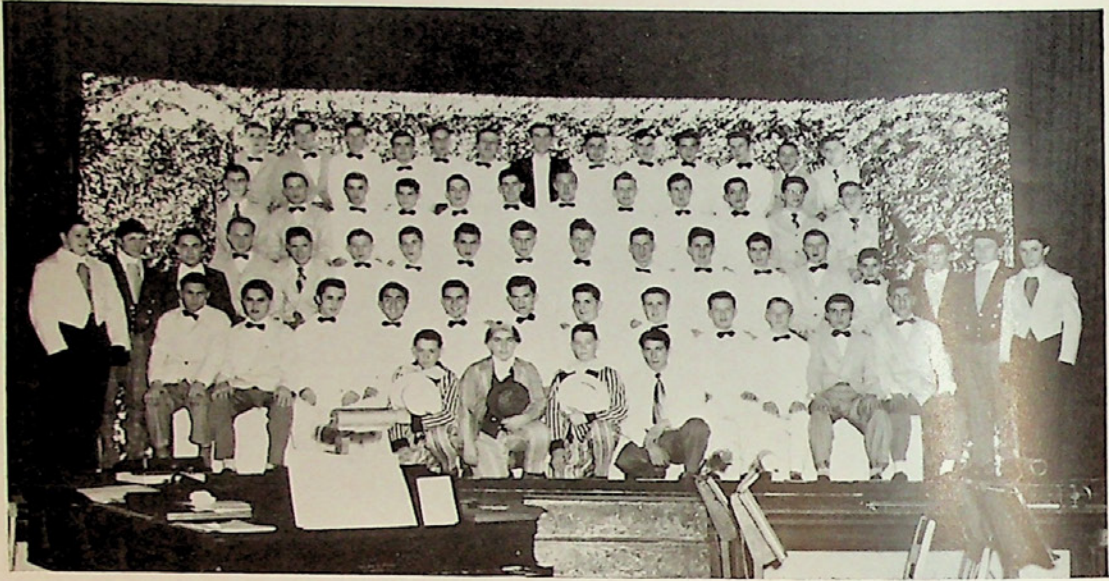

Although many endless hours were spent bringing each act to perfection, we felt more than justly rewarded, to hear the applause of the audience when the curtain fell after the last act.

Director . . . . . MR. ROSS

Yes sir! One thing that "TECH" puts across to the public is the Annual Tech Minstrel.

This past February 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th, this show was presented to the public after tedious months of practice. The public expressed their thanks by the tremendous applause they gave us, at the end of each presentation.

The Minstrel Cast is made up only of Tech students, as you may already have observed in the above picture. This show enables the students to show what talents they possess. It also keeps them off the street at night during their rehearsals which often is the cause of juvenile delinquency.

Each year the Tech Minstrel is entirely different. This includes stage setting, songs, motions, acts, everything—except maybe the gymnasts. This is a school project, which is welcomed by the public each year.

The students of Tech were sure that the past minstrel was going to be another success. Due to their correct prophecy the whole school body (faculty as well as students) has been invited to a half-day picnic in one of the local parks. This picnic is being made possible through a share of the proceeds that were brought in to the school treasury by the Minstrel.

Now you may be wondering who is responsible for these minstrels. Well, before you have a chance to ask I'll tell you. Many of you know him, but for the ones that don't, it's that one and only Herb Ross, a machine shop instructor in our own—TECH. Let us also mention that Jeff LaRose, who is Herb Ross's accompanist, is responsible for the orchestrations.

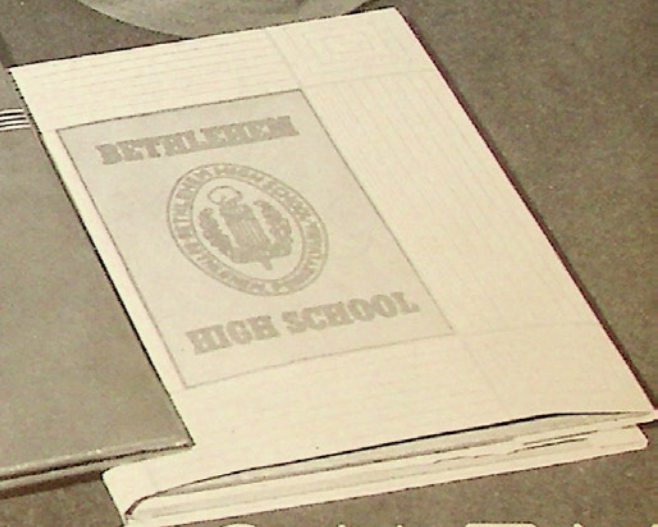

As a result, when completed with Mrs. Ruth Wagner's Glee Club and Mr. Leo Prendergast's Gymnasts, another "TECH Success" is performed.

P.S. Mr. Ross, we want to thank you for the great fame you have brought to "OUR TECH" through your direction of our minstrels. Also we want to congratulate as well as express our many thanks for donating your services and the encouragement you have given us in the past minstrel. Thanks again, "PAL".

"OUT OF THE FRYING PAN"

Director . . . . . TRUMAN J. REESE

"Out of the Frying Pan", the Junior Class play, was quite zany, we must admit. It fit in nicely with modern times, even including the scenery, which we must say was quite "Original."

The play took place in good old New York City and concerned some promising young actors looking for jobs on Broadway. Three boys and three girls shared an apartment on the floor above the apartment where Mr. Kenny, a well-known Broadway producer, lived. They kept hoping he would somehow be able to see them act out his newest play, and one night he came to their apartment, seeking ingredients for a recipe he was trying out, and they persuaded him to stay. Amusing complications result, but everything turned out right.

Everyone cooperated beautifully, members of the scenery designing committee and the scenery painting committee had hours of fun, slopping paint over props and themselves. The cast of the play itself went into hysterics rehearsing some of the scenes, especially the part where everyone was dead in some corner of the stage. During rehearsal of this scene one night, one of the policemen had to laugh because of the expression on the corpse's face. And so it went. Liberty High School added another gem to its long list of fine plays and Mr. Reese won another laurel for his sometime discouraging job of directing a bunch of rather untrained actors and finally moulding them into something special.

The cast was: "Norman", Eugene Field and Richard Taglang; "Tony", Chris Gatanis and John Di Meglio; "George", Donald Pharo and Donald Moore; "Mr. Kenny", Thomas Clay; "Mr. Cobwin", Edward Cressman; "Policeman", Roger Williams and Eddie Gecsek; "Dottie", Eleanor Augustine and Nancy Eisenhart; "Kate", Carole Wilhelm and Georgene Huber; "Marge", Phyllis Stoneback and Sylvia Hoke; "Murile", Hildegard Fleck and Betty Matlick; and "Mrs. Garent", Dorothy Taylor and Elsie Cosner.

STUDENT ASSOCIATION

The Student Association of Liberty High School, under the able direction of Mr. Earl Evans, is one of the most important organizations of the school. This group, consisting of a student representative from each homeroom, is truly democratic in nature. It is an organization "of the students, by the students, and for the students" and aims to help them to become better citizens of tomorrow.

During the year the Student Association undertook the distribution and sale of booster cards before football games, presented a fine assembly program in November, and assisted in the preparations for the Christmas Vespers. Monthly dances were sponsored by the association, and the profits received from these affairs were used for the benefit of the entire student body.

Dates were set aside for our executive staff to meet with Allentown High's Student Council for the purpose of promoting a better sports relationship between the two schools.

Plans for the publication of the 1950 edition of the Liberty High School Handbook have been completed and the copy is ready to go to press.

Students who came to the library fourth period on Fridays found nothing but a closed door and a notice which read: "Library Club meets today period four. The library will be closed that period." On the other side of that closed door there was action aplenty.

All students in the school are eligible for membership in the Library Club. The only requirement is a real interest in books and library work and a real desire to learn more about them. The purpose of the club is twofold: (1). To give students a better understanding of the value and the use of the library and its tools; and (2). To serve as a guide in fostering an interest in Library Science as a career.

During the fourth period every Friday, the fifteen members of the Library Club assembled in the library for business, work, and study meetings, in which they learned something of the many duties which are a part of the library's service to the school. In addition to these regularly scheduled meetings, each member was required to spend one period a week gaining practical experience in library work by assisting the librarian with such routine tasks as checking library permits, charging and discharging books at the desk, shelving books, reading shelves, checking magazines, filing cards, writing overdue notices, recording circulation, preparing books for cataloging, and other library duties. In fact, these embryonic librarians assumed so many tasks that many of them feel qualified to "pinch-hit" for regular librarians in an emergency.

The outstanding activity was the celebration of National Book Week, November 13 to 19, for which the Library Club prepared and presented the two assembly programs and sponsored Book Week contests for the students and the faculty. The winners of these contests—Miss Mary Crow and Katherine Mihlakis, a sophomore—were awarded books of their own choice as prizes.

Although the Library Club is one of the smallest organizations its influence reaches out to the entire student body and faculty.

Le Cercle Francais meets the third Friday in every month to discuss France and French news. The entire meeting is conducted in French with the exception of oral talks. Since it is a French club, the members are naturally interested in French songs and customs. Each meeting they learn and sing French songs of which the average Frenchman is fond.

One member is the Journalist whose job it is to report on current articles concerning France.

In the spring of the year the club goes to New York City to visit French shops, eat in French restaurants, and to see a French movie or play.

This year the second year Latin classes formed Latin Clubs, one meeting during the first period, and the other, the seventh period. The three girls in advanced Latin—G. Barnett, D. Jordan, and N. Weber—joined with the first period whenever possible.

Four planned meetings were held on near holidays in November, December, February, and April and a picnic of the two clubs concluded the year's activities. Programs planned by committees of club members were varied and included Latin games, songs, stories, plays and contests. Sometimes refreshments were served.

The club activities gave the Latin students an opportunity to work co-operatively on programs of common interest and to broaden their knowledge and appreciation of the Romans, their language, and their world.

This is the group of young naturalists of our student body, that is known as the Nature Study Club of Liberty High School. They are not a hiking club, (a term which they would resent), because they hike only as far as they can study.

Mr. Warren M. Horne, crafts instructor, is the faculty advisor. The primary aim of the club is to create in the members a sincere interest in nature. In addition to this, the purpose of the club is to train students to become horticulturists, landscape gardeners, botanists, zoologists, druggists, foresters and nature counsellors at summer camps.

During the winter months indoor meetings are held. At each meeting the members respond to the roll call with some phenomenon in nature that they had observed, heard or read about since the previous meeting. Oral and written reviews, based on the field trips, collections, and instructions are occasionally given. A special assignment was the collection of twelve different seeds and fruits in the fall, which were identified during the winter months, under lessons based on the difference between fruits and seeds. A special study of birds was made during the winter months. Mr. Horne based his lessons on the songs and bird calls of 72 different birds of North America, as recorded in the laboratory of ornithology, of Cornell University. He also used koda-chrome slides in connection with the recordings. At other times the members of the club participated in the program by pointing out the different birds from colored plate charts, at the same time they heard the recordings, which were so realistic that the club actually enjoyed "field trips indoors."

The club enjoyed a special field trip to study the flora of spring and the birds in the month of May, when Miss Gibson was their hostess at her summer home at Mount Pocono, for their annual spring social.

A most enjoyable club for the girls enrolled in one of the Home Economics classes, is the Personality Plus Club. Mrs. John Rodenbach and Miss Jacquelyn Miller are the faculty advisors.

During the year the members of the club were very fortunate to have a few interesting speakers at their meetings. Two of them were Miss Mottor, a Bridal Consultant from Appel's Jewelry Store and Mrs. Myer from the Junior Fashion Department of Hess Brothers.

The main social event of the year, The Sweetheart Dance, was held in February. The highlight of the evening was the selection of the Sweetheart of the Club.

This year the program of the Personality Plus Club has been filled with many wonderful experiences.

The members are invited to many outside functions of the Y. W. C. A., such as the Annual Banquet which was held on January 31 at the Hotel Bethlehem, and the Lecture Concert which was given by Bayard Rustin at the Boys' Club. An opportunity was given to everyone to attend the Y-Teen Mid-Winter conference held at Hazleton in January.

At the meetings in school, various programs were given; one being a "Stop the Music" quiz. A barn dance was also held at the North Side Y. W. C. A. in November.

The purpose of the Y-Teens is "To build a fellowship of women and girls devoted to the task of realizing in our common life those ideals of personal and social living to which we are committed by our faith as Christians".

Blood Transfusions, appendectomies, and tonsillectomies, will become everyday occurrences to those girls of the Future Nurses Club.

At the bi-monthly meetings speakers lecture to the group on several phases of nursing, as well as show slides and movies of their respective colleges which the girls may plan to attend.

A highlight of the club's activities was a tea given for the mothers in order that they might become more familiar with their daughters' interests.

Field trips to various hospitals to observe the life of a nurse performing the duties of her chosen profession, are a source of never ending enjoyment.

During the second semester the senior girls met twice a week to receive a refresher course in nursing mathematics.

The Future Teachers Club, organized for the purpose of interesting members in the vocation of teaching as a career, participated in many activities this year. At the first meeting of the year, the officers were elected, the constitution was revised, and the programs for the rest of the year were planned. In December, the group visited Higbee School to observe the facilities and methods of teaching the physically handicapped children. Miss Walper addressed the club later in the year on "Guidance and Teaching". To illustrate her talk, she used pictures and a tape recorder.

The latter activities for the year included a combined meeting with The Education Club of Moravian College for Men, the viewing of educational pictures pertaining to teaching, visits to various kindergartens in the school system, and studying courses and activities of various colleges. The club also studied and discussed the requirements for teaching in Pennsylvania.

Even though the Future Teachers Club is one of the smallest organizations in the school, it is one of the most useful, for through its activities many of its undecided members have decided to follow teaching as a career.

DRAMATICS WORKSHOP

Advisor.....MR. REESE

Membership in the Dramatics Workshop consists of the students enrolled in the elementary and advanced dramatics courses. Under the tutelage of Mr. Truman J. Reese, Liberty's drama director, the students learn the fundamentals of the art of acting, play production, and drama appreciation.

The Dramatics Workshop staged four plays in school assemblies for the enjoyment of the student body—"Enter the Hero", "The Dear Departed," "A Young Man's Fancy," and "Teapot on the Rocks". In May the Workshop produced the three act comedy, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay", for its annual public production.

The Drama Workshop went "on the air" with a series of eight radio plays presented monthly on Station W G P A for the entertainment of the elementary grade children in Bethlehem and vicinity. The group also attended dress rehearsals of the plays produced by the Little Theatre at Lafayette College as guests of the institution. An informal party and dance in May concluded the school year's activities.

STAGE CREW

Advisor..... Mr. REESE

Among the hardest working groups in Liberty High School are the ambitious young people who tackle the job of creating the stage sets for the plays, Christmas Vespers, and the glee club operetta produced on the Liberty High stage. Under the supervision of Mr. Reese, Miss Ressler, and Mr. Cressman, the art appreciation students, boys of the shop classes, and scores of interested and talented students work long, hard hours to finish the stage settings in time for the dress rehearsals. Their only rewards are the "Oh's", "Ah's", and applause from the audience when the curtain rises for the first act.

But it's loads of fun, too, even to the extent of returning to Liberty High on days off (imagine, coming to school on Election Day or Washington's Birthday) in order to splash paint on scenery flats or focus the baby spots. Who can forget the delicious candy treats or the spirit of good humor which prevailed?

Secretary . . . . . ELEANOR SHELLY

The Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Joseph Ricapito, provided the school with entertainment throughout the busy year. Our first appearance was at the Senior Class Play. During the year we play for assembly programs, accompany the glee clubs at Thanksgiving and Christmas time, and play for junior plays.

After much hard work the Orchestra presents its final concert in March.

We practice with the glee clubs for the Operetta. At the close of the year, we conclude our services by playing for the Baccalaureate and Commencement exercises.

The Orchestra is not all work and no fun. We, with the members of the band, hold an annual Hallowe'en Party and a Christmas party to which our parents go.

At the end of June, the seniors, with the aid of Band and Orchestra Mothers Club, take an annual trip to New York.

The Band is one of Liberty High School's finest organizations, consisting of one hundred and five members under the able direction of Mr. Joseph Ricapito. It is also one of the most ambitious and hard-working, for it is completely self-supporting and practices strenuously for its many activities.

The Band has been the unchallenged leader at all the home football and basketball games, and many have thrilled to the beautiful display of lighted formations at night football games, introduced this past year for the first time.

On April fourteenth of this year the Band presented its annual concert with Mr. Edwin Goldman as the guest conductor.

Among the other high points of band activities are its annual initiation, performances at pep rallies, and Bulldog games, and its annual trip to the Bronx Zoo. To conclude activities for the year, the seniors of the Band always take their annual trip.

The purpose of Liberty Life, our school newspaper, is to give students a chance to express in writing their ideas for the public to read, and to keep students and parents informed on various school affairs. Any student who so desires may contribute to the paper. Although quite a lot of time and energy is put into each publication, we do have our lighter moments. The Pennsylvania State Press Association Convention provided one of the highlights this year. The purpose of the convention was to aid in improving school newspapers, but also provided an opportunity to meet new people.

The Columbia Press Convention held at Columbia University in March was another of the outstanding events of the year. We aren't social butterflies, even though several dances were sponsored by LIBERTY LIFE throughout the year, in addition to a talent show open to the public.

Being on the staff doesn't include all work and no play, but quite a pleasing amount of each. The work we do can be seen in the various issues that are published.

The TECH TRIBUNE, our school paper, was started seven years ago. This was the students' idea and its first advisor was Mr. Conti.

Today the TECH TRIBUNE has greatly increased its output, both at Tech and Liberty. Our advisors were Mr. Burkhardt, Mr. Leitner, and Mr. Moyer. Martin Smith, also the president of our Senior Class of '50, was the editor; Joseph Check and Roger Lehr were his assistants.

The chief purpose of this paper is to let students, not only of Tech, but of other schools, know what is going on behind the scenes, as well as displaying the talent of our artists and of those who have talent in the writing field, in order to have both an interesting and educational newspaper. It is also a step in drawing the students of Tech and Liberty together in order to bring about a better understanding of what students of both schools do during the after school hours. This, we know, can and will create a better relationship between the two schools.

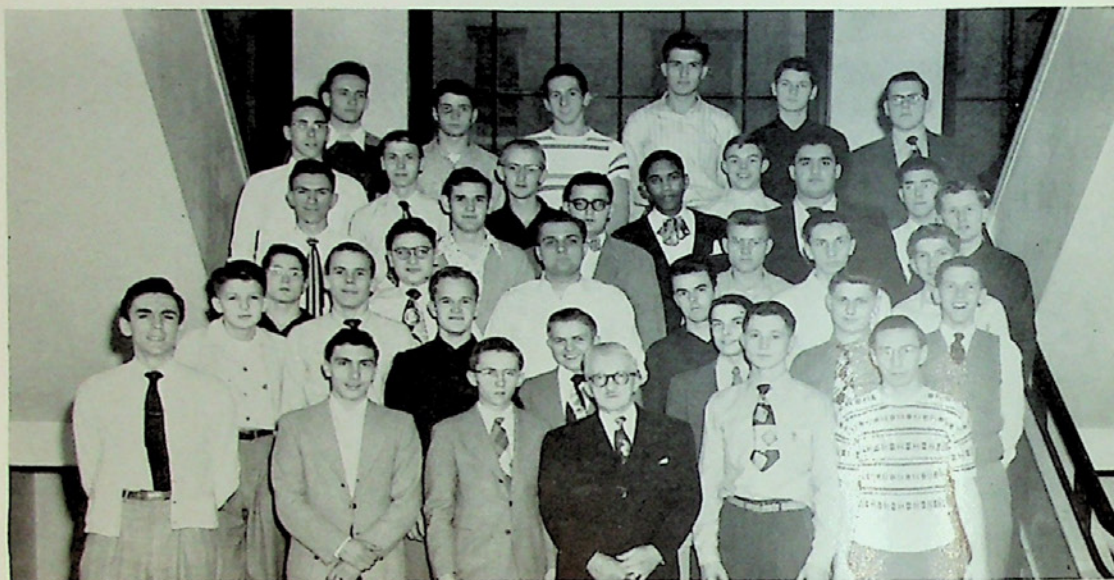

The picture below shows the students and advisors, who were responsible for the success we have had in turning out an interesting paper during the past year.

We are sure that not only the students of past years, but also the future graduates, will continue to produce a paper of interest to the students.

The Liberty Hi-Y is now in its fifteenth year, making it one of the oldest organizations in Liberty High School. Each year it has been advised by its founder, Mr. Harry S. Dando of the High School faculty. The group meets every Thursday evening at 7:30 in the YMCA building, 240 E. Broad Street. The meetings are of various programs, such as speakers, discussions, etc., designed to further the club's motto "To create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community, high standards of Christian character." The boys are also helped to ground themselves more solidly on the club platform, "Clean speech, clean sports, clean scholarship, and clean living."

This year the Hi-Y renewed one of the club's prewar functions which had been discontinued during the war: a semi-formal Christmas dance which was held on December 21, at the D.A.R. House. This affair was well attended by the members of the club as well as a number of alumni from last year's group, to whom invitations were sent.

This year the state Hi-Y had its second bi-annual Model Legislature. Hi-Y clubs from all over the state sent delegates to the state capitol at Harrisburg, where they served in the various offices and congressional positions as elected at Pre-legislative assemblies. One of the things the club did this year was to draw up a bill to present to this legislature. The Liberty Hi-Y also hoped to have a part in the model legislature by having a member of congress in attendance. George Hopkins from our Hi-Y was chosen Speaker of the House.

The members of the Hi-Y acted as ushers for many programs in the school and community, such as band concerts, class plays, glee club programs, and community concerts.

The final feature of the year was the annual trip to Washington, D.C., over Memorial Day Weekend, when the boys saw all the places of interest in and around the capital city.

This year, the club members, who wore white shirts and blue ties at their performances, had a very successful program. They participated in the annual Christmas Vesper Service at Liberty High as always and helped to put on the minstrel at Tech. This was the thirteenth minstrel given at Tech. During the year they sang in programs given for the students at Tech, on a radio program, (W G P A), and also for a program which was a preview of the minstrel. The members were kept very busy with all these performances but they were not too busy to refuse to sing for the other schools throughout the school system.

The Glee Club feels very happy with the success that it has had during the year and wishes to express its thanks to Mrs. Wagner for her excellent leadership in preparing the fine programs and social events.

The Future Craftsmen of America is a club formed by the students who are interested in continuing their trade. The club is under the guidance of Mr. Dubbeling, instructor of one of the drafting shops.

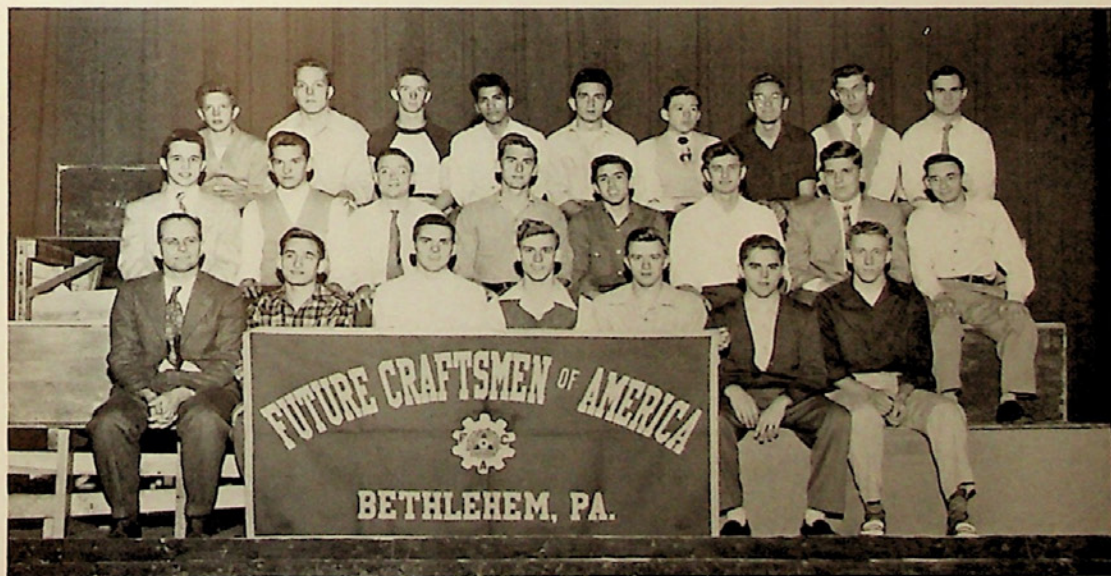

At the first meeting, the following officers were elected: Joseph A. Moretz, President; Stephen Kuss, Vice-President; Donald Remaly, Secretary; and Fred Kline, Treasurer. These officers were elected to direct the club in their plans and achievements.

The purposes of the organization are:

- To promote the spirit of craftsmanship
- To prepare for a worthy occupation
- To become an efficient producer in order to meet the economic needs of a good citizen
- To develop industrial leadership
- To promote cooperation between industry and school
- To build public respect for one's vocation
- To encourage habits of safety

The plan and program of the Future Craftsmen of America clubs is designed to fit the particular conditions and situations of groups of Trade and Industrial preparatory students.

DRAFTING SHOP

In the industrial world we find that drafting is a necessity.

In the Vocational Department of Bethlehem High School there are three separate drafting shops. Mr. Alexander is in charge of the Freshman Class in which he familiarizes you with most of the drawing equipment. Drafting as a whole is very difficult. For this reason Freshmen are taught simple, mechanical, and architectural drawings which will equip them for their second year's work.

Mr. Andrucci is the instructor of the Sophomore Class. Here he develops their previous year's work into neatness, accuracy, and precision. They are taught to detail and assemble mechanical drawings along with reading of blue prints, inking, tracing, and developing blue prints.

Besides mechanical and architectural drawings there is structural work which is supervised by Mr. Dubbeling. Structural Drawing consists of detailing beams and columns. This is one of the most important phases in the drafting department. For this reason the Junior and Senior Draftsmen spend their last two years in this important field.

We are more than grateful for the opportunities that we have obtained through our trade. In previous years, draftsmen from our school have been employed by the Bethlehem Steel Company. Our school made it possible for their success and now we are hoping for the same success.

ELECTRIC SHOP

Under our capable instructor, Mr. Joseph Risbon, we, the graduating class of the electrical shop, have learned a great deal in our three years with him.

In the electrical shop we learned the fundamentals of electricity, house wiring, wire calculations, A. C. and D. C. theory, motor work and winding. We also had experience of maintenance jobs in the different shops.

Our last year with Mr. Risbon, we felt, was the best year any student could have in school. Although we studied and worked hard, we found time to discuss personal problems that dealt with school work and problems outside of school. It was with his understanding and good advice toward our problems that helped us learn the work without difficulty.

In our annual open house, electrical shop had one of the best displays in school. The boys showed they have talent and knowledge in the field of electricity.

When next fall rolls around, we feel that we shall miss going back to school more than anyone, for the years we spent there were good, both in work and play. We hope that the graduating classes following us will have good years as we have had.

MACHINE SHOP

Technical High School has three machine shops. Each shop teaches a certain part of the machinists trade to the student. The students are placed in the shops according to the grade they are in. The students in Machine Shop rotate every third month.

In Mr. Ross's shop the students have an opportunity to use the newer machines. Mr. Hope teaches the students to run the milling machines, shapers, and the power hacksaw. In Mr. Hibberd's shop there are the benches, vises, drill presses, and the do-all saw. In this shop we do a lot of filing, repair work, and our do-all project.

The three years course at Tech is planned so that each grade has several projects to complete in a year. Along with each project comes a blueprint and procedure. Also accompanying the latter are questions and reading material which has to be done in order to make a good grade. Each student must work to the best of his ability in order to pass the course.

Our Machine Shop does much repair work for the Bethlehem School District, Water Department, and Fire Department. In addition to these we do whatever work has to be done around the school and for the faculty.

We at Technical High School are proud to see that so many of our past graduates have made good in their respective occupations. Many of the boys are now working in our local industries. We feel sure that this department and its instructors will continue their good work in the future as they have done in the past. We hope that the boys who have graduated and who will graduate will be a credit to the community and to the school.

WOOD SHOP

From the time of the earliest settlers to the present day, wood has been the basis of many of our industries. Wood was the one product which the settlers of America depended upon. All of their homes, furniture, and many of their tools were made of wood.

The wood working industry ranks third among our industries, despite the vast number of substitutes for wood. It employs thousands of people to produce useful as well as beautiful articles. Wood has sometimes been called "the indispensable material of mankind."

The wood shop is one of the most important shops in our school. It is a spacious, well-kept shop. Mr. Donald L. Detweiler, the instructor, has encouraged the students to take an interest in the study of wood, its sources, its uses, the value of it, and the care and use of tools and machinery.

Woodworking in itself is a fascinating art. The creative ability of the boys is expressed in woodworking. This trade trains the hand as well as the mind.

AUTO SHOP

Auto Mechanics is a trade which appeals to many boys, simply because of its practical uses. Due to this fact, year after year, the auto shop has an overflow of eager applicants who wish to learn the trade.

The shop is small in size but large in experiences. Because of the small floor area, some students do the practical work, while others study the theory for a future assignment. Theory is the most practical subject in this shop.

The instructor in this shop is Mr. H. K. Pierce, an experienced auto mechanic, who has been in this trade for many years.

Many of the students in this course are from the rural sections, and are particularly interested in auto mechanics because of the close relationship between this work and the operation of farm machinery.

The work done in the shop is done strictly by the students. They bring in cars from their own families and from other students. No outside work is done other than that done on the school trucks.

Close relations exist among the school, automobile dealers of this area, and through them several national manufacturers. This relationship assures almost every student a desirable position either in or outside this area.

PRINT SHOP

Men, women, and children of all parts of the world want to know the latest news of the day, the reports of stock markets, sports, and other items of interest. In the cities large printing shops are in operation, probably running two or three shifts a day, printing newspapers and other materials.

In small towns where a few hundred people live, a printing office of some kind will be found, passing out a weekly journal or gazette. In many towns people come from the rural districts or mountains to a post office or general store to get their newspaper. Newspapers and magazines bring to the eyes of the public the wonders of the world, as well as luxuries and the necessities of life.

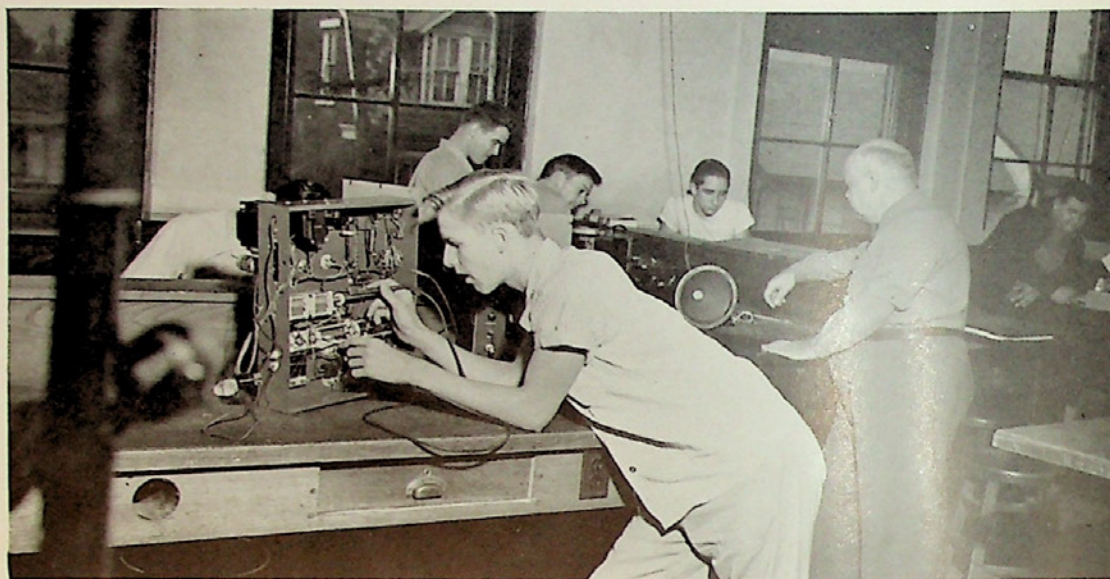

The printing trade is taught in the Bethlehem Vocational Department under the most ideal conditions. The shop is divided into three departments. The composing room contains about two hundred and sixty cases of type, eight type cabinets, furniture cabinets, and a proof press. The press room consists of a Kelly press, a Miehle vertical press, a 10' x 15" C. and P. press, a Hartford Press, and an 8' x 12" C. and P. press. The binding room has a paper cutter, stitcher, perforator, automatic folder, and a paper drill. The shipping room, where all the jobs are packaged. Printing for the Bethlehem School District and various high schools is done here.

The shop is under the direction of Mr. A. W. Hunsinger, who is a very capable teacher of printing. This can be seen in the way that groups are taught the fundamentals of various processes of printing. This enables students to go into industry and specialize in the art of printing.

RADIO SHOP

Approximately thirty students spend half their time at Tech studying about something which helped win the war, entertains millions of people each day, and is now helping the people of the world to know just a little more about each other—the radio.

Under the able instruction of Mr. Hartman, the radio course is considered to be the most difficult one at Tech. It is not quite so easy and wonderful as most students think; it requires a sound background in mathematics, a thorough understanding of the principles of electricity and magnetism, and, unlike many courses where previous material learned may soon be forgotten, "old" material must be remembered because one concept leads to and is based on another.

The radio course itself is actually divided into two parts: academic and applied. Academically, the students study theory, work theoretical problems, and hold long discussions concerning the various problems and theories. In respect to applied work, the Juniors build a 5 tube superheterodyne radio if time permits. In their senior year, the students get acquainted with the characteristics and uses of the oscilloscope, vacuum-tube voltmeter, signal-generator, and many other instruments.

The radio industry is one of the fastest growing in the United States. The radio course at Tech offers a good foundation to those students interested in entering the radio field.

Sounds Familiar? Many times during football and basketball seasons, our teams have been cheered on to victory by our peppy cheerleaders.

The squad consisted of five boys and eight girls. This year we had only three veterans remaining. The ten new recruits were selected last spring.

New uniforms were selected by the group before the close of school last year. These snappy, new uniforms made our cheerleaders look very smart.

The cheerleaders were ably coached by Mrs. Elsie Weston who directed and perfected the cheers.

This year Mrs. Weston put new rules into effect: first, only sophomores may try out for cheering, boys as well as girls; second, the final selection for Varsity members from the J. V. squad is made in March.

We are very proud of our squad this year and wish them the best of luck in the future.

MAJORETTES

Throughout the past year's football and basketball seasons, Liberty High School's majorettes, with their red, white, and blue uniforms, have entertained the many spectators. With the aid of Mrs. Weston and the ingenuity of the eleven girls, many difficult and intricate formations were developed.

This year there were three things different from other years. The first one was a head majorette, Irene Brady, who wore a different uniform and led the other majorettes in their drills. Second, the band and majorettes performed with lights on their hats and batons during inter-missions of the night football games. Third, for the first time Bethlehem had two snappy acrobats, Faith Cannie and Dolores Miller, who were very graceful and unique in their exhibition of acrobatics.

An individual showing of their talents in baton twirling and marching was presented at many of the basketball games.

The Bethlehem High School football team opened their 1949 season against Southern High of Philadelphia. The Bethlehem boys showed plenty of potential talent although losing 27-10. It was the first time in many a year that the Liberty lads dropped an opening verdict.

In their second outing the "Red Hurricane" swept their second Philadelphia rival of the year, Overbrook High, right off the field. Five of Coach Johnny Butler's proteges scored, while holding Overbrook scoreless. Len Capuano led the way scoring 12 of the 34 Bethlehem High School points.

Phillipsburg was Bethlehem's next opponent. The Garnet and Gray of Phillipsburg took the measure of the Butler Boys by a 13-7 score. The final gun found Bethlehem desperately trying to pull this one out on the Phillipsburg one yard line. Len Capuano went 58 yards in the first period for Bethlehem's only score.

In the fourth game of the season Coatesville, for the second successive season, nosed Bethlehem out by a 6-0 score. Although the Red and Blue of Bethlehem outdid the visitors, according to statistics, they couldn't convert their surplus 116 yards into a touchdown.

Bethlehem High upset the dopesters on October 14 to garner their second victory of the campaign. Billy Bauder put the foot, into football, by booting 2 points. After the touchdown, one of which provided the winning margin, Len Capuano scored his fourth and fifth touchdowns, to lead the Hurricane. The final score was: Bethlehem 14—Reading 13.

The Red Rovers of Easton, sporting a 5 game winning streak, became the next victim of the ram-paging Hurricane. Easton fell by the wayside 13-6. Len Capuano again scored the 2 Bethlehem touchdowns.

The Hazleton Mountaineers were treated roughly by the Liberty Lads. Len Capuano scored 2 T.D.'s, while Bob Lasko and Howie Johnson both dented the goal line, once. The final score was 27-0.

For the 4th successive week, Len Capuano scored 2 T.D.'s, while Bethlehem was punishing Germantown, their third Philadelphia rival. Billy Bauder booted 4 extra points, which when added to touchdowns scored by Capuano (2); Cotter (1); Stoudt (1); Walters (1); and Shive (1) came to a total for Bethlehem 41—Germantown 7.

Allentown Central Catholic broke Len Capuano's streak of 2 T.D.'s a game for four weeks. Len scored 3 T.D.'s, Bethlehem pushed Central Catholic all over the field, outrushing them 258-71 yards. The final score was Bethlehem 19—Central Catholic 7.

Bethlehem High won their first Thanksgiving Day game in 10 years, when they defeated the Johnstown (Pa.) High Trojans 20-14. Capuano, Bauder, and Dotter each scored one T.D., with Bauder booting 2 points. Johnstown outrushed Bethlehem 228-147, but Billy Bauder passed for 78 yards. Larry Dotter had the outstanding run of the game, going 70 yards for a touchdown.

FOOTBALL (Continued)

Negotiations were concluded to resume the Allentown-Bethlehem series in 1950. Len Capuano's running feats made him a definite candidate for "Back of The Year" honors. Rog Frey, Ken Pulley, and Johnny Morgan vied for "Lineman of The Year" honors.

Bethlehem's comparative season's totals were:

JUNIOR VARSITY SQUAD

The 1949 edition of the Junior Varsity gridiron eleven, under the tutelage of Paul Troxell and Ferdinand Burkhart, enjoyed a highly successful season, winning six games and tying one. There were a number of performers who were exceptionally fine ball players and rate as potential members of the varsity squad for the next year or two.

Leading candidates for varsity berths are Richard Green, Charles Sayer, Willis Streim, August Rovero, Charles Wiggins, Jim Placotar, Fred Schmidt, Don Ruth, Peter Beckage, and Tom Falcone among the linemen, while leading the backfield candidates are the Parham twins, Wilbur and William, Robert Dolan, Robert Phillippi, Richard Gutierrez, Richard Gasdaska, Charles Hoydu, and George Darazsdi.

The Bethlehem High basketball team, coached by Joe (Pickles) Preletz, opened their 1950 Basketball season by losing to an exceptional Catasauqua team 57-53. The loss of Jimmy Smith, last year's star center, due to ineligibility, was severely felt in this game and throughout the season.

The next time out, the Liberty Lads upset a more experienced Reading quintet 43-37, in an overtime period.

The Hurricane won their next two games beating Roxborough 65-55, and moving past Lebanon 54-52.

Bethlehem opened the L. V. I. T. by beating Parkland High 50-42. In the semi-finals, Bethlehem lost to Easton 55-52. Allentown Central Catholic turned us back 63-57 in the consolation game.

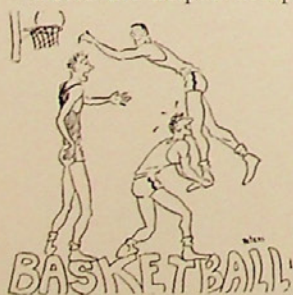

The Linden Street basketeers resumed their winning way, edging out Coatesville 49-47, on January 3.

Pottsville helped us open successfully our East Penn League schedule. The Crimson Tide fell before the Hurricane 51-42.

On January 10, the Red and Blue beat its cross town rival Bethlehem Catholic 66-54.

Allentown Central Catholic came to town and went home with a 70-55 victory, leaving Bethlehem with their fourth defeat of the season.

In their next game Coaches Preletz and Troxell took the team out of the state to best P'burg, N.J., 59-47, for their eighth victory.

BASKETBALL (Continued)

On January 20, the Easton Red Rovers administered a 52-50 defeat to Bethlehem for our second East Penn League loss.

Hazleton took first half East Penn honors by beating Bethlehem 54-39. It was the Hurricanes' sixth loss in fourteen games.

On January 28, the Bethlehem Hurricane squeaked past the Whitehall Zephyrs, in the Eye-Glass Fund feature attraction, 62-60.

Pottstown became our tenth victim by a 59-55 score, on January 31.

In their next attraction the Red and Blue Lads produced their third straight win and first win in the second half of the E. P. League by rolling over Pottsville 65-41. This game was outstanding because of the fact that Billy Miller, 15 year old Liberty Sophomore, set a new Bethlehem High record of 29 points.

A.C.C. defeated Bethlehem 72-65 for the Vikings third win of the season over the Bethlehemites.

On February 14, the Red Knights of Reading succumbed to the basketbaling of a fair Bethlehem crew. The final score was 65-46.

On the eve of February 21, the Bethlehem High team racked up their highest seasonal score of the year. Bethlehem 94, P'burg 42.

Easton closed out their E. P. League schedule by beating Bethlehem 53-49. This defeat was closely followed by another E. P. defeat. Hazleton thrashed Bethlehem 72-51, which concluded the season.

The Bethlehem Hi Soccer Team coached for the second time by Ted Martz, concluded another impressive and successful season.

The Martzmen concluded an undefeated season, with their only blemishes, on an otherwise spotless record, being two ties. They were tied by Reading at home, after Bethlehem had previously defeated Reading 1-0 away. Perkiomen silenced the offensive guns of the Bethlehem eleven in the final game, the score being 0-0, marking the only game in which Bethlehem did not score.

Reuben Garcia led the season's scoring with six goals, followed by Captain Gil Lopez and Harry Tsamutalis deadlocked with four goals apiece. Garganta, August, and Maioriello completed the scoring with two, one, and one goal, respectively. All totaled the team scored 18 goals while holding the opposition to three.

Aside from the scorers, other boys who played outstanding soccer for Bethlehem were the following:

Richard Lawrence, a junior who was exceptional in his first season as goalie.

Fred DePretis, a senior, whose hustle and spirit were a tremendous value during the year.

Dick Sloyer, a senior letterman, and Jimmy Smith, another senior, both played well for Coach Martz.

These boys and the others on the team were instrumental in making the 1949 season one of the best soccer years completed at Bethlehem High School.

WRESTLING

The Red and Blue matmen of Bethlehem High, opened their 1950 campaign by nosing out Northampton 24-21. It was a fall in the last bout which gave Coach Jim Harkin's crew their victory.

In their second outing of the season against Phillipsburg, the score was 17-15, P'burg winning, going into the last bout. This time our heavyweight was pinned, and Bethlehem lost 22-15.

The last bout once again held the key to Bethlehem's chances. Easton's heavyweight took the decision and Easton won 21-18.

Bethlehem got their first wrestling crack at Allentown since Allentown's suspension from Penna. Interscholastic competition. After the final outcome of the meet, Allentown wished they had stayed suspended. Bethlehem trounced their neighbors 30-9.

Upper Darby beat Bethlehem 35-5, at Upper Darby on January 31. The only bright spots for Bethlehem were Maioriello's decision and Race's draw.

After trailing the Liberty matmen 6-3, the Newtonites, of Newton, N.J. came back to soundly thrash Bethlehem 21-9.

For the second successive week, Bethlehem lost to a New Jersey team, Washington, after leading by a 9-6 score. Final score Washington 28, Bethlehem 9.

The Easton High Red Rovers duplicated an earlier win over the Bethlehem Hurricane. The Bethlehem combine won only 3 bouts. The final score was Easton 22, Bethlehem 13.

The Bethlehem wrestlers concluded their 1950 season by defeating Northampton wrestlers 23-13. All in all, the Liberty Lads won 3 meets while losing 5.

The season's climax came at the District Eleven Championships which were held at Northampton. The Bethlehem team upset all previous predictions by winning the trophy and six individual championships. Champions from Bethlehem were the following:

On April 30, Bethlehem placed 4th in the Penn Relays.

BASEBALL

Bethlehem High School produced a veteran line-up during the 1949 season, but due to the lack of experienced pitchers could not make the season a completely successful one for Coach John Howard.

In the first game of the season against Central Catholic High School, the Bethlehem boys scored a commendable number of runs, but unfortunately they were outscored by the Allentown boys, 11-6.

The next game was more of a pitcher's duel, again Bethlehem came out the loser. Phillipsburg won, 8-2.

The first meeting of Bethlehem and Allentown athletic teams since the unfortunate discontinuance of relations took place on the baseball diamond. Bethlehem could do no better than accept a 13-1 defeat.

Coach Johnny Howard's boys broke into the win column in the next game at the expense of Hellertown. The score indicates how close the game was. The final totals showed Bethlehem 9 and Hellertown 8.

The Bethlehem boys were humbled on successive outings, 15-0, 12-8, 7-0, by Reading, Central Catholic, and Easton respectively.

In the next game, the defeat which Phillipsburg had handed them earlier was avenged, to the tune of 20 to 11.

Allentown again took the measure of Bethlehem by a 7-3 score.

Hellertown was taken into camp as Bethlehem ran wild, 15-5.

Easton and Reading ruined Bethlehem's last two games by scores of 6-3, and 5-1.

The outlook for this season appears very bright, since such lettermen as John Sedlock, Forrest Mutter, Richard Chuday, Ronald Jones, and Steven Kovacs are returning for another season.

First row: D. Beck, R. Salabsky, F. Mutter, J. Sedlock, R. Chuday, R. Jones, F. Miller, D. Mackes, R. Frankfield. Second row: J. Howard, coach; K. Bartholomew, R. Kram, F. Shive, G. Hagey, C. ## TENNIS

Except for a few off years, there have been tennis teams at Liberty High School for most of the years since around 1922. This is the fifth consecutive year, the sport being resumed after the war. It is the third year that the team has been coached by Frank Kernan, of the English department. His teams have met with a good response and considerable success. The 1949 squad, which contained such lettermen as Fritz Toner, Dick Vannatta, George Hopkins, Jim Bond, Jim Howell, and George Pierce, had the following record:

	Beth.	Opp.
EASTON . . . . .	5	1
READING . . . . .	0	6
PERKIOMEN PREP. . . . .	3	6
ALLENTOWN . . . . .	5	1
EASTON . . . . .	5	1
PERKIOMEN . . . . .	3	6
READING . . . . .	1	5
ALLENTOWN . . . . .	4	2

This year there is a large number of candidates for the squad. The most promising of these are: George Hopkins, letterwinner and captain; Jim Howell, sophomore letterman; Ron Shane, last year's assistant manager who has picked up the game quite well; and Bob Cook, who won his letter as a sophomore.

The schedule for the 1950 season is as follows:

May 2	PENDING

9	EASTON—home
12	READING—away
16	ALLENTOWN—home
19	EASTON—away

SWIMMING CLUB

OFFICERS

President . . . . . PAUL KROMER
Vice-President . . . . . HENRY COCHRAN
Secretary . . . . . VINCENT KAUFFMAN

Every Monday after school swimming coach Ted Martz, called together his group of Johnny Weissmuller's, in the Liberty High Natatorium. The Swimming Club's main purpose was to prepare for the first annual combined swimming clubs' Aquacade.

The group was given a warm-up by Coach Martz, consisting of from five to ten lengths, immediately upon entering the water. Then the specialists took over.

The club divided itself into groups of divers and swimmers. The swimmers diligently practiced their routines, while the divers were braving painful "belly-flops" to perfect their dives.

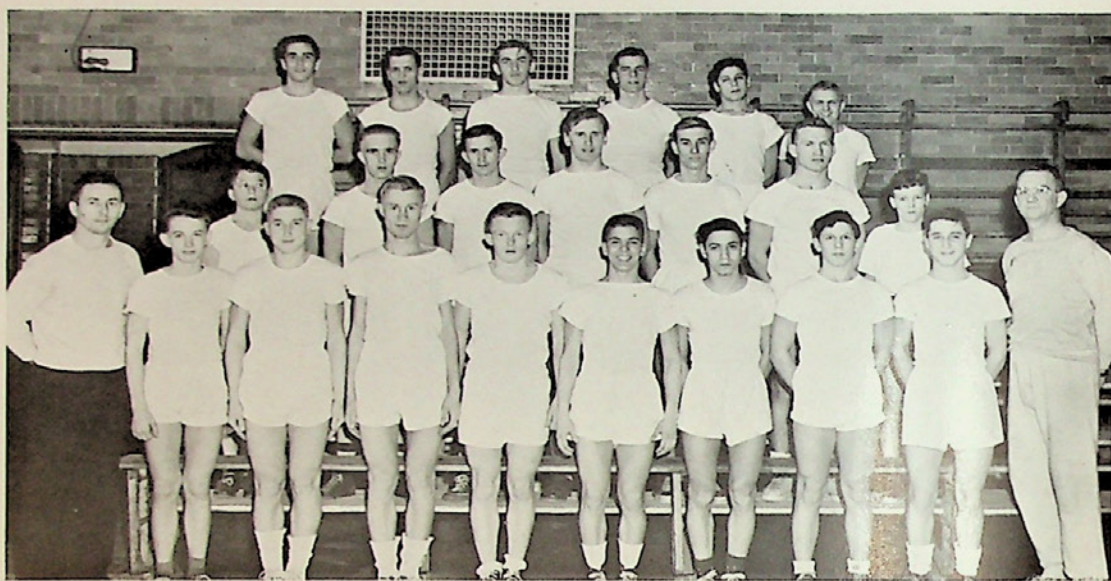

The climax and culmination of the efforts of the boys came on January 25 and 26 when the first annual Aquacade was presented. Judging from the filled grandstands and generous applause, the Aquacade and the Swimming Club proved to be a great success.

First row: R. Barndt, E. Wegner, V. Kauffman, N. Funk, J. Polefka, R. Weber. Second row: R. Tinsman, H. Tinges, W. Mervine, P. Kromer, G. Sigal, F. Hyatt, R. Strouce, D. Dewitt, G. Levitz. Third row: T. Meyers, A. Negrete, J. Saxton, R. Lipscomb, R. Stierer, J. Mittemeyer, H. Cochran, T. Martz, Advisor. Missing from picture: D. Mackes, J. Mackes, D. Early.

GYM CLUB

The tumbling talents of the Liberty High School gym classes are exploited to the fullest extent by Coaches Troxell and Martz when they gather together the best boy gymnasts to form the Boy's Gym Club. The primary purpose of this organization is to provide a public exhibition and to summarize the year's work in physical education periods. The annual exhibition included a variety of technical skills such as tumbling, apparatus, drills, horse and buck drills, flying rings, horizontal bars, Swedish boxes, wrestling and judo drills. Some of the more experienced boys who will participate are Franklin Paul, Jack Conti, Charles Tumpey, Joe Morganello, Francis Heinrich, Robert Wilcox, Merle Getz, and Ted Meyers.

The work is extremely difficult and therefore, the boys must put in a great amount of time practicing. They report to the gym three nights and two fourth periods a week. The practices include tumbling, flips, and other exercises connected with gymnastic work.

The effort and esprit de corps shown by the members of the club and the instructors, Paul Troxell and Ted Martz, insured the success and appreciation of the annual exhibition.

TECH TUMBLERS

This year the Tech Tumblers again provided entertainment at Tech's 13th annual minstrel. Only this year their performance was better and more fascinating than in previous years.

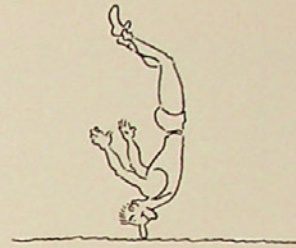

They were attired in red and blue skin tight gym uniforms. The fact that they performed better was due to the hard work and practices they held almost every night, beginning with the school term.

Under the capable instruction of Mr. Leo Prendergast, the boys performed remarkably well, showing much poise and strength. As a result, they made their act in the minstrel one of the high-lights in the show.

After the last curtain, the Tech Tumblers went on tour with the rest of the minstrel. They covered Liberty High, Hellertown High, Bethlehem Catholic High, and all of the junior high schools.

Their performances were well liked and hardy applause was given to them after every act. These acts consisted of tumbling, hand balances, flips, pyramids, and artistic routines on the parallel bars.

We of the Tech Tumblers who are graduating this year, wish Mr. Leo Prendergast a great deal of luck in his future years. Also, we wish the boys remaining on the team a lot of luck and hope they will hold up the tradition of the Tech Tumblers as one of the best high school gymnastic teams in Pennsylvania.

The Club met every Wednesday after school. Its purpose was to perfect the students' strokes, increase their speed and enable them to participate in this most healthful of all sports.

In order to become a member of this club, the fundamental qualifications of a good swimmer were demanded.

The most important event of the year was the joint aquacade, with the Boys' Swimming Club, which was performed for the public on January 25 and 26 and showed the accomplishments of the club members.

GIRLS' SOCCER

Coach . . . . . MRS. ELSIE WESTON

A large group of eager girls reported to Mrs. (Bates) Weston this year to participate in one of the most popular girls sports offered at Liberty High.

Seven teams were organized and were given names of candy bars. These teams played twice a week with all the participants eager and trying their best to win the championship.

The keen rivalry between the teams was intensified by the championship game among the Snickers, the Mounds, and the O'Henrys at the end of the season, to determine the winning team.

The keen rivalry between the teams was intensified by the championship game necessary at the end of the season to determine the winning team.

Bowling was introduced for the first time at Liberty High School this year. There were sixty-four girls making up the fourteen teams that played every Monday and Thursday night at the Liberty and Central bowling alleys.

The teams were under the supervision of Mrs. Elsie Weston who had the willing co-operation of the women bowlers of Bethlehem, who helped the girls master the more difficult problems of bowling.

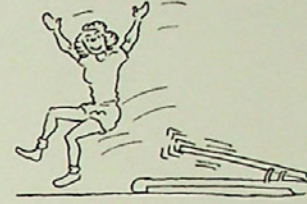

Many girls who have never had the opportunity to learn to bowl have gotten the right start in bowling under proper supervision through this league.

GIRLS' GYM CLUB

Advisor . . . . . MRS. ELSIE WESTON

This year the girls' gym club was organized for Sophomores only. Every Tuesday, fourth period, the girls met in the gym and practiced on the mats, parallel bars, horse, and buck. They were also taught Indian club drills and dance routines.

Later the Sophomores were joined by the Juniors and Seniors. This enlarged the club, for many girls were interested in this fine organization.

In March the girls combined with the boys to put on an exhibition which was ably directed by Mrs. Elsie Weston and Mr. Ted Martz. These exhibitions are put on annually and are worthwhile seeing.

THESE THINGS I SHALL REMEMBER . . .

It is all over now. The speeches have been made, the last diploma has been given out, and the caps and gowns have been folded away in the boxes once more. And now it is all over, except for the remembering. . . .

I will always remember that day in September 1947 when we entered Liberty High for the first time. We were a little bit shaky, somewhat scared, but oh, so very proud! It was wonderful to be a sophomore!

Do you remember that first assembly? Mr. Charles A. Klein, our new principal, addressed us as "The Class of 1950", and we felt, for the first time, that we were a vital part of Liberty High School.

And those first few weeks, can I ever forget them? The business of becoming acquainted with the building and our new classmates, the first copy of Liberty Life, the Tuberculin Test, the week of Library training—all were part of our introduction to life at Liberty High School.

It didn't take us long to get right into the swing of things at Liberty. Remember how surprised everyone was when we defeated the juniors in that quiz program in assembly? And how the seniors tried to get votes for their candidates for office on the newly-formed Student Council! After a tough battle, Phil Erdle was elected President, Sol Goldberg was chosen vice-president, with Betty Fenstermacher as secretary, Doris Rohland as treasurer, and Carolyn Knies, social activities secretary.

There were so many affairs that fall—and all of them were loads of fun! The pep dances, the football games, and the Senior Play occupied most of our spare time. Remember how Nancy Fegley gave such a wonderful performance in the mystery, "Double Door"? Mr. Reese directed that super show, and the whole school was justly proud of the seniors. I mustn't forget to mention the winter dance the Junior Class held in the school gym just before Christmas.

When we returned after the Christmas vacation, I remember how excited we were about the impending election of our own class officers. When voting time finally rolled around, we elected Francis Kostelnik president; Kenneth Pulley vice-president, Mary Donchez secretary, and Douglas Cook treasurer. Then, too, I remember, we were introduced to our class advisors—Miss Doris Harrison and Mr. Nevin Cook.

And then, almost before we knew it, spring had come, and with it, the annual Glee Club operetta, "Martha", was presented. I remember even now how gay and colorful the performance was—I hadn't expected it to be so wonderful!

April 30 was a very important day for us, if you recall. That was the date of our first important social affair—the never-to-be-forgotten Sophomore Dance. At last we had come into our own as a class with a really big affair. Besides the fact that every one had a good time, the class treasury was supplemented considerably.

Then, in May, Student Council began campaigning again. Remember, that was the time we used voting machines? It made us feel so important! I remember we elected Peter Larson president for the coming year, and Karlton Batt, Janet Popyach, Joanne Dobyman, and Barbara James were chosen for the other offices.

I will never forget the Junior-Senior prom that year. Loretta Pelligrino was chosen Miss Liberty in a ceremony which perfected the dance.

Time was passing so quickly then—the annual swimming exhibition, the retirement of Coach Bill Stark, and our class elections were all jumbled together in the rush of final weeks. Out of the jumble we found that Francis Kostelnik was still our president, Doug Cook had the office of treasurer, and Steve Howell was our new vice-president, while Sophie Bucko had been chosen secretary.

Then it was June, and finals kept us quite busy. When they were over at last, we trooped off to enjoy our summer vacation, limp, tired, but happy.

But the summer was over much too soon. In September we came back to school, and I remember what a different group we were that year than we had been the year before. Now we were self-confident, self-assured, and oh, so very high and mighty, as juniors!

The big event that year was the arrival of new boys lockers. I can never forget how much fun it was to see the boys struggling with those confusing combination locks, and I remember, too, how much the girls envied the boys with their new, roomy, private lockers.

It was fun to be taking part in the activities of school life again. Remember the football games? And the pep dances? Remember our own Junior Class Play? "Ever Since Eve" was a rollicking success, and revealed some hidden talent among our own classmates. Bob Cook, Harold Lynch, Dolores Miller, and Connie Zimmerman helped make a Broadway right on Liberty's stage.

And we certainly enjoyed getting together with the seniors to present a talent show in assembly! Do you remember? There are so many things to recall, so very many. . . .

So the winter passed, and came the Spring, with the Senior Class Play. "Life With Father" was produced, with Sidney Pachter and Jewell Cooperman playing the leads. Not to be outdone, the glee clubs did a bang-up job on the operetta "Carmen".

And have you forgotten how we worked on the Junior-Senior Prom? Surely you remember what a super-terrific affair it was, and how pretty Irene Szvetics looked when Francis Kostelnik crowned her Miss Liberty.

Next we got together with the sophomores to elect officers for the Student Council. Now it was our turn to campaign, and we came through with Kenneth Pulley as president; Bob Cook as vice-president; Mary Donchez as secretary; Gail Edgar, social activities secretary; and Marilyn Bennet, treasurer.

We had one more election that year—the election of our class officers for the senior year. Surprisingly enough, we re-elected each and every one of our junior class officers.

And somehow it was June again, and there was the usual rush to get everything done in time for finals. After a tough siege with the exams, we were glad to say goodbye to school for a little while.

Another September, another school year, and we were seniors at long last. How can I describe our feelings as we walked through the familiar halls those first few weeks of September, 1949? The sophomores looked to us for advice and guidance, and the juniors treated us with the proper reverence and respect.

Suddenly we found ourselves in a whirl of activities—Cauldron questionnaires, requests for Cauldron pictures—activities labeled "For Seniors Only".

With a touch of nostalgia we watched the football games, attended the pep dances (sponsored by us, this time), and the pep meetings.

In November it was our turn to produce the Senior Class Play. Remember how hard we worked on it? No one thought we were capable of putting across a production like "The Barretts of Wimpole Street", but thanks to the co-operation of Mr. Reese, the stage crew, the cast, and the entire senior class, the performance exceeded all expectations. Exceptionally good were Nancy Green and Anne Good as "Elizabeth", with Gene Levitz as "Browning", and Robert Papsy as the awe-inspiring "Mr. Barrett".

Then it was Christmas, and we watched the Christmas Vespers for the last time as students. The vacation sped by, and we returned in January with the realization that in six short months we would be graduates of Liberty High School.

Can you ever forget that marvelous Sweetheart Dance, held in February, when Lil Yurack was chosen "Sweetheart of 1950". And the Junior Class Play, presented in March, surprised us all.

On March first the Cauldron went to press, and the entire staff heaved a mighty sigh of relief, from his Editorship, Thomas Price, down to the lowliest assistant's assistant.

I remember how all of a sudden we were caught in another mad rush—the glee club operetta, the senior prom, the band concert,—these things just sped by. From a distance we watched the juniors and sophomores elect the Student Council officers, and we realized that we were practically alumni of Liberty High School.

In June we struggled our way through the last exams we were ever going to take at Liberty. Then they were over, and class night was over, and the long rehearsals of the senior choir were over, too. The day we had looked forward to for twelve years was upon us almost before we had time to realize it.

And I remember how impressive graduation was, and how the girls cried and the boys tried not to. Then that, too, was over, and we all congratulated the speakers, and we all congratulated each other, and for the first time we actually realized that this was the end. Never again will we be together as a class, never again will we gripe about notebooks and complain about the cafeteria food. From now on the halls will belong to other classes, a new CAULDRON staff will argue and bicker in the CAULDRON room, and a new senior class will occupy our third floor homerooms.

And so it is all over now. The speeches have been made, the last diploma has been given out, and the caps and gowns have been folded away in the boxes once more. It is all over, except for the remembering. . . .

TECH CLASS HISTORY

With the hope of completing four successful years of education, we entered the freshman class in 1946. Although we were younger and smaller than the rest of the upper classmen, we really made ourselves noticeable. The upper classmen had their fun with us at the Christmas party where we were initiated.

In June we had completed our first year, and we could hardly wait until our summer vacation would end.

Our class was enlarged the next year when the boys from the junior high schools joined us.

The big event of this year, as of any other year, was the Minstrel. The greater part of our class participated in this annual show.

In eleventh grade, we began to look like "Big Deals". To get a good start for the class, the election of officers took place. The following officers were elected:

President . . . . .	MARTIN SMITH
Vice-President . . . . .	LOUIS ROGACS
Treasurer . . . . .	VITO VILLANI
Secretary . . . . .	MICHAEL PEARL

Mr. Moyer was our class advisor, and it was with his assistance that we planned the Junior Prom which was held at the Colonnade. The prom was a successful affair.

Well, well, here we are, members of the Senior Class. Through the demand of the boys in the class, the officers who had served in the Junior Class had been re-elected. Once again our class advisor was Mr. Moyer.

This year we had the task of raising funds for our graduation. It was because of the need of a large sum of money that we had to make the thirteenth minstrel a huge success. As a class we were successful in doing the job.

Our social life at Technical High came to an end with the Senior Ball.

The graduation was held at Grace Hall on the Lehigh University Campus.

At the conclusion of the exercises we bade farewell to our friends and we were ready to fill the shoes of those who had gone on before us.

CLIPPINGS FROM THE BETHLEHEM GLOBE TIMES

ANCIENT DOCUMENT FOUND

AP: Bethlehem, Pennsylvania, USA. June 1, 2035. Upon the death of the last member of the Liberty High School Class of 1950, Thomas Price, age 103 (only the good die young), the Last Will and Testament of the class, which had been in his safe-keeping for the past 85 years, has been brought to light at last. The ancient, yellowed document will undoubtedly prove valuable to local historians. Executors of the estate have offered it for sale to the Bethlehem Museum of Ancient Relics as soon as it has been publicly read.

UNUSUAL BEQUESTS BROUGHT TO LIGHT

AP: Bethlehem, Pennsylvania, USA. June 17, 2035. Today, on the 85th anniversary of the graduation of the Liberty High School Class of 1950, the executors of the estate of Thomas Price (deceased) read the Last Will and Testament of the class. The will has proven to be so unusual that it is printed here in its entirety.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT OF THE CLASS OF 1950

We, the Class of 1950, being temporarily of sound mind and body, do hereby write this last will and testament.

To Dolores Miller we will Irene Brady's ability to be a super blond majorette.

To Joyce Bieber we leave Marlene Spector's skill at writing, and to Billy Miller, Len Capuano's great ability at sports.

Lil Yurack and Janie Fegley pass on their beauty to Phyllis Stoneback and Jackie Ayre.

Dick Chuday wills his charm with the teachers and the rag he uses to polish the apples to Dick Strouce.

Joanne Dobyhan wills her skill as a cheerleader to Dot Hinkle.

Steve Howell leaves his ability to lose his fraternity ring to his brother Jimmy.

We gladly leave Barbara Grube's charm and skill with the boys to that up-and-coming sophomore, Dolly Muschlitz.

To what is left of the senior teachers we leave the junior class, to cherish.

We leave Patsy Merker's red hair to Faith Cannie and with thankfulness we leave Shirleyjane Reed's laugh to Anne Collins.

Patsy Melloy's neat appearance goes to Joan Eckley.

The ability of the senior girls to gossip is left, with our blessing, to the sophomore girls.

To Mr. Lerch the Class of 1950 leaves a barrel of chalk to throw into the waste basket.

With utmost pleasure, Tom Price leaves the next Cauldron and its troubles to the Editor-in-Chief of the Cauldron of 1951.

To Mr. Weaver, George Hopkins wills his resonant and powerful speaking voice.

Doug Cook leaves his skill at drumming to Donald Hunsicker.

We will Barbara Rollo's sweet soprano voice to "Sissy" Pursell.

Forrie Mutter's talent in breaking bones is left to Billy Bauder, with a full supply of splints.

To Mr. Dando (Harry S., that is) we leave those sweet children of the junior class, who, up until the time they enter his classroom, are unburdened by the cares of this cruel, cruel world.

To future classes of chem students, we leave Mr. Nagy and hope that the new ventilator will learn to blow the foul air out, not in.

To the mice and other rodents we leave the cafeteria food.

We leave the bags under our eyes to anyone who is strong enough to carry them around.

Nancy Green's charm, Anne Adams' brown eyes, Joan Hanto's blond hair, and Olive Cochran's blush are left to the lifeless girls in the junior class.

Nancy Penniman's ability to catch a track man is left to any girl who thinks she's fast enough (at running, that is).

Grace Taylor leaves her own personal elevator key to any junior who can pay the price.

Helen Faust bequeaths her ability to play the piano to Alix Moyer.

The staff of the 1950 Cauldron leaves what's left of poor Mr. McIntyre to the staff of the 1951 Cauldron with our best wishes.

We leave with pleasure Billy Snadecki's fickleness to its only equal, the weather.

"Fiddle" Fehnel's pep is willed to Nancy Eisenhart.

Gene Levitz, known to us as Robert Browning, leaves his great acting talent to Chris Gatanis.

Senior students of 1950 bequeath their mountainous notebooks to the seniors of 1951 with the provision that they be handled carefully, used for reference purposes only, and duly returned to their proper owners in June, 1951.

Robert Cook's die-namic personality is left to anyone who wants it.

Phil Maioriello is leaving her sweetness and pertness to Sylvia Hoke.

Ronald Shane is just leaving.

The corner of the document, containing the names of witnesses to the will, had crumbled away, due to its antiquity.

TECH'S LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

The Senior Class of 1950, being of sound mind and body, hereby presents our Last Will and Testament. To the Class of 1951 we would like to say, "Take care of your successors as we have cared for you."

TECH CLASS PROPHECY

Twenty years from now, as seen by the reading of the cross-sectional view of a spur gear, by one of the most talented members of the Senior Class (meaning ourselves) the following prophecy is made:

Eureka! Eureka! John Sikora finally got his firing order for his 1936 Ford with a 1937 motor.

"Jessie" Kitzhoffer, twice divorced, is back to walking through the Five and Ten with hopes of finding himself a new girl.

Robert Uttley has his second home in good ol' Fountain Hill.

George Lees is a partner in the United Army and Navy Store.

Joe A. Moretz finally paid for the glass in the clock on the wall of Room No. 35.

George Keller is still an electrician, one of the few to follow his trade.

Donald Remaly is the highest paid worker on the city.

Peter Menio is going to fool the navy by making them believe that he doesn't have flat feet. Once he is in, he is going to get married to the first girl that comes along.

Jimmie Shock still goes skating at the rink in Hellertown waiting for a nice girl to come his way.

Fred Kline and Robert Matz, who were the two top gymnasts, now have a big school in New York, teaching gymnastics, and weight lifting.

Franklin Bucchin is the head printer in a local printery.

Reuben Garcia is the owner of the R. G. S. C. (Reuben Garcia Soccer Club).

Vito Villani is a New Car Dealer.

Dick Feight has his own grocery store.

"Dickey" is playing baseball for the Phillies.

Frank Kuzman is the famous 300 lb. comedian.

Louis Rogacs is manager of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Kenneth Stout is a well known architect.

"Lefty" Sever is proprietor of "Lefty's Bar Room".

Garganta has a "souped-up" Ford and enters in the stock car races.

Paul Hassick is out in the big timber country running a saw-mill.

Donald Whitezell is making those pin-up calendars.

William Achey travels with Ringling Brothers Circus as the "Thin Man".

"Reds" Horvath is growing bald from worrying.

"Tony" Schiavone is climbing the ladder to stardom, slowly, with his own band.

Harry Beisel, married and the father of twins, is teaching them to be professional ice skaters.

Rollin Stralo opened up Rollins' Rolling Rink which is named "The Three R's".

JUNE 1950

Our high school years are over now.
What more is there to say?
Three years gone by, a milestone reached,
And now we're on our way.

Yes, on our way to greater things
Than we have known before,
We'll face the world as adults now,
As children nevermore.

Before us reach the mountains tops,
Above them shine the stars.
And if we want to reach these heights
Ambition must be ours.

What the future holds for us
Is something none can tell.
Whatever comes, we know our class
Will fight its battles well.

And when we've conquered all our worlds
With many triumphs won,
We'll get together once again
To tell what we have done.

—Marlene Spector
