Brothers Meet Second Time In S. Pacific

JUN 29 1945

For the second time since they have been stationed in the South Pacific with different units of the service, two sons of Mrs. Laura Young, 1406 Linden Street, have met and visited together. Their first meeting was 10 months ago in New Guinea.

The sons are Earl Young, a ship-fitter, second class with the Seabees, who will have been in service three years in November, 18 months of which has been served overseas; and Roger Young, coxswain with the Coast Guard, who will have been in service three years in September, 12 months of which has been served overseas. Before entering service, Earl was employed by the Westinghouse Company, Philadelphia, and Roger by the Bethlehem Steel Company in Bethlehem.

A third son of Mrs. Young, Robert, recently entered service and is now undergoing training at Sampson, N. Y. He was employed as a welder by Westinghouse in Philadelphia before induction.
