Wife Writes Soldier 372 Letters In Year

As long as Uncle Sam delivers the mail—and in this democracy we're proud of our mail service—Staff Sergeant R. F. Bradford, formerly of Bethlehem and now assigned to the 43rd Bomber Squadron at Gowen Field, Idaho, can rest assured he will hear from home.

His wife it was disclosed today, has just completed something of a record in letter writing. During the year he has been in the service he has received 372 letters, one or two written every day that he has been away. The only days she did not write, it was said, are the days he was home on furlough.
