

Zaun, Ambrose J.

Wounded

Private Ambrose J. Zaun, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Zaun of 1283 Mechanic Street, was wounded in action "somewhere in Italy," on November 14, according to a War Department telegram received by his parents.

A former employe of the Bethlehem Steel Company, he was inducted into the armed forces on May 28, 1943, received his preliminary training at Fort Bragg, N. C., and Fort Meade, Md., and has been overseas for the past four months.

For some time he was stationed in England and later in France, being subsequently transferred to the Italian theater of operations.
