

Sieger, Harry C.

Cpl. Harry Sieger
With Ordnance Unit

Cpl. Harry C. Sieger, 23, son of Mrs. Bessie S. Sieger, 228 West Fairview Street, is with a mobile ordnance depot unit in France, which acts as a wholesale distributing center of spare parts for American combat troops charging towards Berlin.

OCT 4 1944
The depot unit was activated in November, 1942, with a nucleus of men whose previous experience qualified them for their new job. Receiving their basic training at Camp Sutton, N. C., they were sent to Raritan Arsenal, N. J. Before they left for France, they operated several depots in England, supplying invasion armies in Africa, Italy and France.

October 4, 1944