CASIMIR C. LAPIENSKI, S 1-C PETER A. SEBASTIONELLI, S 1-C

Two Bethlehem buddies, separated by the war, Casimir C. Lapienski and Peter A. Sebastianelli, have been promoted to seaman first class in the U. S. Navy. Seaman Lapienski, son of Casimir Lapienski, 1444 Phillips Street, is with the Seabees in the South Pacific theater of war. He was a welder in Bethlehem Steel Company prior to entering the Navy a year ago. Seaman Sebastianelli, son of Mrs. Mary Prosper, 1292 East Fourth Street, is a cook on a minesweeper, stationed in Tibourn, Calif. He was a chainman at Bethlehem Steel Company prior to his enlistment in June.
