

Mascovic, Andrew S.

With Medics Who Speed Evacuation Of Wounded Men

Speeding the evacuation of the critically-wounded doughboy, and hastening the return to duty of the combat man whose medical complaint is minor—these form the dual mission of the 166th Medical Battalion of which Pvt. Andrew S. Mascovic, Bethlehem R. 4, and Sgt. Andrew Reto of Pen Argyl are members.

APR 12 1945
Battalion administration demands a wide range of duties by countless small detached units which support the Sixth and Seventh Army groups in Germany. It specializes in shock treatment and is responsible for maintaining high sanitation standards throughout the corps area it serves.

April 12, 1945