

Orner, Carl

Sergeant Carl Orner In Overseas Hospital

Information received through government channels by Stanley Orner, 251 East Garrison Street, was to the effect that his son, Sergeant Carl A. Orner, presently confined to an overseas hospital, is getting along nicely. He is suffering with a perforated wound of his left forearm.

In the service for 27 months, he participated in the invasion of Normandy beaches, and in a number of engagements in France, Belgium and Germany. AIA 27 1945
