

Fidler, Nevin L.

Edits Service Sheet

Nevin L. Fidler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl L. Fidler, 1962 West Union Boulevard, this city, who on July 12 last left for preliminary training in the U. S. Coast Guard Reserve at Manhattan Beach training station, Brooklyn, N. Y., Wednesday received announcement of his transfer from the mounted beach patrol to the military morale office, Brooklyn, where he has started work as editor of "The Harpoon," the official Coast Guard paper.

Fidler, before entering the service was manager of the Bethlehem office of the Call-Chronicle. He joined the latter forces soon after his graduation from Lehigh University with a B. A. degree in 1938.

October 8, 1943