Musikfest '99 Artist Captures Festive Flair of the Festival

By Jennifer O'Brien

Over the past 16 years, Musikfest has given those who come to enjoy "America's Music Festival" a variety of exciting opportunities. For many, it has meant the chance to gather with old friends and make new memories in a magical, musical atmosphere. For others—namely the hundreds of performers and musicians who appear at the festival each year—it has provided the unforgettable thrill of performing their act in front of thousands of energetic fans.

has inspired in him during his visits to Bethlehem.

"Everyone takes away their own personal meaning from a painting, but the process behind creating this work conveyed the energetic and powerful nature of music," said Glasgow. "It is a reflection of the musical environment, and I hope people enjoy it and come away with a good feeling." *

For Kyle Glasgow of Morristown, N.J., Musikfest has provided him with the opportunity to let the world share in two of his life's passions, music and art. As the designer of the Musikfest '99 poster, an acrylic work completed on illustration board, he was able to blend his love of music and his artistic flair into a unique piece highlighting the dynamic mood that characterizes the festival. And for Glasgow, a graduate of Western Carolina University, the variety of auditory treats offered at the festival ensures that everyone finds something to enjoy.

"Although my piece highlights the jazz aspect of the festival, when I think of Musikfest I think of a good conglomeration of different types of music," Glasgow said. "It's a festive atmosphere that centers on music, and it is a really favorable experience."

A native of Jamestown, N.C., Glasgow now works as a free-lance illustrator in northern New Jersey. When he's not working, he enjoys spending time with his family and new son, Jake, playing basketball, looking at art, playing guitar, fishing and enjoying the outdoors.

As a person who enjoys music of all types, Glasgow hopes his work conveys the vibrant spirit Musikfest

Banana Factory Artist-in-Residence's Creations Reflect Steel Industry's Rich Heritage

By Jennifer O'Brien

his summer, Musikfest visitors and all Lehigh Valley residents will have the opportunity to reflect on the steel industry and the legacy of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation as world-renowned painter Nadezda Prvulovic brings her one-of-a-kind artwork to the Banana Factory for a five-week residency.

Prvulovic, who is famous for her immense paintings conveying the power and beauty inherent in blast furnaces, will visit Bethlehem from Aug. 15-Sept. 20. While she is here, she will take part in "Steel Festival: The Art of an Industry," an 11-day September extravaganza commemorating Bethlehem's industrial ancestry. She will also be working on a painting in the Banana Factory, a community arts and cultural center located on Bethlehem's south side, throughout her visit, including during Musikfest.

The Banana Factory is the visual arts component of the Bethlehem Musikfest Association, the organization that puts on Musikfest. Each day during the 10-day festival, a trolley will make several stops at the community cultural center, 211 Plymouth St., to allow visitors to meet with Prvulovic and see her work first-hand.

Prvulovic attributes the idea for her visit to Bethlehem to Bethlehem Steel employee Elizabeth Kovach and Lehigh University Director of Art Galleries Ricardo Viera, both of whom viewed her work and suggested a collaboration with the Banana Factory.

Diane LaBelle, Banana Factory program director, feels the Prvulovic visit provides a common link between the two Bethlehem festivals and the Banana Factory.

"This is the ideal way to tie together Musikfest with the Banana Factory and the Steel Festival," LaBelle said. "This is the visual arts component of Musikfest and the visual arts component of the Steel Festival. It's a perfect way of bringing everything together."

Prvulovic, who was born in Dubrovnik, Croatia, a medieval city established on the Adriatic Sea in the seventh century, counts the influence of the Italian Renaissance among the factors that spurred her interest in art as a child. She now works in gouache, an opaque watercolor prepared with gum, which is then applied to paper backed with canvas she imports from France.

Prvulovic, who now makes her home in Houston, Texas, studied art at the University of Fine Arts in Belgrade and the School for the Arts, Andre Lot, Paris, and worked as an assistant to cubist Ossip Zadkine of Paris, all of which exposed her to an extensive array of media. It wasn't until she arrived in Thionville, France, in 1983, however, that she was inspired to work on what has since become her life's passion.

"The first time I saw a blast furnace was in Thionville in Lorraine, [a province in France]," Prvulovic said. "It was this abandoned, huge sculpture in the rural landscape, and I decided to do something with this. Since I discovered blast furnaces they have become my ego and my life. I really live them."

Artist Nadezda Prvulovic (right), shown here with Banana Factory Program Director Diane LaBelle, is creating a one-of-a-kind gouache painting of a blast furnace—inspired by The Bethlehem Steel—at the Banana Factory Aug. 15–Sept. 20 as part of the Banana Factory's visual arts component at Musikfest '99, and "Steel Festival: The Art of an Industry" in September.

Although Prvulovic sees the fact that she has never been given permission to enter the heart of a blast furnace as one of her great disappointments, she still has been able to create startlingly brilliant and lifelike images by studying magazines and photographs.

Banana Factory visitors will have the opportunity to see these creations first-hand through an exhibit of Prvulovic's works on display at the Banana Factory during her visit. The collection of paintings will form a mural which flows from wall to wall, symbolically enclosing visitors within the incandescent interior of a blast furnace.

The artist will also be working on a new creation during her residency. "I am planning to do a big, molten red painting focusing on the interior of the steel mills," Prvulovic said. "I will put in a touch of the glowing energy and intensity of the blast furnaces. This painting will be another of a continuing series called the Red Series that I did in my studio in Maryland."

Over the years, Prvulovic's work has been featured in numerous solo exhibitions in national and international galleries and museums, including Art et Industrie, New York, N.Y.; the El Paso Museum of Art, El Paso, Texas, and Cite Internationale des Arts, Paris, France. She has also received an impressive array of awards for her art and is featured in a number of public collections worldwide.

And although blast furnaces have remained Prvulovic's inspiration throughout the years, her work has evolved over time. For example, last year she devoted herself to working on a series of paintings depicting the demise of Kazan, an old furnace in Russia. The exhibition was aptly titled "Demolition."

"I demolished Kazan both physically and intellectually in that series of paintings," Prvulovic said. "I moved from realistic to abstraction and used the colors pink and green in the paintings."

Prvulovic, who has been to Bethlehem before, is looking forward to revisiting a community that developed around the steel industry and fostered the spirit embodied in her paintings. And although she does not depict human figures in her images, she recognizes the vital part steelworkers, such as those who worked at the Bethlehem Steel, played in the operation of the blast furnaces.

"I look forward to the exhibition in Bethlehem," Prvulovic said. "I am very excited about the people there, the steelworkers. I want to celebrate the perceived characteristics of steelworkers in my art."

In fact, her work may even take on a special meaning for the many people who worked for, or grew up around, the Bethlehem Steel, which shut down the last of its Bethlehem plant's operations in 1998.

"I will do and show exhilarating images of the process in mills and in blast furnaces," Prvulovic said. "I will show the beauty, energy and power of this strong and creative society. I am almost romantic about the past, and about the power of the industry. I am still looking at steel as one of my best friends of almost 16 years."

And through her art, Prvulovic will share these visions of her best friend, one with which many other people are also familiar. *

Musikfest Meets the Millennium

by Jennifer O'Brien

As we approach the millennium, Musikfest patrons can look forward to the festival marching into the next century without missing a beat. That's because a number of changes are on the drawing board for Musikfest 2000, including a fresh look to the festival and the possible addition of new festival sites.

Recently, Jeffrey Parks, president of the Bethlehem Musikfest Association, revealed what visitors can expect to see at Musikfest in the millennium.

"We're hoping that by the year 2000 the festival will look more exciting and attractive for patrons," Parks said.

A variety of colorful visual treats will enhance the kaleidoscope of harmonies at the festival because plans to incorporate brighter decorations and banners identifying the sites for food, beverages, tickets and entertainment are in the works.

The longstanding practice of using tickets to buy food and beverages may also be replaced by the introduction of Smart Cards, an option made possible through emerging 21st century technology. Using Smart Cards, which are based on the same concept as debit cards, would allow patrons to purchase a plastic card and then deposit money into a replenishable account. The card would then be used to purchase products from any authorized Musikfest vendor.

Festival-goers hoping for even more variety in the festival's musical repertoire will also be pleased by what's in store for the future. Right now, the idea of locating several platzes on Bethlehem's south side is seriously being discussed. In addition, another venue is in the works—RiverPlace—where audiences could enjoy part of the festival while seated along the banks of the Lehigh River.

Of course, the long-term goal of alerting the music industry to what Musikfest audiences have always known—that the festival is a cornucopia of new talent waiting to be discovered—will also remain a priority in coming years.

But although the nuances that have made Musikfest so magical for millions over the years are still evolving, the main idea behind the festival remains the same.

"The concept of the festival hasn't changed," Parks said. "It was supposed to be and still is an urban festival that is a celebration of music of all kinds, with a bit of a German influence to celebrate the early history of the community."

And this great celebration will undoubtedly continue as the next century begins and a whole new generation is introduced to the sights and sounds of Musikfest, America's Music Festival. *

What's New in '99?

This Year's Festival Features Scheduling Changes, an Art Museum on Wheels and More

by Michael Babwahsingh

Just when you thought Musikfest couldn't get any better, it has. Musikfest '99 features a number of scheduling improvements, as well as exciting new performers and arts events, which will surely make this year's festival the most memorable yet.

First of all, weekend festival-goers will no longer have to swelter in the hot summer sun at Americaplatz thanks to the site's new, later opening time. In the past, Americaplatz had opened at noon on weekends, but this year it starts up at 5 p.m. each day. But even though the site is opening in the evening, the entertainment will still be hot. Among Americaplatz's top performers this year are A.J. Croce, son of the late folk musician Jim Croce, and Diva, a 15-piece big band comprised of female musicians.

The time for Kunstplatz performances has also changed this year. Shows now start at 8:30 p.m. instead of 8 p.m. "The change allows people more time to get to the show," explains Jeff Parks, president of the Bethlehem Musikfest Association.

For those who enjoy the festival's fireworks, the annual closing night display will now take place at 10 p.m., a half hour later than last year. The change is necessary due to the later Kunstplatz performance time this year.

Visitors to Musikfest '99 can also look forward to an increased variety of musical styles. Popular artists such as pianist Michael Feinstein and the multi-talented David Grisman Quintet, along with the Bach Choir of Bethlehem and children's performer Tom Chapin, highlight this year's Asa Packer Series lineup at the Zoellner Arts Center.

Kathy Krautter, director of performing arts for Musikfest, stresses "expanding the Asa Packer Series is a step towards broadening the range of performers to include more nationally recognized artists of all styles."

At Festplatz, visitors will be able to hear four of the five 1999 Grammy nominees for Best Polka Album, including Grammy winner Jimmy Sturr and His Orchestra. New to the site is a "German" village, a marketplace featuring Artrain, a traveling art museum now featuring the exhibit "Artistry of Space," stops at Musikfest this year.

Käthe Wolfahrt, a German retailer offering a full line of Christmas ornaments and other gift items from Germany.

On an artistic note, Nadezda Prvulovic, a world-renowned Croatian painter, will be the artist-in-residence at the Banana Factory, a community cultural center in south Bethlehem managed by the Bethlehem Musikfest Association, during Musikfest. Her residency begins Aug. 15 and continues through the Steel Festival, which takes place Sept. 9-19. While in Bethlehem, Prvulovic will create a large-scale gouache painting of a blast furnace, depicting the raw power of the steel industry, as well as its gracefulness.

Last but not least, Artrain, a traveling art museum on a train, makes an appearance at Musikfest with the exhibit "Artistry of Space," which features works from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's fine art program, as well as pieces from the Smithsonian's National Air and Space Museum. Works range from paintings and drawings to prints and sculptures creatively interpreting events in the history of space flight. Artrain's stop at Musikfest begins on Sacred Heart Preview Night, Aug. 13, and continues through the end of the festival.

With so much to see and do at Musikfest '99, people of all ages should have no problem finding their own niche at the festival. And, one can only wait with anticipation for the changes at Musikfest 2000. *

Where to Find

Whether you are visiting Musikfest for the first time, or are a seasoned attendee, we urge you to read through the next few pages. They contain information on a range of services and facilities you may need as you enjoy your stay at the festival.

Access for Persons with Disabilities

Public parking with relatively easy access for persons with disabilities is available in the Walnut Street Parking Garage located within the festival site. Reserved off-site parking is available only at the Lehigh Shopping Center off Union Boulevard. A free shuttle bus, provided by GOOD SHEPHERD, will transport a disabled person and one companion to the festival. Reserved parking for disabled persons is not available at any of the festival sites, but limited parking is available on Conestoga Street near Festplatz.

Few architectural barriers exist throughout the festival site. However, there is a steep hill going down Main Street from the corner of Church Street to Festplatz and Kunstplatz. Handwerkplatz, Kinderplatz, Kunstplatz and Volksplatz are located on grassy areas.

Alcoholic Beverages

The Bethlehem Musikfest Association offers an assortment of beer, wine and coolers for purchase by our patrons throughout the festival. Please enjoy the drinks available at each of these sites. Do not bring your own to the festival. Since Musikfest is a nonprofit corporation, the proceeds from food and beverage sales help offset some of the costs of presenting the free musical performances at the festival. We ask you not to carry any alcoholic beverages outside these entertainment areas. State law prohibits the removal of alcoholic beverages from the areas at which they are served.

The legal drinking age in Pennsylvania is 21. Musikfest staff or volunteers may request photo identification from anyone purchasing alcoholic beverages. Minors will not be served. Musikfest reserves the right to withhold alcohol from anyone who lacks proof of age. City of Bethlehem Police may also check IDs and deal with those who behave irresponsibly.

Drinking and Driving Don't Mix

If you or a friend are driving and have had too much to drink, locate the nearest information booth and a cab will be called at your expense.

Automated Teller Machines

Those that incorporate the MAC system are located at the following bank branches:

- Summit Bank (member Plus System and New York Cash Exchange)
- Nazareth National Bank and Trust (member Cirrus System)
- First Union
- Lafayette Ambassador Bank

ATMs are on-site at:

- Americaplatz
- Familienplatz
- Festplatz

Concerts

While most of the concerts at Musikfest are free, some do require tickets for admission. They include:

- Asa Packer Concert Series at the Zoellner Arts Center, Packer Avenue, Lehigh University.
- Candlelight Concert Series in Foy Concert Hall, Moravian College Center for Music and Art, South Main Street.
- Ice House at Sand Island
- Kunstplatz Concerts near the Community Arts Pavilion. Admission is charged for the seating area. There is also a limited, free access area where patrons may place their lawn chairs and blankets on the field (after 4 p.m.). Items left on the field before 4 p.m. will be removed and discarded.

Concert Tickets

To purchase Asa Packer, Candlelight, Ice House and Kunstplatz concert tickets call 610-332-1350; stop by the Banana Factory, 211 Plymouth St., Bethlehem; or visit our web site at www.musikfest.org. Banana Factory hours for purchasing tickets are, by phone: Monday through Saturday, 10 a.m.-5 p.m., and by walk-in: Monday through Friday, 10 a.m.-7 p.m., and Saturday, 10 a.m.-5 p.m.

Prior to August 9, mail-order tickets for all concerts will be sent to the purchaser's home.

From August 9-13, tickets may be picked up at the Banana Factory from 10 a.m.-7 p.m.

Beginning August 14, concerts tickets are sold daily at the Banana Factory from 8:30 a.m.-4 p.m. Tickets are also sold at the Festplatz Box Office from noon-9 p.m. with the exceptions noted on next page:

Where to Find

On the night of the concert:

- Remaining Candlelight Concert tickets may only be purchased at the Foy Concert Hall Box Office, Moravian College, one hour before show time.

- Remaining Asa Packer concert tickets may only be purchased from the Box Office at the Zoellner Arts Center, Lehigh University, one hour before show time.

- Remaining Kunstplatz concert tickets may only be purchased from the Kunstplatz Box Office at the site, one hour before show time. At Kunstplatz, in each of the ticketed sections, there is seating available for persons in wheelchairs. Anyone accompanying a person with physical disabilities must have a ticket for the same seating section.

- Remaining Ice House at Sand Island concert tickets may only be purchased at the box office at the Ice House, one hour before show time.

Will Call

All prepurchased tickets are available at the Banana Factory, 211 Plymouth St. (across from the Comfort Suites), Bethlehem, until 4 p.m. the day of the show. After 4 p.m., they must be picked up at the site where the concert is being held. Photo ID is required to pick up tickets.

Festival Rules

Few rules exist at Musikfest. However, the ones that do ensure a safe and enjoyable festival experience. Please read and follow them.

- DO NOT bring food or beverages to the festival
- NO coolers or pitchers permitted
- NO PETS allowed, except guide dogs
- Shoes and shirts are REQUIRED
- DO NOT REMOVE alcoholic beverages from the site
- NO bikes, skateboards, roller blades or audio equipment on festival grounds
- NO soliciting
- NO reserved chairs or tables
- NO SMOKING in any tented areas or Kunstplatz seating areas
- DO NOT climb on any scaffold towers or stages
- For your own safety, DO NOT swim or wade in the creek, canal or river.

Defacing property within the Musikfest site may result in prosecution.

First Aid

First aid stations called "Healthplatz," which is sponsored by St. Luke's Hospital, are located at Festplatz, Familienplatz, Kinderplatz and Volksplatz (plus Americaplatz on weekends). St. Luke's HealthStar will also be on-site for first aid. First aid service at the festival is free. If additional treatment is needed, an ambulance and/or hospital may charge for services.

At Kinderplatz, there is a private area where mothers can nurse and change diapers. Diaper changing supplies will be available.

Inclement Weather

Musikfest performances continue rain or shine, but are stopped during electrical storms. Performance schedules may be adjusted in the case of severe weather conditions.

Lost and Found/ Lost Adults and Children

Found items should be taken to the nearest ticket and information booth. Wallets, keys and other valuables may be claimed at the Musikfest office in the Banana Factory, 211 Plymouth St., Bethlehem. Musikfest is not responsible for lost items. Items will be held for 30 days following the festival.

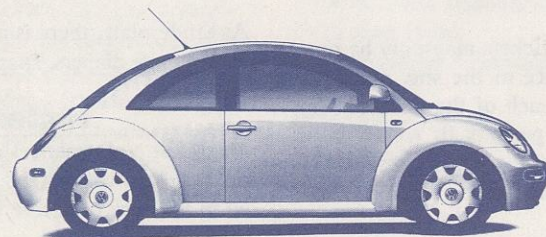

If you become separated from your companions, we suggest you go to the nearest ticket and information booth to meet your party. We cannot make announcements from the stage except in emergency situations. Lost children should be taken to the nearest ticket and information booth. Their names and descriptions will be circulated throughout the festival. Children will stay at the ticket and information booth until their parents/guardians are found.

Parking/Shuttleplatz

You may want to avoid the heavy traffic congestion in downtown Bethlehem during the festival by parking at one of the color-coded lots called Shuttleplatz, which is sponsored by Mrs. T's Pierogies—the official pierogy of Musikfest—and WAEB AM 790. Patrons using Route 378 should follow the signs to the appropriate Musikfest parking area. Patrons arriving from I-78 should follow the signs to Musikfest parking from the Route 412/Hellertown Exit (Exit 21). We strongly urge visitors to use one of these three off-site parking lots:

Daily from 11:30 a.m.-11:30 p.m. at:

1. YELLOW - The Lehigh Shopping Center Lot, Union Boulevard and Club Avenue in West Bethlehem. (A GOOD SHEPHERD wheelchair-accessible bus will pick up and drop off disabled persons for free at this lot only.)

Bicycles/Pedalplatz

Free bicycle-monitored parking is available at two Pedalplatz locations: on the Second Avenue ramp off the Hill-to-Hill Bridge and on the north side of City Hall near Americaplatz. Riders should bring their own locks. Bicycles may be kept in monitored racks from noon until 8 p.m. daily. All cyclists receive a one-day pass for the Musikfest Trolley.

Transportation Pins

A transportation pin is necessary for unlimited rides on LANTA buses for the Xerox Walk 'n' Ride program and the Musikfest Trolleys. These collectible pins may be purchased prior to the festival at the Gift Shop at the Banana Factory and selected retailers in the Bethlehem area. Pins cost $5, or $4 with coupon, and are valid for all nine days of the festival. Coupons are available in the Musikfest Transportation Brochure and advertisements in The Morning Call and Express-Times. During Musikfest pins are available at all merchandise tents and stands.

Trolleys

Musikfest operates several trolleys supplying transportation to all festival sites and museums. Trolleys travel continuously around the festival but stop only at designated locations identified by signs. See "Festival Map" in the center of this book for trolley stop locations.

Rest Rooms/Portoplatz

Portable toilets (Portoplatz) are located at or near all outdoor festival sites. Free public rest rooms may also be found at the following locations: Bethlehem Public Library (11 W. Church St., Monday through Friday, 9 a.m.-5 p.m., closed weekends); City Hall (10 E. Church St., Monday through Friday, 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m.); and the Walnut Street Parking Garage.

Portable toilets which accommodate the needs of persons with disabilities can be found at the following locations: Americaplatz, Familienplatz, Liederplatz, Festplatz, Kinderplatz, Kunstplatz and Volksplatz.

Telephones

Outdoor public telephones are located at Spring Street near Festplatz, Volksplatz, 53 E. Broad St. east of New Street, and 525 N. New St. Free local mobile telephone service is available at Familienplatz, Festplatz and Volksplatz.

Indoor telephones are located at: Bethlehem Public Library (11 W. Church St., Monday through Friday, 9 a.m.-5 p.m., closed weekends), City Hall (10 E. Church St., Monday through Friday, 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m.), Marketplace near Familienplatz and Foy Concert Hall in the Moravian College Center for Music and Art.

Sites of Musikfest '99

The naming of the sites "platz" and the unique spelling of the festival itself reflects Bethlehem's rich Moravian heritage, evident in the city's architecture on Main and Church streets and within the 18th Century Moravian Industrial Quarter.

Americaplatz America Place

At this site, which offers a breathtaking view of South Mountain, visitors can listen to the great sounds of contemporary rock, Cajun/Zydeco, country/bluegrass, blues, jazz and big band music. American cuisine compliments the site's theme and includes Cajun treats, a variety of seafood platters and fruit salads. Americaplatz, located on the beautiful City Center Plaza at Church and New streets, is open from 5-11 p.m., Aug. 14-22.

Asa Packer Series at the Zoellner Arts Center

This year, the Asa Packer Series features the acoustic sounds of The David Grisman Quintet, the music of pianist Michael Feinstein and the fine choral works of the renowned Bach Choir of Bethlehem. In addition, Tom Chapin will bring his fabulous brand of family entertainment to the Zoellner Arts Center, located on Packer Avenue in south Bethlehem, for a special children's concert (special 3 p.m. show). Concerts begin at 8 p.m. Tickets range from $12-$30. Advance ticket purchases are suggested. A parking garage is located next to the Zoellner Arts Center.

Blumenplatz Flower Place

Music may be the main attraction at Musikfest, but Blumenplatz offers visitors a quiet escape to admire a gorgeous landscape of original floral sculptures. A core of Musikfest flower volunteers transform an 81-foot-by-23-foot garden into a grand floral display. Blumenplatz is located directly behind the Bethlehem Area Public Library, near Americaplatz.

Candlelight Concerts

The Musikfest Candlelight Concert Series offers eight different concerts in which regionally and nationally-known performers showcase their work in a variety of musical styles. Performances, which are held in Foy Concert Hall Aug. 14-21, begin each evening at 6 p.m. Candlelight Concerts offer a chance for serious musical appreciation, without distraction or interruption, in an intimate, informal setting. Foy Hall is located in the Moravian College Center for Music and Art on south Main Street. Tickets for these concerts range from $10-$15. Candlelight Concerts are also supported in part by a grant from the Pennsylvania Council on the Arts.

Chamber Series

The Chamber Series features instrumental and recital performances by duos, trios and individual musicians. This free concert series is held in the Old chapel behind Central Moravian Church, near Heckewelder Place. Concerts, which take place Aug. 16-20, begin at 7:30 p.m.

Familienplatz Family Place

On the Broad Street pedestrian mall is the family site called Familienplatz, which presents tribute acts, country/bluegrass, gospel, jazz, rock, folk and acoustic music. Once again, Musikfest has partnered with local radio station WZZO to present the WZZO Showcase Aug. 16-18. Site hours are noon-11 p.m., Aug. 14-22.

Festplatz Festival Place

Festplatz is the place where thousands of Musikfest visitors head to listen and dance to their favorite local, regional and national polka bands. For 1999, the guest European band is Schwarzech Musikanten from Berg, Bavaria. This year, visitors will also be able to shop for authentic German gift items in our new "German" village. Of course, Musikfest will also continue with its popular East Coast Polka Dance Championships which give visitors the chance to demonstrate their talents and win cash prizes. Sign up for the championships at the festival. Festplatz, located off Spring Street, under the Hill-To-Hill Bridge, is open from 5:30-11 p.m., Aug. 13, and noon-11 p.m., Aug. 14-22.

Handwerkplatz Craft Place

At Handwerkplatz, craftspeople display and sell a variety of handmade traditional craft items in Historic Bethlehem's 18th Century Moravian Industrial Quarter (across the Monocacy Creek from Festplatz). Visitors can also watch daily craft demonstrations and enjoy a delicious variety of foods from vendors who add to the ambience. Handwerkplatz hours are noon-11 p.m., Aug. 14-22.

Ice House at Sand Island

The Ice House, which is located on Sand Island next to the Lehigh River, is the showcase arena for Godfrey Daniels, Touchstone Theatre, the Mock Turtle Marionettes and Pennsylvania Youth Theatre. See the daily Performance Schedules for a list of performers.

Sites of Musikfest '99

Each "platz" offers food, music and activities reflecting a different theme. Five indoor concert series offer other venues for chamber, classical, folk, jazz, sacred and children's music.

We encourage you to visit all the Musikfest sites to fully experience the festival, our hospitality and our beautiful City of Bethlehem.

Kinderplatz Children's Place

Kinderplatz, located on the grassy island between Spring and Lehigh streets, presents an interactive playhouse featuring a "dress-up" theatre, clowns, jugglers, magicians and a host of performers, plus a souvenir craft activities tent, to keep children enthralled. Musikfest invites you to "be a kid again" and enjoy local, regional and national children's performances including music, dance, puppet shows and more. Kinderplatz is open from noon-7 p.m., Aug. 14-22.

Parents take note: Kinderplatz is for the whole family to enjoy. Please do not leave your child unattended. Thanks!

PP&L Kunstplatz Art Place

Kunstplatz, located next to the Bethlehem Community Arts Pavilion behind Moravian College's Church Street Campus, presents ten nights of great headline entertainment. This year, Kunstplatz shows begin at 8:30 p.m. to allow audiences to enjoy the large video screens on site. Tickets for Kunstplatz shows range from $6-$32. There is also a special section to the rear of the venue where people can stand or sit (bring your own blankets or chairs) and watch the concerts for free.

Liederplatz Song Place

Liederplatz, which is located behind the 1758 Sun Inn, takes place in a lovely brick-paved courtyard transformed into an outdoor cabaret. Visitors can sit at an umbrella or picnic table, relax and enjoy folk, world beat, jazz, new age and a variety of eclectic musical styles. Site hours are noon-11 p.m., Aug. 14-21, and noon-10 p.m., Aug. 22.

Main Street Musikfest

Musikfest is proud to present Main Street Musikfest, which features two performance areas. Visitors can listen to Dixieland, string bands, Mummers, barbershop quartets or Andean music. Main Street Musikfest creates a natural bridge between the eastern (Familienplatz) and western (Festplatz and Volksplatz) ends of the festival. It is also the place for visitors to enjoy shopping in a variety of specialty stores. The site is open from 4-11 p.m. on weekdays, Aug. 14-22, and noon-11 p.m. on weekends.

Muralplatz Mural Place

In 1984, a creative individual began painting a mural on a vacant, boarded building on Main Street. That was the first "unofficial" beginning of Muralplatz. Today, artists create original paintings in the 18th Century Moravian Industrial Quarter (on Main Street). From Aug. 14-22, Muralplatz features a different artist each day creating a work based on a unique theme. Stop and watch gifted artists creating beauty for the eye.

Musikfest Bandstand

At 7:30 p.m., Kinderplatz becomes the Musikfest Bandstand where adults can dance to Motown, rock, reggae, '50s/'60s music and more. This site is open 5:30-11 p.m., Aug. 13, and 7:30-11 p.m., Aug. 14-22.

Street Performers

At Musikfest, our street performers specialize in making sure our visitors have a good time. In the finest tradition of city festivals everywhere, Musikfest street performers appear at various times and different areas throughout the festival site. Street performers include jugglers, magicians, clowns, stilt walkers and quartets, so keep your eyes open and your ears tuned for an amusing surprise!

Vesper Concerts

Classical piano, rhythm and blues, classical and gospel music are showcased in this series, which happens at Central Moravian Church at Main and Church Streets. Performances, which take place Aug. 16-20, are free and begin at 5 p.m.

Volksplatz People Place

Volksplatz, located at Johnston Park, offers visitors an area to appreciate delicious ethnic foods and enjoy intriguing international music. Performances are held under a large tent where visitors can sit and listen to Japanese, Indian, Australian, Native American, Latin, reggae, African and Celtic music while enjoying Middle Eastern, Polish or Italian dishes. At Volksplatz, Musikfest continues its tradition of showcasing the diverse ethnic cultures of our community. Experience the world through music at this site from 5:30-11 p.m., Aug. 13, and noon-11 p.m., Aug. 14-22.

company of Kunstplatz, and
Oldies 99.9 FM

The Fabulous Greaseband first appeared at Musikfest in 1995, playing the best of rock 'n' roll from the '50s through the '80s. The band began when a group of high school guys performed at a spring music festival. Their high-energy dance routines and tribute to the golden era of music, early rock 'n' roll, brought down the house. Tickets: $6

Tony Bennett

Sponsored by AD Computer Corporation, Lehigh Valley Cardiology and Michael Dunn Company

Eight-time Grammy winner Tony Bennett's fifth decade in popular music has been perhaps his most rewarding, with the recognition his music has received from an entirely new generation of listeners. Perhaps one of the reasons why he has had such lasting success and impact is the fact that he communicates such a sense of excitement about his art, and such a sense of wonder about the gift that is his extraordinary voice. "The thrill of performing hasn't changed in years," says Bennett. "I learn something different every day. I've never gotten bored yet and I don't think I ever will." Bennett, who is known for classics such as "I Left My Heart in San Francisco" and "Stranger in Paradise," has been heralded for "his ability to convey a sense of joy, of utter satisfaction, in what he is doing (New York Times)." This is especially true on his latest release, The Playground, a recording filled with songs designed for the enjoyment of parents and children alike. Tickets: $32

Sponsored by HOT TAMALES®, Agway Energy Products and B-104 Radio

Melding folk-rock jangle with sharply honed songcraft, Hootie & the Blowfish create guitar-charged music that draws on rock's rich past while intimating an equally promising future. It's a sound that reflects the band's interracial makeup, blending the best elements of '60s rock and classic black pop. The band, which formed in Columbia, S.C., in the late 1980s, made its recording breakthrough with the smash album, Cracked Rear View, which contained hits such as "Hold My Hand," "Let Her Cry" and "Only Wanna Be With You." Since that recording, the group has sold over 17 million albums and captured two Grammy Awards. Its most recent album, Musical Chairs, was released in 1998.

Artist of the Day
Al Meixner Trio

(Polka, World Music, Euro-Pop). Laurys Station, PA. A Grammy Award-winning Musikfest favorite, the Al Meixner Trio mixes continental dance music with an authentic ethnic repertoire. The group, which sings "snappy" polkas in eight languages, is devoted to entertaining young listeners, as a form of alternative music, and older enthusiasts seeking to preserve and identify with their ethnic heritage. Al Meixner, Alex Meixner, Brian Czach.

Joey McIntyre, with special guests Jennifer Paige and C Note

Sponsored by Chrysler Showcase, www.lehighvalleyNOW.com (RegionOnline) and B-104 Radio

After the highly successful group New Kids on the Block stopped performing, Joey McIntyre reinvented himself as a genuine musician, with a passion and talent that virtually guaranteed his break-out solo success. Since then he has been honing his talents, working on his singing, performing and most of all, his writing. When he released his first album on his own Web site, without the benefit of a record company, what ensued was a virtual feeding frenzy. The breakout song, "Stay The Same," was the number-one most requested song every night on KISS-FM. The album Stay The Same was snapped up by Columbia Records and soon became a chart topper. On stage and in the studio, good things are certainly happening for Joey McIntyre.

Jennifer Paige stuns audiences with her incredible, clear voice. The 24-year-old Atlanta native, who burst onto the music scene with the hit "Crush" from her debut album, Jennifer Paige, and followed it up with the single "Always You," reveals a startlingly pure and honest approach to music and life in general. Her versatility is evident in her songs which range from dance-pop to ballads to alternative rock. Tickets: $17

Alan Gaumer and Friends with Robin Bryan

(Jazz). Lehigh Valley and Pocono Mountains, PA. This musical group takes you on a journey through traditional, jazz, be-bop and fusion music, as well as the blues side of jazz. Its seasoned players each have a history of their own accomplishments in composing and sharing the stage with some of the best in jazz, contemporary and classical music. Born and raised in the region, they have played with a virtual "who's who" of the jazz world. They also regularly participate in each other's projects, enabling them to draw from a deep well of musical history.

An Evening with Branford Marsalis

Sponsored by Edwards Business Machines, Inc./RICOH, www.lehighvalleyNOW.com (RegionOnline) and Smooth Jazz WJJZ 106.1 FM

Branford Marsalis is a paradox. On one hand, he advances jazz as the ultimate musical idiom, and then he vehemently defends R&B. His passions are deep and seemingly contradictory. He admires both Prince and Lester Young, Sting and John Coltrane, the Beatles and Coleman Hawkins. "You don't play what you feel. There's only freedom in structure, my man. There's no freedom in freedom," says Marsalis. When he replaced his brother, Wynton, on the "Tonight Show" he became the most visible jazz performer in the nation. Marsalis is a richly eloquent artist with a powerful sense of self and a persistent creative vision.

"Success is not a reason to quit," says Kenny Rogers. "I happen to love what I'm doing." This multi-talented superstar has achieved the amazing distinction of selling over 100 million records worldwide. His track record thus far makes for one formidable résumé: four Grammys, 11 People's Choice Awards and eight Academy of Country Music Awards; 11 platinum albums (six are multi-platinum), one platinum single and enough gold albums and singles to stock Fort Knox. Rogers continues to add new dimensions to his diversified career. From November 1998 through early January 1999, renowned Hallmark Entertainment presented Kenny Rogers in "Christmas From the Heart," a holiday celebration in New York City for the entire family.

Since exploding on the airwaves in 1977 with the song "Feels Like The First Time," Foreigner has continued to forge its way into music history. With a string of multi-platinum albums and Top 40 hits, the band has continually produced classics such as "Double Vision," "Hot Blooded" and "I Want to Know What Love Is" for 22 years. Over two decades later, Foreigner still maintains its musical quality and identifiable sound. In June of this year, founding members Lou Gramm and guitarist Mick Jones were joined by longtime bandmates Bruce Turgon, Jeff Jacobs, Tom Gimbal and new drummer Brian Tichy on a United States tour that features the group playing all its hits from the past 20-plus years.

Steve Brosky

(Blues). Whitehall, PA. Steve Brosky is an original singer/songwriter who brings to contemporary music a Brandoesque bravado rare among performers today. His performances have attracted a following in clubs around the Lehigh and Delaware Valleys, Philadelphia nightspots, regular showcases in New York's Greenwich Village and the college concert circuit.

The Lettermen

Sponsored by MetLife, The Law Offices of O'Hare & Heitzman and Oldies 99.9 FM

From their first hit in 1961—"The Way You Look Tonight"—to current hits of today, their sound is undeniably Lettermen. Nine gold albums and scores of top singles attest to a popularity that has endured through several generations. Whether singing a cappella or backed by an entire symphony orchestra, the Lettermen theme still remains the love song. Lending that well-known harmony to every arrangement, they have proven that love ballads have an appeal that knows no boundaries and will continue to stand the test of time for many years to come.

Jonny Lang

Sponsored by Wave Technology, Inc. - buylehighvalley.com - uschool.com and WZZO

Jonny Lang's talent belies superlatives. His extraordinary singing and guitar playing have stamped him as a once-in-a-generation blues talent. His 1997 debut, Lie To Me, jumped to the top of the new artist album charts and critics marveled at the poise and maturity the 16-year old artist displayed. On his new release, Wander This World, Lang has expanded his foundation of blues into R&B, rock and ballads. The album smokes from the opening, funky track, "Still Rainin'," through the heartfelt ballad "Breakin' Me." Jonny Lang is the total package: a seemingly boundless talent matched by the desire to continually feed his creative fires and a self-awareness rare in adults, let alone teenagers. To quote the late Luther Allison, "Jonny Lang has the power to move the music into the next millennium by reaching the ears of a new generation. The great musicians have the power to break all of the 'isms'-race, age, sex, etc. Jonny Lang is one of those musicians."

Mark Chesnutt

Sponsored by TuWay Wireless and Wegmans

When Mark Chesnutt released his first single, "Too Cold At Home," in 1990, fans and critics instantly boosted the young Texan to the top tier of country music traditionalists. He then reinforced their high opinion of him by scoring such other pure country hits as "Brother Jukebox," "Blame it on Texas" and "Old Flames Have New Names." By 1993, his sound was so distinctive and his career so hot that the Country Music Association honored him with the Horizon Award. Over the next few years, Chesnutt saw three of his albums, Almost Goodbye, Longnecks and Short Stories and Too Cold At Home, go platinum. Two others, What A Way To Live and Greatest Hits, went gold. With his latest release, I Don't Want To Miss A Thing, Chesnutt reaches out to a broader audience.

The Three Jakes

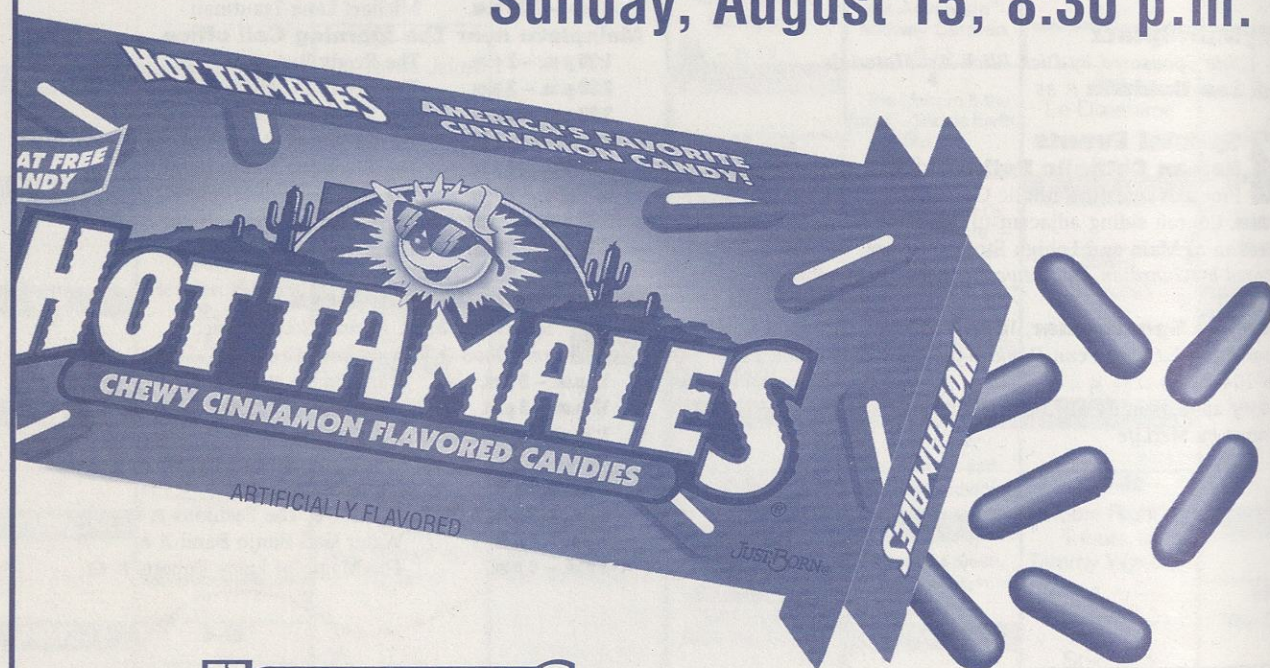

(Folk 'n' Roll). Allentown, PA. Their popularity is exploding, yet they refuse to tour. Appearances are rare, yet they pack every house. Mystery and intrigue shroud The Three Jakes, yet this much is known: their supercharged fusion of high energy harmonies, sock-rocking rhythms and stops-out fun make each performance as much a party as a concert. Nuclear Whales Saxophone Orchestra

The Nuclear Whales Saxophone Orchestra combines a unique brand of zany comedy, high-impact choreography and sophisticated musicianship into a unique act sure to please audiences of all ages. This San Francisco-based group, which features the entire "Family of Saxophones," achieves a six-octave range by utilizing instruments as diverse as the high-pitched sopranino and the 6-foot-8-inch-tall contrabass, the "World's Largest Saxophone."

Since 1981, the Nuclear Whales have been entertaining audiences and winning loyal fans both close to home and abroad. The ensemble incorporates pieces ranging from "Danny Boy" and a "Duke Ellington Medley" to "Tip-Toe Thru' The Tulips With Me" into an eclectic repertoire that also features superb vocals and comedic timing. Its recordings, which include The Nuclear Whales Whalin', Thar They Blow and Gone Fission, have won the group widespread critical acclaim, highlighting its ability to put a new spin on old favorites while deftly performing its own original pieces.

A proven favorite with National Public Radio, the orchestra has also been featured at the Sacramento Jazz Jubilee, New Mexico Tech Performing Arts Series and at numerous other sold-out venues. Considered "Vibrant and audacious" by The Jazz Times and "Saxophone saviors...talented and zany" by The Los Angeles Reader, this six-person ensemble draws upon the diverse backgrounds of each of its members to put together a unique sound that still allows each member's individual personality and musical style to shine through.

The Nuclear Whales, who perform a wide range of symphony orchestra, choral music and young audience programs, gladly tailor their performances to meet the needs of their diverse audiences. They offer numerous programs encouraging the participation of other musicians. These have included inviting an organization's local sax players to take part in a high-energy Saxophone Parade! and incorporating local choral groups, wind ensembles or symphony orchestras into the act. The ensemble also participates in a variety of outreach programs for younger audiences by offering workshops, master classes, lectures and demonstrations that allow children the opportunity to benefit from the group's musical expertise while enjoying its fun-loving, high-energy nature. *

LEHIGH VALLEY ARTIST-IN-RESIDENCE

Rob Stoneback

Bethlehem's own Rob Stoneback has coupled his unique philosophy of bandleading with 38 years of trombone experience to become head of one of the finest big bands in the nation. He has built an illustrious career while recording three albums with the Rob Stoneback Big Band, as well as performing straight jazz with the trombone and rhythm sections of this band under the name Trombosis.

Stoneback, who first picked up a trombone at age 9, initially became interested in the big band and jazz genres after hearing the music of legends such as Tommy Dorsey and Jack Teagarden as a teenager. Aside from nine months of private lessons when he was 13, he gained experience playing his chosen instrument in the marching, concert and stage bands in high school and college, and in a big band of students he auditioned for at the age of 15. However, it wasn't until after Stoneback auditioned for the stage band at Louisiana State University, where he was working on a master's degree in English, that he first realized how truly unique his skills on the trombone were. He began jamming with musicians in the French Quarter in New Orleans and in 1975—only three months after graduation—he found himself playing in the trombone section of the Tommy Dorsey Orchestra.

After a brief stint with a rock band, Stoneback ultimately decided to start his own band. And since its first rehearsal in April 1979, it has grown into one of the finest big bands in the nation. The 19-piece band, which features 17 instrumentalists and two vocalists, defines "class" with its renditions of the great standards and current hits. It has performed all over the Mid-Atlantic region, including New York City, Atlantic City, Wilmington, Baltimore and most of Pennsylvania and New Jersey. In fact, its three albums, Up Front, Traditions and 1997's Caught in the Web, have all received airplay on radio stations across the country.

In addition to entertaining audiences with its own music, Rob Stoneback's Big Band has backed up stars such as Natalie Cole, Perry Como, Johnny Mathis, Aretha Franklin, The Temptations and The Four Tops. Individually, Stoneback has also performed with Sonny and Cher, Don Rickles and Connie Francis.

Aiming to create a band that will satisfy a jazz audience while still giving audiences a reason to lace up their dancing shoes, Stoneback's musical library now boasts original arrangements side by side with big band chestnuts and frenzied flagwavers. And, he hopes, this philosophy will turn a new generation of music lovers on to the sound of one of the East Coast's best-kept musical secrets. *

4 CHRIST (Contemporary Gospel). Brooklyn, NY. 4 Christ, a ministry of reconciliation through music, was established in the early 1990s. In 1996, 4 Christ was part of a 50-voice choir that performed on a prime time special of the David Letterman Show. Its first album is entitled 4 Christ, a recording it hopes will be heard across the United States as well as in other countries. Phyllis Beach, Vicky Morgan, Deirdre Rouse and Tammy Westbrook. ADĒNŌTHA (Traditional, Indigenous, Native American). Western New York. AdēnōthA consists of four members who have been dancing, singing and performing their whole lives. They are members of the Six Nations of Indians—the Haudenosaunee—meaning People of the Longhouse. Marcy and her daughter Toni are lifelong members of the Buffalo Indian Dancers. This gave them an opportunity to learn not only their own heritage, but also other native cultures from around the country. Frank and Allen are accomplished singers and dancers. They too have traveled and performed extensively throughout North America. Their music has been heard for centuries and has not changed through the passage of time. CONTACT: Marcy Kane, 716-532-0329. Aug. 18

AFROBLUE (African, Diaspora Derived Pop Music). New York, NY. If the United Nations were to produce a soundtrack, it would certainly feature the music of Afroblue. This New York-based pop quintet's sound is the aural equivalent of détente: it joyously reveals what can happen when "we just get along." Taking its inspiration from several specific musical traditions of the African Diaspora, Afroblue has created a global groove that might best be described as soul music for the next millennium. tion most often given for Michael Rosman's show. The jokes are nonstop as Rosman balances on a board, bowling ball or table and juggles torches. But he doesn't do it all alone. Along with his life-size dummy, volunteers play a large role in his show. They can be found on the stage catching everything from bowling balls to Rosman himself as he falls off his six-foot unicycle. Whether wearing farm animal noses or demonstrating ineptitude with juggling props, audience members are clearly having a blast. CONTACT: Michael Rosman, 410-833-6763. Aug. 15-16

ARTISAN (Folk). Great Britain. Artisan's Hilary Spencer, Jacey Bedford and Brian Bedford began singing for fun in 1987, and they're still having fun. Their voices blend beautifully from velvet-soft to blow-out dynamics. Brian Bedford's part-writing for this unaccompanied trio is brilliant. A dynamic show, clever lyrics and British sense of delivery combine with impact for a profound listening experience. Aug. 17

THE BACH CHOIR OF BETHLEHEM (Classical). Bethlehem, PA. The Bach Choir of Bethlehem, which was recently described as "a National Treasure" by CBS Sunday Morning, is led by Artistic Director and Conductor Greg Funfgeld and is celebrating its 100th birthday. In anticipation of Centennial performances of The Mass in B Minor at Kennedy Center and Carnegie Hall, the Bach Choir's Musikfest program will include several choral movements from The Mass as well as Bach's extraordinary Concerti for Two, Three and Four Harpsichords. Aug. 15

DAVID BAILEY (Folk, Acoustic). Fredericksburg, VA. Time, hope, dreams and faith all come together in the songs of david bailey, who has been battling terminal brain cancer for the last three years. Despite his illness, he still manages to take his message of hope and courage to people across the country, inspiring listeners everywhere he goes. Bailey has performed in 23 states, recorded four albums and was featured on CBS News/48 Hours. In addition, this year he was selected as a Kerrville NewFolk finalist. Stretching with a Martin

"When I was in college, I was a member of a garage band, but I wasn't progressing as well as they'd like. The leader said, 'We've decided to play without you.' I promised myself then I'd never be kicked out of a band again. And never have."

"I've been laying the groundwork to reach my dream—to be a professional guitarist with a bluegrass band. I practice and practice and practice. In the morning, at night. On the line at work I practice during my break."

"With bluegrass, Martin rules. I play with other Martin players. It's like a family. I'd rather have the lowest-priced Martin than the highest-priced model of any other make. Johnny Cash said, 'I feel safe with a Martin.' I'm with him. I'm thrilled that he signed my SPD-16. I play in church, and over an hour on my Martin doesn't bother me. It's so easy. You don't have to press the strings like railroad ties. Some people want to buck the Martin tradition. Let them. I figure—to be the best I can, play the one that will get me there. My Martin says, 'Come on, I still got more in me.' I say right back, 'So do I!'" —Paul Matthew Carver, Ashville, Ohio

More people own—or want to own—a Martin
than any other acoustic guitar in the world

Matthew Carver on a break from work tries out some new licks on his new Martin SPD-16. Matt is working hard to realize his dream of earning his living playing full-time in a bluegrass band.

MICHAEL FEINSTEIN (Piano, Adult Contemporary). Los Angeles, CA. In 1976, shortly after he moved to Los Angeles, Michael Feinstein began his career as Ira Gershwin's personal assistant. During the next six years, Feinstein gained knowledge and insight into the creative legends who wrote some of the greatest American songs. In addition to learning from the man who was responsible for such songs as "They Can't Take That Away From Me," "Someone To Watch Over Me" and "Nice Work If You Can Get It," he had access to previously unpublished performances and recordings.

Feinstein's musical interpretations are not limited to the Gershwins, though. Part of his international popularity is built around his graceful and moving interpretations of other classic popular standards written by Cole Porter, Irving Berlin, Jerome Kern and other well-loved American composers. This perennial favorite, which continues to plow its way through music festivals, was inducted into the Pennsylvania Polka Hall of Fame in 1990. The group, which has performed in Chicago, New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Pennsylvania, brings character, enthusiasm and a love for the polka to the stage. CONTACT: Jolly Joe Timmer, 610-866-8074. Aug. 21

music of his native land with emotion born of knowing its history and conflicts firsthand. A master showman of exceptional skill, he maintains riveting interaction with his audience by playing endless requests. With guitar and bodhran, Kennedy covers the gamut from Irish tunes to Texas swing. Fast-paced humor is much of what he does, whether he's telling a series of rapid-fire jokes or launching into lyrical parody. Aug. 16

THE KEY-NOTES ORCHESTRA (Polka, Waltzes, Modern American Music). Nazareth, PA. After 40 years together, the Key-Notes know exactly what audiences want, and they deliver. The group has three recordings, From Our Hearts To Yours, Beat One and 1962 - Original Ted Mack Show. The orchestra has been a mainstay at the festival for the last 14 years. CONTACT: Frank Jurasis, 610-759-2397. Aug. 18

KILLER CALYPSO (Melodic Rock Pop). Northern New Jersey. Killer Calypso is a multi-talented musical and songwriting trio. Elements of rock, jazz, funk and blues are some of the common threads that knit its unique sounds together. Each member of the band has a wide palette of musical tastes which make up the groove oriented style of the trio. Strong vocal harmonies, exceptional musicianship and an unmistakable lead vocalist make it clear why Killer Calypso stands alone among its peers. Jay DeRuggiero, Matt Mead, Brian Wagner. CONTACT: Killer Music Productions, 201-906-2386. Aug. 18

JENNIFER KIMBALL (Folk, Pop). Ephraim, WI. Listeners will instantly recognize Jennifer Kimball's voice by virtue of her work with The Story, the commercially successful and critically acclaimed group that in the early '90s blazed the trail for contemporary, chart-topping folk-pop artists like Sarah McLachlan, Paula Stewart and Jewel. As half of the now-legendary duo which made two albums for Elektra Records (Angel in the House and Grace in Gravity), Kimball supplied the group's signature harmonies and a hefty dose of comic relief in its live shows. CONTACT: Pretty Polly Productions, 781-894-9600. Aug. 16-17

KNUCKLEHEAD THE CLOWN (Comedy, Clown). Little Falls, NJ. Knucklehead the Clown is one of the best clowns around. Twice he has been chosen as one of only 15 clowns in the world to perform at the International Clown Festival in Nagasaki, Japan. MOCK TURTLE MARIONETTES: "WHAT GOES THE WEASEL?"

(Puppet). Bethlehem, PA. Mock Turtle Marionette Theater performs "What Goes the Weasel?," a delightful musical puppet show that features Doug Roysdon and Sara Capwell with a cast of eight carved wooden marionettes. The stage comes alive with horn-playing puppets, lively musical arrangements and a chase scene involving the monkey, the weasel and the proverbial mulberry bush. "What Goes the Weasel?" will hold particular attention as the adroit exchange of puppets, props and voices that normally goes on behind the scenes will be in plain view, adding a whole layer of often humorous involvement for the audience. MOUNTAIN LAUREL BLUEGRASS BAND (Bluegrass, Old-Time Country). Philadelphia, PA. The Mountain Laurel Bluegrass Band's tight vocal harmonies and solid instrumentation make for a dynamic sound and authentic bluegrass music. The band combines bluegrass classics from Bill Monroe; the Stanley Brothers and Flatt & Scruggs with songs from country legends like Ernest Tubb, Patsy Cline & Kitty Wells. It has opened for the Father of Bluegrass, Bill Monroe; the Osborne Brothers and Loretta Lynn among others. CONTACT: Ty Searfoss, 610-867-1367. Aug. 14, 20

NEGATIVE SPACE (Alternative, Modern Rock). Lancaster, PA. Negative Space returns the feeling to alternative rock that helped make it mainstream. Revolving around a solid guitar/bass/drums core, its music emphasizes the power that made rock music and the youthful energy that made alternative. Strong rhythms overlaid with distinct melodies make this band's music almost as memorable as the commanding vocals which capture an audience. CONTACT: Mark Reinmiller, 717-898-8425. Aug. 16 who is known professionally as Nego Gato (Black Cat)—a name given because of his precise springs and jumps, combines strength, grace and sensitivity. The power of Bahian music and dance lies in its capacity to absorb other cultural influences without losing its integrity. Indigenous and Portuguese beliefs and rituals have fed into those of the Africans in Brazil. The result is a world of sound and motion of unforgettable energy and beauty. PENNSYLVANIA YOUTH THEATRE: "PYT PERFORMS" (Theater). Lehigh Valley, PA. Brimming with humor, snappy dialogue and lively music, a vibrant cast of 8- to 13-year olds performs this musical theater revue which will delight kids and their parents alike. "PYT Performs" is a series of skits that teaches lifelong lessons. Grown-ups and children will see themselves in zany but real-life sketches and songs in this delightful performance. CONTACT: Pennsylvania Youth Theatre, 610-332-1400. Aug. 14

LUCKY PETERSON (Blues). Buffalo, NY. With an explosive live performance that marks the staying power of the blues, Lucky Peterson demonstrates why nearly every genre of popular music draws on the blues as its foundation. There aren't many guitarists who are aggressive and sure enough to dare come off the stage and play among the audience. However, with unequalled vivacity and humor, Peterson—one of today's most outrageous bluesmen—has mastered this art of performing up close and personal with his fans. Aug. 19

PIECES OF A DREAM (Jazz). Philadelphia, PA. Since its inception, Pieces of a Dream has thoughtfully straddled the line between jazz and R&B, offering an appealing combination of strong grooves, infectious hooks and a sophisticated production style while leaving the door open for improvisation. "We tried to target the younger audience and get them into jazz by incorporating some of those new types of sounds and grooves within the song," says the band's keyboardist, James Lloyd. Aug. 18

POLONIA CHORUS (Choral). Omiya, Japan. The Polonia Chorus began as an outgrowth of the PTA of the Omiya Elementary School in Omiya, Japan. What started as a hobby for some, and as community service for others, has grown into a dynamic and talented group of ladies singing in perfect harmony. The name "Polonia" comes from the tree of the same name. The tree is a symbol of the Omiya Elementary School because of its wide and protective leaves under which children relax and enjoy the soft summer breezes and the warm sunlight. The Polonia Chorus' music attempts to portray the same qualities of warmth and relaxation to its listeners. Aug. 13-16

RED ELVISES (Rock, Surf, Rockabilly). Los Angeles, CA. The Red Elvises, legends of Russian rock, are appearing at Musikfest for the third time. Seeking freedom of gyration, this band fled Russia and after touring throughout the world, found its new home in Venice Beach, Calif. The foursome recently appeared in four feature movies, a VH1 documentary, a PBS special and on "Access Hollywood." The Red Elvises tour North America conquering the hearts of screaming female fans and making tough men cry. Igor Yuzov, Oleg Bernov, Zhenya Kolykhanov, Avi Sills. CONTACT: Special Agent Vladimir Goncharov, 310-478-4672. Aug. 14-15

LEON REDBONE (Eclectic). New Hope, PA. It's rare to find anyone in the annals of popular music more difficult to define than Leon Redbone. In the way he contemplates where he fits within the confines of the music industry, he is the Friedrich Nietzsche of popular music. In the way he challenges audiences, venturing against their conventional expectations of what a live show should entail, he's the Andy Warhol of front porch guitar playing. While Redbone may not think of himself as a musician, other musicians certainly do. He may not cater to categorization but his audience pigeonholes him firmly in the category of "great." And while he claims to have no desire to entertain, it is inevitable that when exposed to Leon Redbone there is no other option than being wholly entertained. Aug. 19

THE REEDY BUZZARDS (Acoustic Vintage Country and Gospel). Milwaukee, WI and Seattle, WA. The Reedy Buzzards formed in 1992 to recreate the moment in the 1930s when blues, bluegrass, country and gospel all mingled in one musical tradition. They play with driving acoustic rhythms and heartfelt gospel and country harmonies of the great brother groups of the past. Tom Schwark, Ruth Werner, Dean Werner, Lisa Horngren. experience of 13 professional musicians from the Lehigh Valley and Puerto Rico. Together, its members have created a unique group that specializes in the Latin rhythms known as salsa, merengue, cumbias, boleros and Latin jazz. The sound of this band transports you to the Caribbean. When listening to Sabor Tropical you can't avoid shaking to the rhythm. CONTACT: Angel Lahoz, 610-435-1159. Aug. 13

ST. CROIX BAND (Island, Reggae, Pop). Lehigh Valley, PA. The St. Croix Band performs an authentic blend of Latin, jazz, calypso, Caribbean and salsa style music. It plays original music, as well as cover music by Harry Belafonte, Jimmy Buffet, the Beach Boys, Bob Marley, La Vienta, War and Santana. The band's first recording is currently in production. Anthony Perrett, John Pozzi, Bill Cruz. CONTACT: Kyle Holtmeier, 610-346-7399. Aug. 15

SAMITE OF UGANDA (African, World Beat). Uganda. A Samite performance is an engaging musical dialogue between performer and audience. Samite coaxes his audience to sing along in Luganda, his native language, while explaining the mechanics of his traditional instruments. Whether performing solo or with his small group, Samite extends a warm and confident presence to old and young alike, and even the most reserved audiences find themselves up and dancing to his rhythms. CONTACT: East Coast Entertainment, 804-355-2178. Aug. 15

PONCHO SANCHEZ (Latin Jazz). Los Angeles, CA. For Poncho Sanchez, Afro-Cuban music and jazz have been obsessions since his pre-teens. Because he has so thoroughly mastered the genres, many listeners have been surprised to learn that Sanchez isn't Cuban or Puerto Rican but in fact a Mexican-American. He has had three Grammy nominations, recorded 10 albums and reached fans all over the world with his live appearances. His eight-piece band is equally at home with mambo beats, scorching salsa or traditional jazz arrangements. Aug. 21

SATORI (Classical, Contemporary Chamber Music). Lehigh Valley, PA. Satori, in its fourth Lehigh Valley season, performs a blend of traditional and contemporary chamber music. Its name comes from the Zen term Satori—the moment of clarity when all the facets form a new reality—a perfect metaphor for chamber music. Elyssa Corliss, Miriam Papp, Nora Suggs, Michael Toth, Scott Wagner. CONTACT: Nora Suggs, 610-435-6036. Aug. 19

THE SAUERKRAUTS (Alpine Folk Music, Oktoberfest Show Band). San

Antonio, TX. The Sauerkrauts present a vibrant show shimmering with traditional Alpine music, authentic colorful costumes, dancing, humor, outrageous entertainment and audience participation. No one will sit still while the Sauerkrauts stalk the stage. They will be clapping and singing along as they waltz, polka and chicken dance to infectious, feel-good music. CONTACT: Gary Trumet, 830-510-9502. Aug. 17-18

SCHWARZACH MUSIKANTEN (Polkas). Berg, Germany. This 15-member band, which is visiting Musikfest from Bavaria, is led by Hannes Stepper and specializes in lively German-style dance music. They have just finished recording their as yet untitled new album. These Ohio natives are the real deal. CONTACT: East Coast Entertainment, 804-355-2178. Aug. 19

WALT GROLLER & HIS ORCHESTRA (Austrian, Bavarian Polka). Whitehall, PA. This year The Walt Groller Orchestra marks its 54th anniversary. In 1986 the orchestra was honored with induction into the Polka Music Hall of Fame, and in 1988 it received a Grammy Award nomination. To date, the band has recorded 23 albums and appeared on many television shows, including a documentary for Austrian TV in October of 1997. CONTACT: Walt Groller, 610-435-4009. Aug. 22

THE WARREN BROTHERS (Country). Tampa, FL. Less than two years after their first appearance, the Warren Brothers were one of Nashville's hottest live acts, pulling in standing room only audiences. By the end of 1997

Brad and Brett Warren were in the recording studio. Their debut album, Beautiful Day In The Cold Cruel World, had insiders saying The Warren Brothers were one of the freshest, most exciting acts to hit Nashville in years. Where do the Warren Brothers fit into '90s country? Swamped by sound alike singers and forgettable tunes, today's country listeners crave more. "Country needs someone like us!" says Brett. Brad agrees, "...if our music catches on, it could be what country music in the early 2000s is all about. Songs with integrity. Live shows that kick hard. A little less fluff and a little more of what Jimmie Rodgers tried to write about: life the way he saw it." Aug. 14

WATER GAP BANJO BAND (Dixieland, Ragtime, Jazz, Blues). East Stroudsburg, PA. The Water Gap Banjo Band has performed throughout the Lehigh Valley and New Jersey since 1990. SALMA ARASTU

Salma Arastu's work is inspired by Indian miniatures and folk art from around the world. Her textured imagery uses the myths and mysteries from international folklore. An artist at the Banana Factory in Bethlehem, Pa., Arastu received her bachelor's and master's of fine arts degrees in India and earned an associate's degree from Northampton Community College in Bethlehem, Pa. Her extensive exhibition record includes shows sponsored by the Pennsylvania Council on the Arts, the United Nations and the Allentown Art Museum, as well as exhibitions in India, Kuwait and Iran.

Arastu's mural will be a view of the Bethlehem Steel. She will explore the ominous beauty and mystery behind the massive structure that was an extensive part of the Bethlehem landscape for generations.

Sunday, August 15

SAM MAGEE

Sam Magee uses elements of Impressionism and Realism to explore his fascination of the beauty of nature. He studied at LaSalle Extension University, the Toledo Museum of Art, Ohio State University, The Baum School of Art and The School of Wildlife Art. He has received many awards from regional exhibitions and has exhibited throughout the area. His work can be viewed online at www.b17.com/magee.

Magee's mural will focus on the worker. His representation of steelworkers coming from the plant at the end of the day shows the power of the worker, the unity of people and the driving force behind the industry.

Monday, August 16

ANNE REESE

Anne Reese received her bachelor of fine arts degree from Tyler School of Art at Temple University in Philadelphia and her master of art degree in painting from New York University in New York City. She also studied Renaissance Painting in Venice, Italy. Reese now teaches at the Banana Factory, Northampton Community College and Moravian College, all in Bethlehem, Pa.

Her mural will be based on a floating patchwork of connected shapes in rich, muted colors that are layered with painted and stenciled imagery. Bethlehem's past and present industrial era, including The Bethlehem Steel and the architecture from the 18th century Moravian sites, are highlighted in her image.

Tuesday, August 17

LESTA BERTOIA

Lesta Bertoia's acrylic paintings and concrete sculptures are her translation of the world within her sense of exploration. Drawn toward portraying the relationships of humans, cultures and nature, Bertoia offers her resonating visions of hope. She was educated at Muhlenberg College, Allentown, Pa., and UCLA, Los Angeles, Calif. Her work has been regionally exhibited at the Allentown Art Museum and Open Space Gallery, Allentown, Pa.; Town Hall Rotunda Gallery, Bethlehem, Pa., and the Lehigh Art Alliance.

Bertoia, who was a Muralplatz artist in 1996, is creating a work consisting of industrial elements and representations of nature and agriculture. Using representations of the human form, she will show the integration and harmony between the land and industry. Her theme is based on the collaborative and cooperative interaction of humanity, arts and industry.

Wednesday, August 18

JENNIFER JOH

Sculptor and painter Jennifer Joh's work gives the viewer a familiar and sensuous feeling of nature. Joh, who received a bachelor's degree from the College of Fine Arts, Seoul National University, in Seoul, Korea, has also studied at the Museum School of Fine Arts in Boston, the Massachusetts College of Arts and Kutztown University in Pennsylvania. She has exhibited internationally, taught art and calligraphy at the Lehigh Korean Language School and is presently an artist at the Banana Factory in Bethlehem, Pa.

Joh's mural, which depicts industry of the next millennium, will represent the impact of the electronic microchip. By using wires, screens and mirrors she will transcend the traditional mural to explore circuitry and the complexity of the 21st century.

Thursday, August 19

GARY JAMESON

Gary Jameson was born in Aurora, Ill. For the past 25 years, his art has been influenced and inspired by America's industrial past. His work includes site-specific sculptures based on contemporary and classical interpretations of industrial/architectural ruins. Jameson has a master's degree in fine arts from Northern Illinois University and is currently the arts department chair at The Calverton School in Huntingtown, Md. He has exhibited nationwide and has participated in many commissions for site-specific sculptures.

Jameson's mural, "The Guiding Light," will show a historical depiction of the steel mills in Bethlehem at night. The glow of the Star of Bethlehem, combined with the glow of the steel mills, serves as a symbolic rationalization of the industrialization/mechanization of America.

Friday, August 20

GINI ILLICK

Gini Illick's expressive imagery relies on the infrastructure of the line and angle to create the form in a Modern style referencing process and technique. She received her training at the Barnstone Studios, Coplay, Pa.; Moravian College, Bethlehem, Pa.; and Moore College of Art in Philadelphia. She has exhibited at the Catharine Lorillard Wolfe Art Club and Salmagundi Club, New York, N.Y.; Doylestown Art League, Doylestown, Pa.; and the National Arts Club, Allentown, Pa. She is also a member of the Lehigh Art Alliance.

Illick's mural is inspired by Henri Matisse's "The Dance." In her image she will depict figures involved in industrial activities—making steel, shoveling coal and using a pick. The figures will be dancing around the fire to celebrate the industrial heritage of the Lehigh Valley.

Saturday, August 21

WILLIAM CHRISTINE

William Christine has been a resident of Bethlehem, Pa., for the past nine years and maintains a studio at the Banana Factory in Bethlehem. A graduate of Brooklyn College's master of fine arts program, he has exhibited widely for over a decade. His work has been shown in various galleries in New York City, Washington, D.C. and Philadelphia. His pieces are in many collections and 12 of his paintings were recently acquired by the Reader's Digest Association, Inc. In addition, one of his paintings appears in Watson Guptill's "The Watercolor Book" by David Dewey.

Using cartoon-like bananas, Christine's work will represent the Muralplatz theme of "Arts and Industry" by combining local industrial components with the Banana Factory's icon. By altering familiar Lehigh Valley sites, he will create a playful depiction of the community cultural center's impact on the area.

Sunday, August 22

LEE BALDWIN

After making art throughout his life, Lee Baldwin decided to attend Northampton County Community College in Bethlehem, Pa., to earn his associate's degree in art. During his studies Baldwin researched the drawings of the Masters such as Rembrandt, Velasquez and Caravaggio. With experimentation in abstract and surrealist styles, his work has evolved into making watercolor paintings from photographic images.

Baldwin's mural will represent a familiar site for local residents—the Bethlehem Steel. Viewed from the Minsi Trail Bridge, the plant's monumental network of pipes and foundry buildings will be shown in its massive splendor.

Old City Guided Walking Tour

See three centuries of architecture and history in the continuously-used Moravian community. Tours operate daily from the Visitor Center. Admission. For reservations call 610-868-1513 or 1-800-360-8687.

"City in the Wilderness"

An orientation film showing how the Moravian settlers built this unique community. Daily, every hour on the hour at the Visitor Center. For more information call 610-868-1513 or 1-800-360-8687.

The following is a listing of the various Bethlehem museums with their Musikfest hours and program activities:

Burnside Plantation

1461 Schoenersville Road
610-691-0603

The Burnside Plantation is an 18th century Moravian farm located near the center of Bethlehem which is being developed as a living history museum to interpret farming and rural life between 1748 and 1848. The barn, farmhouse and wagon shed have been restored. Open daily from 8:30 a.m.-5 p.m. for self-guided tours. Open Aug. 14 and 21, 1-4 p.m., for guided tours. Admission.

1810 Goundie House

501 Main St.
610-691-0603

This Federal-style brick house was once the home of John Sebastian Goundie, a prominent 19th century Moravian brewer and community leader. Today, the Goundie House contains rooms furnished with period furniture and accessories to tell the story of life in Bethlehem in the 1820s. Children may try their hand at writing with a quill pen in Mr. Goundie's office. Open daily, Aug. 14-22, from 1-4 p.m. Admission.

Colonial Industrial Quarter

459 Old York Road
610-691-0603

Within a few years of Bethlehem's founding, the Moravians developed an extensive industrial complex along the Monocacy Creek. Today, visitors may tour the 1761 Tannery, 1762 Waterworks (the first pumped water system in the colonies) and the 1869 Luckenbach Mill. Children can enjoy crafting their own tinpunch decorations. Open weekends, Aug. 14-15 and 21-22, from 1-4 p.m. only. Admission.

NEW EXHIBIT: History Works!

Colonial Industrial Quarter
610-691-0603

An interactive learning gallery for children ages 5 and up. Open daily, noon-4 p.m. Admission.

SPECIAL PROGRAM: Crafts 'N' Kids

Colonial Industrial Quarter
610-691-0603

Members of the Heritage Patrol of the Great Valley Girl Scout Council present a series of Colonial Craft Workshops for children ages 7-11 daily, Aug. 16-20, from noon-5 p.m. Cost is $3 per session or $10 for a complete afternoon, which includes three sessions and refreshments. No preregistration required.

Kemerer Museum of Decorative Arts

427 N. New St.
610-691-0603

Since 1954, the Kemerer Museum has been one of the finest small decorative arts museums in Pennsylvania. Period rooms, galleries and changing exhibits present 250 years of folk art, furnishings, paintings and historical fine arts. This year's special exhibit is "Up in Smoke: Images and Objects of Fire Fighting." Guided tours available. Open Monday through Sunday, noon-7 p.m. Admission.

SPECIAL CHILDREN'S EVENT: National Burn Foundation Child Fire Safety House

Kemerer Museum of Decorative Arts
610-691-0603

Children learn safety tips and how to exit a smoke-filled house. Aug. 14-15, from noon-3:30 p.m. and 5:30-7 p.m.

SPECIAL CHILDREN'S EVENT: Fire Safety Story Time

Kemerer Museum of Decorative Arts
610-691-0603

Children can tour "Up in Smoke: Images and Objects of Fire Fighting" and listen as a Bethlehem firefighter reads a story and demonstrates firefighting gear. Daily Aug. 16-22, at 1 and 3 p.m.

Museums & Historical Tours

Lehigh River Foundation

509 Main St.
610-867-3788

Visitors may view "WE WILL STAND," an educational exhibit and 10-minute video on the Delaware and Lehigh National Corridor Landing and the work of the Lehigh River Foundation. Shown at the Bethlehem Area Chamber of Commerce, 509 Main St., Monday through Friday from 9 a.m.-5 p.m. Free.

Moravian Museum of Bethlehem

1741 Gemeinhaus
66 W. Church St.
610-867-0173

Step into history...Visit the 1741 Gemeinhaus, the oldest building in Bethlehem and a National Historic Landmark, and experience the unique way of life forged by Bethlehem's early Moravian settlers. The special exhibit during Musikfest, "These Old Things? The Charms of Vintage Clothing," will feature clothing and accessories from the Victorian era. Beautiful florals, laces and other ornate details embellish the breathtaking fashions on display. At the end of the tour, beeswax candles, Moravian stars and other handcrafted items await visitors in the gift shop. Guided tours are available daily. A Moravian Museum Walking Tour is also available, by appointment, for groups of 10 or more. Open noon-7 p.m. Admission.

1752 Apothecary Shop & Herb Garden

This Moravian pharmacy and medicinal herb garden provided medical care to the early Moravian community. Tours by appointment. Admission.

1758 Nain House

This is the last remaining structure from the Moravian mission village called Nain. Once located in West Bethlehem, this house was built by and for Native Americans. Now a museum, it interprets Moravian missions among the native peoples of North America. Tours by appointment. Admission.

The Discovery Center of Science & Technology

511 E. Third St.
610-865-5010

www.discovery-center.org

The Discovery Center of Science & Technology promotes learning through hands-on science and interactive experiences. This summer, the center is showcasing two features families won't want to miss—the S.I.M. Voyager, a six-passenger simulator, and a dinosaur fossil dig. The Discovery Center also offers laser light shows, rooms of hands-on exhibits and much more. Hours are Tuesday through Saturday, 9:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m., and Sunday, noon-4:30 p.m. Call for admission rates.

Sun Inn

564 Main St.

610-866-1758 for tours

610-974-9451 for reservations

Constructed in 1758, the Sun Inn stands as a living symbol of Moravian Bethlehem's hospitality to travelers during the early years of our nation's existence. During the American Revolution the Sun Inn hosted many members of the Continental Congress, officers of the Continental Army, future presidents and foreign dignitaries. The restored inn welcomes you to lunch and dinner. The gift shop next door supports the education programs of the Sun Inn Preservation Association. Guided tours of the inn's museum rooms are given Monday through Saturday 11:30 a.m.-4 p.m. Additional times by appointment. Admission.

Central Moravian Church

Main and Church Streets
610-866-5661

Open house at the historic Central Moravian Church. Greeters welcome visitors at the northeast door of the sanctuary (adjacent to the Central Church Green nearest Heckewelder Place) and will spend a few minutes explaining the building's architecture and its historical significance in the community. Sat., Aug. 14, Sun., Aug. 15, and Sun., Aug. 22, from 4-5 p.m. Free.

Vesper Concert/Country Gospel

Central Moravian Church
Main and Church Streets
610-866-5661

On Aug. 21, a Vesper Concert of Country Gospel Music, with a Moravian Emphasis, featuring George Hamilton IV will be held in the Central Church sanctuary. One of the "gentle giants of country music," Hamilton is a regular performer at the Gand Ole Opry in Nashville and is probably best-known for his 1984 release "Abilene," a national hit. He records and performs country ballads and gospel songs on both sides of the Atlantic and recently hosted several country music television series in both Canada and England. Doors open at 4 p.m., and the show begins at 4:30 p.m. The Moravian Trombone Choir will play from the belfry at 4 p.m.
