You've seen them.

Just like the Gadfly.

Perhaps at summer dusk on manic 378 cruising south while trying to navigate the tight thru lane with one eye.

Perhaps on the 3rd St. Perkins hill, waiting at the stop light (does anybody ever get through that light?), where you can roll down your windows and hear as well as see them.

And you've wondered.

Just like the Gadfly.

And maybe you stopped one time for a closer look.

Just like the Gadfly.

And felt your questions succumb to a sense of awe at the magic unfolding before you.

Just like the Gadfly.
