Pfc. James Noctor Visits Swiss Religious Retreat

AUG 9 1946
Pfc. James P. Noctor, Delaware Ave., recently returned from a visit to a religious retreat camp in picturesque "Frankonian Switzerland", south of Bayreuth, Germany. His visit was part of a new three-day program sponsored by the Army Air Forces for advancing the spiritual welfare of the American soldier in Germany who desires to take part in a program of meditation, exercise and spiritual uplifting. In the quiet and seclusion of a thoroughly Christian environment, soldiers met in the Catholic and Protestant retreats to cultivate the qualities of sincerity and earnest prayer while participating in swimming, hiking, horseback riding and other sports. The Catholic camp was under the leadership of Capt. John E. Holland of the Ansbach Air Depot. Pfc. Noctor is now serving in the 441st Air Service Group at Schweinfurt, Germany.
