

Serman, Richard C.

R. C. Serman, ATM3/C,
Transferred From Ship
To Fleet School

Richard C. Serman, Aviation Torpedoman 3/C, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Serman, 1428 Easton Avenue, was recently transferred from the USS Bataan, aircraft carrier, to the Fleet Service School for advanced torpedo instruction in San Diego, Cal.

Veteran of the New Guinea operation, Truk and Ponape raids and the Marianas operations, he is enjoying a 30-day leave at present. His most recent engagements were against Okinawa, Japan, and the battle of the East China Sea, in which the battleship Yamato was sunk. Before entering the Navy in June, 1943, he attended Lehigh University, where he was active in sports.
