

Fuisz, Geza

Blood Plasma Saved His Life

OCT 10 1944

Marine Private First Class Geza Fuisz, 22, of 1017 Broadway, Bethlehem, is one of the many wounded veterans who can attest to the life-saving value of blood plasma. The wounded Marine is back from the Pacific battles and is convalescing on the West Coast. He received his wounds on Saipan, and pictured in a hospital. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Fuisz, of the Broadway address.
