

Griffith Jr., George J.

George L. Griffith Jr.,
Makes Technical Sgt.
While in France

92nd BOMBARDMENT GROUP, ISTRES, France—The promotion of George L. Griffith Jr., whose wife, Mrs. Angelyn Griffith, lives at 1736 West Union Boulevard, Bethlehem, from staff sergeant to technical sergeant was recently announced by his group commander, Col. James W. Wilson of Bowling Green, O.

T/Sgt. Griffith is a waist gunner on one of the fortresses of the 92nd Bombardment Group, oldest group in the European Theater now flying ground forces troops from Istres Airfield to Casablanca on the first leg of their flight back home.

T/Sgt. Griffith graduated from Cranford High School in 1937 and from Lehigh University in 1941. Before entering the armed forces he was employed by the Trojan Powder Company, Sandusky, O., as a research engineer.

NOV. 2 1945

November 2, 1945