

Youngkin, Edwin B.

PRISONER OF ITALIANS

Recently reported missing in action in the North African theatre of war, Pvt. Edwin B. Youngkin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan B. Youngkin, 15 Juniata Street, Freemansburg, is unofficially said now to be a prisoner of the Italian government.

A telegram from the office of the Adjutant, U. S. War Department, to Mr. and Mrs. Youngkin, received yesterday, says that the young soldier has been taken by the Italians and that the information comes through the Vatican. The Red Cross has been asked to confirm the report and until it can do so, no mailing address will be available.
