

Require climate impacts on new developments and major renovations

The Bethlehem Gadfly Climate Action Plan, Environment, Environmental Advisory Council, Serious Issues February 11, 2019

See Kathy Fox's "A question for prospective city council members"

Kathy:

I think climate impacts — and other sustainability impacts — should definitely be required for all planning & zoning submissions — for all new developments & major renovations. As a starting point, we could use the Sustainability Impact Assessment project completed by 5 students last summer.

[https://www.sustainlv.org/focus_on/sustainability-impact-assessment/]

Peter Crownfield

(Be sure to see Peter's comments on the "Thinking green" and "Reducing carbon emissions" posts as well.)