Gets New Rating

Two events in the life of Paul Weaver, above, have given him much happiness in the past few days. He has been promoted to second class seaman in the U. S. Navy, and he is observing his 18th birthday today. His sister, Jean, is also celebrating her birthday, the 17th, today. The young sailor and the girl are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Weaver, 1844 West North Street, Bethlehem. Paul is in training at the Sampson, N. Y., Naval station and is presently awaiting further assignment. Prior to enlistment last July 7 he attended Tech. High. He is the grandson of William Weaver, 724 Fifth Avenue.
