

Nagy, Julius

Bethlehem Man,
With Parents in Europe, Joins Navy

AUG 28 1943
Julius Nagy, 624 Second Avenue, will leave tomorrow to enter the "Seabees," Navy construction battalion. He will report to the Allentown induction center and from there will be sent to a training center.

Nagy, beyond the age for induction in other branches of the service, is unmarried and has been employed as a repairman at Bethlehem Steel. He has a mother and father, sister and brother, residing in Germany, and a sister and brother in Allentown.

He has made his home permanently in this country since 1927, having resided here before, but returning with his parents to Hungary in 1913, to remain there until 1927.

AUG 23 1943

August 23, 1943