

Totenbier, James J.

Marine Sergeant

James J. Totenbier, U. S. M. C., who was recently promoted to the rank of sergeant, is spending a ten day furlough with his wife, the former Elsie George, and his daughter, Janice. They reside at 1330 East Fifth Street.

Enlisting in September, 1942, Sergeant Totenbier has completed Aviation Machinist Mate School, Radar and Aerial Gunnery School at Jacksonville, Fla. He recently completed an intensive five week course on the Martin Marauder at a base in Maryland.

At present he is crew chief on a Marauder, being stationed at Cherry Point, N. C., and is awaiting an overseas assignment.

August 26, 1944