

Binder, Paul B

Pay Tribute to Johnny Rivers

MAY 8 1944

Two local Marines, members of the same detachment, "somewhere in the South Pacific," found time recently to pay their respects to the memory of Johnny Rivers, Bethlehem hero who died gallantly some months ago. Standing beside Rivers' grave in the South Pacific is Jack Powers, 453 Vine Street. Unseen, behind the camera which took the picture, is Paul B. Binder, 807 West Broad Street. Binder writes that he receives the Globe-Times regularly—in bundles—and that after reading the paper from cover to cover, he passes the copies on to other boys from around Bethlehem and vicinity. "Very often my tent looks like a Lehigh Valley convention," he writes.
