

Guss, Virginia Edith

Northampton WAVE Now Pharmacist's Mate

Virginia Edith Guss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hale Guss, 519 East 20th Street, Northampton, attained the rank of pharmacist's mate third class in the WAVES. Miss Guss entered the service last October and after receiving her boot training at Hunter College was sent to Sampson, N. Y., where she served in the hospital corps. After the holidays she was assigned to the Brooklyn Naval Hospital for duty.

Before entering the service she received a year's training at the Haff Hospital, Northampton, and later was employed at Coleman's department store, Northampton, by the Army Signal Corps, Bethlehem and Red Bank and then enlisted in the service.

She has two brothers in the service, Sgt. Tech. Jack Guss and Lieut. Hale Guss Jr.

January 25, 1944