Local Soldier Enters University Center

The U. S. Army University Center in England, designed to give soldiers a chance to get college instruction while waiting to return to the United States, has started its first semester with an enrollment of 3,611 students, including Cpl. Stephen T. Vetrosky of 309 State Street.

Cpl. Vetrosky, a member of the 740th Field Artillery, is studying German, accounting and Shakespeare. He attended Liberty High School and Lehigh University. His wife, Irene Vetrosky, lives at the above address.
