Gadfly's playfulness is morphing into sadness.

Reminds him of certain times when he labored unsuccessfully with students about when to use "which" and when to use "that."

Sigh.

Still only one ganadora among six respondents.

Let's try it for the third time. Maybe the best follower eyes were trained on work earlier.

You are home now, relaxing.

And this is an open book test. You are allowed to look back at the previous two photos.

What pattern does Gadfly see?

If you don't get it now, you won't be able to sleep.

You know that's true.
