

Election coming . . . May 21

The Bethlehem Gadfly City government, Gadfly's posts, Serious Issues January 10, 2019

(6th in a series of posts on City Government)

“When nobody runs against the incumbents, democracy dies.”

(Paige Van Wirt, January 9, 2019)

Bethlehem City Council:

- one opening because of CM Martell’s decision not to run again
- three incumbents running: CM Reynolds (’08), CM Colon (’16), CW Van Wirt (’18)

Remember that City Council meetings are now video-recorded and soon may be televised live.

Remember that already there are video and audio clips as well as commentary here on Gadfly, and you can expect more opportunities here to get to know the incumbents.

Remember that Gadly invites candidates to use Gadfly as a vehicle for shaping and sounding out ideas.
