

News and tips from a Bethlehem Food Co-Op-er

The Bethlehem Gadfly coronavirus March 29, 2020

 Latest in a series of posts on the coronavirus

From Carol Burns:

The Food Co-Op had a “virtual potluck” last night — we invited folks to post photos of their dinner, dining companions, and/or recipes as a way to connect. We had a very nice “turnout”!

We’re also encouraging “shopping local” and sharing this list of restaurants/eateries that Fig put together: <https://figbethlehem.com/2020/03/support-local-restaurants/>

And many local farms/farm stands are open and doing order online/”curbside” pick up — BuyFresh BuyLocal has this list: <http://www.buylocalgv.org/local-food-map/>

Of course, call first to confirm hours and availability — and consider buying gift cards with money we’re saving on gas and tolls by not going out!

Thanks for keeping us connected!

Carol

Thank you, CB!