Popcorn and Politics – First Friday Film
"Tomorrow: Take Concrete Steps to a Sustainable Future"

LEPOCO Peace Center, 313 W. 4th St., south Bethlehem
Unlike other films which focus on the cause of global imbalances and their negative consequences, "Tomorrow" has the distinction of not giving in to catastrophism. Optimistically, it identifies initiatives that have proven themselves in ten countries around the world: concrete examples of solutions to environmental and social challenges, be it agriculture, energy, economy, education, governance.

Directed by Cyril Dion and Mélanie Laurent. 120 minutes. 2015.
Discussion led by Kathy Fox.

Please bring a snack or beverage to share.
