

Musselman, William B.

T/Sgt. Wm. Musselman
Awarded Bronze Star
For Supply Work

T/Sgt. William B. Musselman, whose wife lives at 1680 Broadway, has been awarded the Bronze Star Medal for meritorious services with the 452nd Ordnance Company, it was announced by Continental Advance Section Headquarters in Germany.

JUL 19 1945

Continental Advance Section, first base section to cross the Rhine, has been in direct support of the Seventh U. S. and First French Armies since the invasion of southern France last August. During this period, the ordnance companies supplied and repaired all ordnance equipment, from bolts and screws to huge tanks and guns, used by both armies during the war in Europe. According to the citation for the coveted award, Sgt. Musselman contributed greatly to the success of this tremendous supply operation.
