

Margolis, Robert

Lt. Robert Margolis Has Birthday in England

Lt. Robert Margolis, navigator, with the United States Army Air Force will celebrate his 20th birthday anniversary on Sunday, Sept. 3, somewhere in England.

The young officer is a graduate of Liberty High School and completed three semesters at Pennsylvania Military College. He enlisted in the Army Air Force and was called for active duty on May 31, 1943, and completed the Navigator's Course in ten and one-half months, receiving his commission and wings on April 22, 1944.

Lieut. Margolis is at present assigned to combat duty with the 91st Heavy Bombardier Group of the Eighth Army Air Force in England, under Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle.

September 1, 1944