District will see 2017-18 tax hike

BY LIZ KEMMERER
Special to the Bethlehem Press

In a seven-to-one vote May 15, Bethlehem Area School District directors passed the proposed final 2017-18 budget that includes one of the lowest tax increases in the district's history, as well as some painful cuts to programming and staff positions.

The total budget of $271.8 million represents an overall 4.24 percent increase from the 2016-17 budget of $260.7 million, with primary cost drivers being salaries at $1.66 million, retirement contributions at $3.15 million and special initiatives focused around literacy at over $2 million.

Superintendent Dr. Joseph Roy noted that in the absence of rising mandated pension costs and charter school costs, the net operating costs of the district increase by only 3.47 percent, following a 2.98 percent increase in 2016-17 and a 1.69 percent increase in 2015-16. Those net operating costs include salaries, health benefits, transportation, facilities, educational programming and extracurricular activities. The district will pay $26.7 million in charter tuition expenses and $33.2 million in pension costs this year.

"We've done a good job controlling our internal expenditures," Roy said. "It's charters and pension growth that are creating the biggest problems for us," including the need for a small but painful tax hike.

Residents of Northampton County will see a tax increase of 1.19 mills and 0.4945 mills for Lehigh County residents, reflecting an average 2.31 percent increase district-wide, or an additional $72 yearly for the median property. The administration worked the increase down to 2.31 percent from an initial 2.95 percent, noting all along that without rising charter and pension expenses, no tax increase

Council honors 3 property owners

BY MICHELLE MEEH
Special to the Bethlehem Press

Present and future redevelopment was on the minds of city council members at their meeting May 17, as they joined with members of the Southside Historic Conservation Commission (HCC) to present awards to three property owners. The awards cited two property owners for adaptive reuse of a building and one for scale of the renovation project.

Phil Roeder, chair of the HCC, said, "It's easy to see the visual benefits of redevelopment. When you visit the neighborhoods you can feel the positive impact."

Awards were presented to owners of the Touchstone Theater, where the renovation included replacing a severely deteriorating porch, and 310 Taylor St., for a renovation that turned an ordinary garage into a brewpub. The former garage is now the home of the Bonn Place Brewing Company. The final HCC award was presented to the owners of 128 West Fourth St., a formerly vacant building which now houses a real estate office, hair salon and two apartments.

City Council President J. William Reynolds said the HCC members and the property owners they work with "really take pride in what you're doing."

LERTA expansion

After the HCC awards, the meeting turned to possibilities for future redevelopment, as council held a public hearing expanding the local economic revitalization tax assistance (LERTA) zone on the Southside. The area includes industrial property from Union Station to the west, the Lehigh River to the north, Riverport to the east and Second Street to the south, as well as the industrial property bounded by Columbia Street to the south and Polk Street to the east.

Director of Community and Economic Development Alicia Karner told council there have been 29 applications for the Southside LERTA over the past 10 years, with a total of $193 million invested and $114.6 million in current tax assessments.

The Southside LERTA has helped to bring businesses to Bethlehem such as Curtiss Wright, Reeb Millwork and Primark.

In addition, Karner said, the Lehigh Valley Industrial Park has brought about $20 million in street and public improvements to the city.

Council will vote on a proposed five-year extension of the Southside LERTA at the June 6 meeting.

Ethics training
In other business, council approved 6-1 an ordinance requiring members to attend training on the state ethics code. Council member Olga Negrón voted nay, wanting a more comprehensive ethics ordinance which is still being developed.

Council is planning to schedule a Committee of the Whole meeting to further discuss the ethics proposal brought forward in January by Negrón and Council Member Michael Colon.

A Committee of the Whole meeting was held in February, but the proposal is still in progress and is not yet ready for a vote.

The measure approved by council, which requires members to attend ethics training or face a $100 fine, is meant to be part of a larger consideration of ethics, said Council Member Shawn Martell. "I look forward to us continuing the conversation." He said the approved ordinance, which he sponsored, was not meant to replace the Negrón and Colon proposal. "That's the last thing I would want," Martell said.

would have been necessary at all over the past five years.

However, it doesn't stop there for Lehigh County residents because of changes in the real estate market value in Northampton County.

State law dictates that the millage rates for school districts lying in more than one county, as BASD is in both Northampton and Lehigh counties, will be adjusted so the tax burden is shared proportionally by each county to account for fluctuating property values. This year, Northampton County was assessed by the State Tax Equalization Board (STEB) at a lower market value than previous years, resulting in an additional 3.57 percent tax increase in Lehigh County this year to rebalance the scales.

"This is not due to any actions on the part of the school district," Roy noted, "but we're cognizant of the fact that because of the rebalancing Lehigh County is going to take a bigger hit than usual this year because STEB chose to do things a little differently this year. So, we worked very hard to come down from 2.95 percent to 2.31 percent."

The tax increase will in part help to alleviate the remainder of the $12.5 million deficit facing the district, which the administration was forced to bring down with difficult cuts to programming and several teaching, teacher aide and guidance counselor positions through attrition, as well as social workers contracted to the district.

Programs being partially or completely shelved for now include the Elementary Spanish Program, band uniform and musical instrument purchases, afterschool and summer programming, Excellence Through Equity Initiatives, technology and materials updates and professional development for teachers.

Programs remaining on pace include Reading by Grade 3 (RBG3), First in Math, Project Lead the Way, Collective Impact Efforts comprising community schools and local partnerships, high school computer science programming, and efforts toward blended, personalized instruction for students.

Director Dr. Dean Donaher expressed concern over the possibility of repeated yearly tax increases if nothing is done at the state level on behalf of public education. Board President Michael Faccinetto said Pennsylvania ranks 46th nationwide for education funding, but the average student cost is in the top 10. Support from the local community keeps that number from going any higher, he said.

"Kids get the education they need because taxpayers pick up the local tab year after year," Faccinetto said.

Donaher said he asks only for a fair playing field where charter reform is concerned, for instance, mandating that school districts do not have to reimburse charter expenses for service that they offer themselves, such as Cyber School.

"We are happy to bring you a budget that we think moves us ahead next year," Roy said. "There's more we would have liked to have done. There are things in here that are going to hurt us, but we do have a $72 per year tax increase in order to support it and we think it's as good as we can get."

Faccinetto went on to call the small, but painful tax increase "responsible. It's going to hurt, but I think it's what we can do at the time and still preserve some of the core programs of the district."

Final adoption of the budget will take place June 19.

Honoring God

Eli, the priest of Israel, heard of the immoral and wicked things his sons did in the work of the priesthood, and he did nothing more than to verbally reprove them (1 Samuel 2). So, God sent a prophet with a charge that Eli was honoring his sons above God. Then God said, "them that honour me I will honour, and they that despise me shall be lightly esteemed." God gave plenty of time for Eli and his sons to repent before judgment fell on all of them in one day's time. The Hebrew word for "honour" means to "be (made) glorious." How can we honor or make God glorious? Here are some Scriptural ways to honor God.

We Honor God By Worshipping Him and Giving Him Praise. "Give unto the LORD the glory (honor) due unto his name; worship the LORD in the beauty of holiness" (Psalm 29:2). "Whoso offereth praise glorifieth (honors) me" (Psalm 50:23). "Sing forth the honour of his name: make his praise glorious" (Psalm 66:2). "I will praise thee, O Lord my God, with all my heart: and I will glorify (honor) thy name for evermore" (Psalm 86:12).

We Honor God By Giving Testimony Of His Works In Our Lives. "And call upon me in the day of trouble: I will deliver thee, and thou shalt glorify (honor) me" (Psalm 50:15). "I will speak of the glorious honour of thy majesty, and of thy wondrous works" (Psalm 145:5).

We Honor God By Tithing. "Honour the LORD...with the firstfruits of all thine increase" (Proverbs 3:9).

We Honor God By Giving To The Poor. "He that oppresseth the poor reproacheth his Maker: but he that honoureth him hath mercy on the poor" (Proverbs 14:31).

We Honor God By Serving The Lord From The Heart. "His people draweth nigh unto me with their mouth, and honoureth me with their lips; but their heart is far from me" (Matthew 15:8).

Negron lauded during luncheon

BY MICHELLE MEEH
Special to the Bethlehem Press

She learned the value of community service from her parents growing up the youngest of 11 children in Puerto Rico. Her father was a Rotarian, so Olga Negron learned in elementary school what an agenda was and how to make a motion.

Today she is a city council member, and May 10 she received the Lehigh Valley Business Community Achievement Award at a luncheon for several local "Women of Influence."

"They led by example," Negron said of her parents, and their community service became part of her life as well. "It's who I am."

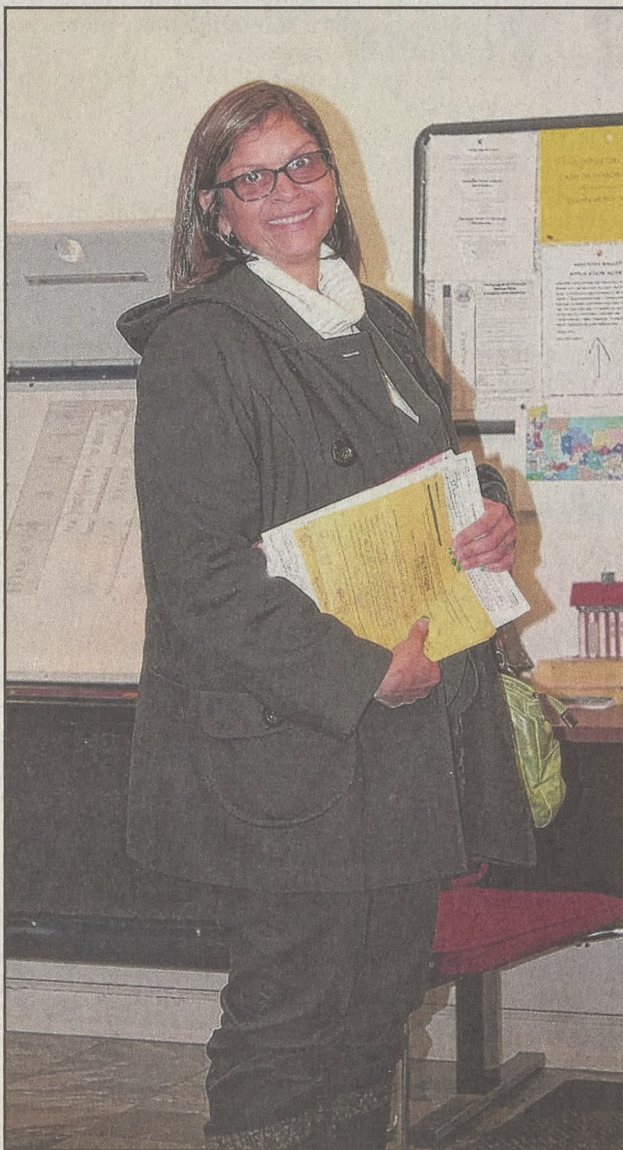

Their farm in the mountains had a lower floor that doubled as a community center. When hurricanes struck and people lost their homes, it was a place for emergency supplies.

"It was not a choice; it was something we did automatically," Negron said. "It was a community and family affair." After a river flooded the nearby street, her father used a small boat to ferry people across.

When she left Puerto Rico 30 years ago, her parents advised her to stay involved in the community, since that would be her family in the U.S. "I took that to heart," she said.

During her 21 years in the Lehigh Valley, she raised three daughters. She has worked for Community Services for Children (Head Start) as a family advocate, where she learned about the resources available and was able to rely on those resources herself as a single mother. She also found resources to help her daughters with homework, especially helping with English since it was not her native language.

Negron said she wants to continue to be a part of the community that was there "when I needed it most." She was a Rotarian for several years and has always looked at the community to see where to put her time and energy. "I was always trying to be a part of the solution," she said.

In these days when many people feel stretched between work, family and other activities, what advice does she have for someone who feels they just don't have the time to be involved?

There are many ways to contribute to the community, Negron said, and often giving does not have to take a lot of time. Serving on the board of a nonprofit often involves only one meeting of an hour or so every other month, but serving on a board is a way to help direct resources to where they are most needed.

Many professionals and students at local universities have expertise that can be useful to the community, Negron said she encourages people to come to council meetings and speak on issues where they have knowledge. "Advocate, look at what's in the community, and give your two cents," she said.

Negron said she is honored by the award from Lehigh Valley Business. Community service, she said, is "giving your time to be a part of the bigger picture."

"That's my payback," she said. "I have been able to be part of the process."

Developer to pay for 3rd of road work

BY BERNIE O'HARE
Special to the Bethlehem Press

BETHLEHEM TOWNSHIP

Developer Lew Ronca has agreed to completely reconstruct about a third of Brodhead Road in Bethlehem Township. He made this commitment in connection with a 513,000-square-foot warehouse distribution center he plans to build along the south side of Brodhead Road and north side of Route 22.

It's a 37-acre tract that had been originally pitched as a Wal-Mart Super Center. At their May 1 meeting, commissioners unanimously approved a multi-tenant warehouse center after a presentation by prominent land use attorney Blake Marles. Ronca's work on Brodhead Road is expected to save taxpayers $700,000. But the township will pay to reconstruct the remaining two thirds of the 5,00-foot-long road this summer.

Ronca's project includes 113 loading docks and parking for 222 cars and 141 trailers. It will be accessed exclusively by Brodhead Road. In its review, the Lehigh Valley Planning Commission noted the proposal is in an area designated for urban development and is consistent with the county's comprehensive plan. The plan maintains a 150-foot buffer from Monocacy Creek, a high quality cold water trout stream that traverses the property. Because of its close proximity to Route 22, it is expected to have little negative impact on residential communities. But the truck traffic will access Route 22 at a high crash intersection.

Marles asked the township to waive a $135,000 recreation fee, but seemed to get nowhere on that issue. He might persuade commissioners to waive inspection fees for the road construction, since Ronca is doing work that the township would otherwise be required to do.

Ronca stayed away from public meetings during the Martin Tower debate, but he was out in front of this project and attended the public meetings.

In other business, the commissioners unanimously authorized Township Manager Melissa Shafer to advertise for bid the stabilization and renovation project for the Archibald Johnston mansion. Estimates have placed the cost of that work at $700,000, but it would come from the Housenick Trust.

Rt. 512 Turkey Hill to remain dry

BY BERNIE O'HARE
Special to the Bethlehem Press

You can buy a nice chianti at Wegmans or Weis. But by a 3 to 1 vote at their May 9 meeting, Hanover Township Supervisors voted down the proposed transfer of a liquor license to a Turkey Hill gas station located at Sterners Way and Route 512. Mark Tanczos, who owns a beer distributorship, recused himself. The sole Yes vote was cast by John Diacogiannis. Jack Nagle, Steve Salvesen and Michael Prendeville voted no.

Each supervisor explained his vote. Salvesen said he supported alcohol sales at Wegmans and Weis because there was testimony that there would be 24-hour supervision of the alcoholic beverages sold there, but no such assurance was made by Turkey Hill, a gas station that hires part-time people. He said there were too many avenues for abuse.

Nagle said it comes down to common sense and thinking about the "health and wellbeing of our township." He said that, contrary to testimony offered at a hearing two weeks before, a convenience store like Turkey Hill really is a destination for people who want to get a quick can of soda or jug of milk. He said permitting alcohol sales at a gas station "goes totally against what's been going on in this nation for the last 30 years, with Mothers Against Drunk Driving and the National Transportation Safety Authority. ... For me, to permit alcohol to be consumed at a place that dispenses gasoline is literally like throwing gasoline on a fire."

Prendeville said the density of alcohol licenses "contributes in a very detrimental way to neighborhoods." He said he would be uncomfortable sending his children to get a gallon of milk at Turkey Hill at 1 am and have them compete against people trying to buy and drink alcohol at a gas station because other bars have closed. "The potential risk far outweighs any reward in my mind," he concluded. "It has the potential to introduce problems that have already overburdened our police department and first responders."

Diacogiannis, unlike his fellow supervisors, supported the liquor license transfer. He reasoned that the state legislature has expanded sales to gas stations. "This decision has already been made by the state," he said. "It's really not our part to make these decisions."

Finnigan later noted that there were also concerns whether parking would be adequate for this new use, but there was no plan to review.

Though supervisors denied the liquor license transfer, they unanimously approved changes to their zoning ordinance that would permit distilleries, brew pubs and wineries at certain places within the township. Solicitor Jim Broughal explained the reason for this ordinance. "If you don't put this in your ordinance, your neighbor can put a distillery in his house," he explained. "You are required by law to provide for every use we know about. If you don't, it's exclusionary zoning."

They also adopted an ordinance banning invasive bamboo, joining a number of other Lehigh Valley municipalities that have followed Bethlehem Township's lead in banning or regulating this legal immigrant from southeast China.

Invasive or running bamboo is actually a grass and is recognized by the Pa. Department of Conservation and Natural Resources as one of the fastest growing and most invasive plants in the world. Throughout Pennsylvania, 19 communities have adopted bamboo ordinances. Some, like Douglass Township, have imposed a ban on this grass. A Cumberland County Court has declared running bamboo a "vegetative nuisance" The court reasoned that urban living includes certain responsibilities, including a responsibility to take precautions against invasive plants that encroach upon another person's property.

Supervisors endorsed the bamboo ban in a 4 to 1 vote. Once again, Diacogiannis was the sole dissenter. He called it an "invasion of individual property rights." He said this is a matter that neighbors should handle between themselves, although some neighbors can be unreasonable. He said he doesn't like invasive bamboo, either, but is opposed to an ordinance "for every single little thing."

"I'm planting it!" joked a resident who earlier that evening had complained about an unreasonable neighbor.

On an unusually busy night, supervisors also approved the vacation of paper streets laid out on property owned by the Earl Kunsman family, near Bath Pike. Bethlehem Attorney Jim Holzinger advised supervisors that he was unable to ascertain that these roads ever existed or were accepted by the township, but are referred to in the deeds.

Finally, Bill Vogler asked supervisors to do something about sinkholes. He acknowledged "we live on Swiss cheese," but said sinkholes caused by water main breaks are different than those that occur naturally. Several water companies have infrastructure in the township, according to Diacogiannis.

Vogler and Finnigan discussed the situation after the meeting.

HARB

Alane Nebbia appeared before the board as a walk-in and received swift approval for a Bethlehem Historic District Association (BHDA) brass date plaque for the historic house she and her husband Mark own at 27 E. Church St., as long as the bolts to attach it to the building go into mortar joints.

Also appearing as walk-ins, the owners of 437 Linden St., John Black and Keith Sauder requested approval for replacing a leaking roof with "Architectural" shingles to match what had been installed on their porch roof in 2011. This type of shingle is dimensional and makes a shingle roof look like shake roofing. HARB prefers GAF Slateline shingles as they closely resemble the look of slate roofing, which they consider historically appropriate for neighborhoods in the historic districts. The board reluctantly agreed to approve Architectural shingles for John Black if they had been approved previously, pending a review of the application and minutes from 2011. Otherwise Black would be required to install Slateline shingles, even though they would not match his porch roofing.

On the day after the hearing, upon reviewing past paperwork, the board contacted John Black with the decision to allow him to use the Architectural shingles as requested.

The Historical and Architectural Review Board meets the first Wednesday of every month to review all exterior changes proposed to buildings in the Bethlehem Historic District north of the Lehigh River. When a proposed project receives a certificate of appropriateness from the board, applicants must wait for City Council to vote on it before proceeding.

Bethlehem Catholic senior Rachel Tanczos set a new district record in the discus with a throw of 144-9 at the District XI Class 3A Track and Field Championships which were held last Tuesday and Wednesday at Blue Mountain High School.

"I'm not really sure [how I did it]. It's perfect weather, and the circle was really smooth and really fast," Tanczos said. "I haven't been having great practices the couple of days leading up to this. I threw, and I saw it went past 140, and I was pretty shocked because I didn't think it went that far."

Tanczos easily clinched the district gold medal with that throw on Wednesday.

Liberty senior Jackie Arthur won the silver medal with a throw of 126-03, and fellow Hurricane Sydney Wilson came in fourth with a throw of 111-07.

Arthur won district gold in the shot put with a throw of 39-00.50 on Tuesday.

"I felt a lot more confident yesterday," said Arthur on Wednesday. "I felt about 90-percent that I had more power in me. I'm satisfied. It wasn't my best, but it does make me happy. It's a winning streak for me."

Tanczos won the silver medal in the shot put with a throw of 35-10.50, and Wilson came in third with a throw of 34-11.50.

Liberty's Sahaydak wins gold in 800

BY KATIE MCDONALD
kmcdonald@tnonline.com

Liberty junior Olivia Sahaydak was determined to win a district gold medal in the 800 meter run after winning a conference silver medal, so she made some changes to her strategy and clinched the gold at the District XI Class 3A Track and Field Championships last Wednesday at Blue Mountain High School.

"At the end, I needed to have a kick. Last week [at conferences] I had to hang on for dear life," Sahaydak said.

This time, Sahaydak changed her tactic and stuck with the group for the first lap and a half.

"I'm really excited that I was able to figure that out," she said.

Sahaydak's time was 2:15.62, two seconds better than her time the week before.

Sahaydak was also part of Liberty's 4x4 relay team which took the silver medal at districts.

"When I got the handoff from Alicia [Valladares] the girl from Stroudsburg was in the way and I had to cut in front of her, but it turned out fine," said Sahaydak.

Greta Stuckey was the lead off runner for the Hurricanes but had a longer wait than usual for the race to begin.

"Yes, I was nervous. A girl from Stroudsburg had a nose-bleed, so we were waiting," Stuckey said. "I was trying to keep loose, and our coach said to leave it all out on the track."

Valladares ran second. "This was a way to redeem ourselves from the 4x8. We were all very set and very determined," said Valladares.

Payton Shaffer was the anchor for the Hurricanes.

"I have a history in the 100 and the 200 of almost beating [Stroudsburg], so I didn't want it to happen again," Shaffer said. "My legs unlocked, and I just went really fast."

Liberty's girls' 4x8 relay team of Rachel Byrne, Sahaydak, Stuckey, Valladares, Raisa Kochmaruk, and Belle Weikert took third place at districts in 9:39.87.

Freedom's boys' 4x1 relay team of Nick King, Kyree Marshburn, Dashaun Peterson, Cyrus Thompson, and Lewis Hargett placed third, and Liberty's boys' 4x1 relay team of Gunner Anglovich, Daniel Damon, DeAndre Damon, Dari-an Street, Jaden Vazquez, and Devon West placed fourth.

In the first two games of the Eastern Pennsylvania Conference playoffs, Liberty trailed in each contest.

But, the Hurricanes found a way to pull come-from-behind victories against both Nazareth and Pocono Mountain East to advance to last Friday night's EPC Championship game against Parkland.

Things started off on a good note for the Hurricanes as they took a 1-0 and 2-1 leads, but after that the Hurricanes found themselves once again in a familiar spot - trying to pull themselves out of a hole.

With the EPC title on the line, Parkland refused to let the Hurricanes recreate any magic at Hackett Park.

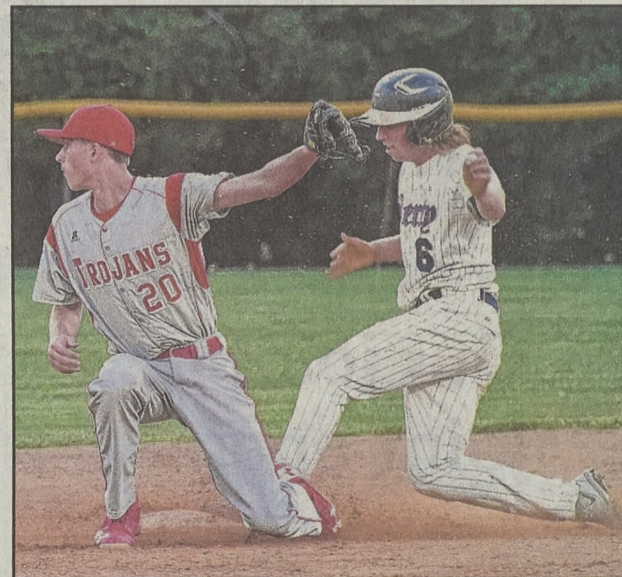

Parkland's pitching held Liberty's bats in check, allowing only single runs in three separate innings, and not allowing the Hurricanes any chance to come back with the championship trophy up for grabs. The Trojans came away with the EPC title, winning 6-3.

After draping a silver conference medal around each one of his Hurricane players, Liberty head coach Andy Pitsilos had no problem pinpointing the reason Parkland was successful.

"They [Parkland] played a good game," Pitsilos said. "It's credit to them."

Liberty tennis falls at states

BY KATIE MCDONALD
Special to the Press

Liberty's tennis team competed in the first round of PIAA state team championships but lost to Conestoga (Berwyn, Pa.) by a score of 2-3 last Tuesday at Winning Touch in Allentown.

The Hurricanes won at one singles where Dan Lynn defeated Ahmed Aboseada 6-2, 3-6, 10-8, and at two singles where Louis Gruber defeated Cahlin Pragada 3-6, 6-3, 10-3.

Lynn and Aboseada were still playing when the team match was decided.

"I had a feeling [they won]. I saw them smiling," said Lynn. "We made it this far. It's a big accomplishment."

Gruber and Pragada were also still playing.

"The season's been terrific, but we didn't quite come through today," Gruber said. "In the first set [Pragada] was crushing shots, forehand and backhand, so I gave myself a little more time by taking a few steps back toward the base line, and I ground out a few points."

At three singles, Jacob Berg lost to Carson Lortz 5-7, 0-6.

At two doubles, Luke Conrad and David Lynn lost to Kai Czubryt-Ogino and Matt Walton 6-2, 2-6, 1-6.

"They lived up to their full potential and started volleying really well," said Conrad.

At three doubles, Duke Jin and Gavin Snyder lost to Stephen Le and Sebastian Urrunaga 3-6, 2-6.

"We knew we'd be in for a tough match," said Liberty coach Leo Schnalzer. "Jacob was up 4-1 in his first set, and he struggled in the second. We did pretty good at two doubles, and at three doubles, we were in both sets."

Despite the loss last Tuesday, the Hurricanes were proud of their entire season.

"It's definitely [a feeling of] pride," said Conrad. "We knew it was special, and we didn't squander it. We lived up to everyone's expectations and our own."

Rovers bounce FHS from girls and boys D-11 tourney

BY PETER CAR
pcar@tnonline.com

Freedom's girls lacrosse team enjoyed a memorable season, but the Patriots weren't able to overcome top-seeded Easton Monday night in the District 11 3A semifinals at Northampton.

The Rovers won by a 15-3 margin, giving them their third win of the season over Freedom, as they move to Wednesday's final against second-seeded Parkland.

Emily Tuturice scored six goals for Easton (16-1) in Monday's win.

The season ending run for the Patriots (13-

8) saw them finish in the top four of the East Penn Conference, as well as hosting and registering their first district playoff win over Delaware Valley last week.

It was a year of progress for the program, who also saw senior midfielder, Emily Rowan, take league MVP honors.

"Easton is a strong team and they have some great athletes and are well coached," said head coach Charis Innarella. "We had some close games [with Easton] this season."

It was a different story in their district opener against Del Val last week, as a 4-4 halftime score saw Freedom overpower the attack in the second half with an 8-1 scoring advantage.

Abby Rowan scored four goals in the win and Emily Rowan added three goals and an assist.

"Hosting and winning our first district game ever was a great achievement," said Innarella. "I am so proud of how we turned things around in the second half of that game. This season has been so enjoyable. As coaches we just want the best for them."

week, losing in the district quarterfinals 17-3. Bailey Tuturice had five goals for the Rovers to pace them to yesterday's semifinal contest with Parkland.

The Pates ended their year at 11-8 overall.

"I think we made a statement to the league that we're an up and coming team that the top tier teams won't be able to look past," said head coach Tony Fabrizio on what he thought the program accomplished this year. "We met our goals this season of winning our division, and making the district playoffs. "What we took away from this season, is that we proved to ourselves we can compete with those top tier teams."

"As I said to the boys after the district game, it's pretty miraculous for a team to go from 4-11, and never having a .500 record two years ago, to two consecutive .500 plus seasons and two appearances in the district quarterfinals. I think this year we set a standard of what Freedom will be in the future."

VOLLEYBALL

Bethlehem Catholic looks for district run

BY PETER CAR
pcar@tnonline.com

A district championship run could be in the works for Bethlehem Catholic when they opened the District 11 2A tournament Tuesday against Pottsville (3-7).

With 2A only having four teams in the tournament, Beahi (8-9) and Dock Mennonite (11-7) are primed for a finals clash this week.

"Our knowledge of Pottsville and Dock is enough for us to create a game plan for each team," said head coach Jeff Koch. "Some of the teams in the Lehigh Valley had the opportunity to play both Pottsville and Dock."

"Our EPC schedule is so competitive that we feel prepared and ready to face anyone out there. Nothing should surprise us at this point in the season so it really comes down to what we have to do on our side, and our in game adjustments."

Liberty and Freedom both saw their volleyball seasons come to an end in the opening round of district play last week.

The Hurricanes lost to Parkland in a three-game sweep, while Freedom lost in five games to Easton in their opener last week.

Moral victories are never what coaches look to take away from the end of a season, but Liberty's Neiad Ammary can look back and feel a sense of accomplishment after what his team was able to achieve this year.

"We're not thrilled with the loss to Parkland and the end to our season," said Ammary. "However, a realistic analysis of the season has us feeling confident. We had a very young and inexperienced team that took a gigantic leap forward in their development. Reaching the district quarterfinals was a nice accomplishment and an important one for our program, in terms of maintaining a tradition of excellence and giving the players a sense of accomplishment."

Liberty finished the season 12-7, while Freedom ended their campaign at 11-10.

Alex Huertas is expected to get the call on Wednesday for the Pates.

Pates, 'Canes prep for district openers

BY PETER CAR
pcar@tnonline.com

Liberty and Freedom will both open up the District 11 6A playoffs at home Wednesday afternoon.

The second-seeded Hurricanes will look to bounce back from their loss to Parkland in the East Penn Conference championship last Friday night when they square off against Nazareth (No. 7 seed) or Pleasant Valley (No. 10 seed).

Freedom (16-5) faces a tricky opponent in their 4-5 matchup when Pocono Mountain East makes the trip to Bethlehem.

The Cardinals (15-5) will likely throw out EPC MVP Zach McCambley in their playoff opener, as the Coastal Carolina commit, is the best arm in the league.

Freedom head coach Nick D'Amico fully knows that Wednesday's task will be challenging, as this will be the first encounter between the two teams this season.

"He [McCambley] is one of the top pitchers in the league so it's going to be a grind and hopefully we end up on the winning side," said D'Amico. "We are throwing Alec Huertas who has been very good for us this year."

Huertas is 5-2 this season with an 0.83 ERA.

If Wednesday comes down to a pitching duel, the Pates hope that they can muster enough for the win or force McCambley out sooner than later on the mound with the pitch count.

"We are going to need to be play excellent defense and get good quality at bats against a very good pitcher," said D'Amico.

Liberty head coach Andy Pitsilos wasn't sure who he planned to throw on Wednesday, as the last time they played Nazareth, Liberty needed a two-run rally in the bottom of the seventh inning to come back for a 6-5 win. The 'Canes did not play PV this year.

After suffering only their third loss of the season against the Trojans last week, Pitsilos hopes his team is primed for a run at a district title.

"I hope it motivates our guys to play well in districts," he said. "We just need to focus on playing our game and not trying to do more than what we are good at."

Donovan Stuard and the Hawks will take on Central to open the playoffs.

Hawks get a second chance with D-11 berth

BY PETER CAR
pcar@tnonline.com

Bethlehem Catholic may have suffered through a tough spring season, but the Golden Hawks aren't worried about that any longer.

Becahi qualified for the District 11 4A baseball playoffs as a sixth-seed despite having a 6-14 season mark, as they head into Wednesday's battle with fellow Catholic school rival, third-seeded Allentown Central Catholic, who also enter the tourney with a sub .500 mark of 7-13.

In the end, head coach Mike Grasso doesn't really care about the record of his team. He's just happy they have a shot to keep playing for a championship, thanks to the PIAA adopting a six-class system this school year.

"We're looking forward to playing Wednesday and starting a new season," said Grasso. "It's been a crazy year for us, losing five games by one run and dealing with injuries throughout the year, but the kids are ready for this. We're excited to be back in the postseason."

The last time both teams squared off against each other was on May 1, when Central handed Becahi a 10-1 defeat.

Thomas Minutella got the win for the Vikings in that contest, as Central scored in each of the first four innings.

Grasso doesn't believe that will be the case on Wednesday when Matt Morrow will start for the Hawks.

Morrow is 2-2 on the year with a 2.1 ERA, but has been the victim of not getting much run support this season.

If the Hawks want to do anything in this tournament, they'll certainly need good pitching and quality hitting to make any noise.

Grasso hopes Morrow will bring that confidence to the team this week with a chance to play second-seeded Wilson (13-7) in next Monday's semifinals.

"Matt has really been brilliant for us on the mound this season," Grasso said. "Every time he's on the mound he gives us a chance. He's one of the best pitchers in the area."

Grasso also hopes that playing the type of schedule the Hawks had to endure this season will pay dividends in the bracket.

"Our schedule is the biggest advantage we have going into districts," he said. "I think we've been playing better lately. We just lost to [top-seeded] Pottsville 4-3 last week, so we're right there. We just have to play well."

Bethlehem Steel win their BML opener

Trevor Connors took the mound in the home opener for the Bethlehem Steel last Thursday night as they faced the Limeport Dodgers. Connors gave up his only hit of the day, an infield single in the first inning to Dodgers outfielder Koenig, but pitched a solid four inning shutout recording five strike outs as the Steel won their first game 15-0.

The Steel jumped ahead in the first with a bases loaded sac fly by second basemen Tanner Smith scoring Mike Newland, who started the action with a line drive single up the middle. Charlie Barebo then cleared the bases with a double to the right field gap. Third base Jason Gonzalez reached on a throwing error by the Dodgers third basemen scoring Barebo from second and the Steel led 4-0 after the first inning and never looked back.

After two innings the score increased to 8-0 Steel.

Catcher Jeff LaBarge started the scoring in the second with a lead-off walk followed by four consecutive hits: SS Julian Lopez singled, Newland had an RBI single and Breithaupt followed with an RBI double before DH Brian Ernst had an RBI single.

The Steel tacked on three more in the third inning. CF Barebo led off the fourth with a solo home run to center field increasing the lead to 12-0 after four.

Robby Williams took the mound for the Steel in the top of the fifth and had a five-pitch inning before the Steel tacked on three more runs in the bottom half of the inning extending the lead to 15-0.

The score would remain the same as Brian Ernst took the mound in the sixth and seventh inning recording all six outs by strike out.

Head coach Andy Pitsilos hopes the loss to Parkland in the EPC finals motivates the Hurricanes during the District 11 tournament.

back, Pitsilos found a positive.

"You just learn from everything," he said. "We just saw three good pitchers throughout each round of the EPC playoffs. We're going to put that in the bank. Now, we have experience against three good pitchers."

"It will be fine. We will be fine."

The Hurricanes did look fine in the early goings as they were the first ones on the board. Leadoff hitter Kyle Hlavaty walked and then scored on a Sam Kraihanzel's sacrifice fly to plate the game's initial run.

The Trojans answered right back with a run in the top of the second, but the Hurricanes fought back to regain a 2-1 lead. Jake Unangst led the bottom of the second off with a single, stole second and then scored on a Gabe Albino RBI single.

It wasn't until the

fourth inning, and facing a 5-2 deficit, that the Hurricanes chipped away to pull a little closer. Mike Perreault walked and then eventually scored on an Alex Laudenslager RBI single.

But, the Trojans plated an insurance run in the sixth and turned up their defense making it hard for the Hurricanes to even think of pulling out another stellar comeback. In fact, over the last three innings, Liberty managed just two base runners: Kraihanzel was hit by a pitch, but thrown out trying to steal second, and Unangst walked.

Mike Jenkins got the start for the Trojans and hit the 99-pitch mark after five innings, giving way to Harsha Bollu who finished off the final two innings.

"I think our kids battled great today," Pitsilos said. "I think we had disciplined at bats again. We just came up on the short end tonight. Our kids played hard. I give our kids credit. We just came up short today."

While the Hurricanes didn't get their hands on gold in the conference championships, that isn't stopping Pitsilos and his players with the District 11 playoffs right around the corner. Pitsilos got his players staying optimistic.

"At least it's not over," Pitsilos said. "We're going to play districts now. We got to get right back at it. This is one game — that's all and we go from here."

McTier wins silver

BY KATIE MCDONALD
 kmcdonald@tnonline.com

Freedom High School jumper Madison McTier won the silver medal in the triple jump at the District XI Class 3A Track and Field Championships which were held last Tuesday and Wednesday at Blue Mountain High School. "I was nervous because I wanted to go to states. It feels pretty good. I practiced a lot every day," McTier said. McTier's jump measured 36-07.

"It was on my first jump, actually," she said. "I'm going to try to move back to the 36 board [for states]. Right now, I'm at the 32." Liberty jumper Grace Mittl won a silver medal in the long jump. "I felt pretty confident coming in, but it's pretty hot, and I'm a little gassed out, so I just wanted to lay one good jump," Mittl said. "My biggest struggle this season was my landing and collapsing at the right level because my height was there. I think won district silver in the javelin with a throw of 125-04.

I bounced back." Mittl also placed third in the triple jump. "It was a great two days," she said. Bethlehem Catholic jumper Liz Lieb placed fourth in the long jump with a 17-04. Liberty senior Darian Street won the silver medal in the long jump with a measurement of 23-02. Trevor Joseph, also from Liberty, won a bronze medal in the pole vault with a height of 13-03.

"It feels great. I finally accomplished my goal to make it to states," said Zamolyi. "I was trying to relax more this week, and I didn't over-pressure myself."

Zamolyi reached 125-04 on her second throw in the final round despite the stress that was looming at the time. "I have to give a shout out to Jackie [Arthur] because she has supported me, and [Liberty's] Eleni [Prodes] also really supported me throughout all the years of javelin, especially because they're both from another school," Zamolyi said. "And [Becahi's] Sarah Cuttice has been with me at every practice." Arthur placed third in the javelin with a throw of 123-05. The PIAA State Track and Field Meet is scheduled for May 26 and 27 at Shippensburg University.

Outdoors: Bills are presented to become laws

BY NICK HRONIAK
 Special to the Press

According to the Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs, the following bills will be presented by two state representatives in anticipation of them becoming law.

SR Bryan Cutler says that his HCO1948 would allow any hunter who had purchased a lifetime resident hunting license prior to July 1, 2017, to continue hunting species that may require a permit, previously included under their current license without incurring the additional fee. This references, in particular, the passed license fee to hunt pheasants in the state.

Said Cutler, "In the near future, I intend to introduce legislation to amend Title 34 with regard to special licenses and permits, providing for permit exemptions for senior lifetime license holders."

"As you may know, the PA Game Commission recently passed a regulation requiring pheasant hunters to obtain a $25 permit to hunt pheasants. It was brought to my attention by a senior resident in my district who had obtained a senior lifetime resident hunting license that he would now be required to pay additional fees to hunt pheasant, which had previously been included in the lifetime resident hunting license."

This legislation will allow any hunter who had purchased a lifetime resident hunting license prior to July 1, 2017 to continue hunting pheasant, or any other species that may require a permit, previously included under their current license without incurring the additional fee, as they had expected upon purchasing their license.

ELITE WRESTLING

Elite Wrestling Camp will take place at Liberty High School from June 26-30 from 9 a.m.-2 p.m.

Cost is $110 and is for kids ages 5-18. T-shirt included for each camper. Questions call 610-737-0071 or email karamjody@msn.com.

SR Barry J. Jozwiak, former Berks County Sheriff, will try for a hunting license fee increase.

Jozwiak says, "In the near future, I intend to introduce legislation that would increase certain hunting license fees issued by the Pennsylvania Game Commission."

The legislation will provide for the following increases:

Adult resident hunting $19 to $29
 Bear hunting resident $15 to $20
 Bear hunting nonresident $35 to $40
 Antlerless deer resident $5 to $10
 Antlerless deer nonresident $25 to $40
 Archery deer resident $15 to $20
 Archery deer nonresident $25 to $40
 Muzzleloader deer resident $10 to $20
 Muzzleloader deer nonresident $20 to $40
 Adult nonresident hunting $100 to $150
 Seven-day nonresident small game $30 to $50
 Adult resident furtaker $19 to $29
 Adult nonresident furtaker $80 to $100
 Migratory game bird resident $2 to $5
 Migratory game bird nonresident $5 to $10
 Special wild turkey resident $20 to $25
 Special wild turkey nonresident $40 to $50

New categories of licenses:

Senior nonresident hunting $100
 Senior nonresident furtaker $80
 Senior nonresident combo hunting and furtaker $150
 Ultimate outdoor combo (bear, archery, muzzleloader, furtaker, migratory game bird, special wild turkey) resident $110
 It's been common knowledge among sportsmen that the Pennsylvania Game Commission is in need of a license fee increase to help fund their various programs one of which is the stocking of pheasants. So, if these bills are passed, it will be interesting to see if the latter license fee increase will be approved.

State Theatre's sign welcomes attendees to the YWCA Bethlehem Prom Dress Day on March 25 in Easton. The historic theatrical sign was lighted all day for the popular event which is hosted by the State Theatre.

Prom Dress Day a popular fit

The 10th annual Bethlehem YWCA Prom Dress Day attracted about 200 girls from 35 public and private high schools March 25 to the State Theatre in Easton. A modest $10 ticket offered a choice from more than 1,000 gently used, donated and cleaned dresses. Prom accessories like shoes and costume jewelry were also available. Mothers and other family members accompanied the student promgoers to the popular event. Volunteers from the YWCA and the Lehigh Valley community provided assistance at the crowded and well-organized Saturday event.

Tables with shoes and other accessories are popular at the 10th annual YWCA Bethlehem Prom Dress Day.

SOUTH BETHLEHEM

Bethlehem's Planning Commission has recommended an expansion of the city's Southside LERTA, a special tax zone in which increases in property assessments are gradually phased in over a period of years. The May 11 vote followed a presentation by Community and Economic Development Director Alicia Karner.

LERTA stands for Local Economic Revitalization Tax Assistance. Karner explained the program was adopted by the state in 1977. Bethlehem adopted the program in 1984 and has used it in the south and west sides.

It enabled a property owner to build major improvements, after which the assessment increase is phased in gradually over 10 years. For example, a business with a lot assessed at $50,000 which builds a plant worth $1 million will still pay the taxes on the land, but the taxes on the new structure will be phased in by $100,000 per year for the next decade.

This simple tool has brought many deteriorated areas back to life, Karner said. In Bethlehem, it has created 1,000 full-time jobs and $114.6 million in real estate assessments.

On the Southside, LERTA has lured defense contractor Curtiss-Wright, along with 96 high-paying jobs. REEB, which outgrew its Fountain Hill headquarters, employs 429 people. Primark warehousing firm has brought 45 jobs.

Karner has asked that the LERTA be expanded on the Southside to include 315 Columbia St. as well as the Weldship Corporation on West Second Street.

A public hearing before city council was scheduled for May 17, and council must vote twice in June to officially approve the measure.

MORAVIAN ACADEMY NOTES

By ANNA CRUMPLER

Ending the year right

Moravian Academy has been overflowing with good vibes and positive energy all year, but around this time everyone is just about ready to burst. Seniors have already left campus to complete their post-terms, an externship students must complete before they graduate, and are highly anticipating the June 3 graduation date.

Everyone else on campus is working hard to finish up the year, busting with AP exams and finals. Moravian students are more than prepared to conquer these academic challenges and take on the difficult coursework bravely, with the help of amazing faculty and staff.

All members of our community are trying to savor time with not only the soon-graduating seniors, but also two incredible teachers who are nearing retirement: Mrs. Beck-Briggs and Mr. Caldwell. On behalf of the entire Moravian community, I want to thank these teachers for putting so much time and love into making Moravian Upper School what is today. These kids are more than just students, however, and use their gifts both in and out of the classroom.

Spring sports teams had an incredible season. Boys lacrosse came to a close just recently after a season of hard work and perseverance, while girls lacrosse continues to progress through district competition fearlessly. Track and field sent multiple students to league competition in events such as hurdles, and hopes to continue on toward higher awards and titles. Boy tennis had an incredible season, including a state championship in doubles for seniors Abbi Sekar and Oliver Scott.

Overall, Moravian students were able to not only manage these extracurricular activities on top of AP exams and rigorous coursework, but thrive in them.

So you know we've been busy in the classroom and on the sports field, but we cannot forget the stage. The spring drama, "Arcadia," ran this April and was beautifully captivating and thought-provoking, and provided an incredible evening.

On top of theater, all of our music ensembles held spring concerts in May. The wind ensemble, string ensemble, choirs and bell choirs all provided wonderful performances.

I would like to give special thanks to Mrs. Tang, the director of our string orchestra who is retiring this year, for all the work she's done to make our music department even greater, in all divisions of Moravian Academy.

As our 275th year as a school comes to a close, we as a community have tried to take time to reflect on how we got here. We recognize that there have been so many people before us who have worked so hard so that we could be here today. So, even amid the whirlwind of proms and papers and sports games and performances, I want to try to stop and appreciate all the awesome things we have managed both this year and in our history as a school. As the door closes on this year, all we can do is eagerly await the opening of a new year rapidly approaching. From here, the only way to go is up.

Pennsylvania Charter School law requires charter schools to participate in a charter renewal process every five years with its chartering school districts; which in LVA's case, are both the Bethlehem Area School District and Saucon Valley School District.

The charter approval process stalled in December 2016, due to the inclusion of enrollment caps in the charter approved by the BASD board of directors. In January 2017, SVSD and LVA approved and executed a charter agreement that did not include any enrollment caps.

The Middle States Association approved the LVA's mid-term report and authorized LVA as a MSA accredited school through 2021.

Muhlenberg Summer Music Theatre 'My Fair Lady' and 'Hair' contrast two eras of the Broadway stage

BY PAUL WILLISTEIN
pwillistein@tnonline.com

It's the Yin and Yang of Lehigh Valley summer theater.

It's polar opposites on the Broadway musical spectrum.

It's Muhlenberg Summer Music Theatre (MSMT).

This year, MSMT again is staging the radical and new, and the tried and true, in the American musical theater canon.

For its 37th season, MSMT presents the revolutionary rock musical "Hair," June 14 - July 2, and the classic musical, "My Fair Lady," July 12 - 30. The family children's show is a really big show, "Wild," a circus performance, June 28 - July 29.

"I've directed a play here every summer for 37 years," says Charles Richter, MSMT co-founder who next year celebrates his 40th year with the Muhlenberg College Department of Theatre and Dance.

MSMT often has alternated traditional Broadway musicals with nontraditional Broadway musicals, no more so than for the 2016 summer season.

"I love this kind of thing: 'Gypsy' and 'In the Heights' [were the 2016 shows]. Those were a little closer in that they were both in their times radical departures. But this season, it's wildly eclectic," says Richter, Muhlenberg College Director of Theater, and Professor, Directing, Theater History, and Theory.

"On one hand, we're doing a musical that marked the end of the Golden Age of Broadway. There was no looking back after 'Hair.'"

The MSMT production of "Hair" commemorates the 50th anniversary of its original Broadway run.

Continues Richter, "And, on a certain level, 'My Fair Lady' represented the height of artistry in the American musical."

Broadway's Golden Age

"My Fair Lady" opened in 1956 in the midst of "The Golden Age of Broadway Musicals," roughly from 1927 with the opening of "Show Boat" until the 1964 with the opening of "Fiddler on the Roof." There followed "Hair" (1967), and other predominantly non-book musicals, including "Company" (1970), "Godspell," (1971), and "Pippin" (1972).

The original Broadway production of "My Fair Lady" received 10 Tony Awards, including Best Musical, Best Director (Moss Hart), Leading Actor, Musical (Rex Harrison, as Professor Henry Higgins) and Leading Actress, Musical (Julie Andrews, as Eliza Doolittle).

Harrison reprised his role, receiving a best actor Oscar, opposite Audrey Hepburn as Eliza, in the 1964 movie version, which received a Best Picture Oscar and a Best Director Oscar for George Cukor.

Richter, a Broadway musical theater professor and connoisseur, analyzes "My Fair Lady" thusly:

"It took the American musical theater form to a higher level. It has a glorious, lush theater score. It has the most sophisticated libretto that anybody ever attempted for a Broadway musical. Alan Lerner and Frederick Loewe were considered the geniuses of the form. 'Paint Your Wagon' [1951], 'Brigadoon' [1947], 'Camelot' [1960].

"All the elements of the musical came together [in 'My Fair Lady']. The songs grew organically out of the action. Everything in the show was very well-motivated. It's on everybody's Top 10 musical theater list.

Muhlenberg's mission

"The [Muhlenberg] summer theater, at the core of our mission, is preserving the great heritage of the American musical. It's a show ['My Fair Lady'] that we've done once before, more than 20 years ago. We certainly felt it was a show that deserved revival. In fact, we've been a bit prophetic because the first New York revival [at Lincoln Center] is coming next year."

For Richter, "My Fair Lady" has a special place in his heart:

"Growing up in a Jewish household on Long Island, everyone had that album ['My Fair Lady']. The original cast album was a hit."

The Broadway show cast album, released April 2, 1956, topped the Billboard charts in 1957, 1958 and 1959 for 15 weeks, including eight consecutive weeks.

With such toe-tappin' and humable tunes, among them, "Wouldn't It Be Lovely?," "With a Little Bit of Luck," "The Rain in Spain," "I Could Have Danced All Night," "On the Street Where You Live," and "Get Me to the Church on Time," it's no wonder that the "My Fair Lady" cast album went "to the toppermost of the poppermost" (to quote John Lennon's early-days exhortation to his Beatles' mates).

Meredith Doyle (Eliza Doolittle), "My Fair Lady," MSMT

"If you're serious about musical theater, this is one you have to take on and figure out. I look at the challenge as to discover the play, and to discover the greatness of the play. This is one that I'm ready to take on. It's the first time I'm directing it," says Richter.

"My Fair Lady" cast

And since, as it's said in theater and movies, casting is all, Richter didn't have to wait for his Henry Higgins.

"I knew for the past two seasons, Jarrod Yuskauskas [Moravian Academy Director of Theater] has done a great job as the leading man [at MSMT]: Horace in 'Hello, Dolly' [2015] and Herbie and in 'Gypsy' [2016]. I knew it was time to put him front and center. It's not often that you have an actor who can play Henry Higgins.

"My next challenge as a director was to find Eliza Doolittle. One of our [Muhlenberg] grads, Meredith Doyle, who's done some supporting roles, did a wonderful audition.

"And another really exciting development is that Robert Fahringer [Catasauqua School District Secondary English Teacher], who played Alfred Doolittle in the first [MSMT] show, is back in that role.

"The production fell together very nicely. We're doing it in the Baker Theatre [in the Trexler Pavilion for Theatre and Dance], which is our more intimate venue.

"In a way, 'My Fair Lady' is a play with songs. It's very much about these two people. It's a much more psychological play."

That said, the MSMT production will boast a 14-piece orchestra, with Ed Bara as music director and conductor. Karen Dearborn is choreographer.

"It's going to be an intimate production, but it's going to be a joy to watch a piece that's so beautifully-crafted."

The 19th annual "City Arts Cultural Camp for Kids" takes place June 26 - 30. This fantastic opportunity is open to youngsters ages of 7 - 10.

The camp, a collaborative project of the Allentown Art Museum, Allentown Symphony Association, The Baum School of Art, Civic Theatre of Allentown, Community Music School, and Repertory Dance Theatre, allows campers to learn about the arts while participating in activities and classes at each one of these Allentown arts nonprofits.

Stephanie Kocher, the camp's Education Director, and a 2007 Easton High School graduate, received a Master's Degree in Arts' Administration from Goldsmith College, London, England. "I've been involved in music and the arts since first or second grade," says Kocher. "So, I can relate to children who are interested in and excited about the arts.

"This is a great opportunity for a lot of kids to experience the arts outside of regular school programs, to explore their own creativity, and see what they might be good at."

Every year, the "City Arts Cultural Camp for Kids" offers new activities and many campers return from year to year. The camp week culminates with performances by the students for their families.

Kocher is very excited for this year's program. "The students get backstage looks at all the organizations, get to work with excellent instructors, and to perform on stage," she says.

"The camp is something that has been a long-standing tradition with the local arts' organizations. It gives students an introduction to all forms of art, led by the best instructors. It's something they can carry with them the rest of their lives."

Each participating venue offers a different experience for the campers.

LV house market:

Air goes of March sales winds; April sales dampen 4.3 percent

BY PAUL WILLISTEIN
pwillistein@tnonline.com

Sales of houses in the greater Lehigh Valley again declined in April after rebounding in March.

Closed sales decreased by 4.3 percent in April to 626 houses sold, compared to 654 in April 2016, according to the Greater Lehigh Valley Realtors (GLVR).

For the year-to-date, closed sales inched up 1 percent to 2,133 from 2,111 in 2016.

Pending sales were up slightly, 5.4 percent in April to 924, compared to 877 in April 2016.

For the year-to-date, pending sales are up 8.9 percent to 2,922 from 2,682 in 2016.

The March double-digit increase of 13.7 had reversed three straight months of declining closed sales: 4.4 percent in February, 10.8 percent in January and 3.5 percent in December 2016.

LV market data

The percentage of list price received, 97.7 percent in April, an increase of 0.6 percent, compared to 97.1 percent in April 2016, is the highest it has been since 2007, according to the GLVR report released May 12.

New listings again decreased, 4.7 percent to 1,181 in April, compared to 1,239 in April 2016.

Inventory continued to decrease dramatically, down 42.7 percent in April to 2,054 units, compared to 3,585 units in April 2016.

The median sales price continued its upward increase, 2 percent to $175,000 in April from $171,500 in April 2016.

The average sales price also increased again, 3.8 percent in April to $204,292 from $196,729 in April 2016.

The housing affordability index continued to decrease, 4.6 percent in April compared to April 2016.

Days on the market decreased by double digits again, 15.7 percent to 59 days in April from 70 days in April 2016.

The months supply of inventory again decreased by big double-digits, down 45.5 percent to 3 months in April from 5.5 months in April 2016.

Market analysis

According to the GLVR, the April data shows that the squeeze on inventory may be putting prices just out of reach of first-time home-buyers, but the market remains strong as the second month of spring closes.

"When the economy is in good working order, as it is now, it creates opportunities in residential real estate, and right now is a potentially lucrative time to sell a home," said GLVR CEO Justin Poremba.

"Houses that show well and are priced correctly have been selling quickly, often at higher prices than asking," said Poremba.

Said GLVR President Cass Chies. "Although there is mounting buyer competition during the annual spring market cycle, buyer demand has not abated, nor is it expected to in the immediate future."

Chies added that, while strong demand is generally considered a good problem to have, it creates an affordability issue for some buyers, especially first-time buyers. The market continues to look for its balance, according to Chies, as low inventory plagues the Lehigh Valley and beyond.

LV monthly closed sales

Closed increased by 13.7 percent in March to 616 houses sold, compared to 542 in March 2016.

Closed sales declined 4.4 percent in February to 433 houses sold, compared to 453 in February 2016.

Closed sales declined 10.8 percent in January to 412 houses sold, compared to 462 in January 2016.

Closed sales declined 3.5 percent in December 2016 to 601 houses sold, compared to 623 in December 2015.

Carbon County

In Carbon County, closed sales were down 2.5 percent.

Inventory levels shrank 35.7 percent to 284 units.

Months Supply of Inventory was down 38.1 percent to 6 months.

Days on Market decreased 40.9 percent to 81 days.

GLVR information

The monthly housing data is collected by the GLVR from its Multiple Listing Service, a database that includes housing market information from its more than 2,000 Realtor members.

NOTICE OF A PUBLIC MEETING FOR LEHIGH COUNTY AND LEHIGH COUNTY HOUSING AUTHORITY'S ASSESSMENT OF FAIR HOUSING (AFH)

Lehigh County, in cooperation with the Lehigh County Housing Authority, is preparing an Assessment of Fair Housing (AFH) according to the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development regulation 24 CFR Part 5 to Affirmatively Further Fair Housing (AFFH). Notice is hereby given that there will be two (2) Public Meetings held in Lehigh County to assemble information for the AFH. The first Public Meeting will be held on Monday, June 5, 2017 at 6:00 PM at the Lehigh Valley Planning Commission, located at 961 Marcon Boulevard, Suite 310, Allentown, PA 18109. The second Public Meeting will be held on Tuesday, June 6, 2017 at 4:30 PM at the Whitehall Municipal Building at 3219 MacArthur Rd, Whitehall, PA 18052.

The Lehigh Valley Planning Commission and the Whitehall Municipal Building are accessible to the physically handicapped. Persons requiring special accommodations to participate in the meeting may call Ms. Paulette Gilfoil, Fair Housing Officer, at (610) 782-3566 or at paulettgilfoil@lehighcounty.org. Persons with hearing and/or speech impediments may contact Lehigh County through the "Pennsylvania Relay Service" by dialing "7-1-1" or going online to www.parelay.net. If requested, a foreign language and/or sign language interpreter will be provided if the County is notified three (3) days in advance of the meeting.

The purpose of these public meetings is to gather information for the County's Assessment of Fair Housing (AFH), which the County must submit to the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) to receive Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) funds. The Lehigh County Housing Authority must also submit an AFH to receive Capital Grant Program funds and other Federal funds. As Federal grantees, Lehigh County and the Lehigh County Housing Authority are required to affirmatively further fair housing, and have partnered together to create one, comprehensive AFH. The AFH for Lehigh County and the Lehigh County Housing Authority will analyze the local fair housing landscape and assess four (4) fair housing issues:

- Patterns of integration and segregation;
- Racially or ethnically concentrated areas of poverty;
- Disparities in access to opportunity; and
- Disproportionate housing needs.

All interested residents and organizations are encouraged to attend these public meetings to discuss fair housing and provide suggestions or actions the community can take to address those issues. If residents or organizations are unable to attend these public meetings, they may submit written comments to Ms. Paulette Gilfoil, Fair Housing Officer, at 17 S. Seventh St., Allentown, PA 18101-2401.

As part of the planning process, the County and Housing Authority are conducting a resident survey to identify Fair Housing issues. # What does he/she mean by that?

My husband and I have different newspaper preferences.

He likes a paper offering a lot of national and international news while that's not my cup of tea.

I prefer a local paper that tells me everything going on in my area. And I love stories about interesting local people.

Whenever I read a local item with information I think David should know, I pass it along to him. He does the same thing when he finds an article he thinks I will like. That's all good.

But I wondered if he was trying to be subtle when he put a section of the Wall Street Journal next to my plate. The newspaper was carefully folded so I would focus on an article titled "When 'enough' doesn't have to mean more."

The subtitle was "I've learned to be happy with what I have."

I wondered if it was his subtle way of giving me a message. Sharing a newspaper article could be a simple courtesy. Or, it could be his nonaggressive way of getting some point across.

Readers know I often write about the wisdom of being happy with what we have and the folly of constantly seeking "more."

In fact I just wrote a column about how much of life many of us waste by always wanting more stuff. It's a waste of money as well as a waste of time, because after we buy more stuff, that means we have more things to take care of.

I've also written a past column lauding some wise folks who have found an exhilarating sense of freedom by paring down possessions. Instead of seeking more stuff, they are focusing their lives on more important and more meaningful pursuits.

I've always believed that most of the important things in life can't be bought. Once we have the basics — a safe roof over our head and plentiful food in the refrigerator, we have all we need.

In other words, I am content with what I have. In fact, there have been times when my husband mentioned that is one of my traits that he appreciates.

He knows I'm not always in pursuit of more "stuff."

So why in the world would he make a special point of laying out that "learning to be happy with what you have" article for me?

Did he mean something personal by it?

Or was it just an interesting article he thought was worth sharing?

Did you ever notice how husbands and wives will sometimes silently wonder about motives? But they won't mention it.

The logical thing for me would have been to ask David if there was something personal in why he thought I should read the article. But I didn't.

Instead, I just wondered if he gave me the article because of our recent conversation with a neighbor who was complaining about the high cost of putting in a boat-lift.

"Oh, we have two boat-lifts, but no boat. Isn't that a shame?" I commented.

When we continued our walk, I told David I realize it's no longer prudent to buy a boat. But every time I see a perfect little used boat for sale I would wish we could buy it.

As usual, he didn't answer. But maybe that's what went through his mind when he gave me the article.

Instead of talking about it, I did what spouses sometimes do. I got even by giving him an article to read.

It just so happened that the same Wall Street Journal section he gave me also had a cover story about retirement savings. It said some people are really good about saving for retirement. But once they retire, they are reluctant to spend anything that isn't absolutely necessary.

The article made the point that some can't get around the emotional block of not spending. Instead they live far more frugally than they would have to.

I told David he "had to read the article" because it made some good points about doing things like traveling while you still have good health.

David insisted he didn't need to read it because there's nothing more he wants. After living with him for almost 10 years, I can vouch for that.

If it costs money, he doesn't want it.

My neighbor is married to a man with the same frugal nature. "There's a difference between being frugal and being cheap. Tom is cheap!" she complained.

Her husband of 62 years just laughed at her comments. "You're right," he said. "It's always been my nature."

They go away only once a year and stay with relatives. She wants "a real vacation" while they still can travel. He likes things just the way they are.

"You would think after being married for 62 years we would have come to a better compromise," she said.

She added that all those years of marriage have taught her sometimes you just have to accept things the way they are.

"If you want a happy marriage, you have to accept 'what is, is.' There are some things you can change in your spouse over the years. But mostly, you can't. That's when you tell yourself, 'what is, is.' And don't make a big deal of it," said my long-married friend.

It sounds simplistic but it's good advice.

What is, is.

Unblocking beta-blockers information

Q. I heard that taking beta-blockers for high blood pressure is not a good idea. I take a beta-blocker, so should I ask my doctor to take me off it?

One study found that beta-blockers may increase the risk of having a heart attack or stroke if you are using them to treat high blood pressure alone. Beta blockers also treat other conditions such as heart failure. If you are taking a beta-blocker, discuss it with your doctor. Warning: Don't stop taking the drug on your own.

More than half of Americans over age 60 have high blood pressure. Many people with high blood pressure need more than one medication to treat it. I've received many questions about blood-pressure drugs.

There's a lot of confusion about these medications because there are so many of them and they work in a variety of ways. Today's column is devoted to clearing up some of the confusion.

Beta-blockers: Beta-blockers make your heart beat more slowly and with less force. Your heart pumps less blood and your pressure goes down.

The following are the brand names for common beta-blockers: Sental, Tenormin, Kerlone, Zebeta, Cartrol, Tandate,

HEALTHY GEEZER
By Fred Cicetti
fred@healthygeez.com

Lopressor, Toprol XL, Corgard, Levatol, Visken, Inderal, Betapace, and Blocadren.

Angiotensin-converting enzyme (ACE) inhibitors: ACE inhibitors keep your body from making angiotensin II, a hormone that normally causes blood vessels to narrow. ACE inhibitors expand blood vessels so your blood pressure goes down. The following are common ACE inhibitors: Lotensin, Capoten, Vasotec, Monopril, Prinivil, Zestril, Univasc, Aceon, Accupril, Altace, and Mavik.

Angiotensin II receptor blockers (ARBs): ARBs are like ACE inhibitors because they protect against angiotensin II. ARBs don't lower levels of the hormone; they prevent this chemical from affecting the heart and blood vessels. The following are common ARBs: Atacand, Teveten, Avapro, Cozaar, Benicar, Micardis, and Diovan.

Calcium channel blockers: These drugs block calcium from entering the muscle cells of the heart and blood vessels. This relaxes blood vessels and lowers blood pressure. The following are common calcium channel blockers: Norvasc, Cardizem, Dilacor XR, Tiazac, Plendil, Dynacirc CR, Cardene, Adalat CC, Procardia, Nimotop, Sular, Calan, Covera HS, Isoptin, and Verelan.

Diuretics: Diuretics, also known as "water pills," help the kidneys flush extra water and salt from your body and decrease blood volume to lower pressure. The following are common diuretics: Midamor, Bumex, Diuril, Hygroton, Thaltone, Lasix, Esidrix, Hydrodiuril, Saluron, Lozol, Enduron, Zaroxolyn, Aldactone, Demadex and Dyrenium.

Vasodilators: Vasodilators open blood vessels by directly relaxing the muscle in the vessel walls. Common vasodilators are Apresoline and Loniten.

Alpha blockers: Alpha blockers, also called alpha-adrenergic antagonists, reduce nerve impulses that tighten blood vessels; this permits blood to flow more freely. Common alpha blockers are: Cardura, Minipress, Minizide, Hytrin, Flomax and Uroxatral.

Alpha-beta blockers: These drugs work two ways: they reduce nerve impulses to blood vessels and slow the heartbeat. Common alpha-beta blockers are Coreg and Normodyne. Central-acting agents:

Central-acting agents work by preventing your brain from sending signals to your nervous system to speed up your heart rate and narrow your blood vessels. The following are examples: Catapres, Clorpres, Combipres, Wytensin, Tenex, Aldomet, Aldochlor, and Aldoril.

Combination drugs: There are a variety of preparations that combine medications. For example, Cozaar, which is an ARB, is combined with a diuretic, to form Hyzaar. The following are other popular combination drugs: Lixel, Lotrel, Tarka, Tenoretic, Ziac, Corzide, Inderide, Timolide, Lotensin, Vasoretic, Prinzide, Zestoretic, Uniretic, Accuretic, Avalide, and Diovan HCT.

Renin inhibitors: Renin inhibitors are a relatively new type of blood pressure drug. As the name indicates, they inhibit renin, which is an enzyme secreted by the kidneys that is involved in the release of angiotensin. Tekturna is a renin inhibitor.

seum, campers get a behind-the-scenes look at the workings of an art museum, and will work on curating an exhibit of their own artwork.

During their time at the Allentown Symphony Association's Miller Symphony Hall, campers learn to make their own musical instruments. At the Baum School of Art campers will draw, paint and sculpt.

Civic Theatre of Allentown offers campers the chance to experiment with acting and perform a showcase at the end of the week.

Community Music School will teach campers to play the flute-ophone, a recorder-like wind instrument, and each student will get to bring their instrument home with them.

Campers learn the basics of dance at the Repertory Dance Theatre and will finish with a small informal dance performance June 30.

"My favorite part of the camp experience," says Kocher, "is the look on a student's face when they learn something new. Their faces just light up, it's exciting to see."

"We encourage parents with a child interested in the arts to sign them up. It's a great opportunity for them to discover the arts in their own backyard."

"City Arts Cultural Camp for Kids" financial aid is available.

Tuition includes program materials and daily snack. Deadline for registration is June 2.

"City Arts Cultural Camp for Kids" Camp is 9 a.m. - 4 p.m. June 26 - 30. Tuition includes program materials and a daily snack. Campers are responsible for bringing their own lunch. Space is limited. For information and to register: Baum School of Art, registrar@baumschool.org; 610-433-0032.

'Guardians' turns up 'Vol. 2'

"Guardians of the Galaxy Volume 2" brings the usual crew of galactic misfits back for an entertaining mix of 1970s-era mix-tape music, galactic shenanigans and a summer movie season of bountiful quips.

The best part, though, is that writer-director James Gunn was to the movie superhero spoof genre born (writer-director, "Guardians of the Galaxy," 2014; "Super," 2010; "Slither," 2006; writer, "Dawn of the Dead," 2004; "Scooby-Doo 2: Monsters Unleashed," 2004; "Scooby-Doo," 2002; "The Specials," 2000; "Tromeo & Juliet," 1996).

"GOTG" or "GOG," for short, is the culmination of Gunn's skewed view of the universe, and especially the Hollywood movie and graphic novel, i.e., comic book, universe, ergo, the Marvel Cinematic Universe. With "Guardians of the Galaxy, Volume 3"

MOVIE REVIEW

By Paul Willistein
pwillistein@trnline.com

announced, look for more cartoony mayhem on the big screen.

The origin storyline about Peter Quill, aka Star-lord (a terrific Chris Pratt) makes each character a part of the plot. Quill discovers that he's only half-human. His mother was an Earthling. His father is a god (with a small g) and a big name, Ego (a fun Kurt Russell).

Quill is still trying to work things out ("It's an unspoken thing.") with Gamora (a wonderful Zoe Saldana, Neytiri, "Avatar," 2009; Uhura, "Star Trek," 2009), as well as with his rambunctious Guardians: Drax (Dave Bautista, TV's "WWE Raw, Smackdown," 2002-14, with a stronger and more fleshed-out role), Yondu (Michael Rooker, also excellent from behind the makeup), Rocket (a superb CGI character with the almost unrecognizable but effective voice of Bradley Cooper) and Baby Groot (an adorable CGI character with the equally-unrecognizable but effective voice of Vin Diesel).

In a subplot, Gamora must work out sibling rivalry with her sister, Nebula (a very strong Karen Gillan). Mantis (Pom Klementieff) is a fascinating addition to the crew.

Look for Stakar Ogord (Sylvester Stallone, in a nice, if brief, appearance). Among the Ravagers, a "Mad Max"-like assortment of villains, a standout is Taserface (Chris Sullivan).

"GOG" turns up the volume in effects, plot and characters. This is even evident in several cameos: Charlie-27 (Ving Rhames), Aleta Ogord (Michelle Yeoh), Ayesha (Elizabeth Debicki), Grandmaster (an uncredited Jeff Goldblum), Zardu Hasslefrau (David Hasselhoff, uncredited), and one of the most derided characters in cinema history, Howard the Duck (voiced by Seth Green), from the 1986 movie flop.

"Guardians of the Galaxy Volume 2" defies expectations. It's a must-see for fans of the first. And it bodes well for "Volume 3."

"Guardians of the Galaxy Volume 2," MPAA PG-13 (Parents Strongly Cautioned. Some Material May Be Inappropriate For Children Under 13.) for sequences of sci-fi action and violence, language, and brief suggestive content; Genre: Action, Adventure, Science-Fiction; Run time: 2 hrs., 15 mins.; Distributed by Walt Disney Pictures.

Credit Readers Anonymous: "Guardians of the Galaxy Volume 2" has not one, but five, count 'em, five brief scenes during the end credits, foreshadowing future "GOG" and other Marvel Cinematic Universe plot points. The phrase "I Am Groot" appears several times and morphs into credits. Actors in character dance, wink and vamp to the music. Marvel Comics creator Stan Lee has two cameos as Astronaut, including one in the end credits. So far this year, "GOG" gets the CRA (Credit Readers Anonymous) Best End Credits award.

Box Office, May 19: "Alien: Covenant," opening with $36 million, narrowly defeated "Guardians of the Galaxy Vol. 2," apparently ending its for two-weeks reign at No. 1 as it finished at No. 2, with $35 million, $301.7 million, three weeks.

3. "Everything, Everything" opened with $12 million.

4. "Snatched" dropped two places from No. 2 with $7.6 million, $32.7 million, after two weeks.

5. "Diary of a Wimpy Kid: The Long Haul" had a wimpy haul with $7.2 million.

6. "King Arthur: Legend of the Sword" dropped three places from No. 3 as the $175-million budget movie became a legendary flop with $6.8 million and $27.2 million after two weeks.

7. "The Fate of the Furious" dropped three places from No. 4 with $3.1 million, $219.8 million, six weeks.

8. "The Boss Baby" slid down two places from No. 6 with $2.8 million, $166.1 million, eight weeks.

9. "Beauty and the Beast" dropped four places from No. 5 with $2.4 million, $497.7 million, 10 weeks.

10. "How to Be a Latin Lover" dropped three places from No. 7, with $2.2 million, $29.4 million, four weeks.

INCORPORATE FLOWERS

Weddings are special moments for couples and the guests they invite to share their happiness on their big days. Beautiful weddings require substantial planning, as every last detail must be considered for couples to enjoy the wedding of their dreams.

Flowers play a big role in many weddings, and couples can add beauty and ambiance to the event by using floral arrangements in various ways. Modern floral arrangements are stunning, and many couples may not know that herbs, spices and flowers have been used in weddings for centuries.

Today, flowers are used to decorate wedding venues, impart sweet fragrances and complement formal attire, but in ancient times they were used differently. Flowers were used to bestow good luck on the couple and keep bad omens away. Brides carried aromatic flowers and spices to keep evil spirits from spoiling the festivities, and some even tucked bulbs of garlic into their bouquets. In ancient Greece and Rome, both the bride and groom wore garlands made out of strong-smelling herbs flowers around their necks or heads. These wreaths were considered gifts of nature, and thus extremely appropriate for a wedding. Traditionally, bridesmaids would be responsible for fashioning these floral components. In ancient Sweden, young girls would carry small bouquets of fragrant herbs down the aisle and the groom would put thyme in his pocket. These aromatics were thought to help keep trolls at bay.

Besides warding off spirits or hungry trolls, flowers also served more practical purposes throughout history. During the Middle Ages, people bathed less frequently than they do today. Bathing might only have occurred twice a year, once during summer and then again at Christmastime. Because many weddings took place in the spring, flowers were used to mask bodily odors. Not only were flowers and herbs carried, but they also would be sewn into clothing.

FLOWERS IN VARIOUS WAYS

- Modern brides and grooms may no longer see their wedding days as times for opportunistic evil spirits. But that doesn't mean that couples cannot borrow from ancient traditions and incorporate flowers into their weddings in various ways.
- Wreaths and garlands: Ask the florist to weave small flower buds, berries and vines to a headband, wreath or piece of twine so that the bride and groom can wear these flowers in the way they were worn by ancient Greeks and Romans. When coupled with Grecian-styled wedding gowns, brides can look like beautiful goddesses on their wedding days.
  - Fragrant favors: Tuck dried rose petals and other fragrant flowers into sachets that are embroidered with the wedding date and couple's names. Guests can use these sachets to keep clothings smelling fresh in drawers or as subtle air fresheners around the house.
  - Edible flowers: Ask the caterer to make meals flower-friendly by including some edible blooms in the salad or as a garnish on meals.
  - Raining petals: In lieu of bubbles or birdseed, guests can shower the newlyweds with rose petals after the ceremony.
  - Memorial: Some couples like to honor departed family members. Floral arrangements with small placards can make for fitting memorials.

MSMT

College Professor: Directing, Performance Studies, and Theater History, and Associate Dean for Diversity Initiatives, returns MSMT to the Empie Theatre in Baker Center for the Arts at Muhlenberg.

"It's a very expansive show. If 'My Fair Lady' represents the pinnacle of the Broadway musical, 'Hair' is the first major rock musical, and I don't think anyone's topped it as to the score. The music that these guys wrote is astonishing."

When asked if he thinks "Hair: The American Tribal Love-Rock Musical," which is its full title, might offend older members of the audience, Richter laughs, "This was the musical when we were young."

With music by Galt MacDermot, lyrics by James Rado and Gerome Ragni and book by Rado and Ragni, "Hair," in its 1968 Broadway production, was nominated for a Best Musical and Best Director (Tom O'Horgan) Tony and received a Grammy for Best Score from an Original Cast Show Album.

"They came up with a score that epitomized where the world was in that troubled time," says Richter. "And did it with a lot of hooks. On one hand, the lyrics are compelling and shocking and the music, yes, it's rock, but it's also very beautiful. Nobody has managed to come up with a musical that has topped it as far as the sheer quality of the writing. It was also all over the charts. It produced a lot of hits."

The biggest hit from "Hair" was "Aquarius-Let the Sunshine In," charting at No. 1 for six weeks in 1969 on the Billboard 100 and a Grammy Record of the Year and Best Pop Vocal Performance by a Group for The 5th Dimension. Other songs that charted included the title song, "Hair," a No. 2 hit on the Billboard 100 in 1969 for the Cowsills; "Easy to be Hard," a No. 4 hit on the Billboard 100 in 1969 for Three Dog Night, and "Good Morning Sunshine," a No. 3 hit on the Billboard Top 100 in 1969 for Oliver.

Richter was there
Richter was in the audience of the first preview of the Broadway production of "Hair." Recalls Richter, "Dad worked at Bloomingdale. I'd take the bus and subway to Manhattan. I would have lunch with my father. He would give me the five bucks. And I would see a matinee.

"'Hair' was unforgettable. It broke the boundaries of the stage. The actors were in the audience. I remember being there. It was a typical Broadway audience. It wasn't a bunch of hippies. The music was so attractive. It held people. Its depiction of America at that time was accurate.

"It shows America at a time of extreme change. These are questions that we're going through now. That makes the play more relevant. It shows where we came from and how we got to where we are today, be it issues of race, of gender, of America's place in the world as a world power. All of these issues the show confronts squarely. When we chose the show, we were excited about bringing the show back."

But the big question that inquiring minds want to know is: Will there be nudity in the MSMT production of "Hair"?

"We don't know yet," Richter replies.

"When I saw the first preview, there was not nudity. There's [subsequently] been a split second [of nudity] at the end of the first act. It's really not necessary for the play to work. James Peck, who's directing 'Hair,' says nudity is not required. It might happen and it might not happen," Richter says coyly.

Peck, who directed MSMT's 2016 production of "In the Heights," is reunited with musical director Ed Bara and choreographer Samuel Antonio Reyes. Vince Di Mura is conductor.

"The hard thing about casting today is finding people who can sing rock music, and finding the musicians.

"The charts demand a lot of improvisation. The musical ensemble of nine is a rock band with brass.

"'Hair' is a part of that musical heritage" [of the American musical," says Richter.

"Wild," Atlas Circus Company's world-premiere as MSMT's children's production, Black Box Theatre, Trexler Pavilion, builds on the Muhlenberg Department of Theatre and Dance circus program, begun four years ago.

"Wild" has aerial acrobatics, clowning, juggling, magic and dance.

"It's a circus show with a narrative. We're going to be creating the show from the ground up. We've become an incubator for new children's theater," Richter says.

PUBLIC NOTICE
ZONING HEARING BOARD OF BETHEHEM TOWNSHIP, NORTHAMPTON COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA
MAY 31, 2017

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT THE FOLLOWING APPELLANTS HAVE FILED AN APPEAL FOR A PUBLIC HEARING BEFORE THE ZONING HEARING BOARD OF THE TOWNSHIP OF BETHEHEM, A HEARING TO BE HELD AT 6:30 PM ON WEDNESDAY, MAY 31, 2017 AT THE TOWNSHIP MUNICIPAL BUILDING, 4225 EASTON AVENUE, BETHEHEM, PA 18020. THE MEETING, AMONG OTHER ISSUES, CONCERNS THE FOLLOWING ZONING APPEALS:

Appeal # 05-2017 Theresa Moyzan, 3905 Scherman Boulevard, Bethlehem Township PA, seeks a dimensional variance from Section 275-49G(1) of the Bethlehem Township Codified Zoning Ordinance, as amended, to construct an addition at the rear of the house located at 3905 Scherman Boulevard, for a 16-ft x 34-ft hydro-therapy spa room, 8 feet of which will encroach upon the required 35 foot rear yard setback. The applicant proposes a rear yard setback of 27 feet. Therefore a dimensional variance of 8 feet is being sought. The property is located within the Medium Density Residential Zoning District (MDR). The property maintains Northampton County Tax Parcel Identification number M7SE1 36 3 0205.

Appeal # 06-2017 Garret and Lindsay Kessler, 4008 Sapphire Lane, Bethlehem Township PA, seek a dimensional variance from Section 275-49G (1) of the Bethlehem Township Codified Zoning Ordinance, as amended, to construct at the rear of the house located at 4008 Sapphire Lane, a roof to be built upon an existing wooden deck. Zoning Code requires a 35 foot rear yard setback for any structure attached to the principle dwelling with a roof. The applicant proposes a rear yard setback of 25 feet. Therefore a dimensional variance of 10 feet is being sought. The property is located within the Medium Density Residential Zoning District (MDR). The property maintains Northampton County Tax Parcel Identification number M7 17 3-278 0205.

Appeal # 07-2017 Meals on Wheels of Northampton, Bethlehem Area, Inc., and JoAnn Bergeron Nenow, Executive Director, have petitioned regarding a proposed building addition at 4240 Fritch Drive, Bethlehem Township, PA. The petitioners seek dimensional variances from Section 275-91G and Section 275-144G(6) of the Bethlehem Township Codified Zoning Ordinance, as amended, to construct an 8,000 square foot addition to the existing Meals on Wheels building. Zoning Code restricts maximum lot impervious coverage to 85%. The petitioners propose maximum impervious lot coverage of 85%. Therefore a variance of 20% in excess of the maximum lot coverage is sought. In addition, Zoning Code requires all paved areas except concrete sidewalks to maintain a minimum setback of 10 feet from the exterior structural walls of any commercial or industrial building. The petitioners propose a 5 foot setback. Therefore a 5 foot variance is being sought. The property is located within the General Industrial Zoning District (GI). The property maintains Northampton County Tax Parcel Identification number L7 10 2B-6 0205E.

All interested parties are invited to attend and be heard.
Deborah Roseberry, Zoning Officer

 Notice is hereby given that a Public Meeting will be held by the Zoning Hearing Board of Salisbury Township, Lehigh County PA on Tuesday, June 6, 2017 at 7:00 PM in the Township Municipal Building located at 2900 South Pike Ave., Allentown PA 18103.

446 EAST EMMAUS AVE., ALLENTOWN PA 18103 - APPEAL NO. A-17-10498
 Hear the appeal of Mr. Thomas Guro requesting a variance from section §307.2.B regarding a vacant lot located in the R-3 Zoning District that does not "cost effectively" have access to public water. The Zoning Ordinance in §307.2.B indicates if the R-4 Zoning District has public sewerage service and the applicant proves to the satisfaction of the Zoning Officer based upon review of the Township Engineer and the appropriate Township staff, that the lot cannot cost effectively be served by central water service, then the lot may meet the requirements for "both public sewer and central water" instead of the requirements for "public sewer or central water but not both". The project would require excavating under a Penn Dot road that would be cost prohibitive.
357 EAST ROCK ROAD, ALLENTOWN PA 18103 - APPEAL NO. A-17-10481
 Hear the appeal of Mr. Munheh Makhou, regarding the property of 357 East Rock Road located in the (CR) Conservation Residential Zoning District which is approximately 5,827 S.F. and referenced as a nonconforming lot of record. The applicant appealed the determination of the Zoning Officer. The Zoning Officer denied the permit due to exceedance in impervious coverage and building coverage as referenced in 27§307.2.A. The CR District has a minimum requirement of 2 acres in accordance with the Zoning and steep slopes; along with a 10% building coverage and 15% impervious coverage. The applicant installed a patio, driveway and retaining wall that did not comply with building coverage or impervious coverage. Nonconforming lots require Special Exception as referenced in 27§806 under Nonconformities. The applicable sections of the appeal are referenced in §27-806.3.B (1) sections a through f; (2) the Zoning Hearing Board may grant a Special Exception to reduce the required setbacks if the Board determines that such a reduction would result in a building that would be more compatible with the neighboring residences (4) if a proposed development on a nonconforming lot does not meet the requirements of §806 then development of the lot shall not occur unless a variance is granted by the Zoning Hearing Board.

PUBLIC NOTICE INVITATION TO BID

THE CATASAUQUA AREA SCHOOL DISTRICT will receive sealed bids in the District Administration Office, 201 North 14th Street, Catasauqua, PA, 18032 until 1:30 PM (prevaling time), Thursday, June 8, 2017 for up to two (2) new conventional style CE Model diesel school buses (or approved equal). The buses may be either 72 or 77/78 passenger vehicles, or any combination thereof, and may be 2018 or 2019 model year vehicles. The school district reserves the right to acquire only two vehicles, only one vehicle, or no vehicles. For each vehicle, the school district is seeking separate bids for delivery on or before October 16, 2017 or on or before January 12, 2018, and for each delivery date, a price for each of two different financing options: (1) purchase price for an immediate purchase; and (2) total payments under a sixty-month lease. A lease must provide an option for the school district to purchase the vehicle at the end of the lease for $1.00. The terms and conditions of any proposed lease must be pre-approved by the school district by June 8, 2017. Bidders who intend to submit bids for lease financing should submit proposed lease documents for review by the school district by June 8, 2017. Separate contracts will be made for each vehicle acquired. A bidder may bid on any number of vehicles; a bidder may bid on both 72-passenger and a 77/78-passenger vehicles or just one of those sizes; a bidder may bid on either or both delivery dates, and may do so differently for each vehicle bid; a bidder may bid one, two, or three of the financing options, and may do so differently for each vehicle bid, and a bidder may bid 2018 or 2019 model year vehicles. After the bids are received, the school district will determine which size vehicle(s) it will acquire, and select a delivery date, model year, and financing option for each vehicle to be acquired (which need not be the same), and then award a contract(s) to the lowest responsible and responsive bidder(s) for the options selected by the school district. Bids will be publicly opened at the District Administration Office and read aloud immediately following the deadline for receipt. Prospective bidders may review and obtain bidding documents (including specifications) at the District Administration Office at the above address, or by calling 610-264-5571, extension #0. Bids must be submitted on regular forms provided by the school district and shall be sealed in an envelope identified with the bidder's name and marked "BID FOR SCHOOL VEHICLES." Prospective bidders shall furnish their name, name of representative, mailing address, e-mail address, telephone number, and facsimile number at the time they obtain bidding documents. Bidders' proposals must be accompanied by proposal security in the form of either a certified check, certified bank treasurer's check, bank cashier's check, or a bid bond with satisfactory corporate surety in the form provided in the bidding documents. The amount of the proposal security shall be equal to 10% of the total amount the school district would pay the bidder (in purchase price or total lease payments) for one bus, assuming the school district awarded a contract to the bidder for that option bid by the bidder (i.e., size, delivery date, model year, and financing option) which results in the highest total payments. All Bids shall be irrevocable for sixty (60) days after the bid opening date. The CATASAUQUA AREA SCHOOL DISTRICT reserves the right in its discretion to reject any or all bids or parts thereof or items therein and to waive any defects, errors, omissions, mistakes, irregularities, informalities, or technicalities in bids.
