FOREWORD

In this period of scientific, economic, and social development called the International Geophysical Year, we, as Seniors, leave our Alma Mater to take our places in the world. Some of us will become scientists or doctors, lawyers or businessmen; others will become social workers, clerks, store owners . . . each important to the nation and the world.

The past three years at Liberty have been devoted to developing our knowledge and character so that we may serve mankind to the best of our abilities. With mixed emotions we stand on the threshold of the future; with sad hearts we face the parting of friends made in high school. We are leaving Liberty to participate in the work which others have pursued during this Geophysical Year.

Look to the future, Seniors! Do not let this Geophysical Year to be the only time for advancement. We strive for daily achievement so that the world through our endeavor and the work of those before us will be a better place for those who will follow us.

DEDICATION

MRS. MARION BAKER

We are very proud to dedicate this 1958 Cauldron to a favorite teacher at Bethlehem High School. Mrs. Marion (Clark) Baker, has been teaching for forty and a half years, many of those years spent at Bethlehem High School.

Mrs. Baker was born in Russell, St. Lawrence County, New York. She was educated at St. Lawrence University and has taken courses at Middleburg College, Muhlenberg College, Lehigh University and the Escuela Para Extranjeros, University de Madrid, Spain.

Most of her childhood was spent in New York State and her adulthood in Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Baker has taught in Russell, New York; Corsicana, Texas; Jamestown, New York; Warren, Penna.; and Bethlehem, Penna.

She has revealed that she will miss her contacts with education in general, boys and girls, and teachers. She is, however, looking forward to civic and church activities. After her retirement, she will again reside in New York State.

A brief comment from Mrs. Baker concerning her retirement: "During her early years, a teacher is likely to be most concerned with knowing her subject matter. As her experience increases, her interest is divided between her personal ambitions and her professional interest in her pupils, while in later years a person minimizes his self-importance and feels very humble toward her profession. This is probably the point when one is just becoming a truly good teacher; the welfare of the student is upper-most in one's mind."

DEDICATION

MR. CHARLES R. ENGELS

The students and faculty of the Vocational Department of Liberty High School sincerely regret the loss of Mr. Charles R. Engels from our teaching ranks to retirement. He has been a teacher of chemistry for forty years, thirty-seven and one half of which he spent in the Vocational Department of Liberty High School.

Since the organization of the evening school program, Mr. Engels has sacrificed his time to enable post-graduates and non-graduates to further their education in the field of chemistry.

In the day school, he provided students with the complete basic fundamentals of chemistry.

Before Mr. Engels came to the Vocational Department he had taught at Georgia Tech, and the Drexel Institute of Technology in Philadelphia, thus gaining a background that makes him a well qualified instructor.

He was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania with a Bachelor of Science degree in chemistry.

During World War I, Mr. Engels served his country as a research chemist at the Barrett Company in Philadelphia.

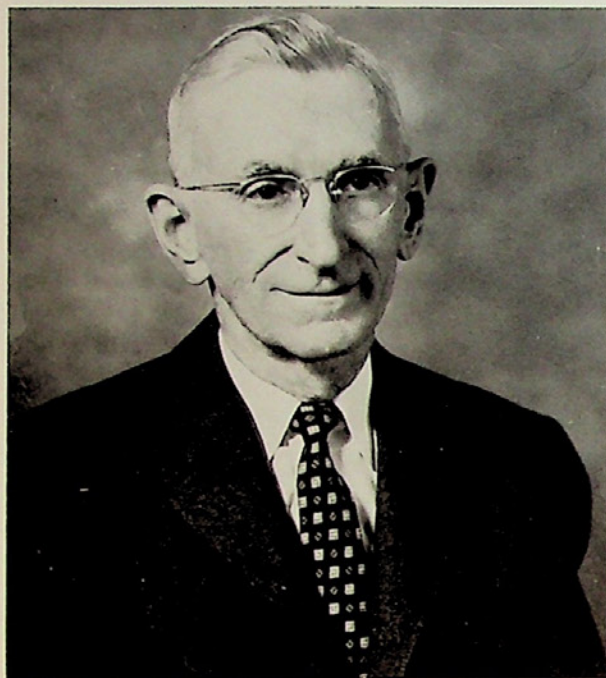

We can never hope to thank him enough for his instruction and guidance. His inspiration has guided many students to become good Americans.

It is for these reasons that we show our appreciation by dedicating the 1958 edition of the Cauldron to Mr. Charles R. Engels.

We would like to wish Mr. Engels and his wife, the best of health and happiness, in his retirement.

DEDICATION

MR. SPENCER FISHEL

The class of 1958 dedicates this issue of the Cauldron to Mr. Spencer Fishel who has spent many devoted years teaching the young men and women of Liberty High School.

Mr. Fishel was born in York County, Pennsylvania, and received his college education at Millersville State Teachers' College, Muhlenberg, Columbia, and Penn State University.

He served as elementary principal at Hamilton Grade School, taught in the Technical department at Liberty High School, and wound up his career as a teacher in the general High School. Mr. Fishel has spent forty-two years in the teaching profession.

With mixed emotions he looks forward to retiring, and as of now he has no plans concerning his years of retirement.

The class of 1958 wishes to congratulate Mr. Fishel on his many years of successful teaching, and sincerely hopes the coming years will be happy and joyful ones.

DEDICATION

MR. WILLIAM MOYER

It is with sincere regret that we acknowledge the retirement of Mr. William Moyer. After thirty-five years he is retiring from the ranks of teaching into the study of horticulture.

In his thirty-five years of teaching Mr. Moyer has left an everlasting impression on his students as a just and honest man. He has striven to develop the future leaders of America into ones of good character and knowledge.

Mr. Moyer was born in Cressona, Pennsylvania and came to Bethlehem in 1927 to teach in the public school system, after graduating from Kutztown State Teachers College with a Bachelor of Arts Degree.

His plans for the future include the study of horticulture and participation in outdoor recreation in Canada.

It is with these thoughts in mind that we dedicate the 1958 edition of the Cauldron to Mr. William Moyer, who, both as a teacher and friend, will never be forgotten.

"AWAY"

I can not say, and I will not say
That he is dead. — He is just away !
With a cheery smile, and a wave of the hand,
He has wandered into an unknown land,
And left us dreaming how very fair
It needs must be, since he lingers there.
And you — O you, who the wildest yearn
For the old-time step and the glad return, —
Think of him faring on, as dear
In the love of there as the love of here;
And loyal still, as he gave the blows
Of his warrior strength to his country's foes. —

MR. KOONS

In Memoriam

WILMA MOYER

Mild and gentle, as he was brave,
When the sweetest love of his love he gave.
To simple things: — where the violets grew
Blue as the eyes that were likened to,
The touches of the hands have strayed
As reverently as his lips have prayed:
When the little brown thrush that harshly chattered
Was dear to him as the mockingbird;
And he pitied as much as a man in pain
A writhing honey-bee wet with rain.
Think of him still as the same I say:
He is not dead — he is just away!

ADMINISTRATION

DR. CHARLES E. CHAFFEE
Superintendent of Schools

Under the very capable direction of Dr. Charles E. Chaffee, the Bethlehem School District has been successfully guided. New developments such as the Vocational Annex and Memorial Gymnasium have been accomplished.

Problems pertaining to the length of school terms and salaries of teachers contribute to making his task more difficult. Through his intelligent planning and guidance, such problems will be solved by the school district.

The members of the Class of 1958 are thankful to be constituents in a school district under such a worthy superintendent, and know that in the years ahead this administrator will strengthen and guide the school district to even greater accomplishments.

MR. CHARLES A. KLEIN
Principal
Liberty High School

The Class of 1958 extends sincere thanks to Mr. Klein under whose capable guidance many of our aims have materialized.

In the years spent at Liberty this genial principal has helped us with many of our problems, and has conducted the affairs of the school with our interests in mind. Through friendly and administrative relationships he has captured the admiration of both the faculty and the student body.

With pride, the Class will reminisce on the activities at Liberty and on the actions and decisions of its energetic administrator.

Mr. Lloyd B. Kehler, a man who will remain in the memories of every Tech graduate, has raised, through much endeavor, the standards of Tech so greatly that we have one of the best vocational schools in Pennsylvania. His efficient administration is due to his scholarship and excellent leadership. He was a graduate of Lehigh University where he received a Mechanical Engineer's degree, later he became a professional engineer in the same field. This was followed by some twenty years of teaching experience which led to his elevation to the position of Co-ordinator and Director of Vocational Education. His well planned curriculum has provided all graduates with the fundamentals needed for entering industry.

MR. LLOYD B. KEHLER
Director of
Vocational Education

MR. JOSEPH J. McINTYRE
Assistant Principal

The responsibility of maintaining a well-organized, well-integrated student body has fallen in part on the capable shoulders of Mr. McIntyre, our new Assistant Principal. Not only does he give support to our Principal, Mr. Klein, but he is still the advisor of the Cauldron Staff. His help enables the staff to work efficiently and to profit by his long experience in turning out good year books.

The energy he expends is that of a man devoted to his job and to the people whom he guides. His fairness and perception in dealing with students has made him their leader and their friend.

Because of his patience and understanding in dealing with the problems of Liberty's boys, Mr. Chiles was elevated from his combined role of Assistant Principal and Boys Counsellor to Guidance Co-ordinator of the Bethlehem School District. Mr. Chiles possesses a fine competency in guiding students in preparing for a life career and in getting them to appreciate the value of a good education. Selection of courses of study and scholarship are only two of the important matters under his jurisdiction. Mr. Chiles will be long remembered by the boys and girls of this graduating class, first, as an advisor and second, as a real friend.

MR. SINCLAIR W. CHILES

EYE ON THE ATOM

Richland, Wash.: Geared for the ticklish task of patrolling the rear face of an atomic reactor, a specially designed television camera receives a final adjustment from its protectively-garbed operator at the Hanford Atomic Plant. Designed to move automatically along a monorail near the wall of the reactor, the closed circuit camera transmits its picture of reactor components to an operator seated at a console behind thick radiation shielding. Installed in a protective metal box, its window is equipped with an automotive-type window wiper to wipe away moisture. The two floodlights provide illumination.

CAULDRON

The Cauldron Staff under the leadership of Mr. Joseph J. McIntyre, meets every school day during the fourth period. There is a continual hustle and bustle in the little green room, because staff members are diligently working in order to produce the 1958 Cauldron on time.

The staff members are chosen at the end of the junior year by Mr. McIntyre and a panel of capable members from last year's staff. As soon as the staff is chosen, it goes into action and stays motivated until the book is completed. Papers rustle, typewriters click away, editors rush from one club to another, one teacher to another, and from one home-room to another in order to collect activity sheets, biographies, and other required materials. The Liberty staff works toward the deadline.

As this dreaded deadline for the Cauldron approaches, the staff from the Vocational department is driven into a frenzy as they desperately attempt to complete their articles before the final door is closed.

From room 202V, which is the rendezvous for these frustrated gentlemen of the press, you can hear the voice of Mr. Keim, their staff adviser, who repeats the word "rewrite" over and over to each hopeful editor and reporter as he submits his article for proofreading. A low groan is heard after this sentence is passed, but the next morning, the work is again handed in by a dark-ringed, bloodshot eyed reporter who has to burn the midnight oil in order to make all the revisions.

After the article is read the second time by both the chief editor and the adviser, it is dispatched to the staff room where it is typed. The weary staffer then begins his next assignment which will include the same process.

This is the general picture of the hustle and bustle of these students who will sit back and enjoy the fruits of their labor when the best production ever of the Cauldron is presented to the class in June.

JUNIOR CLASS PLAY

"LET ME GROW UP"

The Junior Class Play, Let Me Grow Up, by Anne Martins, was one of the most delightful three act comedies ever presented at Liberty High School.

The play, given in the auditorium March 15th and 16th, 1957, begins with Lexie, (Roseanne LaVan) a sixteen year old Miss, confiding to her best friend Mary Jo (Judy Judge) that she has invited a young soldier, Bill, to be her week-end guest. Bill (Lee Steele and Bill Ender) has never seen Lexie; so her prime concern is obtaining his full approval. Her Aunt Lydia, a kind spinster, portrayed by Gail Bauder and Joleita Wagner, spends her entire morning telling Lexie that she is attractive and charming. While Aunt Lydia is comforting her niece, Mary Jo is busily hinting to Matt Flemming, Lexie's older brother, that she has no date for the Saturday night dance. However, Matt (Ronnie Flores) is completely unimpressed by this young woman's attention because he prefers Arden, the local siren. Muriel Flemming (Nan Easter) is also excited about the dance. She is to do some impersonations to show the whole town how talented she is as an actress.

These plans for a nice, calm week-end are up-set by the arrival of Nola Flemming (Lois Blake) their talented actress mother, and some news she brings with her. She has met a producer, Mr. Holden, (Tom McIlwain) who wants her to make a movie. However, if he were aware of her real age the part would be lost. Therefore, Nola has confessed to having only one child, eight-year-old Lexie. Lexie, refuses at first to play eight-year-old Bunny, her trumped-up cousin, but, her love for her mother is strong and she finally consents. Muriel is to play the maid and Matt the handy man.

Bill arrives and meets Lexie. This is one of the few times he is to see her because she must be Bunny the rest of the time that Mr. Holden is there. Bill's numerous spare moments are filled by Arden. This infuriates both Lexie and Matt and causes Mary Jo to form one of her many plans. Arden (Pat Lennartz) is invited for an afternoon of fun. This includes dodging a tricycle, a jumping rope, narrowly missing flying balls, and playing London Bridge. Poor Arden flees.

At the end of an exceedingly humorous and hectic day, everything is peaceful at the Flemming home. Muriel is the star instead of Nola, who has decided to become a real mother at last. Matt and Mary Jo attend the dance as do Lexie and Bill, after more complications.

This play, under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Shimer was the first encounter with the dramatic art for many of the cast and crew. The fine staging, make-up, and costumes were a result of hard work and good direction. Let Me Grow Up will be remembered because it was produced by a cast and crew who put all their energies into making a good play.

“DINO”: SENIOR CLASS PLAY

Dino, our senior class play, was a milestone in the history of dramatics at Liberty High School. It had the largest cast since Miss Shimer, the director, joined the faculty. The stage set was indeed the most complicated ever.

The composite set showed one of three scenes at the flick of a switch and a mad dash by the stage crew.

Dino is the story of a boy returning from a reformatory, his difficulties in readjusting to society, and, of course, his first love affair. The title role was ably portrayed by Ned Diehl, who was, incidently, an assistant director for our Junior Class Play, Let Me Grow Up.

The action is set in a settlement house in New York City. The establishment is obviously kept lively by a vivacious, gum-chewing secretary, Jackie (Virginia Saurino). Pat, Della, and Sylvia, the three regulars who keep popping in for a coke, or to tease Shirley, Dino's new found girl friend, were played by Charleen Frankenfield, Susan Pitcher, Pat Opp, and Marlene Spevak (Sylvia double cast). Sally Gasda appeared in the role of shy, homely Shirley.

Of course, the girls wouldn't have come if there were no boys, but Richard Kemmerer and Ronald Flores were on hand portraying Steve and Danny. The rough-housing was kept at a minimum by two social assistant workers, Miss Haines (Pat Durning) and her assistant, Miss Blake (Peggy Brown).

Dino is asked by the parole officer (Ronald Williams) to see the psychotherapist at the settlement house. Those visits arouse the anger of Dino's father (Lee Steele) who is calmed by his wife (Jolietta Wagner).

PORTABLE WEATHER STATION

McMurdo Sound, Antarctic: Unidentified Navy man examines what appears to be a missile from outer space, but in reality is a portable weather station, called a "Grasshopper." The weather station, which is parachuted into remote areas of the Antarctic and transmits weather information to "Operation Deepfreeze" headquarters here, is fully automatic and begins to activate itself when it hits the ground. The "Grasshopper" is shown lying on the snow in the position it would have after an air drop. Ticking like a bomb, the "Grasshopper" sprouts legs and begins to hop upright. After much clanging and banging, the "Grasshopper" shoots out an antenna and an anemometer and begins broadcasting weather information.

NEW "SERGEANT" ROCKET

White Sands, N.M.: This is the "Sergeant" missile, the successor to the four year old "Corporal," a highly mobile U.S. Army surface-to-surface weapon capable of carrying a nuclear warhead, which is being built by the Sperry Gyroscope Co. It is a solid fuel rocket "that can be quickly emplaced and fired by a very small crew under all conditions of weather and terrain," according to the release from the Army Feb. 18th. It has the advantage, because of the solid rather than liquid fuel, of being easily stored for fairly long periods.

THE STUDENT ASSOCIATION

As the Student Association, under the advisorship of Mr. Evans, calls its meeting to order each Wednesday, during the fourth period, a very busy group starts its many tasks, and some of the great confusion ceases on the third floor. It is one of the most important clubs in the school as its decisions govern the entire student body.

This group, often called the Student Council, is made up of homeroom representatives who discuss pertinent problems of scholarship, sportsmanship, and leadership, but emphasized is the topic of inter-scholastic relationship.

The club raises its money by selling booster cards, decals, and book covers. It also sponsors several school dances throughout the year. This money is used to publish The Liberty High School Handbook which is distributed annually on the first day of school. Edited by the student group, it serves as a guide to eager, but lost sophomores, as well as to the more confident juniors and seniors.

The clubs holds several assembly programs throughout the year, and in recent years, exchange assemblies have been held with the Student Association of both Liberty High and Allentown High. These assemblies are the result of combined meetings between these two schools.

During every fourth period and after school, members of the Liberty Life Staff can be seen hard at work. Under the capable leadership of Mr. Walter Daney, Mrs. Viola Leh, Mr. August La Sasso, Mr. Jerome Beidelman, Mr. Vincent Gilbert and Mr. Anthony Donchez, faculty advisors, the staff publishes twelve issues during the school year. These issues contain information and glimpses of the school in general. This endeavor provides a chance for the staff to express its writing ability.

The subscription drive in the beginning of the year, the Liberty Life dances, and the delightful Liberty Life variety show, "Snappy Sketches," help to raise funds to keep the paper in business.

Snappy Sketches, a venture to raise money for the staff's annual New York trip, affords an opportunity for talented students to demonstrate their showmanship. In early March, a night is reserved for the performance. The theme this year is "Toyland." This production is under the skilled direction of Mr. Paul Leaser and Mr. Walter Daney.

Liberty Life has won many awards at various press conferences in which it has participated. Among these were an All-State award by the Pennsylvania Scholastic Press Association and a Medalist rating by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association. This is the highest award that a student newspaper can obtain in press competition. In recognition of its outstanding work, the staff enjoys a weekend in New York City, during the annual meeting of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

SNAPPY SKETCHES

THE COMBINED GLEE CLUB

The Combined Glee Club has always been one of the foremost organizations at Liberty High School. The usual try-outs, held early in September, found many striving to be one of the fortunate one hundred and thirty-eight to be chosen. By the middle of the month, all of the songsters were beginning to loosen-up their vocal chords in dear old 307. Under the fine leadership of Mrs. Fritch and Mr. Weaver, progress was rapid.

In addition to singing in Assembly, the activities of the Glee Club during the season included the presentation of the annual Thanksgiving program, the Christmas Vesper Service, rendered in an impressive manner, singing for various organizations throughout the Lehigh Valley, and the closing of the season with the Spring Musical.

The social activities of this organization are usually limited to a rollicking evening of entertainment during the winter and a trip to New York City in the spring.

BAND AND ORCHESTRA

Under the leadership of Dr. Joseph A. Ricapito, the Band and Orchestra play a major role in Liberty High School's activities. Their hard working members practice daily from 8:10 until the start of the second period, and, thus the school is quite proud of their good work in all of their extra curricular participation.

Though under the same director, these groups do not perform in the same functions. The band, leading the team onto victory, plays at all football games and pep rallies, participates in community activities, and presents its annual band concert. The Orchestra, however, plays at school functions such as the Junior and Senior Class Plays, the Thanksgiving program, Christmas Vespers, the Spring Musical and Commencement.

These groups are not, "all work and no play" because, twice a year, two big social events are held. These are their Halloween and Christmas Parties.

BAND AND ORCHESTRA

Under the leadership of Dr. Joseph A. Ricapito, the Band and Orchestra play a major role in Liberty High School's activities. Their hard working members practice daily from 8:10 until the start of the second period, and, thus the school is quite proud of their good work in all of their extra curricular participation.

Though under the same director, these groups do not perform in the same functions. The band, leading the team onto victory, plays at all football games and pep rallies, participates in community activities, and presents its annual band concert. The Orchestra, however, plays at school functions such as the Junior and Senior Class Plays, the Thanksgiving program, Christmas Vespers, the Spring Musical and Commencement.

These groups are not, "all work and no play" because, twice a year, two big social events are held. These are their Halloween and Christmas Parties.

NATIONAL THESPIAN SOCIETY

TROUPE 1543

The National Thespians Society, commonly called the Thespians, has as its leader Miss Elizabeth Shimer. It is made up of those students who have attained membership through the required one hundred hours of work (performing on the stage, being on committees, or working as part of the stage crew) and teachers who are interested in promoting their own dramatic arts: speech, dance, music, writing, dramatic literature, acting, and others. Sufficient work hours must be also maintained or else a member is dropped from this National Honorary Society.

This group was organized in 1929 on a nationwide basis, and our Liberty High School troupe received its charter for membership in May, 1955.

This non-secret and non-social society meets once a week, if not more often, and its membership is extended to anyone in a secondary school.

Under its motto, "Act well your part; there all the honor lies," a thespian pledges himself to assume greater tasks and responsibilities in promoting the dramatic art program of the school. As a result of his training, he learns self-discipline and co-operation with the rest of the cast and crew.

ART LEAGUE

All of the students at Liberty High School frequently see examples of the fine workmanship of the members of the Art League. The members of the Art League spend much of their time learning different methods of painting and varied types of jewelry making. One of the biggest projects of the Art League is the preparation of scenery and costumes for the annual Christmas Vespers. The group also presents an assembly program, hangs painting in the third floor hall, and serves an annual Art Tea.

At the meetings of the club, different phases of art are discussed to enlarge the members' knowledge of this field. Most of the time is spent actually working on paintings or jewelry projects. Some of this work is sold at the Art League sale held each spring.

BIBLE CLUB

It makes no difference what church you attend, for all are invited to the Bible Club. Meetings are held twice a month under the leadership of Miss Ethel Moll and Mr. Donald Schneider. The students participate in some of the programs by reading the Bible, praying, and singing hymns. Pastors from the vicinity are invited to give Bible studies which have proved very helpful and interesting to the young people.

Every year there is an election of officers. Serving as President this year is Robert Huck, Vice President—Diane Leeb and Secretary Treasurer—Phyllis Tress.

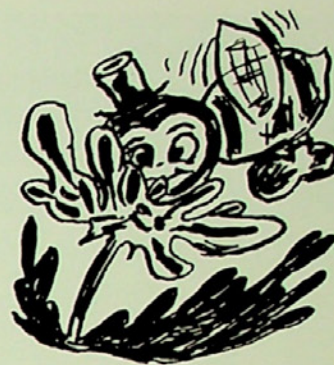

Developing deeper spiritual interests and encouraging daily Bible reading are two of the main purposes of the club. This is one of the best ways to get acquainted with young people of different denominations. The aim of the Bible Club this year is found in Second Timothy, chapter 2, verse 15; "Study to shew thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the words of truth."

CHEMPHYBIOGENS

The Chemphybiogen Society is a group of scientifically minded students. It is open to any student who wishes to find out more about Chemistry, Physics, Biology, and Engineering, the sciences from which the club derived its name. The advisor is Miss Mabell Kelchner.

Meetings are held irregularly in the biology room to hear various speakers lecturing on topics related to science or in the 1950 room to see films. Also included in the program are various field trips to places of interest. These field trips include visits to the Chemistry laboratory at Lehigh University, and the State Hospital. The highlight of the year is a trip to the Museum of Natural History and the Hayden Planetarium in New York City.

CHESS CLUB

Liberty's Red and Blue Knights under the sponsorship of Mr. Nathan Auerbach, meet every Monday after school in Room 301 for a business meeting. They play matches within the Penn-Jersey League every other Wednesday.

Since they joined the league two years ago, our chess club has won the Penn-Jersey Trophy twice. They are also two-time winners of the Banquet of Champions trophy.

The members gain their skill by playing matches with each other after school. The "Knights" each have a position on the team, determined by their playing skill. The best player holds first position, the next best is in second position, etc.

COLLEGE PREPARATORY GIRLS' CLUB

The College Preparatory Girls' Club, under the guidance of Miss Evelyn Walper, was first organized a few years ago by a small group of girls interested in learning about colleges and college life. It was originally a very small club, but has grown to be one of the largest at Liberty High School.

Its meetings are held on alternate Mondays for the purpose of preparing and acquainting its members with different types of colleges — large and small, co-educational or women's colleges across the country.

These meetings are particularly appreciated by the girls when graduates, occasionally old friends, return to tell what they have learned about life at a college. These girls, usually presented in the form of a panel, give a great deal of advice and usually end with the same familiar, "girls, let me warn you . . . Study!"

Speakers from individual colleges meet with their prospective applicants and describe their college. As a highlight of the year's program the club holds its annual tea featuring a guest speaker.

COMMERCIAL CLUB

The Commercial Club, open only to senior students, is under the leadership of Miss Frances McGettigan. The club meetings are always held on the first Wednesday of every month.

These meetings are held so that the members will become better acquainted with business and the business world, possible jobs they might hold, and opportunities available to them. To thoroughly familiarize its members with the many aspects of business, speakers are brought in to the meetings. These speakers are bankers, office bosses, and other businessmen throughout the community.

Several trips are taken to business establishments nearby. At these places, members are shown how the establishment actually works.

FUTURE NURSES CLUB

Any girl who has an interest in nursing or its related fields; such as, laboratory technology and dental hygiene, may be a member of the Future Nurses Club. The main purpose of the club, directed by Miss Kathryn Eckert, is to stimulate an interest in these fields. An attempt is made to acquaint the girls with the educational and physical requirements necessary for entrance into the various nursing schools.

In order to achieve the aim of the club, a varied program is planned by student committees. Included in the program are speakers from the nearby hospitals and community health agencies, films dealing with various fields of nursing, and field trips to schools of nursing outside the local area. The group also attends recruitment teas sponsored by hospitals in Bethlehem, Allentown, and Easton. At these teas the girls meet and observe student nurses in training, tour the hospitals, and meet future nurses from other high schools.

FUTURE TEACHERS' CLUB

Our Future Teachers' Club is under the guidance of Miss Ruth Overfield. It is a member of the National Association of Future Teachers of America. Liberty High School's F. T. A. welcomes anyone who is interested in joining the teaching profession.

The club meets in order to have interested students become more acquainted with the teaching profession and its aspects. Discussions are held, movies are seen, and speakers are heard. Refreshments are often served.

Visits are made to neighboring schools, and the cadet teaching system has been started at Lafayette

Elementary School. Through this system, interested members, having been assigned to a specific grade, are allowed to teach, correct papers, or do anything that may be of service to the teacher in charge. In this way they are able to tell if they would like to teach in the grade they are now cadet teaching or if they would like younger or older children to teach.

As a symbol of this affiliation with this national organization, members are allowed to purchase F. T. A. pins.

DEUTSCHER VEREIN

The Deutscher Verein, under the leadership of Miss Muriel Wilson, is made up of those who are studying their third year of German. The club meetings are generally held during the class period on Mondays.

The purpose of the club is to put the members' knowledge of German to practical use. However, there is always time for fun; for instance they sing German folk songs, accompanied by Miss Wilson on the organ.

The club translates for our Junior Red Cross and as a community service any letters sent from Germany.

For the entertainment of the members, there are often speakers, who come from Germany, have traveled in Germany, or are studying German in such nearby colleges as Moravian, Muhlenberg, and Lehigh.

At the end of the year the club holds its annual picnic.

JUNIOR RED CROSS COUNCIL

For six years, the Junior Red Cross Council, under the leadership of Miss Mary Crow, has functioned as a successful organization of this school. It provides an opportunity for the students to work with the American Red Cross in helping children in all parts of the world. This is done by packing gift chests and individual gift boxes, both of which contain supplies needed by various countries of the world.

In October, 1957, a membership drive was conducted in order that other students who are not regular members of the Junior Red Cross Council could join in helping with the activities of the Junior Red Cross. An assembly program, consisting of a movie and panel discussion, was presented in November. Its purpose was to acquaint the student body with the organization.

One person from each homeroom in the general high school serves with one boy from the vocational department on the Council. There is also an executive council consisting of the officers and a boy and girl from each class.

JUNIOR-SENIOR Y-TEENS

The Junior-Senior Y-Teens, a fairly large club, is made up of Junior and Senior girls under the advisorship of Miss Pauline Ritter. The purpose of the club's activities is to promote and build a better fellowship of women.

There are two different types of memberships in this club: regular and social. Under the first plan the members pay dues and attend all of the meetings, and under the second, the members pay dues, enjoy the benefits and privileges, but do not attend any of the meetings.

Throughout the year the club takes trips, attends conferences, participates in Y.W.C.A. programs and holds social functions.

LATIN CLUB

Juvenes Romanis, this year's Latin Club meets the second Friday of the month during its regular class period. All of the members are third year students under the guidance of Mrs. Evelyn Funk.

The meetings are divided into two parts: the business meetings and entertainment. Refreshments are served and for entertainment the members do crossword puzzles and other word games in Latin.

As a climax of the year, the members take a trip to New York to see a Broadway Show. Also, on the agenda is a trip to Radio City Music Hall and dinner in New York.

LIBRARY CLUB

One of the busiest groups in Liberty High School is the Library Club, headed by Mrs. Margaret Randt, school librarian. The Club was organized in March, 1938 with the same two-fold objective toward which it still aims:

1. To help students gain a better understanding of the library. Members have an excellent opportunity to study the library in great detail, to get behind the scenes and discover how the library works, what makes it operate, and why.

2. To try to interest students in Library Science as a vocation. Professional library institutions can't begin to meet the demand for librarians in all fields. Practical experience gained by the Library Club member as a result of their assignments to such routine tasks as shelving books, checking mail, processing new books, setting up displays, etc., gives them a preview of a career in library service, and may encourage some of them to choose this field as their life and work.

The Library Club meets fourth period every Friday and activities vary from week to week. These meetings include work and reading periods, business meeting, studying aspects of library service, and programs.

Activities outside of club periods include the Book Week Contest in November, a field trip to Kutztown State Teachers College Library in early spring and the annual club picnic at the end of the year.

LIBERTY HI-Y

The Liberty Hi-Y club once again proved to be tremendously active. Under the leadership of Messrs. John Freefield and John DiMeglio, the club participated in one activity after another. Discussing them in chronological order will show exactly how much the club accomplished. (1) the club once again sold name-cards; (2) in co-sponsorship with the Y-Teens, a cold but successful Hickory Run picnic was enjoyed; (3) an intramural schoolwide league of eight basketball teams was sponsored, a senior team, the Globetrotters, winning the playoff championship after four teams finished in a first-place tie; (4) the group entered the city recreation "B" league in basketball; (5) they unsuccessfully tried to raise enough money to sponsor a personal appearance of Louis Armstrong; (6) the juniors and sophomores sold Christmas candy; (7) a benefit game featuring the faculties of Northeast and Liberty was held for G. Welsey Sell, 1700 fans attending; (8) they participated in a free-throw contest; (9) donated to World Service; (10) conducted two assemblies, showing slides of the Washington trip; (11) sold light bulbs; (12) sponsored a bowling league; (13) culminated the year's activities with a five day trip to the nation's capital.

These activities plus the regular Thursday night meetings helped the forty young men in Hi-Y to meet their ideals. The club motto is "Clean Speech, Clean Scholarship, Clean Living, and Clean Sportsmanship." The purpose is to "create, maintain, and extend throughout the school, home, and community high standards of Christian character."

In March, two Hi-Y members, Robert Francis and George Allport, journeyed to Harrisburg to participate in the bi-annual Youth and Government program sponsored by the YMCA. Both boys were active assembly men although in supporting a referendum to have legal betting at race tracks, they went down to a resounding defeat.

The club this year can be described as Mr. Sell expressed in a thank-you letter: "... HI-Y ... ideal of Christian service."

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS

The French Clubs II and III meet once a month during a class period. The purpose of the French Club is to inform the French students about the geography, traditions, customs, and culture of France. The students of French II, in their monthly meetings, study the art, music, literature, history, and holidays of the French people; while in French III, the students give reports on the French provinces. The business part of the meeting is conducted in French, and the meetings are always closed by singing the Marseillaise.

An added treat for the third year students is the annual trip to New York City where they see French movies and art exhibits, and also eat in a French restaurant.

SPANISH CLUB

The Spanish Club, Los Diablitos, supervised by Miss J. Marion Baker, meets on the last Friday of every month. It is open to all second and third year Spanish students and also to those students who have a knowledge of the Spanish language through Spanish parentage. The purpose of this club is to give boys and girls an opportunity to speak Spanish and thus acquaint themselves with the language and about the Spanish countries, their culture, customs, and people.

Each member of Los Diablitos has a chance to serve on a committee and to help plan programs for the meetings. The most memorable event of the year is the breaking of the pianta at Christmas from which each boy and girl receives a small gift. In the spring, the members sell theatre tickets to raise money for the prize awarded to an outstanding first-year Spanish student.

YOUNG WRITER

For the past seven years the Young Writer has supplied the students of our junior and senior high schools of Bethlehem with a medium for creative writing. This medium, in its friendly competitive style, has created a high degree of excellence in writing. The staff consists of a chairman, representatives selected by the English teachers of Liberty, and the committees representing their respective junior high schools. The chairmanship of the Young Writer is shared by rotation among the Liberty High School English teachers who in turn appoint the editors and assistants to prepare the final material.

Chairmen for the Young Writer in chronological order from the magazine's beginning are as follows: Carl Blose of the experimental issue, 1951; Miss Mary Price Gibson, Volume I, 1952; Miss Mary Crow, Volume II, 1953; the late Dr. Paul S. Christ, Volume III, 1954; Harold Bilheimer, Volume IV, 1955; Anthony Donchez, Volume V, 1956; John Freefield, Volume VI, 1957; and we are privileged to have Mrs. Marianne Detweiler and Mr. Paul Leaser, Volume VII, this year.

The Young Writer brings out the interests of the students in creative writing. The Young Writer staff accumulates all the writing material, sorts it and prepares it for publication. It is sent to the publisher who produces the final edition to be sold to the students.

AUTO BODY SHOP

Auto Body Shop is a very interesting shop. The student who spends three years in this shop will do many interesting jobs.

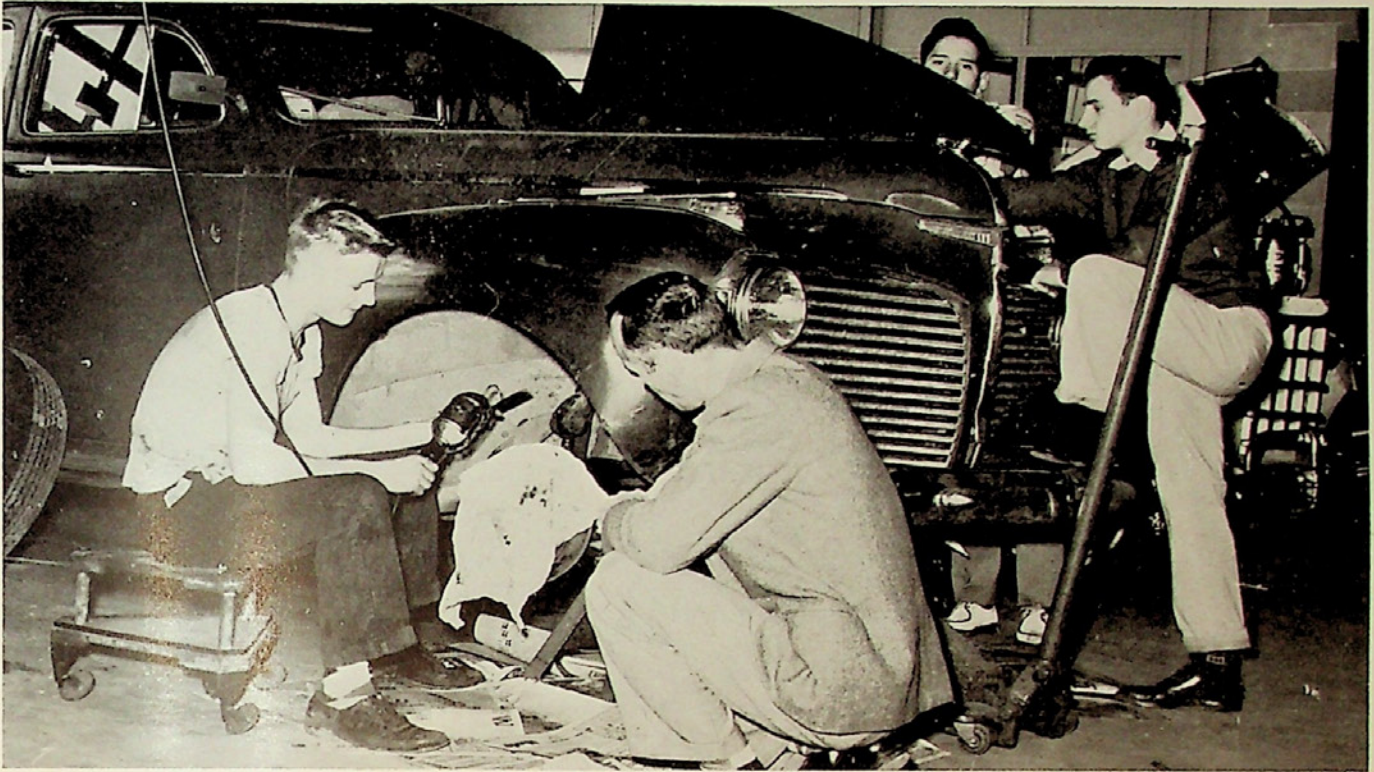

Sophomores in this department do mostly paper work. They have to make notebooks and take tests. Their information is obtained from their instructor and from the books they read. The students spend the first semester of the school term in the Auto Body Shop and the rest in the Auto Mechanics Shop. While in their sophomore year, they also have to choose the shop that they will remain in for the next two years.

In the Junior year, they will spend most of their time in the shop. They will do more jobs than the sophomore and these tasks will also be more difficult. The juniors may also use the welding outfit and if the instructor thinks that a junior can handle a paint job, he will let him spray an automobile. Even though the juniors spend most of their time on jobs they still have many things to learn about the automobile.

In their senior year, they are faced with many responsibilities, and are expected to help the sophomores and juniors in their work. They will spend all of their time in the shop and may bring their own cars in and work on them. If the instructor thinks that a senior is dependable and can handle a job, he will recommend him for employment. The senior will then work in the day time and go to school at night.

AUTO MECHANICS

Auto Shop is one of the most important departments in the vocational building, because the rate of cars being built today is enormous.

As sophomores in Auto Mechanics, the boys are guided by Mr. Leidig who teaches them theory work for one half of the year. Then they are transferred to the Auto Body shop where they finish out their sophomore year. They do this because as the boys start their junior year, they will have picked the shop in which they could do their work.

When they are juniors and have picked auto repair, they are ready to go to work. They get more difficult tasks than the sophomores, and can also help instruct the sophomores in their work. The jobs done mostly by the juniors are: brakes, tune-up's, valves, and overhauling engines. They still get a little theory practice now and then to further advance them on the automobile.

In the senior year, Mr. Leidig thinks the boys have been trained sufficiently enough to get jobs and learn more about the automobile. They still work in shop to aid the sophomores, and juniors in their struggle for mastery of the mechanics of the trade.

There will always be a great demand for auto mechanics. The vocational department tries to do everything in its power to fulfill that demand.

BUILDING TRADES

Construction in some forms is almost as old as man himself. It started when the first man sought shelter or refuge from the weather in a cave. He then started to make things to add to the comfort of the cave. Construction has one of the brightest futures in industry today. As long as there are people, they will need homes to live in, bridges to cross rivers, and office buildings to work in. Therefore the purpose of this trade is to instruct boys in the basic fundamentals of these operations that they may fulfill the growing demands of construction.

When the sophomores enter the shop, they are told what their course of study will be for the next three years in high school. They begin their training by learning to read the foot-rule efficiently. They start the regular shop work with the basic construction of the stud wall. They learn the lay out for a stud wall with window and door.

A sophomore is taught to lay out a flight of stairs with the rise and treads, and is shown how to stake out a building with building line and batter boards. He becomes acquainted with the machines that are part of this trade. He is taught the use of the plans and the right handling of all tools of this shop.

A junior studies brick laying. He is shown the right handling of a masons trowel. He starts by laying a straight wall first. Gradually he goes to the more difficult parts of brick laying. He is taught to lay a leader or, by simple means, a corner of a brick wall. He also studies electrical wiring. In this time he will wire a complete house to meet the approval of state electrical investigators. He studies the different types of switch connections. Also included in the junior year is a course in plastering and interior finish work.

The senior does a great deal of work from a book. He makes a study of plumbing. In this he learns how to sweat a joint. He learns the different types of plumbing tools and joints. He studies the laws governing the plumbing code which are set up by the state. He studies heating and air conditioning and then reviews what has been taught him during his sophomore and junior years.

This year, as seniors, we have had the privilege of building two rooms in Liberty High School. In these rooms we have had a chance to put into use the knowledge we have gained in the past two years. The two rooms are on the second floor of Liberty High School. In this project, we have had contact with the rough structure and the finished interior of construction. The finished carpentry being done with a certain amount of skill and care.

Building Trades offers a trade of many opportunities and security to those who possess the ambition and ability associated with this type of work.

DRAFTING

The drafting language is a graphical language. It tells how to build houses, how to assemble machines, how to detail beams, in short how to make and assemble a material object. How far a boy will go in this field, depends not only on his ability to draw, but also upon his ability to read and interpret the ideas of engineers.

In the tenth grade or first year of drafting, the boy learns the fundamentals of the trade. He is taught the importance of drafting and shown all the tools he will work with.

In the eleventh grade the boy learns finishes and tolerances, jigs and fixtures, and piping. In the structural shop the student learns the detailing of beams and trusses.

In the twelfth and final year of drafting, the student will meet such problems as the detailing and assembling of the globe valve. During the structural senior year he faces such problems as the detailing of columns, beams, reactors, haunches, and girths.

The boys in mechanical drafting draw details and assemblies of such pieces of machinery as air cylinders, milling machines, arboss, gears, bench drills, etc. They detail parts of cars such as gaskets, bearings, and pistons.

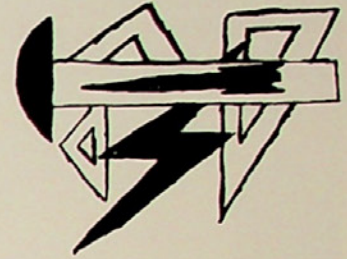

While in the structural drawing shop, the main problems a student would solve are the detailing of columns, beams and trusses. The structural draftsman also does the detailing of the beams, angles, etc., in the architectural drawing of a house. The structural members which he details are used in such places as commercial buildings, and warehouses.

The architectural draftsman specializes in the designing and detailing of homes, public places, and business establishments.

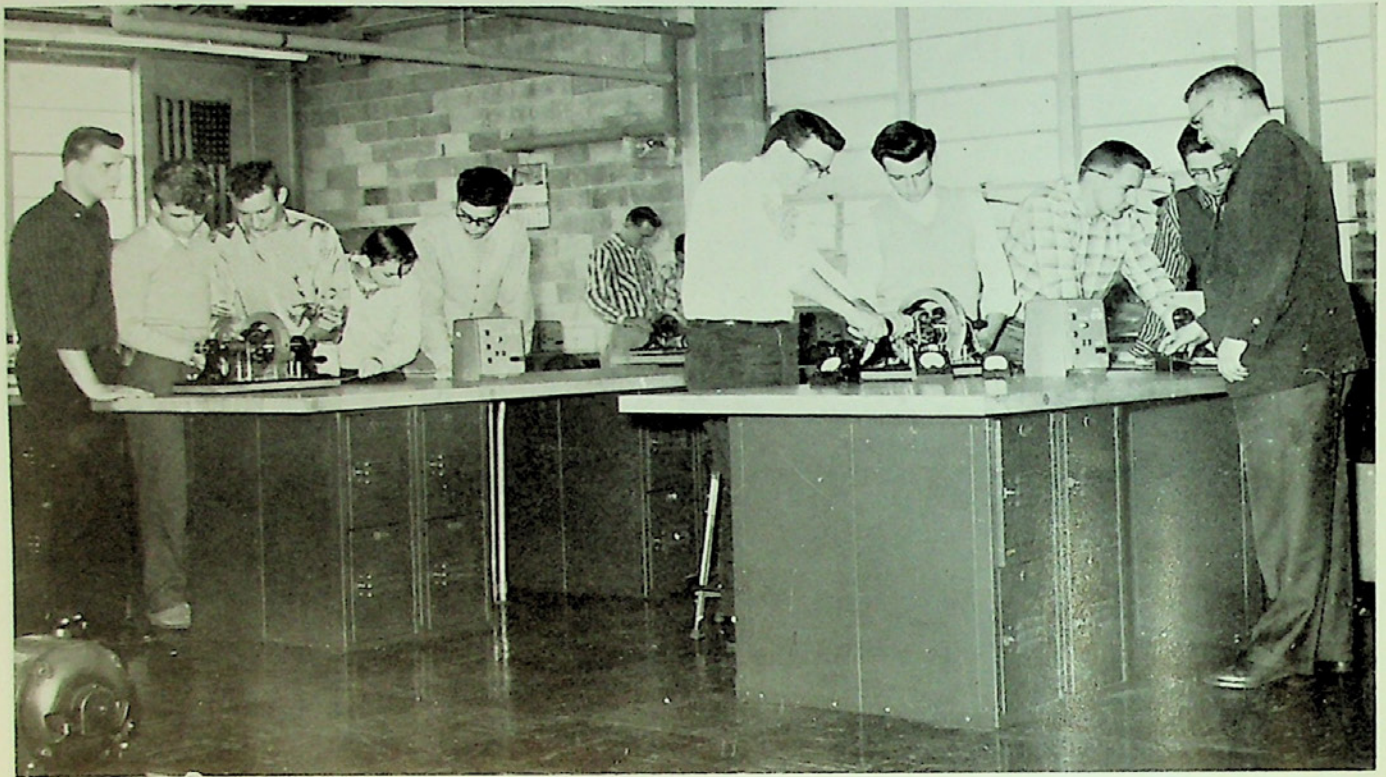

He also has a lot to do with foundations, footings, etc.

There are different fields into which a draftsman can enter after he has completed his course. He can become a detailer, checker, or blueprint reader. With his knowledge of drafting, he may even become a tool or jig and fixture designer.

Drafting gives great opportunities to a boy, and it also teaches him accuracy and neatness thereby giving him an excellent view of the mechanical and structural concepts of industry.

ELECTRICAL SHOP

It is easier to describe what electricity does than to explain what it is even though recent advances in scientific knowledge have dispelled some of its mystery. The modern era has been called the "Age of Electricity." Today, this form of energy is utilized for lighting, cooking and heating, for the operation of street railways and rail road locomotives, for carrying on rapid communication, for running a great variety of machines, and for many other purposes. We owe all of this to the Greeks who lived about 600 B.C.

The basic fact of electricity is the attraction and repulsion which exists between electrons and protons. This is said to be due to the electric charge on the particles. The charge on an electron is called a negative electric charge, and the other charge is called a positive charge.

In the Electrical Shop we learn the theory from our instructor Mr. Joseph Risbon. He has had the patience in our three years to drive the theory into us.

In tenth grade we learned the theory at direct current and the bell circuit such as house wiring, office wiring, and apartment wiring. We have also learned Ohms Law.

In eleventh grade we learned motor connection, motor winding, and motor troubles that we might run into while doing practical shop assignments.

In twelfth grade we are taught the alternating current theory which consist, of wave diagrams and vertarial diagrams. With alternating current comes the principle of the transformer.

When we are employed in industry, we will think back and be grateful to Mr. Risbon for pushing us and making us learn the phenomena of electricity.

ELECTRONICS SHOP

The Electronics shop of the Vocational Department of Liberty High School offers a course in basic electronics.

The course is designed by the Philco Company. Experiments with electrical circuits are explained and laid out in a fashion that is easily understood. This manual sets up a three year course, everything from shop safety to radio repairing.

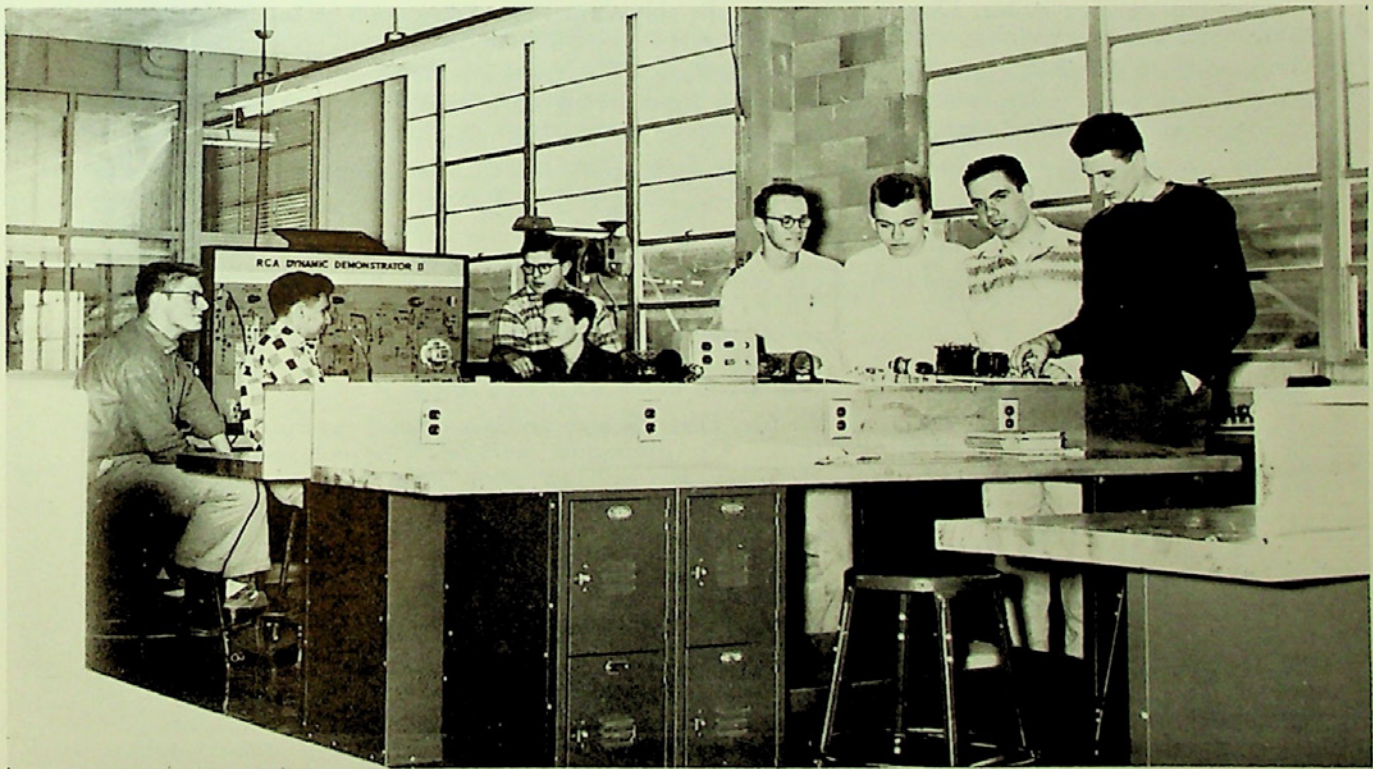

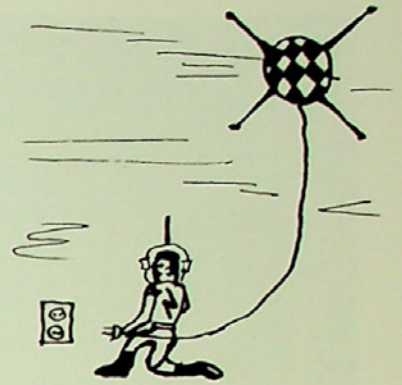

In the sophomore year, the students are taught chassis building, soldering and the construction of simple series and parallel circuits. The electron theory and calculating mathematics problems are part of the sophomore curricula. The handling and use of the different types of meters are very important and are to be learned by the sophomore students.

In their junior year the boys are taught the use of the Oscilloscope and its construction. They learn about the different types of amplifiers. This includes their construction and application. The electron tube and plotting charts and graphs are also part of the junior year course.

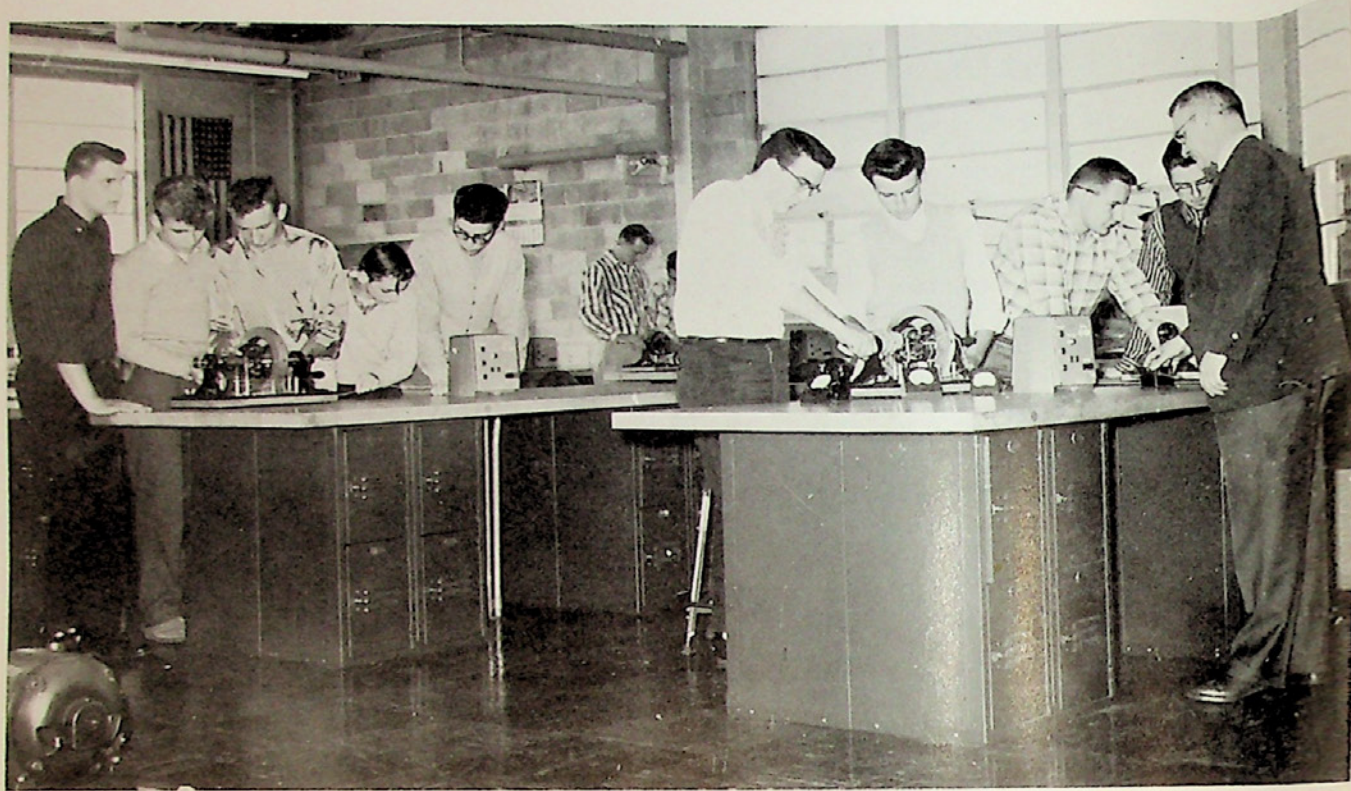

In the senior year the accent is mainly upon the radio receiver. The seniors are taught the parts of the radio, section by section. They are taught how to trouble shoot. By checking out different sections of the radio with up to date equipment, they are able to locate the source of the trouble. The senior year is the time when all the knowledge from tenth and eleventh grade is combined.

After graduation, a boy has a choice of continuing his trade in industry, private business, or the Armed Forces. All these fields offer opportunities for advancement and a good paying occupation.

There is a demand for electronic engineers. In this age of space travel and electronic brains, there are limitless opportunities in the fields of Electronics. More and more, young men are needed to fill the spaces of men returning. The demand is great and it will increase in years to come.

GENERAL METAL WORKING

The shop teacher is Mr. Donald Dietrich. In this shop some fabrication is taught, also sheet metal work, burning, welding, soldering, riveting, and blue print reading.

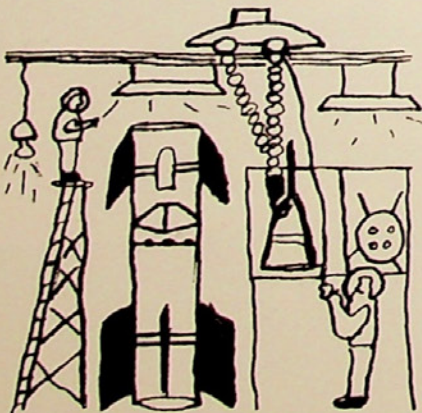

The fabrication of this shop consists of assembling beams, columns, trusses, etc. The beams are fastened with bolts or are welded together. The sheet metal work consists of making all kinds of small objects, out of sheet metal, holding them together with rivets or solder.

They burn beams, columns, and trusses in the shop. This is good practice for the students when they get out in the field on actual jobs. They have to learn how to read blue prints so they can put the right beams where they are supposed to go. This will help them to advance in their jobs out in the field because not all men can read blue prints.

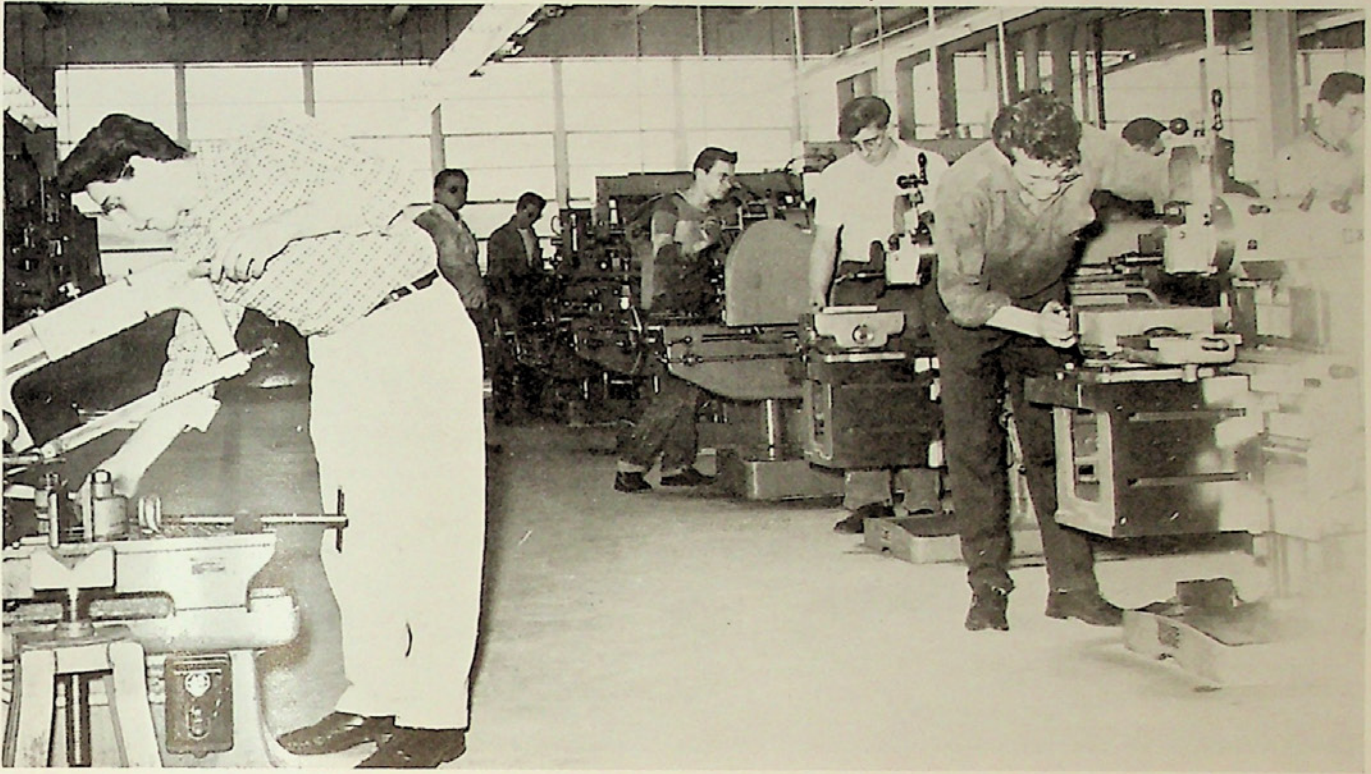

In the three years that the students are in this shop they learn how to use all the tools and machines. They can make all kinds of designs and shapes out of sheet metal, fasten beams together with bolts or welding, burn through beams, columns, etc. They can also read blue prints and know what they mean.

Mr. Dietrich also teaches related drawing to the draftsmen. The draftsmen work with beams, columns, trusses, etc., because in their shop, they draw these structural members in detail and make the blue prints. They also work with sheetmetal, burning, welding.

When the students graduate, there are all kinds of jobs in this field. The boys with the highest grades are the boys who get the best job.

MACHINE SHOP

The finished product of the machine shop has an effect on everyone's daily life. From the wooden made lathe to modern automation, the need of the machinist is great. The machine shop in the Vocational Annex is providing the manpower for this important and vital task.

During the three years that a boy is in the shop, he learns the operations that each machine can perform. The shop includes such machines as the lathe, milling machine, grinders, sharpeners, and drill presses. Included in the shop is a Do-All saw, Hacksaw, and a horizontal boring mill. He not only learns how to operate the machine, but he learns how to repair, and make the necessary adjustments. He learns formulas for finding out how fast a machine may go, and for finding the length and depth of a cut. There is a formula for every operation performed in the machine shop. The boys are taught safety habits, and learn the machinist language.

THE PRINT SHOP

Can you visualize a world without printing? From the time we arise in the morning until the time we go to bed at night we come in contact and depend on printing. Our punch cards at work are printed. The check or money by which we are paid is printed, and the newspapers we read everyday are printed.

The Print Shop at the Vocational Department of Liberty High School is built around four departments, the Dark Room, the Composing Room, The Press Room, and The Bindery.

The Dark Room consists of a camera, a line-up table, an arc light, and all the various chemicals necessary to produce aluminum plated for printing by the offset process.

The Composing Room consists of over three hundred cases of type, a proof press, and corrected before taken into the pressroom.

In the Press Room the type form is locked up according to the press best suited to its particular size. The room consists of an 8 x 12, 10 x 15, Hartford, Vertical, Kelly, and Davidson Offset Press. This is where the actual printing is done.

The Bindery is the last step. It is here that the job is finished. It will be either drilled, stitched, folded, perforated, or packaged. Our shop is fitted to meet each one of these requirements.

The kind of work that is printed here in the print shop is comparable to that which is done in industry. Some examples are tickets, letterheads, envelope corners, programs, etc.

Upon graduation the student in printing has the basic fundamentals to place him in industry allowing him to earn his livelihood in one of the most interesting and fascinating trades in modern living.

WOODWORKING

Cabinetmaking is the trade of building wooden furniture. The word is derived from a French word meaning "a collection of fine things," and a cabinetmaker is one who builds fine things. That is how he differs from a carpenter who usually does more crude types of building, such as building houses or repairing them.

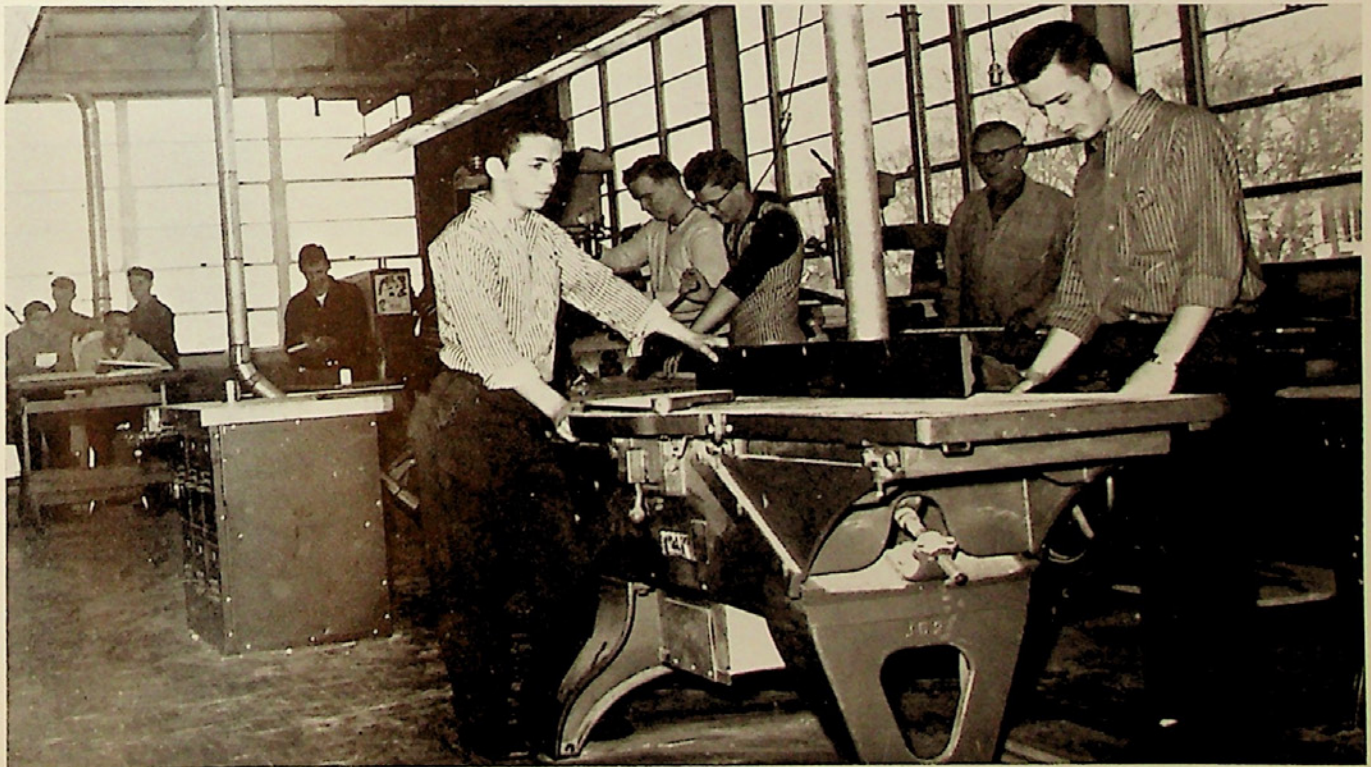

In order to gain the knowledge which is required of them, the students have to go through a three year course of cabinetmaking.

In their sophomore year, they learn how to recognize different types of wood by the grain, weight, texture, and color. They also learn the names of different joints, and how to make them.

In their junior year, they begin to operate machines such as the sanders, powersaws, jointers, planer, drill presses, and the lathe. They are taught how to safely operate these machines and how to execute simple repairs on them.

When they enter into their senior year, they take the full responsibility of doing mostly all of the work by themselves and, at the same time, helping out their lower classmen. At the end of the three years, the students are expected to know how to read blueprints and must be able to use both hand and machine woodworking tools.

Mr. Don L. Detwiler, who is our instructor, has encouraged the students to take a great interest in the study of wood. We think he is doing a fine job of producing the future cabinetmakers of today's industries.

DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION CLUB

The D. E. Club, under the guidance of Mr. Jerome A. Beidelman, was organized in 1952-53. All members of the D. E. Class are eligible for membership in the club.

The purpose of the club is to acquaint the students with the various phases of retail selling.

Every year the club takes field trips. This past year we took a tour through the R. K. Laros Company and also through the new Sears Roebuck Building in Bethlehem.

At a certain time every year, the club holds an annual banquet. This dinner is primarily for our employers and our parents. This year the banquet was held on May 13, 1958 at the Hotel Bethlehem. The club members are in complete charge of all details relative to the banquet.

During the past year our club has had the pleasure of having one of the local newspapermen come in and give a description of the make up of a newspaper and the arrangement of the advertising.

A few days after the lecture, we had the privilege to make up our own full sized page of advertising. This page consisted of different things we learned from our Advertising Book, but also from what had been taught in the lecture. Each student's ad was based on the type of store which he works in.

One of the most outstanding things the club participates in is the final gathering of all the D. E. Clubs of the neighboring towns. Allentown, Harrisburg, Reading, etc. At this meeting the different schools pick a king and queen. The king and queen represent our city. They receive different awards and prizes.

THE DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION CLASS

The Distributive Education Class was first organized by Mr. J. A. Beidelman, in 1952. When the group was first started, the sessions were held in the General High School in Room 23. When the Vocational Annex was to be erected, it was decided that the Distributive Education Class should have a room and also a display window so that they would have the proper space. In 1955, when the Vocational Department was completed, Mr. Beidelman proudly took over what is now known as the Distributive Education Room and also the School Store.

The purpose of D. E. is to train the students to sell properly and also how to handle the different types of customers which they might meet while on the selling floor.

In order to become enrolled in this class certain requirements must be met. Some of them are: you must be a senior and not in the habit of being tardy. In addition to this, you must possess passing grades in all the subjects you had taken in both the sophomore and junior grade levels. You must also secure the signature of your parents or guardian as a final requisite for admission into the class.

Every student enrolled in D. E. is considered as being in the general curriculum. In this course, there are five subjects, each one being considered as one full credit towards the 13.4 credits needed for graduation. The boy or girl also receives one full credit for his or her work at an individual training station. Altogether, 6 units of credit are received for D. E.

The five subjects you receive are job problems, merchandise information, retailing, English, which includes Literature, and economics of distribution. Every subject studied dovetails the others, which makes each and every subject very interesting and understandable.

Along with our five subjects, we are required to make a Merchandise Manual. This is not a requirement of the school, but rather one of the state. The book consists of the history, methods of manufacturing, methods of packing, and the transporting of the goods from jobber to retailer.

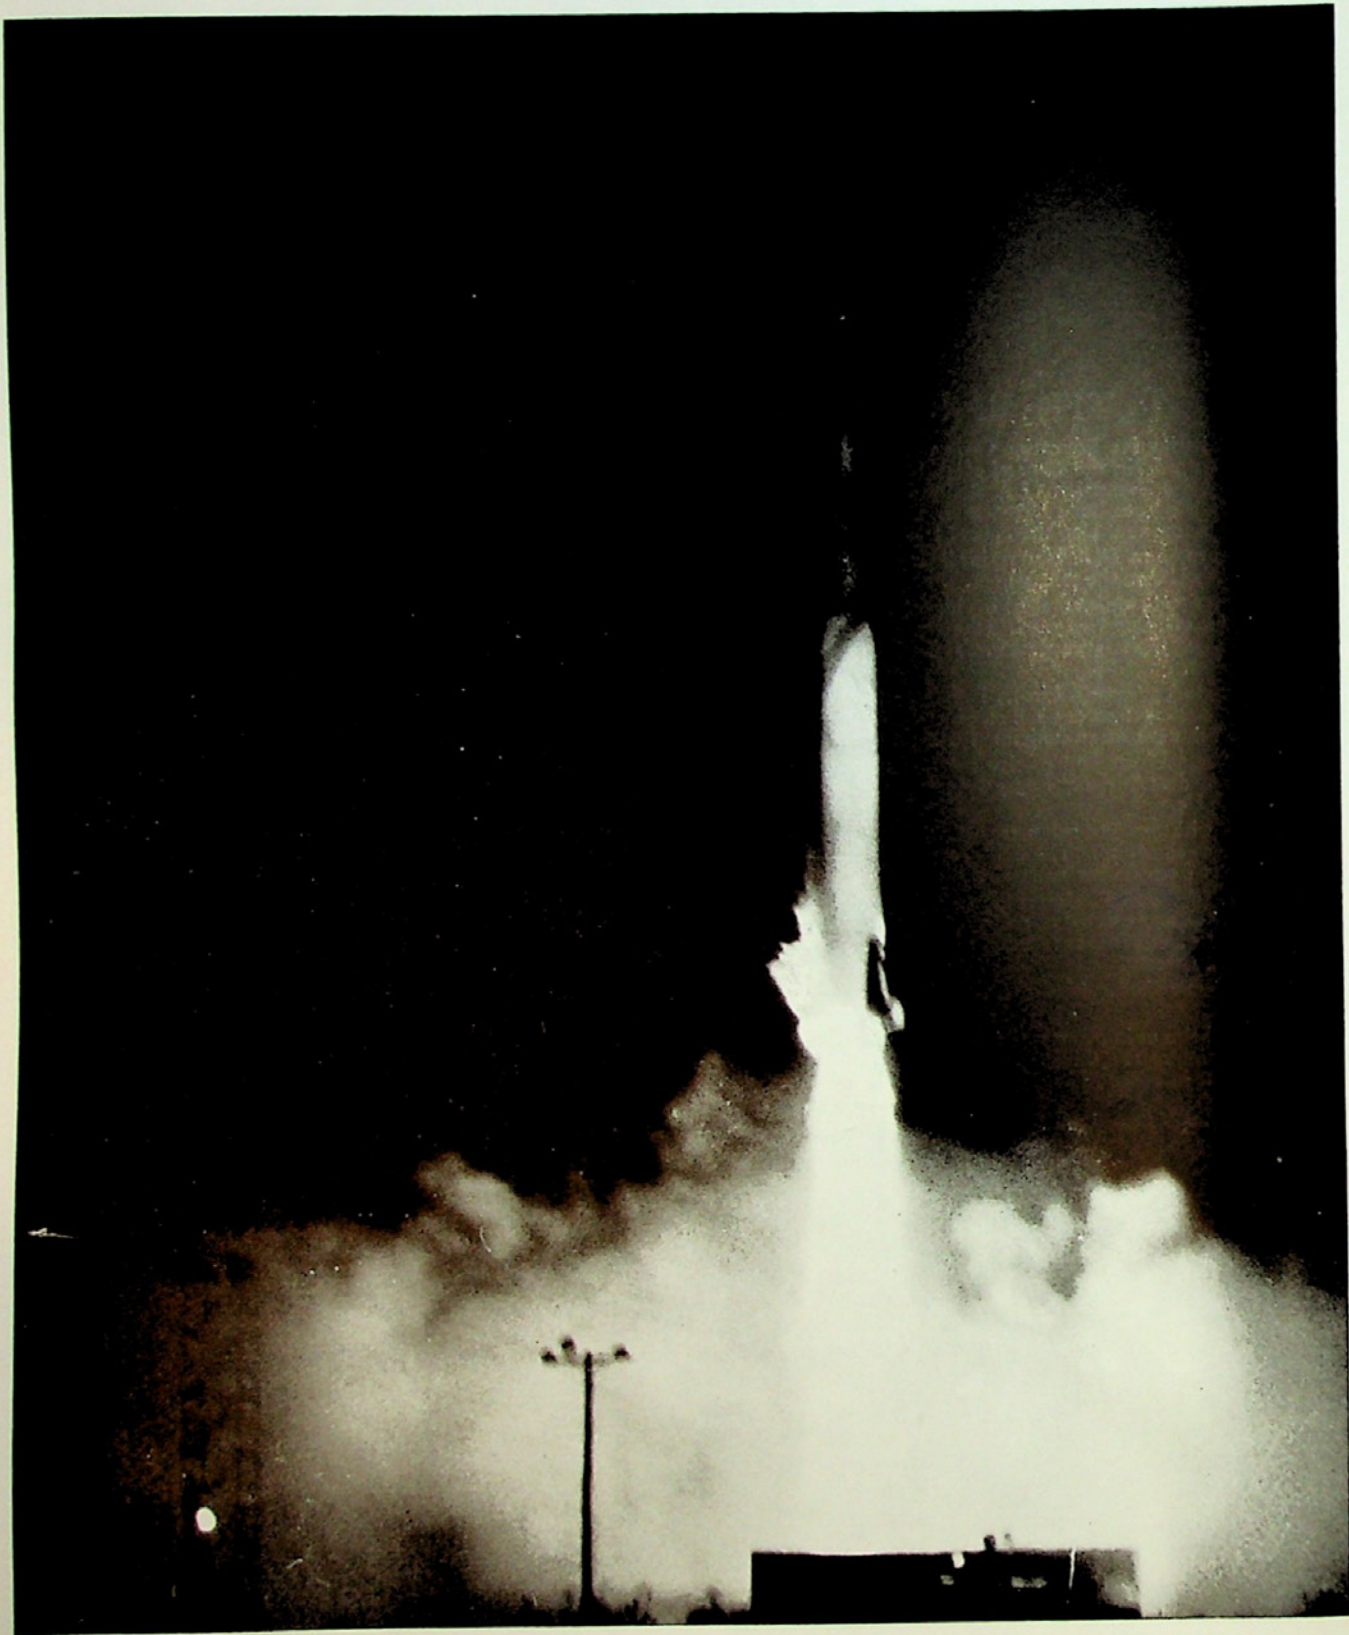

Out of all the D. E. classes in our area, Liberty High is fortunate enough to have the largest display window. Every student of D. E. takes a great deal of pride in being able to say that they arranged a display in the window at one time or another without help from the instructor or fellow students. The merchandise which is placed in the window is loaned to us by our employers for a period of two weeks.

Next to our display window, all of the students enjoy being able to sell various school supplies to their friends and fellow classmates.

The store helps us in many ways. We can practice the different selling approaches, the correct method of giving change, and one of the most important things of all, the correct use of the cash register. This practice provides us with the necessary experience that we need in order to become successful in the trade.

MR. PHILIP PHILIPPI.....Faculty Athletic Advisor
 Congratulations, Class of 1958.

Through your Cauldron, I wish to congratulate you for your achievements in the class room and upon your attainments in the field of athletics.

Everyone has given their fullest cooperation, and the result is a year rich in accomplishments and good fellowship. Good Luck!

MR. JOHN FUHR.....J. V. Basketball

Although from the won and lost standpoint we didn't have a successful season, our boys showed increasing improvement and potential.

MR. JAMES HARKINS.....Wrestling

The team had a very poor start but they managed to redeem themselves as the year progressed. The ultimate outcome was: Winning the District tournament, placing four boys in the regional tournament, and finally sending two boys to the finals. William Werst lost in the semi-finals and Bart Mosser won the championship in his class, thus being the first boy to win the state championship from Liberty High School since 1947.

Next year Liberty High School has a nucleus of boys back to compete for the team. We had an excellent Junior varsity team.

MR. DONALD SCHNEIDER.....Football

Our varsity staff was greatly pleased with the improved playing of the team as the season developed. It was an outstanding team effort that contributed greatly in our mid-season spurt.

MR. FRANK KERNAN.....Tennis

We hope to have as successful a season as last year, when Liberty High School won the League Championship.

MRS. CRYSTAL LEIDIG.....Cheerleaders
 I feel that the girls have done a very excellent job in cheering their teams on to victory.

MISS NANCY McINTYRE...Girls' Swimming, Majorettes
 The Mermaid Club deserves much due credit for their efforts in The Aquacade. The majorettes are a wonderful high-stepping, and deserving group.

MR. TED MARTZ.....Soccer, Boys' Swimming
 More interest in soccer is stemming from our physical-education program. Good nucleus back next year. In swimming we have a lot of talent and potential in the boys' group, but we need a team and competition to make it a reality.

MRS. ELSIE WESTON.....Girls' Basketball
 I was pleasantly surprised throughout the season to find the willingness to work hard and to cooperate. In a season which I didn't expect very much, we came through with 8 wins and only 2 losses.

MR. JOHN HUDAK.....Track
 If the returning veterans come through and with some help from the newer candidates, we should experience a successful season.

MR. JOSEPH PRELETZ.....J. V. Football
 I know of no group of boys who enjoyed practicing and playing football more than this year's team did. We had a very successful season with 5 wins and 2 losses.

MR. JOHN HOWARD.....Basketball, Baseball
BASKETBALL: I think this was one of the finest group of boys I have worked with at Liberty High School. Our season of 19 wins and 5 defeats speaks for itself as a successful season. As winners of District XI, we are looking forward to repeating again next year.
BASEBALL: We have a veteran team coming back this year and are looking forward to a good season.

VARSIY FOOTBALL

The Red and Blue Hurricanes under head coach Don Schneider went through their season this year winning six and losing only three games.

In the initial encounter Bethlehem's natural hope of an undefeated season was forgotten. They were stopped by surprisingly strong Baltimore Polytechnical Institute, 18-6.

Recovering from the first defeat, the Hurricanes came back strong with a smooth running attack and superior aerial work to cop their first win and defeat Philadelphia Southern, 26-12.

The next game confirmed the suspicion that the Red and Blue players had the makings of a pretty potent football team when they easily defeated a normally rugged and favored Milton Hershey, 39-20.

On their way to a five game winning streak and making this the third straight, the Hurricanes easily defeated Reading, 19-7, and turned their attention to Easton, next in sight.

The Hurricanes then traveled to Cottingham Stadium and with a very much improved team defeated their favored and highly regarded neighbors, the Red Rovers of Easton, 8-0.

Putting more experience under their belts for the long awaited Phillipsburg game, the Hard Blowing Hurricanes easily rolled over John Harris, at Harris Field, and chalked up a 33-24 victory.

With high hopes of making it six straight, the Hurricanes played host to their old rivals, The Phillipsburg Garnets, but their five game winning streak suddenly came to a stand-still when they were defeated by a 14-7.

The Bethlehem Hurricanes then prepared for the Turkey Day game against Allentown by blanking West Scranton with the lopsided score of 26-0 in the last home game of the season.

Hoping for three Thanksgiving Day victories in a row, a highly confident Bethlehem team invaded Allentown stadium. The Hurricanes held the Canaries to one touchdown but couldn't score themselves. In a downpour of rain, the game ended in a 6-0 loss for Bethlehem but not without a hard fought battle which will always be remembered.

THOMAS JORDAN

Gaining recognition for himself and the Bethlehem team, Tom Jordan, Hurricane center, was nominated Pennsylvania All-State center. This was the first time any member of the Red & Blue ever made the All-State team.

JUNIOR VARSITY FOOTBALL

The little Hurricanes under the capable coaching of Joe Preletz and Freddie Burkhardt finished a successful season this year with an excellent record of seven wins and two losses.

The J. V.'s dropped the first game of the season to Phillipsburg 34-6.

They then enjoyed a five game winning streak, beating Allentown, Central Catholic, Northampton, Phillipsburg, and Easton. The fourth game in this streak, a 12-6 victory over Phillipsburg, avenged Bethlehem's earlier loss to them.

The last game of the season ended the Hurricane streak when they were beaten by Allentown by a heart-breaking score of 6-12. Both of Bethlehem's losses were on the opponent's field.

By the end of the season the J.V.'s had been rounded into a smooth running team. With some of these boys filling the gaps left by our seniors, Bethlehem should have a fine team next year.

VARSITY WRESTLING

DISTRICT XI CHAMPIONS

"In one of the most startling form reversals in many a moon in Lehigh Valley athletics, Bethlehem High's energetic wrestling machine dethroned Allentown as District XI Champions."

Such was the opening paragraph of the Globe Times spread and such was the conclusion of the 1957-1958 successful wrestling season during which Bethlehem, in league competition, placed third to Allentown and Northampton.

In dethroning Allentown and fighting off an aggressive Northampton team, which finished second, Bethlehem succeeded by placing nine of eleven starters in the semi-finals, and five of these nine in the finals. Four of the five came through as District XI Champions to give coach Jim Harkins one of his most cherished wins in eleven years of coaching. Harry Hollinger, Junior at 112, started by scoring a decisive win over competent Ken Nickischer of Northampton. Bill Rinker, stellar point scorer and undefeated during the season, then established himself as one of the finest 123 pounders ever to compete for Bethlehem by decisively outscoring the accomplished Joe Recker from Northampton. Bethlehem's captain Bart Mosser at 127, also undefeated for the year, followed by defeating previously undefeated Milan Billy of Northampton football fame in a bitterly fought overtime match. Bill Werst, heavy weight, capped the Tourney by defeating Northampton's able Charlie Kuntzelman and thereby established the necessary margin of victory.

During the season, Werst was also undefeated, as was Ed Nickles who finished as district runner-up in the 145-pound division to Wilson's only finalist, Joe Ackerman.

In addition to those mentioned above, other senior lettermen were Van Filipos, Norton Smiley, Dave Grubbs, Jim Kresge, and Jon LeTowt. Roy Morgan, Charles Walker, Doug Kock, Roger Grubbs, John Bartek, Ron Bednar, and Dick Bedies were undergraduate lettermen who will serve as the nucleus for next year's team which, it is confidently predicted, will again have a most successful year under the fine coaching of Jim Harkins.

John (Hans) Schultheis also established what appears to be a new Hurricane record for a wrestling manager. John Served in that capacity since seventh grade and thus reigned for six years.

During the regular season, the gappers only lost three of ten meets and wrestled Hill School for the first time. The high mark of the season was the Hurricane's 22-19 defeat of Easton which, up to that time, was undefeated.

In further post season wrestling, the Hurricane District XI Champions, Hollinger, Rinker, Mosser and Werst, entered the North-eastern Pennsylvania Regional Tournament held at Wilkes College on March 15. Mosser and Werst emerged as tourney champions by beating Holodick, of Wilkes Barre; Meyers and Rutkowski, of Kingston, in the finals, and thereby qualified for the PIAA State Tournament.

In the state tourney, which was held March 29, Bill Werst pushed the eventual 185 pound champion, Ray Bozzoli, of Chartier's-Hustons Joint, to the limit in the semis before bowing 5-3. Bart Mosser than won the cherished state wrestling championship, at 127, before a crowd of 6,500 roaring fans at Recreation Hall, Penn State University, by defeating Bill McCreary, of Indiana, 3-1, in the semi-finals, and by stopping Don Hershey, of Manheim Central, 5-1, in the finals. Bart thereby became the first Hurricane State Wrestling Champion since 1947 and the first during Jim Harkin's reign as coach.

In recognition of outstanding achievement in the sport of wrestling, Jasper athletic awards were presented to Harry Hollinger, Bill Rinker, Bart Mosser, and Bill Werst.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

DISTRICT XI CHAMPIONS

The 1957-58 edition of the Bethlehem High School basketball team under the able coaching of Mr. John Howard ended its season with a record of 15 wins and 3 losses in the season league competition. This gave the netsters a percentage of .833.

The first half of the season was very successful, with the Hurricanes suffering only one loss while winning eight. This loss was to Reading, but couldn't keep Bethlehem from being the first half champions of the East Penn League.

During the second half, Bethlehem lost only two, while they won seven. Easton and Allentown, playing on this home courts, avenged their earlier losses to Bethlehem by defeating our hoopsters with small margins of victory in two of the most thrilling games of the season.

At the end of the second half, B. H. S. wound up tied with Allentown for East Penn League first place honors.

The Red and Blue Hurricanes then ran, shot, and rebounded their way into the District XI Playoffs with a crushing victory over arch-rival Allentown, 60-52, in the league playoff at Hershey Arena.

In a preliminary District XI game leading to the District Finals, Bethlehem advanced one step closer to the District XI Championship with a sterling victory over outclassed Wilson Boro 77-52.

The Hurricane then traveled to the Penn Palestra for the District XI PIAA Finals. In this game Bethlehem became District XI Champs by defeating the Blue Raiders of Tamaqua 81-48. The Hurricane victory came with less trouble than had been expected. At the end of the first half, the Hurricane had a lead of 26 points with a score of 46-20. Holding a large advantage during the second half they easily emerged victorious. In winning their first district title since 1948, the Hurricanes hit on 47.4 per cent of their shots.

Bethlehem High's hopes for their first state basketball championship were then stopped short when they were defeated by the Bearcats of York in a playoff game leading to the PIAA Eastern Finals.

During the first half the lead changed many times and at the half Bethlehem lead 31-24. In the third quarter B. H. S. built up an advantage of 13 points only to have the tables turned in the fourth. The final score was 55-48 in favor of York.

The Hurricane started the season with only four veteran lettermen; Bill Packer, Al Senavitis, Dave Sellers and Ron Bayak.

As a result of their performances during the season Billy Packer was named to State 2nd Team Honors and Al Senavitis was named to 4th State Team Honors. Bill was an excellent playmaker while Al held high scoring honors in the East Penn League. Both these boys were awarded Jaspers for their excellent work.

Other Bethlehem High scorers were Ron Bayak and Bernie Medei, while Skip Smith, Len Zavacki, Harry Richter, Russ Zelko, Dave Karvoski and Clayton Alderfer were highly instrumental in Bethlehem's successful season.

INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL

VOCATIONAL

Basketball is a sport enjoyed by all. It was initiated as a sport at about the time of World War I and has become more popular through the years.

Intramural basketball has become one of the best liked sports of the boys in the Vocational Department. To start the season, each shop picks a team and a schedule is then arranged. After the games have been completed, the four teams with the best records compete with each other in the playoffs. The winning team, together with the boys who win the title of "most valuable player", both receive trophies which are paid for by a collection which is taken up by the vocational students.

The four top teams with the best records this year were Machine Shop, Auto Shop, Drafting I, and Drafting II. These four teams then competed for the championship. Auto shop and Drafting II were the two teams to emerge as the finalists this year. The championship game was a close game from beginning to end, but the fast playing of the Auto Shop boys was slightly too much for Drafting II who suffered a 59 to 58 setback. This also was the first trophy for Auto Shop in Intramural competition.

This marks the first time that the Auto Shop has won the trophy in intramural competition.

SOCCKER

The Hurricane booters, who were Tri-County League title holders and state soccer champions in 1956, ended their season this year with a record of 7-2-2.

The Hurricanes couldn't meet last year's standards and had to settle for a second place in the league North Penn taking first. Bethlehem scored a total of 21 goals. The team was led by seniors Jack Ruyak, Nick Politi, and Tony Garganta, who scored 6, 4, and 2 goals respectively for the team.

Bethlehem opened its season by defeating Southern Lehigh 2-1. Bethlehem held an early lead after two first quarter goals were made by Earl Christman and Nick Politi.

The second game in which they swamped Wilson Boro 7-1 seemed to increase the feeling that the Hurricane was going to roll-up another undefeated season.

Bethlehem's old rival North Penn, was next in sight and the booters had high hopes of making it three straight, but the game ended in a scoreless tie.

The next game the Red and Blue took by blanking Palisades 1-0. Bethlehem's lone winning goal was made by Garganta in the second half.

The fifth game, a 1-0 loss to New Hope, ended Bethlehem's hopes of an undefeated season. This was the first setback at the hands of New Hope since league play was inaugurated.

The first game of the second half, played at Wilson Boro, ended in a 5-1 victory for Bethlehem.

The local booters went on to tie North Penn for the second time. North Penn led in the first quarter 1-0, but a goal by Ruyak in the second quarter made it 1-1. This score held during the second half and the game ended in a 1-1 tie.

The booters then avenged their earlier New Hope defeat by out-scoring them 3-1 at Sheridan Field. The half-time score was 1-1, but the Hurricanes played an inspired game in the second half and defeated a team in contention for the title.

In the first quarter of the next game at Southern Lehigh, a goal was made by Christman giving Bethlehem a 1-0 win for their second lone goal margin of victory.

In the last league encounter, Palisades played very good offensive ball and stellar defense to defeat Bethlehem 1-0. Palisades' goal came on a penalty shot in the second period after a B.H.S. fullback touched the ball.

In a non-league match with Reading, Bethlehem concluded the season and won 1-0 on a close-up goal by Garganta.

BASEBALL

Warm weather—the crack of the bat—and cleats on Sheridan Field. Coach Howard's boys are warming up for the first game against Becahi.

Last year the team couldn't quite break even and ended the season with 5 wins and 7 losses for a percentage of .417. The wins were over Phillipsburg, 15-10; Central Catholic, 9-6; Bethlehem Catholic, 22-3 and 8-3; and Allentown, 7-1.

This year Bethlehem High should field one of the best teams in the league. Coach Howard will have a nucleus of ten returning lettermen around which to build his veteran team. Despite the losses of Dan Groff, and Gene Medei in the outfield, all of the other positions will have at least one returning veteran.

The entire pitching staff returns headed by hard throwing Jim Sucansky and Tom Kozo plus the capable Bucky Yelovich. Fox Fertal, who had a great sophomore year but suffered his slumps, last year hopes for a comeback, and Shel Chamberlain is a hopeful starter.

The infield shapes up with Don Hoydu at first, Bill Packer, leading batter for the past two years, at second, and the classy Tom Snyder and Butch Duga respectively at short and third.

Adding power to the battery will be veteran catchers Ron Bayak and Paul Landis.

With an abundance of veterans and strength gained through new boys, Bethlehem should have a fine season.

GIRLS' VARSITY BASKETBALL

Our girls had quite a successful season with six wins against two losses, both at the hands of the champion Easton squad.

However, we did second best and landed the number two spot in the final East Penn League Standings.

The first contest against Becahi on our own court was a close one, but we finally held on and emerged the victor. Previous to this we had beaten Bangor, also at home, without any trouble. At Easton in the next game, we were set back on our heels which found Easton smashing us with a win by twenty points. However, upon recovering, we started out in high gear by racking up: Central Catholic, Bangor, Becahi. Losing our touch once again, we were defeated by a high-spirited and stubborn Easton squad on our own court. The season was completed with a convincing win over ACHS.

There were six seniors on this year's team who deserve much credit for the fine season. The girls are:

Kitty Bilinski — forward — 130 points	Eleanor Newhard — guard
Mary Kirka — forward-guard — 69 points	Fran Geld — guard
Dolores McCarroll — forward — 91 points	Molly Erisman — guard

GIRLS' INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL

"Guard her!" "Shoot!" These were some of the old familiar expressions heard in the girl's old gym every day after school from Thanksgiving to Christmas.

An overwhelming turnout of girls to play this great sport forced Mrs. Weston to make up teams, and then schedule them. The teams this year were named after the various brands of cigarettes.

Each team was captained by a member of the varsity squad and it really was interesting to see how the season progressed. Promptly at three o'clock the first game would start and would be followed by two or as many as three more.

The season went too fast for many of the girls and terminated at the Christmas vacation. In the final standings, this is how each team made out:

GIRLS' INTRAMURAL HOCKEY AND SOCCER

While the fall was here and winter was creeping upon us slowly, girl-sports' enthusiasts played the great rough and tough sport of hockey.

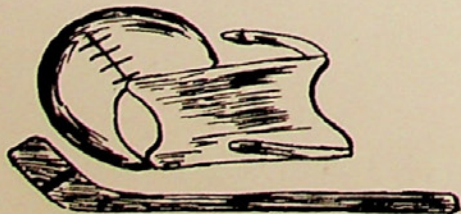

Under the combined supervision of Mrs. Weston, Mrs. Leidig, and Miss McIntyre, many interested and freezing girls were instructed in the fundamentals of the game each chilly afternoon from October 11 till Thanksgiving.

The highlight of this year's season was the time when the women faculty members played the senior girls. Miss Ritter, Mrs. Hanks, Miss McIntyre, Mrs. Leidig, Miss Schnabel, Mrs. Weston and substitutes scored a win over the seniors. The seniors, stymied by their opponent's goalie, Miss Eckert, and hampered by mud, therefore, were on the short end of a fast-moving and well-played game by the faculty. The final score was 6-1.

Such great enthusiasm and so much fun was had by both spectator and player, that our instructors believe hockey will be continued in the future. All our beaten seniors have to say is: "Thanks for a wonderful hockey season and good luck to next year's teams."

Along with hockey came soccer, and when the boy's team wasn't practicing or having a league contest, the girl's had a wonderful time playing this sport.

Many an afternoon went by when one could have seen a kicking and splattering free-for-all soccer game. As everyone knows, in order to score you must drive the ball past the other team's goalie. This feat alone could be seen many, many times, along with other fine action plays taught to the girls by the faithful gym teachers.

After the usual fundamentals were taught in gym class, there was little to add but practice, and that was accomplished after school on the soccer field.

Everyone was thoroughly satisfied and hated to stop playing when the season ended with the colder weather. Not to be dismayed, many of the same girls were found in the old gym participating in the winter sports.

No one could have had a more interesting and exciting time than the faithful seniors which graced the hockey and soccer field.

GIRLS' INTRAMURAL BOWLING

The year's bowling plan attracted many new enthusiasts and our LHS League deserves much credit.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Weston and Mrs. Leidig, the girls taught the fundamentals, rules, calculations in scoring, and other little importancies of the sport.

A Strike! A Spare! and a moaning of the inevitable . . . Gutter Ball! These are the more familiar examples of the type of nomenclature used during the after-school league competition.

Our league was based upon teams which came out on certain designated week nights. The teams on these various nights were numbered - No. 1, No. 2, No. 3, etc. After two games were rolled, the totals were tallied and the team with the high score received a point. It is on this basis that the final standings were arrived at. Each team elected a captain whose duty was to handle the money among a few little other things which the girls sometimes demanded. Each weekday a secretary for the whole league counted all scores and posted all the averages.

A perfect game of 300 points was and probably still is the secret ambition of each of our lassies.

Through the gym classes this year, bowling has gained recognition as one of the most popular and favorite sports of the girls. Recalling a few of the scores, here's hoping that some of these "keglers" really will become some of Bethlehem's future champions.

First row — B. Mitman, M. Horn, G. Bauder, M. Brown, D. Pritulsky, G. Gackenback, B. Check, S. Kressler, M. Postupack, S. Pfeiffer, J. Davis, J. Finkbeiner.

GIRLS' SWIMMING CLUB

The girls' swimming club, better known to the students as "The Mermaids", is a group comprised of members selected by tryouts. The tryouts were held in the fall and the girls went through numerous requirements which proved their ability and potential, before the final selection of the club was made.

Once the final club was comprised, the girls immediately began practicing their synchronized swimming routines, for their annual water show, "The Aquacade". Numerous precision numbers, which the swimmers performed with suitable musical accompaniment, were perfected.

In an array of splashing and spritzing, the girls have barrels of fun. The advisor of the group is Miss Nancy McIntyre and the officers elected were: President: Jane Saunders, Secretary: Sue Korpics, Manager: Barbara Priolo.

BOYS' SWIMMING CLUB

The purpose of the boys' swimming club is to train and develop better and faster swimmers. This year the club consisted of 25 boys. Three of these were seniors; Mike Martin, Bob Schreiber, and Art Metzger.

There are no dual meets during the season but the team enters the District XI Championships every year at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College.

This year three Bethlehem underclassmen placed in district competition. Freshman Gordon Rupert tied for second in the 50 yd. freestyle, sophomore Bob Knies finished fourth in the 100 yd. freestyle, and Tom Illick, also a sophomore, was fifth in the 100 yd. backstroke.

Two B.H.S. relay teams placed second. In the medley the Bethlehem mermen were Illick, Joe Kicska, Knies, and Rupert. The freestyle team was composed of Bob Gordon, Charles Mazza, Don Jacobs, and Art Metzger.

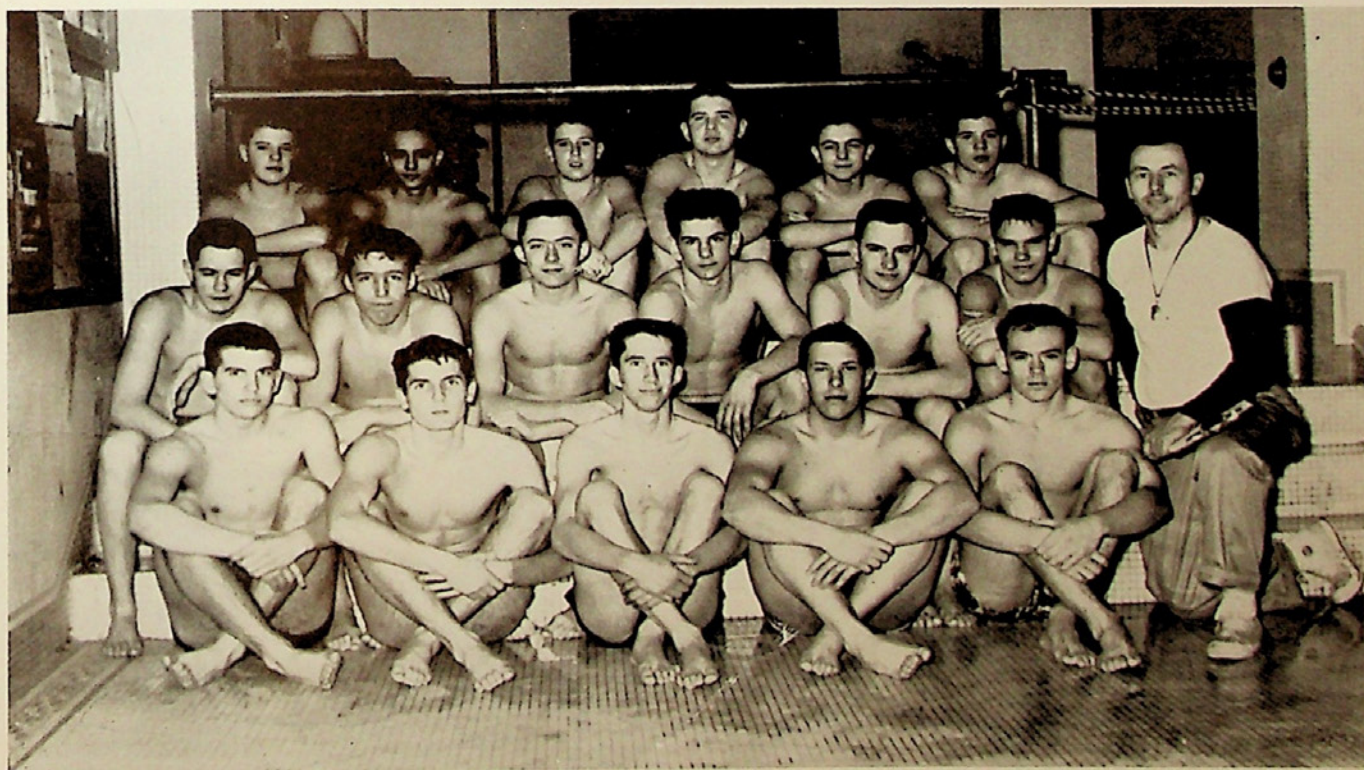

The mermen accounted for a total of  $27\frac{1}{2}$  points to place third after Allentown and Hazleton. Allentown was first and Hazleton placed second.

The boys' swimming club also takes part in the annual Aquacade. They specialize in a clown act, diving, synchronized swimming, and the spirited inter-class relays. The Club is supervised by Mr. Ted Martz.

First row — T. Illick, T. Torma, M. Martin, A. Metzger, J. Kicska.

TRACK

This year for the first time coach Hudak will have an assistant coach for field events. He is Leo Prendergast the ex-line coach of the B.H.S. football team.

Last year the squad broke even with a percentage of .500 but a few heart breakers which ended in very small margins of defeat held this percentage down. The track men defeated Emmaus, Northampton, Whitehall, and Phillipsburg while they lost to Allentown, Reading, Pottsville, and Easton. The loss to Easton was by only two points.

In District XI P.I.A.A. competition B.H.S. scored a total of 16½ points to cap fourth place. In the Penn relays at Franklin Field our relay team placed eighth. We also placed many winners in the William Emery Invitational Relays at Liberty H. S. Stadium.

Many seniors who have taken part in past competition will be returning for their last year of varsity action.

In the Track events the squad will be built around Dave Long, Bob Demkowitz, and Earl Siegfried who return from last years team.

In the field events the weight will be on seniors Dave Sellers, with the high flying discus; Tom Jordan, throwing the shot put; Al Senavitis and Harry Richter, broad jumping; and Russ Zelko throwing the javelin.

TENNIS

The 1957 Tennis Team, coached by Mr. Frank Kernan and paced by seniors Kit Illick and Howard Whitcomb, smashed and backhanded their way to an undefeated season with twelve victories.

The 1957 Lehigh Valley Tennis League Champions had little trouble reaching the top with their balanced and experienced team. They defeated Wyomissing, Easton, Reading, and Nazareth each twice with very decisive scores. They also smashed our traditional rival and last years toughest opponent Allentown handing them two 4-2 defeats.

The doubles combination of Lee Steele and Howard Whitcomb entered the District XI Tennis Tournament and emerged victors. Kit Illick was runner-up in singles competition. Steele and Whitcomb went on to become runners-up in P.I.A.A. State competition.

The returning lettermen are Don Latshaw and Lee Steele who will compose the nucleus of the 1958 team. Latshaw, last years number two man, will captain the squad.

In addition to the returning lettermen, several boys will be selected to make up a varsity squad of eight players. These boys are chosen by an elimination tournament at the start of the season.

Relying on his returning lettermen, members of last years team who didn't graduate, and last years second string Coach Kernan predicts another highly successful season this year.

SPACE-TAILORED

Beverly Hills, Calif.: What the well-dressed man on the moon may look like in the possibly not-so-distant future is displayed by this scientist in Beverly Hills, Calif. The space suit is being tested inside the Litton Industries Inhabited High Vacuum Laboratory, where space conditions are simulated. The outer cover of the protective suit has been removed to show the arm and hand construction which permits mobility.

FEATURES

CLASS PROPHECY

Here we are, ladies and gentlemen, in the year 1975, Nick Politi reporting. In this tenth Geophysical Year, the main event which is to take place at any moment, will be the launching of the first space ship to the moon. For many years scientists and explorers have been surveying the possibilities of human survival on our natural moon. Now, after extensive research and screening, a select few have been chosen for the honor and task of establishing life there.

The scene is very crowded with anxious reporters, among whom we find such familiar faces as Nancy Kocher, Ray Bigot, Marie Roth, Bill Rinker, Charles Hutchison, and Jim Montgomery who are trying to get near to the space ship for pictures, interviews, news stories, etc. They and the crowd gathered outside the gate, while waiting for this important take off, are probably thinking back to the beginning of this project, and the personnel connected with the special space ship. Let us also consider these important people. Some of our top engineers who had the privileged job of designing the ship are Jack Lesyk, Dave Sellers, Tom Fromhartz, John Horwath, Wasie Yurchak, and Richard Kuplen. Capably supervising them and outlining their needs have been the chief officers of our Armed Forces, Robert Friedman, Dick Walter, Michael Meilinger, and Dave Cuddy. Robert Huck, Susan Pitcher, George Fiegel, Gail Bauder performed the mathematical calculations concerned with this project.

The excellent preparation by Messieurs Stettler, Jones, and Auerback has been reflected in the work of our chemists and physicists who are Barbara Priola, Eugene Starner, and Pat Opp.

Now we must turn our attention back to the space ship where activity has been rapidly increasing the task of some of the members of our Armed Forces, Charles Koch, Ornan Carl, Lewis Stoneback, Bob Munshaur, Wayne Klotz, Joe Kelly, Joe Grello, Steve Duga, Walter Schneider, William Long, Bill Banko, Frank Corcione, Bob Lentz and Paul Landes who are guarding the enclosed area, is becoming difficult. Even the President of the United States, William Packer, is here to witness the spectacular occasion.

The people who have had the privilege of being chosen for the organization of life on the moon have just arrived under special protection. Norton Smiley of the Army will be in charge of all proceedings on the moon. Medical problems will be under the jurisdiction of Sandra Urban and Glen Marsteller. Missionary and religious work will be headed by Jean Gundrum and Fay Kelchner. Judy Williams, Phyllis Tress, and Judy Seaman will work with the minor health problems. The problem of providing educational services will be taken care of by Gail Ekstrand, Barbara Hassick, Ernest Shearer, Frank Scheck and Jeanne Hoffer. Construction of all buildings is being supervised by David Long, Ronald Koch, William Grube, Andy Pingyar, John Arnold, Steve Petrohoy, Richard Kresge, and Dave Kilpatrick. The much needed secretarial and office help will be rendered by Gertrude Van Scheetz, Jean Shafer, Marlene Zimmerman, Joanne Palamar, John Simons, Stanley Turel, Pamela Whitmore, Joanne Tita, Athena Tsihlis and Joan Weaver.

While last minute preparations are being made, the crowd once again has chance to review happenings in the past, this time the accomplishments of past Geophysical years.

Probably the main channel of thought is revolving around the completion of our space station, which is the first of its kind and on which human life is firmly established.

The medical profession has sent some of its outstanding members to establish the first space hospital, among whom are such familiar doctors as Joleita Wagner, John Resetar, Frank Piff, Phyllis Warg, and John Deputy. Dr. Bart Mosser has been appointed supervisor of the Hospital. His personal staff of nurses consists of Barbara Joy, Nancy Abel, Carole Herman, and Ann Preletz. Dave Daniels, the most distinguished surgeon of the day, performs the delicate operation peculiar to both human and other animal life. Jackie Fenstermacher, Pat Gorkas, Nancy Heimbach, May Huth, Sandy Luther, Brynne Knauss, Susie Korpics, and Margaret Santley are now assisting him in his operations.

Our animals bring their problems and illnesses to our veterinarian, Marianne Pulley. Of course, the mortician, Ronnie Brunnabend takes care of all fatalities, human and otherwise.

Out of necessity we have established along with this new hospital a unique laboratory. Analyzing the new diseases are medical technologists Joan Karustis, Jane Saunders, Rosalyn Schaefer, Tom Long, and Pat Lennarz. The new drugs needed to combat these diseases are being prepared by Harry Reichenbach, pharmacist.

Just because the children are on the space station you needn't think they don't have school, because we have just completed one new space school, taking care of children of all ages. The little one's of kindergarten age are being taught by Bobbie Fly and Judy Brown. The rest of the elementary students see such familiar faces as Susan Feehrer, June Fitsko, Beth Ann Frey, Judy Judge, Phyliss Meil and Lois Blake. The older students are aided in their studies by Jean Ann Alfred, Kitty Bilinski, Kathy Dugas, Mary Kirka, Nancy Hippensteal, Diana Lambert, Dave Larish, Richard Nitchun, and Judy Mosebach.

In the office we find Sandy Vanatta, Janice Tolnai, Marianne Tita, Sandy Thomas, Rita Stuber, Elizabeth Seyfried and Barbara Stralo. Beverly Schuyler is principal Bill Jordan's private secretary.

Naturally we needed a way to get to and from the space station so new methods of air transportation have been devised. Places designed by Philip Bodey, Earl Christman, Ned Diehl, and Eugene Chuday leave twice a day on regularly scheduled flights. Bill Ritter is one of our best pilots. Feminine touches on the flights are added by Nancy Wagner, Bernadine Check, Romaine Schwartz and Margo Schoenenberger air line hostesses.

A steady rustle is now sweeping through the crowd as the people sense that the big moment has just about arrived. There is an ominous hush spreading over the crowd as the count has begun. Ten, nine, eight, seven, six, five, four, three, two, one, zero. BSTCMTIXZZTIL. Who knows what lies ahead for these the first people to attempt such a feat. The world will never note nor long remember what we said here but can never forget what we did here.

Now this is Nick Politi signing off. Again we say good luck to the space crew as they zoom toward the moon.

TECH CLASS PROPHECY

It is 1978, and I, Kirk Mickley, was honored to join the city's engineering staff on a trip to a contractors' conference in Florida.

It was a beautiful summer morning when I got into my car to start for the airport. Then I saw Harvey Campbell going to work. As I drove along the country road, I flipped on the radio switch to listen to the weather man. Charlie Lapping gave the forecast as "Lots of sunshine with clear skies for the next few days."

I met my friends at Stauffer's Airport Terminal and got into our private plane for the trip to Florida's Geophysical Convention.

The pilot, Richard Miltenberger, who now was getting bald on top, took off and we were quickly on our way. There was a discussion in the back of the plane about Joe Mulzet's opening up a million dollar branch for his car factory in Bethlehem. Joe had been making gasoline engine cars for fourteen years before he decided to live modern and make radium powered cars. One of the Bethlehem Steel's big shots, Jim Penberth was against the idea because he said it will cause the city to be too congested with traffic problems. Three of my industrial friends, Pavlinsky, Lawrence, and McFadden could not see eye to eye on the matter. Finally Winnie Hill, who had spoken his piece, came up to the front of the plane to sit with Mayor Achey.

At twelve o'clock we were having lunch on the plane when we hit an air pocket. Deily and Bedics were discussing their electrical problems between mouthfuls of food, and were in no way prepared for the sudden jolt. Their trays went splattering over the floor and everyone laughed heartily. It was quite funny to see them scrambling for their bits of peas and corn that had rolled all over the carpeting.

Soon we landed at Florida with its beautiful climate and sunny beaches.

We were escorted to Cook's Hotel where we had a splendid meal. I saw several of my old classmates at a table across the room. Electrician Fistner, a garage man named Ben Breinig, and Jim Munson, who now was a fine lawyer, were enjoying themselves over three, juicy steaks. We watched a comical program put on by the great television stars, The Jimmie and Francis Monkey Team. It was very good and the audience begged for more. It co-starred Steve Kovjonovic and Steve Polczer.

After that, we were shown to our separate rooms by the hotel manager, Anthony Hoch. He cordially invited us to attend the Anderson and John's musical program at eleven. Most of us stayed in our rooms and sawed wood for the rest of the night.

The next day started off with a delicious meal by the hotel chef, Roy Abel. We were then taken by Bishop's Bus Service to the Adam's Memorial Building where Edward Gross was the main speaker for the day. Several other technicians and scientists were on the platform. Among them, I immediately recognized Gregory Hero, Billy Bambu, and Eugene Dorsey. There was a fat man who, I found out later, much to my surprise, was my old classmate, Floyd Hahn. These were only a few of the many who made up the staff of the Nationwide Scientific Advancements Club. This club was organized in answer to the President's plea for the country's need for a higher standard in the field of science and engineering. William Scherbak was chosen as president of the club and was doing a splendid job of fulfilling his obligations. The supervisor was Jay Borst, who gave a short talk which stated the need for even more atomic scientists and engineers. This was followed by Producer Angelo Grello's movie on "Missile Programs." It all was very interesting and educational.

We were dismissed for the afternoon to relax and tour the city. I was tired and wanted to take a nap. I bought the Calmar Morning Call and lay down on my bed. I began reading the headlines, "Mr. Bayak shoots trophy bear in Canada. Albert Escott, manager of the Florida Longshots, buys a new pitcher, Wayne Hittinger, for $25,000. Ronald Doncho adds ten new stores to his shopping center. Governor Smith wins state elections by a landslide." I thought back to the time when all these fellows were classmates of mine at high school and of the good times we had together.

Soon it is evening and we were to attend the display of scientific wonders. It was held in an enormous building that was dedicated by the Berger and Gatta Railroad Company.

As we looked at the displays of scientific and engineering feats, I recognized several projects with my professional friends' names on them. Dr. Wagner, Professor Salmon, and Mr. Traupman's name were among them.

We went over to the astrological division in charge of Dr. Ferreire and George Fertal.

There was a huge model of the Solar System done by Frank Adamcik and his two assistants, Cosner and Iampietro. An electrical technician, Ed Burrirt, was on duty at all times to keep the model in perfect running order. Don Mench, now a professor of electronics, was controlling the model from a switchboard. The planets were scaled to their exact size and orbits. They also revolved around the sun. An astronomer, Jim Atkinson, worked switches that controlled lights which located the main stars in the Milky Way. The whole scene was very impressing to the viewers.

Also there was a display of atomic missiles and rockets on a large platform. It was done by Dick Mills and Earl Mellon's technical staff.

Every model moved by an electric eye and produced a life-like demonstration. This made quite a fascinating scene.

At this point, Bob Frankenfield gave a lecture which summarized the whole display and all the exhibits. He mentioned how science helped raise the country's standard of living considerably in the last year.

After we had toured the plant, we were dismissed to roam the city and see the sights. Bob Williams, now an army officer, a physicist named Harry Shiffer, an electrical engineer named Ronald Selvaggio, and I went for a drive around the city. We passed Harobin's Autobody Shop, Kaleyck's Antiquarian Store, and a T.V. repair shop owned by Bob Schriber. As we drove down the main street, we were impressed by the many beautiful hotels and restaurants. We stopped at Silfies Gas Station to "fill er up." Bob Kichline was inside the garage working on his motorcycle. Also Tutolo and Turocy were fixing their racer. They said they planned to take the trophy in the race they entered next week. When we drove away, we saw Francis Tumpey supervising a big construction job on one of the city's main streets.

We drove out of the city to the Air Force's testing grounds. It was a very popular place and was crowded with people. As we got closer, we saw the Air Force was having a line demonstration of aeronautical skills. It was conducted by Major Schmoyer and General Hollinger. On closer observation, we recognized the ground crews to consist of Dave Helms, Ray Bauder, Dick Schaffer, and Bill Walters. Bob Kelly, who's hair was now a little more gray, was on a plane wing and was pointing out the super features of the aircraft.

A military policeman, Lawrence Williams, was directing traffic.

At this point, it was announced that Colonel Reilly and his co-pilot, Major Wernett, were going to do stunts with their fighter squadron above the control tower. Everyone watched as they shot across the sky in formation. Then they did several formation figures in succession. To climax the show, they dived toward the crowd. Everyone scattered as they screamed above the heads of the crowd in a thunderous roar. Several ladies in the crowd fainted and the men merely laughed at them.

We then decided we had enough time to see one more spot.

To wind up our night, we went to the beautiful water show. It was held on a lovely lake just outside the city limits. Astonishing feats were done on water skis by Luke Schoenberger, who was a head machinist, and Ronald Todd, who also was a stock car driver champion. The famous swimming star, Tony Valente, and Joe Stellato, now a manager of a big garage firm, did a flip off a ramp with a speedboat. Everyone was excited and applauded each time something was done. The final act consisted of a speedboat race. Each boat was designed by Rudy Savelli. The idea behind it was to see which was the fastest and most rugged boat. There was a prize of $5,000 to the driver who won. John Deily, a steelworker, won the race and Bob Gombosi, who now was a lawyer, ran a close second. A highway construction foreman named Jim Bender presented the prize to the winner. He had reached a remarkable speed of three hundred and forty-six miles per hour. The show ended with the National Anthem played by John Davis's band.

As we left, fireworks were shot up into the sky. They made a beautiful sight in the heavens. People were carried away by the spectacle, and they started cheering and making quite a racket.

We were glad to get to bed that night after such an exciting ordeal.

The next day was our last and we had a farewell meal in our honor. Melvin Serfass gave a short talk on what the future holds for all scientists and engineers. He also told some of the things that would be done at the next Geophysical Convention.

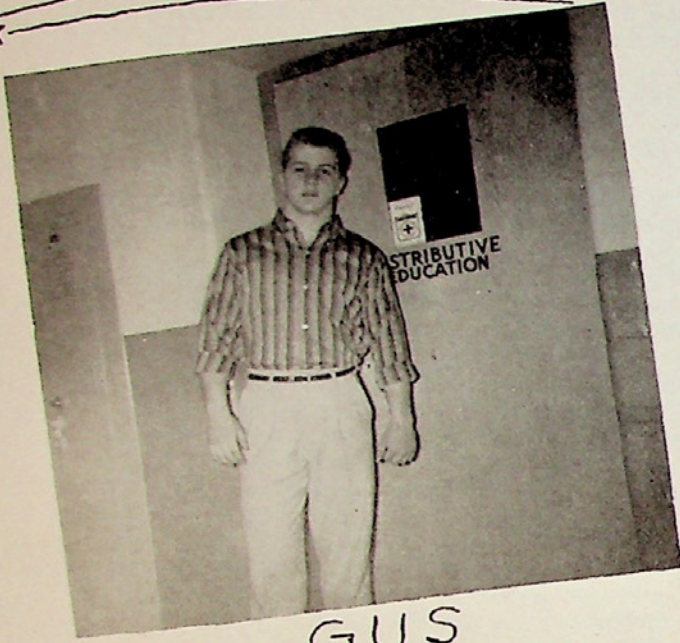

Then we went to the airport for our trip back home. John Edelman's Band played a hymn for us as we taxied up the runway. Deb Moyer, a very good carpenter, and the manager of an electrical plant, Dick Repash, were a few of the many who waved good-bye as we left the airport and climbed into the sky.

Upon arriving back home, we were greeted by our individual families. It was a great feeling to be back in our own city where we saw so many familiar faces. Everyone shouted goodbyes to each other as they started their separate ways from the airport. We soon passed Redgowski's Diner and Williams' Service Station, and were back on the open highway once more.

In a very short while I came to the little lane that led to my home. As I drove up to my garage, I thought how nice it will be to take a refreshing dip in my pool after such a busy week.

Reflections

We feel today what those before have felt
The loneliness, the gladness mixed with fear.
We do not want to turn back now, and yet
We are uncertain of events to come
If only we could live these years again . . .
If only work and freedom still were ours . . .
If only we could love and laugh and dream . . .
But we cannot for what is past is past.
Yet we can look ahead for there is life
Perhaps a life more dear and full of challenge
Than all the other years behind have been.

Behind us are warm ashes of time passed
They smoulder still, emotions not yet mellowed
We look back longingly at them once more
Remembering what they meant not long ago.
Perhaps we will in some far distant hour
Recall our present yearning. We will smile
For then we will have passed the test of time
And from a world, to us, like virgin timber
We will have hewn a place, a niche, a home.
Then we will know what now we only feel.
Behind us there are only smouldering ashes.
All that is important lies ahead.
