

King Jr., Robert C.

Rookies Arrive at Jefferson

Seven Bethlehem men and one from Allentown have arrived at Jefferson Barracks, Missouri, according to word from the public relations officer there. All are given aptitude tests at Jefferson and assigned to various branches of the service, according to their qualifications.

The septet from this city includes William W. Thomma, son of Mrs. Eva Thomma, 1948 Glendale Avenue, and a former employe of Roller-Smith Company; Joseph Mushlitz, of 221 West Geopp Street, formerly a truck driver and a graduate of Northampton High School; Willard K. Marvin, son of R. F. Marvin, 857 Media Street, formerly shipping clerk for Just Born Candy Company and a Bethlehem and a Bethlehem High graduate; Lester R. H. Stull, whose sister, Miss Annetta Stull resides at 1525 North High Street and who was a machinist for the Bethlehem Steel. Stull attended Liberty High.

Also, Robert C. King, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. King, 1333 Easton Avenue, formerly employed by Bethlehem Steel and a graduate of Bethlehem High; Arthur G. Miller, of 1216 Elm Street, a former crane operator at Bethlehem Steel and a graduate of Bethlehem High; Gerald R. Price, husband of Magdeline Price, 725 Hawthorne Road. He, too, was a crane operator for the Bethlehem Steel.

The Allentown man is August Tonn, 428 Hamilton Street, a former Bethlehem Steel employe.

March 11, 1943