

City Council meeting tomorrow night!

The Bethlehem Gadfly City government March 16, 2020

 Latest in a series of posts on City Government

Out of an abundance of caution about the virus, Gadfly will not be attending in person. There goes his chance for the Perfect Attendance award.

Government regulations are changing seemingly by the hour, so look for updates about this meeting tomorrow.

We are not encouraged to attend per this note on the meeting web page:

Due to the COVID-19 public health emergency, we encourage you to watch the meeting on YouTube.

Our next City Council meeting — the “face” of Bethlehem City government — occurs tomorrow night Tuesday, March 17, Town Hall, at 7PM.

These meetings are video-recorded and can be viewed LIVE or later at your convenience on the City’s website after the meeting at <https://www.bethlehem-pa.gov/Calendar>.

The YouTube channel for live or archive viewing is “City of Bethlehem Council.”

Find the Council agenda and supporting documents here.

But see here President Waldron’s Saturday communique about modifications in the agenda because of the virus. Reports from City officials on the virus are planned.

And there’s always the unexpected.

As long as he has flutter in his wings, Gadfly will always urge attending City Council live or virtually — one way or the other.

He wants you to participate, to be informed.

But use good judgment during these virus times.

Gadfly is staying home.
