Historical Note: Tourism in Bethlehem and the Lehigh Valley is rooted in Moravian and industrial history and also benefits from a vibrant arts and music scene. Bethlehem is home to the historic Moravian Church settlements, which as a whole were designated as a UNESCO World Heritage Site in 2024. ArtsQuest, a nonprofit organization based in South Side Bethlehem, owned and operated the Banana Factory, a former arts and cultural center. The Banana Factory was demolished in 2025 to make way for the ArtsQuest Creative Factory. Bethlehem has also earned the nickname, "Christmas City USA" largely due to the Moravian community naming the city "Bethlehem" on Christmas Eve 1741, but also because of the many holiday attractions, including Christkindlmarkt.

Scope and Content: Contains brochures from various local organizations and museums. The majority of brochures contain information on several local tourist attractions, mainly in Historic Bethlehem. Some brochures have information on local religious or cultural organizations.
