

Taylor Jr., George A.

Meet Overseas

Pfc. George A. Taylor, Jr., and Pfc. Norman L. Grady, met in Pilsen, Czechoslovakia, after not having seen each other for two years.

Pfc. Taylor went into the service in September, 1944, and received his training at Camp Blanding, Fla., before going overseas in January, 1945. He is now stationed in Germany.

Pfc. Grady entered the service in December, 1942, and completed his training at Fort Leonard Wood, Miss., and Camp Halibard, Md., before going overseas in May, 1943. He has seen action in France, Germany and Czechoslovakia and is also stationed in Germany at present.

September 4, 1945