

Workers in the 3rd & New St. building walk the neighborhood

The Bethlehem Gadfly Parking, Serious Issues August 6, 2019

(105th in a series of posts on parking)

Judy Parr is a lifelong resident of Bethlehem.

Gadfly:

I remember the controversy over the pedestrian bridge. As someone who would be working in the New St building, I was taken aback by comments that the workers there would never walk around the Southside. It was nonsensical to me at the time, and I can assure you we are all out and about, going to restaurants and stores, taking long walks on the Greenway, and participating in the life of our neighborhood.

Judy