

Klusko, Edward

Bath Man Made Sergeant In Britain

MAK 29 1944
A Ninth Air Force Service Command Advanced Depot, England: Promotion of Edward Klusko, 22, of Bath, from the grade of technician fourth grade to that of sergeant was announced by headquarters of the Ninth Air Force Service Command advanced depot, commanded by Colonel J. G. O'Neal, to which he is attached in England.

Sergeant Klusko, a Signal Corps radio repair technician, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Klusko of Broad Street, Bath. A former football star of Nazareth High School, from which he was graduated in 1940, the noncommissioned officer was a meat cutter for the American Store Corporation, Philadelphia, before donning khaki about two years ago. He arrived overseas in the summer of 1943.

March 29, 1944