

More, Jack

Has Buddy For Passenger

Our fighting men overseas have met relatives and friends in strange ways and places, but here's a new one.....

Jack More, A. M. 3/C serving aboard one of the Naval Air Corps' planes transporting freight and replacements, left his base in Kanoche, several miles from Honolulu, Hawaii, on a customary "run" to the French Frigate schools, where he was assigned to pick up Navy personnel. One of his passengers proved to be an old school "chum," Donald Huguenot, Seaman 1/C, whom he hadn't seen in many months.

S1/C Huguenot, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Huguenot, 624 Fourth Avenue, has been stationed in and around Pearl Harbor for the past 18 months. A. M. 3/C More left for overseas duty May 28 and has since served on Pelelu, near Guam. Both are graduates of Liberty High School and More attended Muhlenberg College before entering the service.
