

Butz, Sterling P.

Area Men Training At Miami Beach Center

MIAMI BEACH, Fla.—Soldiers from the Allentown-Bethlehem area of Pennsylvania who are learning military fundamentals here at Basic Training Centre No. 9 of the Army Air Forces Technical Training Command include:

Pvt. Sterling P. Butz, son of Mrs. Elsie Butz, 17 Apple Alley, West Catasauqua, former chain-up man employed by the Bethlehem Steel Company. A brother, Ernest, is in the Field Artillery.

Pvt. Donald K. Greene, son of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Greene, 318 East Garrison Street, Bethlehem, who also worked in the steel plant.

Pvt. Stephen L. Gycsek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Gycsek, Hellertown, another erstwhile steelworker.

Pvt. Anthony Marino, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Marino, 1007 Linden Street, Bethlehem, also an ex-Bethlehem Steel employe.

Pvt. Clarence B. Overfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Overfield, of Main Street, Mt. Bethel, who formerly was rudder rigger employed by the Glenn L. Martin Company.

Their training here includes drilling, manual of arms, military courtesy, marksmanship, use of the gas mask and physical conditioning. When it is completed most of them will be sent to Air Forces Technical schools to become airplane mechanics, radio operators, aerial gunners, technical clerks and specialists of other types.
