

Nemeth, John J.

1944 Version Of Memorial Day

MAY 29 1944

Shown here aboard a Coast Guard-manned assault transport somewhere in Pacific combat waters is Coast Guardsman John J. Nemeth, electrician's mate third class. He is performing his regular chores today, but is on the alert to man his battle station should general quarters be sounded. Nemeth's home is at 1215 Mechanic Street, Bethlehem. In different settings, this picture is being duplicated all over the world today and throughout industries of this city and vicinity. The fighting man and the working man are paying tribute to those who have gone before in protection of the American way of life.
