

V. F. W. POST 855 FETES
ENSIGN F. E. PINTER Parade Precedes Banquet for Naval Hero at Which 400
 Are Guests

Ensign Pinter Guest of Honor at V. F. W. Affair

Francis E. Pinter, 728 North New Street, ensign in the U. S. Navy, home on furlough following his heroic rescue feat by plane at sea, was entertained at a reception and dinner by Post No. 855, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Tuesday evening in the post home.

The affair was preceded by a parade, in which Ensign Pinter, his father, Betty Grammes Grainger, a friend of Ensign Pinter, returning Post Commander William J. Freille and newly-elected Commander Stephen J. Polenchar, followed the post's drum and bugle corps from the Pinter home to the post home, 337 Brodhead Avenue.

The parade, directed by Musical Director Walter Litsinger, moved south on New Street to Broad Street, west on Broad Street to Main Street, south on Main Street across the Hill-to-Hill bridge to the Five Points, east on Broadway to Fourth Street, east on Fourth Street to Brodhead Avenue, and north on Brodhead Avenue to the post home. Commander Freille took charge of the proceedings in the home, including a series of talks by prominent speakers, and turned them over to Mr. Polenchar. About 400 post members and friends of the naval hero attended the affair.

Ensign Pinter, the first new member of the post out of the present war, told his hosts of his career in the Navy. Mayor Robert Freille, representing the city, Lieut. Com.

cher, Isaac Kaplin, Harry J. Kennedy, Paul E. Karr, James Magar, Melvin V. Mundy, William J. Glade, John L. McGovern, Thomas V. O'Brien, Harry H. Palmer, Bart J. Reynolds, Walter J. Rosensteel, John R. Reed, Charles M. Rinker, Anthony Simmer, Harvey Serfass, Leroy Stewart, Samuel Shive, Ellsworth Seiple, Thomas D. Sewell, Albert O. Selfert, John A. Tomko, Joseph F. Yonik and James F. Zborovsky.

Post No. 855, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was host Tuesday evening at a dinner in honor of Ensign Francis E. Pinter, hero of a rescue at sea. Pictured at the affair are, left to right: In front row, Commander A. J. Wellings, U. S. N., Ensign Pinter, Mrs. Betty Grammes Grainger, Frank Pinter, Ensign's father; Standing, Lt. Commander John R. Craig, U. S. N.; William Freille, retiring post commander; Robert Freille, mayor of Bethlehem; Stephen Polenchar, commander-elect of Post 855; Lt. Leonard E. Smith, U. S. N., stationed at Lehigh University.

John R. Craig, and Commanders A. J. Wellings, the latter two of the U. S. Naval Ordnance Inspection Department of the local plant of the Bethlehem Steel Company, all urged support for the men in service with the nation's armed forces and increased production in the national defense program, after extending greetings to the guest of honor.

Also introduced during the dinner

president, Mrs. Mary Euright, and City Councilmen George J. Tutolo, newly-elected president.

Directed by Mr. Polenchar and

Wear, besides Lieut. Leonard Smith

and a group of U. S. Navy ensigns

arranged by a committee of post

members consisting of Commander

Pfeifle, William B. Rice, Joseph Blit

tting, Charles Chamberlain, William

S. Clewell, William H. Dolan, Ste

phen J. Dodey, Charles E. Frederick,

Francis T. and Joseph S. Haggerty,

and Erwin W. Kincaid. Charles A. Kaer-

Post No. 855, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was host Tuesday evening at a dinner in honor of Ensign Francis E. Pinter, hero of a rescue at sea. Pictured at the affair are, left to right: In front row, Commander A. J. Wellings, U. S. N., Ensign Pinter, Mrs. Betty Grammes Grainger, Frank Pinter, Ensign's father; Standing, Lt. Commander John R. Craig, U. S. N.; William Freille, retiring post commander; Robert Freille, mayor of Bethlehem; Stephen Polenchar, commander-elect of Post 855; Lt. Leonard E. Smith, U. S. N., stationed at Lehigh University.

John R. Craig, and Commanders A. J. Wellings, the latter two of the U. S. Naval Ordnance Inspection Department of the local plant of the Bethlehem Steel Company, all urged support for the men in service with the nation's armed forces and increased production in the national defense program, after extended greetings to the guest of honor.

Also introduced during the dinner

president, Mrs. Mary Euright, and

City Councilmen George J. Tutolo, newly-elected

president.

Directed by Mr. Polenchar and

Wear, besides Lieut. Leonard Smith

and a group of U. S. Navy ensigns

arranged by a committee of post

members consisting of Commander

Pfeifle, William B. Rice, Joseph Blit

tting, Charles Chamberlain, William

S. Clewell, William H. Dolan, Ste

phen J. Dodey, Charles E. Frederick,

Francis T. and Joseph S. Haggerty,

and Erwin W. Kincaid. Charles A. Kaer-

Post No. 855, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was host Tuesday evening at a dinner in honor of Ensign Francis E. Pinter, hero of a rescue at sea. Pictured at the affair are, left to right: In front row, Commander A. J. Wellings, U. S. N., Ensign Pinter, Mrs. Betty Grammes Grainger, Frank Pinter, Ensign's father; Standing, Lt. Commander John R. Craig, U. S. N.; William Freille, retiring post commander; Robert Freille, mayor of Bethlehem; Stephen Polenchar, commander-elect of Post 855; Lt. Leonard E. Smith, U. S. N., stationed at Lehigh University.

John R. Craig, and Commanders A. J. Wellings, the latter two of the U. S. Naval Ordnance Inspection Department of the local plant of the Bethlehem Steel Company, all urged support for the men in service with the nation's armed forces and increased production in the national defense program, after extended greetings to the guest of

honor.

Also introduced during the dinner

president, Mrs. Mary Euright, and

City Councilmen George J. Tutolo, newly-elected

president.

Directed by Mr. Polenchar and

Wear, besides Lieut. Leonard Smith

and a group of U. S. Navy ensigns

arranged by a committee of post

members consisting of Commander

Pfeifle, William B. Rice, Joseph Blit

tting, Charles Chamberlain, William

S. Clewell, William H. Dolan, Ste

phen J. Dodey, Charles E. Frederick,

Francis T. and Joseph S. Haggerty,

and Erwin W. Kincaid. Charles A. Kaer-

Post No. 855, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was host Tuesday evening at a dinner in honor of Ensign Francis E. Pinter, hero of a rescue at sea. Pictured at the affair are, left to right: In front row, Commander A. J. Wellings, U. S. N., Ensign Pinter, Mrs. Betty Grammes Grainger, Frank Pinter, Ensign's father; Standing, Lt. Commander John R. Craig, U. S. N.; William Freille, retiring post commander; Robert Freille, mayor of Bethlehem; Stephen Polenchar, commander-elect of Post 855; Lt. Leonard E. Smith, U. S. N., stationed at Lehigh University.

John R. Craig, and Commanders A. J. Wellings, the latter two of the U. S. Naval Ordnance Inspection Department of the local plant of the Bethlehem Steel Company, all urged support for the men in service with the nation's armed forces and increased production in the national defense program, after extended greetings to the guest of

honor.

Also introduced during the dinner

president, Mrs. Mary Euright, and

City Councilmen George J. Tutolo, newly-elected

president.

Directed by Mr. Polenchar and

Wear, besides Lieut. Leonard Smith

and a group of U. S. Navy ensigns

arranged by a committee of post

members consisting of Commander

Pfeifle, William B. Rice, Joseph Blit

tting, Charles Chamberlain, William

S. Clewell, William H. Dolan, Ste

phen J. Dodey, Charles E. Frederick,

Francis T. and Joseph S. Haggerty,

and Erwin W. Kincaid. Charles A. Kaer-

Post No. 855, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was host Tuesday evening at a dinner in honor of Ensign Francis E. Pinter, hero of a rescue at sea. Pictured at the affair are, left to right: In front row, Commander A. J. Wellings, U. S. N., Ensign Pinter, Mrs. Betty Grammes Grainger, Frank Pinter, Ensign's father; Standing, Lt. Commander John R. Craig, U. S. N.; William Freille, retiring post commander; Robert Freille, mayor of Bethlehem; Stephen Polenchar, commander-elect of Post 855; Lt. Leonard E. Smith, U. S. N., stationed at Lehigh University.

John R. Craig, and Commanders A. J. Wellings, the latter two of the U. S. Naval Ordnance Inspection Department of the local plant of the Bethlehem Steel Company, all urged support for the men in service with the nation's armed forces and increased production in the national defense program, after extended greetings to the guest of

honor.

Also introduced during the dinner

president, Mrs. Mary Euright, and

City Councilmen George J. Tutolo, newly-elected

president.

Directed by Mr. Polenchar and

Wear, besides Lieut. Leonard Smith

and a group of U. S. Navy ensigns

arranged by a committee of post

members consisting of Commander

Pfeifle, William B. Rice, Joseph Blit

tting, Charles Chamberlain, William

S. Clewell, William H. Dolan, Ste

phen J. Dodey, Charles E. Frederick,

Francis T. and Joseph S. Haggerty,

and Erwin W. Kincaid. Charles A. Kaer-

Post No. 855, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was host Tuesday evening at a dinner in honor of Ensign Francis E. Pinter, hero of a rescue at sea. Pictured at the affair are, left to right: In front row, Commander A. J. Wellings, U. S. N., Ensign Pinter, Mrs. Betty Grammes Grainger, Frank Pinter, Ensign's father; Standing, Lt. Commander John R. Craig, U. S. N.; William Freille, retiring post commander; Robert Freille, mayor of Bethlehem; Stephen Polenchar, commander-elect of Post 855; Lt. Leonard E. Smith, U. S. N., stationed at Lehigh University.

John R. Craig, and Commanders A. J. Wellings, the latter two of the U. S. Naval Ordnance Inspection Department of the local plant of the Bethlehem Steel Company, all urged support for the men in service with the nation's armed forces and increased production in the national defense program, after extended greetings to the guest of

honor.

Also introduced during the dinner

president, Mrs. Mary Euright, and

City Councilmen George J. Tutolo, newly-elected

president.

Directed by Mr. Polenchar and

Wear, besides Lieut. Leonard Smith

and a group of U. S. Navy ensigns

arranged by a committee of post

members consisting of Commander

Pfeifle, William B. Rice, Joseph Blit

tting, Charles Chamberlain, William

S. Clewell, William H. Dolan, Ste

phen J. Dodey, Charles E. Frederick,

Francis T. and Joseph S. Haggerty,

and Erwin W. Kincaid. Charles A. Kaer-

Post No. 855, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was host Tuesday evening at a dinner in honor of Ensign Francis E. Pinter, hero of a rescue at sea. Pictured at the affair are, left to right: In front row, Commander A. J. Wellings, U. S. N., Ensign Pinter, Mrs. Betty Grammes Grainger, Frank Pinter, Ensign's father; Standing, Lt. Commander John R. Craig, U. S. N.; William Freille, retiring post commander; Robert Freille, mayor of Bethlehem; Stephen Polenchar, commander-elect of Post 855; Lt. Leonard E. Smith, U. S. N., stationed at Lehigh University.

John R. Craig, and Commanders A. J. Wellings, the latter two of the U. S. Naval Ordnance Inspection Department of the local plant of the Bethlehem Steel Company, all urged support for the men in service with the nation's armed forces and increased production in the national defense program, after extended greetings to the guest of

honor.

Also introduced during the dinner

president, Mrs. Mary Euright, and

City Councilmen George J. Tutolo, newly-elected

president.

Directed by Mr. Polenchar and

Wear, besides Lieut. Leonard Smith

and a group of U. S. Navy ensigns

arranged by a committee of post

members consisting of Commander

Pfeifle, William B. Rice, Joseph Blit

tting, Charles Chamberlain, William

S. Clewell, William H. Dolan, Ste

phen J. Dodey, Charles E. Frederick,

Francis T. and Joseph S. Haggerty,

and Erwin W. Kincaid. Charles A. Kaer-

Post No. 855, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was host Tuesday evening at a dinner in honor of Ensign Francis E. Pinter, hero of a rescue at sea. Pictured at the affair are, left to right: In front row, Commander A. J. Wellings, U. S. N., Ensign Pinter, Mrs. Betty Grammes Grainger, Frank Pinter, Ensign's father; Standing, Lt. Commander John R. Craig, U. S. N.; William Freille, retiring post commander; Robert Freille, mayor of Bethlehem; Stephen Polenchar, commander-elect of Post 855; Lt. Leonard E. Smith, U. S. N., stationed at Lehigh University.

John R. Craig, and Commanders A. J. Wellings, the latter two of the U. S. Naval Ordnance Inspection Department of the local plant of the Bethlehem Steel Company, all urged support for the men in service with the nation's armed forces and increased production in the national defense program, after extended greetings to the guest of

honor.

Also introduced during the dinner

president, Mrs. Mary Euright, and

City Councilmen George J. Tutolo, newly-elected

president.

Directed by Mr. Polenchar and

Wear, besides Lieut. Leonard Smith

and a group of U. S. Navy ensigns

arranged by a committee of post

members consisting of Commander

Pfeifle, William B. Rice, Joseph Blit

tting, Charles Chamberlain, William

S. Clewell, William H. Dolan, Ste

phen J. Dodey, Charles E. Frederick,

Francis T. and Joseph S. Haggerty,

and Erwin W. Kincaid. Charles A. Kaer-

Post No. 855, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was host Tuesday evening at a dinner in honor of Ensign Francis E. Pinter, hero of a rescue at sea. Pictured at the affair are, left to right: In front row, Commander A. J. Wellings, U. S. N., Ensign Pinter, Mrs. Betty Grammes Grainger, Frank Pinter, Ensign's father; Standing, Lt. Commander John R. Craig, U. S. N.; William Freille, retiring post commander; Robert Freille, mayor of Bethlehem; Stephen Polenchar, commander-elect of Post 855; Lt. Leonard E. Smith, U. S. N., stationed at Lehigh University.

John R. Craig, and Commanders A. J. Wellings, the latter two of the U. S. Naval Ordnance Inspection Department of the local plant of the Bethlehem Steel Company, all urged support for the men in service with the nation's armed forces and increased production in the national defense program, after extended greetings to the guest of

honor.

Also introduced during the dinner

president, Mrs. Mary Euright, and

City Councilmen George J. Tutolo, newly-elected

president.

Directed by Mr. Polenchar and

Wear, besides Lieut. Leonard Smith

and a group of U. S. Navy ensigns

arranged by a committee of post

members consisting of Commander

Pfeifle, William B. Rice, Joseph Blit

tting, Charles Chamberlain, William

S. Clewell, William H. Dolan, Ste

phen J. Dodey, Charles E. Frederick,

Francis T. and Joseph S. Haggerty,

and Erwin W. Kincaid. Charles A. Kaer-

Post No. 855, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was host Tuesday evening at a dinner in honor of Ensign Francis E. Pinter, hero of a rescue at sea. Pictured at the affair are, left to right: In front row, Commander A. J. Wellings, U. S. N., Ensign Pinter, Mrs. Betty Grammes Grainger, Frank Pinter, Ensign's father; Standing, Lt. Commander John R. Craig, U. S. N.; William Freille, retiring post commander; Robert Freille, mayor of Bethlehem; Stephen Polenchar, commander-elect of Post 855; Lt. Leonard E. Smith, U. S. N., stationed at Lehigh University.

John R. Craig, and Commanders A. J. Wellings, the latter two of the U. S. Naval Ordnance Inspection Department of the local plant of the Bethlehem Steel Company, all urged support for the men in service with the nation's armed forces and increased production in the national defense program, after extended greetings to the guest of

honor.

Also introduced during the dinner

president, Mrs. Mary Euright, and

City Councilmen George J. Tutolo, newly-elected

president.

Directed by Mr. Polenchar and

Wear, besides Lieut. Leonard Smith