FOREWORD

At a time when the class of nineteen hundred and forty-three is graduated into a world of conflict, strife, defeat, and victory, the Cauldron has chosen for its theme a patriotic hymn, "The American Prayer." It is our hope that throughout the years spent at Liberty High School you have mustered the pertinent qualifications necessary to take your places as fighting sons of freedom so that—

"This earth will be like Heaven, Peaceful and bright."

Senior Assembly

 Second row: Helen Kila, Elva Dollar, Doris Moyer, Jeanne McCorkell, Lucille Herstine, Helen Duma, Dorothy Kleppinger, Jacqueline Roman, Anita Silfies.

The Senior Assembly met with the class advisers, Miss Evelyn Luckey and Mr. Frank Kernan, to discuss and vote upon all business introduced by the advisers, officers, or homeroom representatives.

The representatives conducted meetings in their homerooms to vote upon various financial matters or other important class matters which had been taken up during a senior assembly meeting. The class voted on class diplomas, announcements, and dues.

The Assembly sponsored well-attended pep dances and sold season tickets for the wrestling meets. On March 11 and March 23, the assembly sponsored two basketball games in which the feature attraction of the afternoon was the Senior Class All Stars pitted against the Faculty luminaries.

One of the outstanding activities was a Christmas Dance held on December 23, in the gymnasium, which was decorated with greens and lighted trees. At this dance, on behalf of the class, the Assembly presented Mr. Sinclair Chiles, a former adviser of the class, with a gift before his departure for the United States Navy.

The Assembly, along with the officers and advisers, selected the graduation gowns and determined the dues for both the T. T. G.'s and the senior class.

 Second row: Margaret Kadoich, Jane Hilaire, Anthony Ortwein, Stanley Gillen, Joseph Groeger, Ray McCandless, Daniel Bryant, Ann Florance, Owen Sheriff, Mary Jane Rush, Regina Arawjo.

"Incognito," a thrilling mystery drama in three acts, was presented by the Senior Class December 4 and 5, 1942, under the direction of Misses Mary Crow and Sally Ann Geissinger.

The entire action of the play took place aboard the pleasure liner S. S. Imperial in the summer of 1941. The murderer of a German spy, Eric Jagendorf, had to be apprehended, and nine women were held as suspects. The surprise ending swooped the audience.

It was fast moving, exciting, and held the public's attention every minute. "Incognito" will long be remembered as one of the outstanding Senior Class plays ever produced in Liberty High School.

The Cauldron Staff

Second row: Miss Frances R. McGettigan, adviser; Anita Silfies, Richard Emrey, Mary Reynolds, Dorothy Kleppinger, Elizabeth Weiss.

After an early election of a staff, the editing of the 1943 Cauldron began with the selection of its theme, The American Prayer. Miss Frances R. McGettigan, acting as adviser, Dick Smith, the Editor-in-Chief, and Daniel Bryant, the Managing Editor, established the staff room in Room 312. Associate Editors Rita Clayton and Joyce Ritz were soon busy collecting data concerning their Senior classmates. Mary Reynolds, the Activity Editor, and Anita Silfies, the Feature Editor, began compiling statistics of the many clubs and Senior personalities. The Sports Editors, Irene Frankenfield and Dick Emrey, could be seen scurrying about the halls, seeking the various coaches for information to be used in their section of the yearbook; while Dorothy Kleppinger, the Photographic Editor, hid behind doors and desks to snap informal pictures of teachers and students. Art Editor, Elisabeth Weiss quickly obtained a drawing pen and ink and started work on the sketches which now appear in the book. Irene Novak, our efficient Business Manager, kept in close contact with the various clubs and other organizations which desired to be represented. Soon the busy hum of typewriters could be heard as the typists, Gladys Blank, Anna Chupella, Margaret Gal, and Jeannette Prevelige, organized the material for publication and soon everyone knew that the 1943 Cauldron was in production.

SCHOOL LIFE

"The meeting will come to order." These are the familiar words heard every Thursday after school in Room 304. You guessed it! It's the Art Club, under the direction of Miss Hazel Ressler.

An art contest of pictures submitted by Liberty High students was sponsored by the Art Club. After much deliberation, a water color by Foster Lapp was awarded first prize.

Many exhibits, including those of famous American artists, pictures of Jerry Quiers, and many photos by the Bethlehem Photography Club have been arranged for by the Art Club.

The club also attended several exhibits at Lehigh University.

Jerry Quier, Garth Howland, and Mr. Hyle gave illustrated lectures on pastel technique, famous American artists, and textile paints, respectively.

The staging for "Incognito," the senior play, which was one of the best in years, was created by the Art Club. Close on the heels of the play, came the Christmas Vespers which meant more work; but the Art Club is accustomed to that. Miss Gibson supervised the make-up, and the Vespers were a great success.

This club, however, can relax and have fun, which fact was proved by the party and picnic when everyone had a marvelous time.

If you would happen on the stage about 7:30 on Friday morning, you would undoubtedly find the Stage Crew.

The Senior Play was the first chance the crew had for real work. Let's trace the group in its staging of "Incognito."

For weeks ahead of time and right up to the last minute, it rushes around to complete the stagings. While over in one corner some patch and fix the flats, others high on ladders, and still others on the floor on their knees paint and repaint the finished flats. After everything is ready for the production, the cleaning-up process is begun. This includes scrubbing the floor and cleaning the electrical room. After this task is completed, the interior of the luxury liner, "Imperial," is ready for occupancy. Thus, with the finishing touches added, senior play is ready for an audience.

This is only one illustration of the type of work for which the stage crew is noted.

Soon after the excitement was over and everybody quieted down, the Christmas Vespers came along and it started all over again.

Although the work is hard and there are some mumbles and groans heard and backaches frequent, the Stage Crew admits that it did have fun.

The Commercial Club, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Julia Baum Blumberg, has done much this year to give its members a better view of the business world. Mrs. Blumberg has obtained the services of prominent businessmen who gave the club members much valuable information. Some of the speakers were Mr. Strohmeier, assistant general manager of the Laros Silk Company, and Mr. Daniel Smith, assistant cashier of the First National Bank.

This year the club members rendered their services to aid in the issuance of War Ration Book Two. Several club members have been helping with the filing at the local ration board office.

We've been working our way through high school! Who? The "Distributive Education" class of 1943. Following in the footsteps of the pioneer group of last year, we have spent fifteen hours a week in school and at least that number of hours in various local stores.

Our class numbered fifteen. However, since our two boys decided that Uncle Sam needed them more than we did, they are now serving in the armed forces—that accounts for the service flag proudly hanging on the door of Room 2.

Three hours of school work every morning gave us the groundwork for our jobs in the study of merchandise, salesmanship, personal development, English, arithmetic, and general store problems, with frequent speakers and demonstrations. Then, after leaving in a flurry of haste, we reported to work for actual experience—and what experiences some of us had!

Included in our course were trips taken to nearby stores to see various store operations, to factories to see processes in the manufacture of merchandise, a tour of Bethlehem points of interest, and an all-day trip to New York.

Now that we have come to the end of our high school days, we salute the future "D. E." class of '44, and bequeath them happy memories.

Marchons! Marchons! qu'un sang impur abreuve nos sillons! Thus, with the singing of La Marseillaise, another meeting of Le Cercle Francais ended in the usual manner.

In order that the members might receive a cultural background of French life, the typical program included reports on Claude Debussy, famous French composer, and Rosalie Marie Banheur, French painter. A Question Bee provided an opportunity for learning to speak French more fluently. Since no program can be complete without humor, skits were presented and songs sung. Several members presented an amusing episode Chez le Dentiste, in which the dentist (butcher?) roughly extracted the wrong tooth from the screaming patient (victim) while the nurse comforted him with soothing French phrases.

The members believe that the spirit of the true France is still alive, and their motto might well be that of a Fighting France, "Vive La France Libre!"

The German Club was organized late in September under the leadership of Miss Muriel Wilson, the club adviser. All the members are third year German students.

The programs for the meetings, held every month, were prepared by various committees. German songs, talks by the members, and games featured the meetings. The entire meeting was conducted in German.

In February, due to a change of teacher, Miss Ruth Blessing became the adviser of the club.

Miss Wilson held a Koffeklatsch for the club at her home the first Sunday in February.

Plans were made for a picnic to be held in the latter part of May.

The third and fourth year Latin Club spent a very interesting and profitable year under the supervision of Miss Evelyn Luckey.

Each month a group of three pupils arranged and conducted the meeting.

Some of the interesting presentations at the meetings have included the playing of games, the singing of Latin songs, talks on the customs and social life of the Romans, and a Christmas party at which the play, "Saturnalia," was given. It was written and conducted by Marjorie Zable and Mimi Gilchrist. In June a party was held.

The members of the social committee were Maurine Torell, Anne Florance, Agnes Golab, Barbara Ross, and Ann Ulrich. They took charge of the refreshments which were served at the parties.

Vox Latinae, the Latin club of the first and second year Latin students, was under the supervision of Miss Evelyn Luckey. The club met the first Friday of every month in Room 119.

A different committee had charge of the planning of the programs each month. Features of the meetings were quizzes on ancient mythology, contests, talks on ancient heroes, Latin games, skits, and group singing in Latin.

There was a permanent social committee including Fred Kalmbach, Chairman; Patricia Harmon, Audrey Kirchman, and Marjorie Sellers. This group arranged refreshments for the Christmas party, the Valentine meeting, and the party held before the close of school.

The Christmas party was held on a Friday evening. Susannah Weaver and Jeanne Heller wrote a skit about the Saturnalia, which the members of the club dramatized. Games, Christmas gifts, and "eats" were highlights of the party.

“Saludos y adios” to another successful year of the Spanish Club!

The aim of the Spanish Club this year was to learn more about the countries in which Spanish is spoken and to acquire a better understanding of the Spanish language. This aim has been carried out through the diversified programs we have enjoyed at our regular meetings.

A number of Spanish songs have been sung and enjoyable Spanish dialogues have been presented.

Our work in the club has helped to increase the students' knowledge of our Southern neighbors. All of us enjoyed participating in these activities, and we are looking forward to another year of contact with the culture of Latin America.

The purpose of the newly organized History Club is to better the members' understanding of the complicated situation now taking place, and to familiarize them more adequately with American History.

In order to accomplish this, several trips have been made to local universities and colleges. One trip was made to Lehigh University, where the members visited the library, art gallery, and the treasury room. The other trip was made to Moravian College, where the members were shown through the famous Archives building. Many famous old books, Moravian portraits, and manuscripts were viewed.

Speakers have been brought in to aid the members in acquiring a broader conception of present-day conditions. Some of the activities of the club include special reports, debates and quiz programs. The faculty advisers are Mr. Joseph J. McIntyre and Mr. James L. Harkins.

Liberty Life started its second year with an entirely new staff with Frank Lewis as Editor-in-Chief. The size of the newspaper was increased with six-page issues for special occasions. New articles were inaugurated and a variety of pictures, heretofore forbidden, were introduced.

The staff of the paper was a credit to our school at a newspaper conference at Central Catholic High School, Allentown, Pa., at which time they had charge of an open-forum, discussing "Propaganda versus News." Those participating were Frank Lewis, Mimi Gilchrist, Marian Finkelstein, Erna Lutz, Gladys Person, and Stanley Gillen. Erna Lutz summarized the discussion at the general assembly which followed the forum.

At the inauguration of the new war-time schedule, an editorial room was furnished for school-time work. At this time a change in editorship was made with James Halkins and Erna Lutz as co-editors, and Regina Arawjo as co-feature editor.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Randt, the Library Club again concluded a most successful year of activity.

The two-fold aim of the club has been to acquaint its members with the value and use of books, and indirectly to serve as a guide in fostering an interest in Library Science as a vocation.

Meetings were held in the Library after school on the first Friday of each month. The business session was followed by a period of entertainment stressing books, literature, library procedures, or some other appropriate field. During the year reports were given on several of the new books, and each month a contest was given, based on books, authors, or characters from books.

Some of the members had practical experience in library procedures, assisting the librarian in some of the routine duties, such as charging and discharging books at the desk, shelving books, preparing books for cataloging, etc.

In November, the club again sponsored the annual Book Week Contests. Miss Graham, winner of the faculty contest, chose as her award the book, "Our American Music," by Howard. The student award, "This Is My Best," edited by Burnett, went to Elsa Heilbronn.

Social events consisted of a Christmas Dance in the high school gymnasium, and a St. Patrick's Day party.

Plans were made for two field trips—one to the Bethlehem Globe-Times, and one to the Lehigh University Library.

The second Tuesday of every month finds a very feminine group of writers gathered in Room 218 for a busy hour. Anyone passing the door and peeping through the keyhole will probably see a very earnest person reading from a manuscript to an entranced audience. If the "peeping Tom" waits long enough, he will soon hear the attack. Criticism and compliments fly back and forth at a furious tempo, for when Scribblers like something or find something which they think quite good, they are very certain to let it be known.

Under the able supervision of Miss Mary Crow, the Scribblers have come to the end of another active year. They have contributed to the annual Scholastic Literary Contest. The members have also participated in the American Legion Contest and the State Essay Contest commemorating the two hundredth birthday of Thomas Jefferson. This year, three of Scribblers' members have gained recognition and have been represented in print. A poem by Marjorie Zable will soon be printed on the Round Table page of Scholastic Magazine. Eleanor Fehnel won honorable mention in a Scholastic essay contest on "What Is Your Biggest Problem?" For the second consecutive year, Bernadine Ziegler has won a prize in the American Legion Essay Contest.

All work and no play is by no means the Scribblers' motto. Before sending off their contributions to the Scholastic Literary Contest, they invited their English teachers to a tea. At this informal gathering, the girls gained the opinions and criticisms of their instructors. At the end of each school year, a picnic is held at Illick's Mill, during which time friendships are renewed with those who have already graduated.

Scribblers' own magazine called Scribblings was produced again this year. The best works of the year were chosen and printed by the club members. It is entirely their own product, an account of what they, as writers in embryo, have been writing, planning, and creating.

During the past scholastic year, Societas Honoris, honorary debating society of Liberty High School, has enjoyed a very successful season of forensic activities. The year was initiated with intensive preparations on the question: "Resolved, that the cooperatives, as based on the Rochdale principles, are the most practical approach to solving our economic problems."

As a member of the Lehigh Valley Interscholastic League, the club participated in two debating tournaments, one of which was held at Catasauqua on March fifth, and the other of which was held at Whitehall on March nineteenth. The latter part of the year was devoted to club activities emphasizing forums, panel discussions, and various types of debating. The highlights of the social season were a Parent's Night on April nineteenth and an informal dance on May fourteenth.

The adviser of the club was Mr. Charles A. Klein.

Under the excellent direction of Mr. Joseph Ricapito, the 1942-43 Liberty High School Band has lived up to the reputation built by former Bethlehem bands.

The band had a busy season last fall playing for all the home football games. The formations this year were a little different from other years. Each week a certain branch of the armed forces was honored with a formation and the playing of its service song. The band also played for the Community Chest banquet at the Hotel Bethlehem, and for High School Night, which was held for the purpose of honoring the high school football team and band, at Emmanuel Evangelical Congregational Church. During the winter season, the band also played for the home basketball games.

At the beginning of February, it was doubtful whether Dr. Edwin Franko Goldman and his son, Mr. Richard Franko Goldman, would be able to come to Bethlehem to appear with our band. Therefore, the annual concert was held on February 25, 1943. Later, Mr. Ricapito was informed that the famed musical family would honor the band by appearing in a concert on April 30, 1943.

This year, Bethlehem High's Orchestra was an excellent one, despite its diminished size. With Mr. Ricapito as conductor, it gained the applause of everyone who heard it.

The orchestra gave its first performance when it played several selections for the Mothers' Club on November 16. It gave its initial public appearance at the Senior Play.

At the Christmas Vesper Service, the orchestra again took the part as accompanist to the Glee Club. In addition, it performed at Baccalaureate and Commencement exercises.

The result of much hard and conscientious practice was witnessed by a large audience at the annual concert on March 25, 1943. An unusual feature of the concert was the rendition of an original composition by a former student of Liberty High School, Richard Artis, who composed an "Overture in D Major" which was well received by those in attendance. The "Liberty 12" rendered five excellent numbers.

But indeed all work (even if it is playing in the orchestra) and no play makes Jack a dull boy. Therefore, the members of the Band and Orchestra cast aside all seriousness and came forth in fancy dress for a wonderful time at the Hallowe'en party and the Christmas party.

Early in June, the parents once more joined the children at Willow Park for the annual picnic.

The Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs, under the direction of Miss Marion B. Graham and Mrs. Van Dora M. Fitch, have had an exceptionally active year.

In addition to appearing in chapel regularly, they presented a diversified Thanksgiving program and a splendid Christmas vesper service. The joint groups combined with the band for the concert on April 30, at which time, Edwin Franko Goldman appeared as guest conductor.

A departure from the usual procedure was made in the presentation of the climatic feature of the year's work. In lieu of an operetta, an unusual feature was presented on May 21, consisting of choral work and dance routines.

The combined work of the two clubs has been interspersed with frequent appearances of the novelty groups composed of club members. The Triple Trio, consisting of Betty Prokop, Patsy Ross, Jeanne Clause, Polly Bruch, Betty Haldaman, Gladys Walton, Rita Clayton, Mildred Coburn and Marjorie Richards, sang at the opening of the Victory Garden Campaign and at the U. S. O. housewarming at Pembroke Village. They were accompanied by Susannah Weaver and Corinne Carwile. The Hi-Y Octette composed of Constantine Georgiadis, Richard Speck, Harlan Hinkle, Donald Drumheller, Robert Bieber, Randall Johnson, Robert Standing, John Crooks with Corinne Carwile as accompanist sang for the Father-Son Dinner held in March. The "Liberty 12," including June Fluck, Bernadine Mills, Irene Wukovits, Anita Silfies, Doris Warg, Betty Miller, Cornelia Faga, Robert Bieber, Robert Standing, Melvin Peters, John Crooks, Donald Drumheller, Harlan Hinkle, Harold Ziegenfuss, and Douglas Erich, appeared in all the public high schools and junior high schools in this vicinity, as well as at the Odd Fellows, Christ Reformed Church, Bethany Reformed, and in a program in conjunction with the orchestra at its concert on March 25.

The Melody Singers, comprising Robert Lee, William Gunn, John Myers, Jr., Donald Watson, and Calvin Wallace, have had an unusually busy season. A number of their public appearances at community functions include the Kiwanis Club, the Monarch Club and the Southern Society.

Both the boys' and the girls' glee clubs presented programs at the school-home meetings in February and March.

The George Ellstrom Aeronautics Club of Liberty High School was founded in September of 1942. It endeavored to familiarize the group with the opportunities available to them in this expanding field of science.

On March 3, 1943, the club conducted a chapel program whose theme was, "The Past, the Present, and the Future of Aviation." Pete Lukehart, Daniel Conahan, and Philip Cassara presented reports on the various changes representative of each period. At this time, the link trainer, which was built by some of the club's members, was also displayed. The student body was also told what the mysterious "Winged Nineteen" meant. This symbol was part of a greatly publicized square dance, which the club introduced to the school on March 19, in the gym, with Hawk's orchestra furnishing the music and calling the figures for a merry evening of square and modern dancing.

The club also sponsored a series of moving pictures on aeronautics to help the war effort. In addition, the group appointed a committee to write to as many as possible of the former students of Liberty High School now in the armed forces of our country.

The Biology Club was reorganized in September with Mr. R. Thomas Hutchinson as faculty adviser. Membership was limited to those who had or were studying second year Biology. The aim of the club was to acquaint its members with the newest scientific discoveries, and to show through experiments and speeches, the advancement of science.

During the course of the year some of the newest equipment in the scientific field was demonstrated. The seoscope, an instrument used for magnifying microscopic objects on a screen was among them. The kymograph, an instrument used for recording nervous impulses, and high power lenses were also demonstrated.

Because of the limited traveling facilities, the club was unable to visit the universities and hospitals as it had heretofore done; but in May, the club went to Franklin Institute in Philadelphia. Even though the members did not actually learn at first hand what the different institutions were doing toward the advancement of science, they did learn through study and experiment those new discoveries which are greatly aiding the medical world.

Although most of the year was devoted to work, the club took time out for pleasure. Several parties and a most successful dance were held.

The Chemistry Club, which has been in organization only two years, resumed its activities this year. Under the leadership of Mr. Nagy and Mr. Stettler, the new chemistry teacher, many interesting and educational meetings were held. Membership in the club is restricted to students exhibiting an interest in chemistry.

A slide on the subject, "The Principles of Chemistry," comprised one interesting meeting. Some subjects studied by certain students were drinks, cosmetics, plastics, food, inks and stains, and anti-freezes. This year the Chemistry Club has been especially interested in the war-time program. They have also gone into analytic procedures.

In the second semester, because of the change of the school schedule, the Chemistry Club was organized as an eighth period war class.

The Nature Study Club, under the supervision of Mr. Warren Horne, crafts instructor, was formed in order to impart and create a knowledge and sincere appreciation of nature in its members. It familiarizes students with the work of horticulturists, landscape gardeners, botanists, ornithologists, zoologists, and nature counsellors at summer camps.

The club meets in room 303 for indoor meetings during winter months, and for the fall and spring meetings, the group takes field trips.

Each member responded to the roll call with some natural phenomenon he had observed, heard, or read about since the previous meeting. Many interesting and well prepared lectures were given during the indoor meetings. Field trips were taken to Lehigh University Campus, Lehigh University Aboretum, and "Lookout Point" in Sayre Park, Saucon Park, Illick's Mill, Nisky Hill Cemetery, and Willow Park.

The group also made a thorough study of the trees and shrubbery on the school grounds. A special study of the leaves of trees and shrubs was made in the fall.

The club was divided into five special interest groups which were changed every three months to give all the members their benefits. The groups were the Charm School, the Vocations Group, the Hobbies Group, the Social Service Group, and the Dramatics Group. Each group had its individual meetings every other Friday. At the end of the month, there was a large meeting of all the groups.

Some of the social functions of the club were the Cinderella Ball, a party for the needy children of the Children's Home, and a Christmas party at school.

Seven club members and the advisers, Miss Irene Diehl, and Miss Dorothy McCandless, attended the Girl Reserves Conference at Wilkes-Barre.

This year the Hi-Y held its annual candlelight induction service for new members at the Wesley M. E. Church at the beginning of October.

Fourteen of the club's members and Mr. Dando, the club's adviser, attended the Older Boys' Conference held this year at Lancaster, Pennsylvania. The club was honored at the Conference by the election of Richard Smith, one of the club's members who attended, to the position of first Vice-President of the Conference.

The club has taken several field trips to local points of interest. At the meetings, discussions on many important subjects have taken place. The club has also been active in rendering its services to the school. The members have acted as ushers for many of the programs which were held by the school. A basketball team was organized by the club.

In March the Annual Father and Son Banquet was held. At the banquet, Randall Johnson, a member of the club, gave a "Toast to the Dads." Mr. Fischel served as the club's adviser in the absence of Mr. Dando, who was taken ill.

The Junior Red Cross Club met every Tuesday in Room 204 with Miss Annie Hemsath to make garments and useful articles for army camps and hospitals. The group also knitted clothing for needy people in European countries and at home.

Some of the articles made by the members of the club are utility bags for army camps, shoe cloths for these utility bags, bedroom slippers, lap robes, sweaters for hospitals, and sweaters, scarfs, beanies, and mittens for local needy people. The articles were labeled, assembled, and packed and then sent to the Red Cross office in this city. From that point, they were sent to the places where they were urgently needed.

Once a month the club had a business meeting to discuss any matters of current importance with the President, Betty Bunte, presiding.

Under the able guidance of Mrs. John Beacher and Miss Mary Hunsicker, the new faculty adviser, the Personality Plus Club, whose members are all enrolled in a Home Economics course, resumed activities.

This year the club paid special attention to the war effort. A "scrap-scavenger hunt" was held to collect scrap, and a Wartime Rally with other clubs was given.

Two very interesting speakers were our guests. Mrs. Ann Bowman spoke on wartime nutrition, and Miss Dorothy Landis spoke on metal jewelry.

The annual Sweetheart Dance, the most awaited social event of the season, was held February the twelfth. At this time, Virginia Noll was crowned as the Personality Sweetheart. Her attendants were Rita Clayton, Doris Savastio, Mary Casciano, and Elva Dollar.

A tea was given for the mothers of all the members to close a most enjoyable and happy year.

HAIL THE CHAMPIONS !!!

This season the Bethlehem "Red Hurricane" gathered together all its destructive forces and swept through to become champions of the "Big Fifteen." Coach Butler developed a team which was considered by sports writers and fans as the most powerful in the state. Many of our stalwarts gained births on the All-State grid team.

Head coach "Johnny" Butler was ably supported by his assistant coaches "Jodie" McLernon, "Snooky" Hudak, "Jack" Conti, and "Johnny" Howard. Other essentials to the championship squad were Charlie Lease, Harry Schuler, Doc Fredericks, trainers; Jim Snell and "Reds" Diehl, managers.

By the first day of school, the squad had been selected, and the boys started a strenuous routine of calisthenics and scrimmage, which was to produce an effective machine that would outwit, outlast, outplay, and outcharge any "enemy" that dared to threaten our chances of ultimate victory.

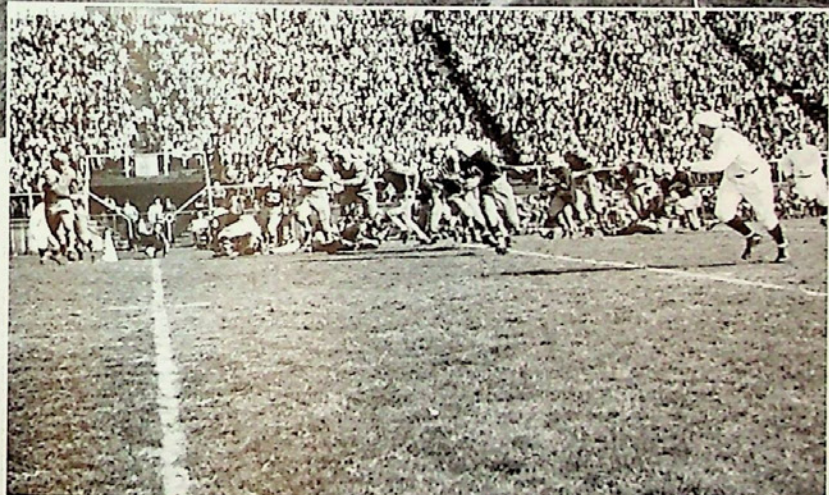

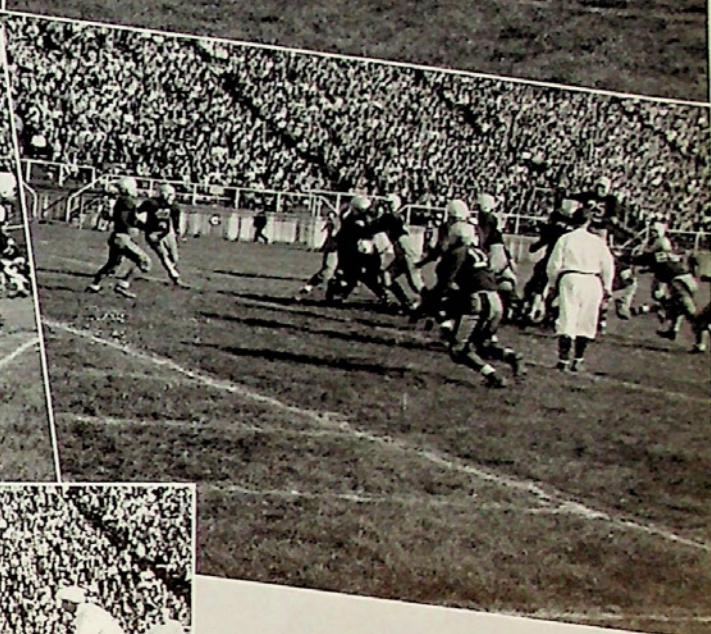

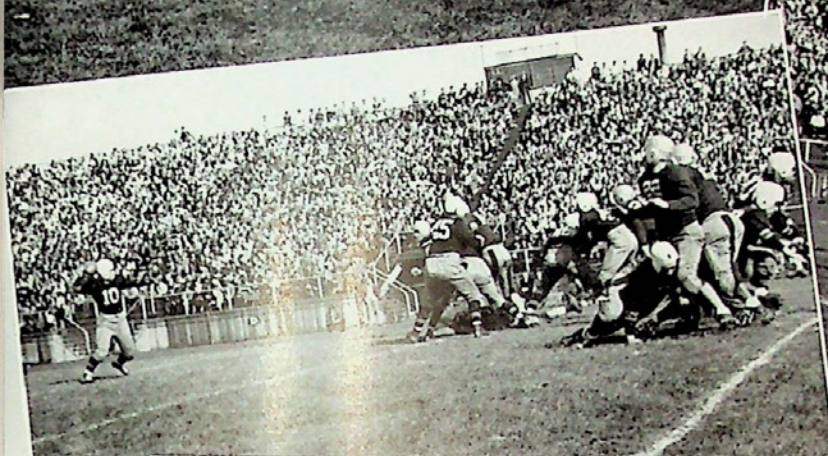

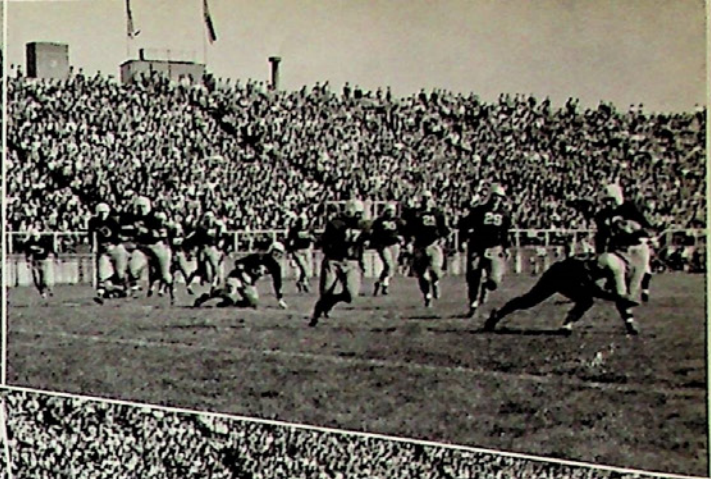

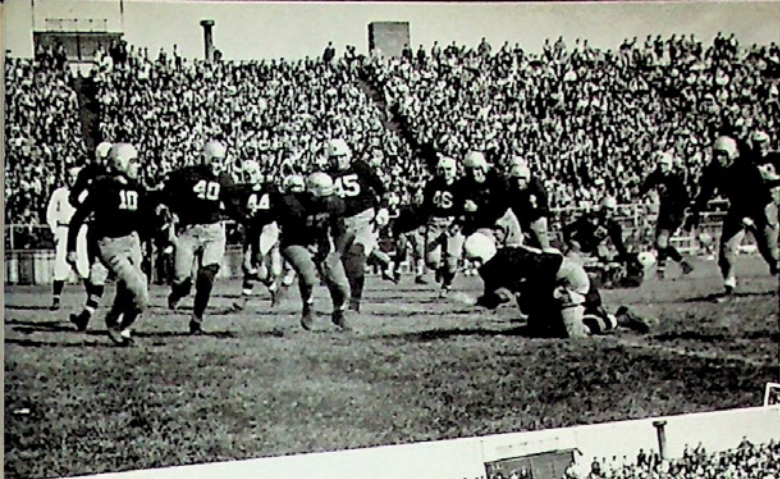

With such able leaders and a team of cooperative young men, the Red and Blue seemed headed for a successful year as the first game opened.

Sporting a strong veteran team, as well as a conference threat, Sunbury came to the Steel City with the hope of subduing the future champs. The first half saw the challengers, sparked by Leo Balestrine, out ahead by 13 points. The second half produced the Hurricane that was to pile up victory after victory—and Sunbury's ultimate success was jeopardized as 8,000 fans saw an attack led by Bill Krasnai, Jim Case, and Mike Perlo, knot up the final score 13-13.

The Blitzkrieg had started; and Coach Butler's boys, looking like a well-seasoned team, came up against a fighting, but completely outclassed Roxborough eleven. In spite of the spectacular efforts of a young colored boy, John Straushter, who carried the pigskin more often than the combined efforts of his teammates and did, by far, most of the tackling. Bill Krasnai led the Red and Blue to victory. After being held scoreless in the third period, the Hurricane smashed through in the last period to pile up the astonishing score of 45-0.

An easy victory, which was expected, did not materialize. On a field that closely resembled a swimming pool, the Red and Blue half waded, half swam to a touchdown in the first period. The Red Knights of Reading with severity and determination,

Perlo carries the pigskin against John Harris.

pushed the home team back, and we found ourselves behind for the first time since the Sunbury game. Another Hurricane drive in the third period proved fatal to the boys from Reading. In spite of an unusually large number of fumbles, the Red and Blue came through to a 12-7 victory.

Still enjoying a surge of victories, the Red and Blue prepared for an invasion by the Red Rovers of Easton High. As 12,000 anxious fans looked on, Bethlehem gained only 7 points in the first quarter. Fleetfooted Ralph Powell then led his teammates in a mighty offensive that was halted just as the half ended. The third period was nip and tuck, with each team holding its own. Bill Krasni, Jim Case, and Mike Perlo again led the attack that had proved fatal to the other team, rolling up a final score of 20-0.

Another field day came for our team as the Capital eleven of John Harris High marched on the field on October third. With Jim Case heading the attack, we ran up 40 points, but the entrance of the subs resulted in a John Harris touchdown. The final score was Bethlehem 40; John Harris 6.

The trip to Pottsville to meet what Coach Butler considered Bethlehem's first tough team turned out to be a complete rout of the Crimson and White squad. Depending more than ever before on passing, the powerful backfield of the Red Hurricane walked over the Pottsville eleven; and we saw our first string head for the showers before the half ended. Hazing was common and such remarks as "Put the Coach in!" and "Dirty Steelworkers!" were not unusual outbursts from the opponent's stands. In spite of a lack of sportsmanship on the part of the crowd, a clean and exciting game was played with Bethlehem winning 38-0.

The first three periods of the Hazleton game found the Hurricane slowed down to a gentle zephyr, and the Mountaineers, under the able leadership of Hunk Moran, were leading the Red and Blue 12-0. In the final minutes of the game, realizing that this game might decide the conference, the Hurricane again raged. Unleashing a well coordinated ground offensive which drove Hazleton back first 67 yards and then 61 yards, the Hurricane subdued its stock rivals 14-12; thus writing finis to one of the most important games of the year.

Pre-game newspaper articles played up the Phillipsburg game as the biggest high school event of its type in the East. Although the Red Hurricane was not at its height of velocity, it outplayed the Garnet and Gray throughout most of the game. An unfortunate fumble in the last five minutes of play put the Bethlehem boys on edge and set the steamroller of P-burg High into action. Reeling and plunging, Captain Judson put the ball over that last white stripe that spelled a 7-0 loss for the Bethlehem boys.

A reappearance of the old spirit and fight that had pulled Bethlehem through thick and thin up to the P-burg game was present when the Red and Blue ran on to a cool and windy field to meet Shamokin High. The conference was in the balance and to the victor would go the spoils. In spite of strong resistance and fierce charges, the Greyhounds went down to defeat. Wild Bill Krasnai led the Hurricane to victory by scoring four touchdowns—making the final tally 26-0.

With the exception of a muddy field, Thanksgiving Day, 1942, was a perfect day for football—and a crowd of 12,000 spectators saw the Red and Blue of Bethlehem march to a touchdown in the first few minutes of play. The dogfight that ensued was typical of any clash between such arch rivals as these. The Canaries, who were slightly outplayed during the greater part of the game, showed a wonderful surge of strength in the final minutes. An aerial attack, the like of which had not been seen during the season, took the Allentonians down the field to a touchdown, nosing out the clock by two seconds, and making the score a 7-7 deadlock.

Coach: William G. Stark

First row: R. Salgado, McKinnon, C. King, Nocek, Silva, Amelio, R. King, Asber, P. Salgado, Evans, Manager.
 Second row: Coach Stark, Unger, Betz, Gomez, Gonzalez, Garcia, Fulmer, Konkolies, Holytock, Scheaffer, Wack, Manager.

Transportation difficulties this year were a source of great concern in the soccer schedules of the various sectional teams. Bethlehem's first two games with Springfield and Reading, respectively, were cancelled.

The soccerites, under the able direction of Coach Stark, finally tangled with Reading on Tuesday, October 9, but were defeated by a 4-1 score. In their second contest, waged against Hellertown, the Liberty booters came up with their first victory 1-0. Continuing the form which was characteristic of former Liberty soccer teams, the "booters" encountered Upper Darby High on October 20 and scored a 3-1 decision over the "Main Line" crew. On Friday, October 23, Sylva, Bethlehem's center forward, paced the team's attack against Hellertown as Liberty won 2-0. Once again on Friday, October 30, Sylva was the outstanding booter, scoring three out of the four points to defeat East Stroudsburg, 4-1. Asher made the other goal for Bethlehem. On November 6, Sylva paced Bethlehem against East Stroudsburg, emerging victorious with a score of 3-1. The Bethlehem High soccer team ended its season on Friday, November 13 on the Reading High field, by battling to a 1-1 tie. Sylva scored early in the first half, but after the intermission, Dick Ervin took over and booted it through the uprights to give Reading its point of the afternoon.

Basketball

Coach: Joseph Preletz

First row: Yochum, Gasdaska, Koscis, DiAngelis, Messies, Correll, Coleman, Calvo, Kozo.
Second row: Lobb, DeDonato, Bednarik, Fraley, Check, Watson, Troxell, assistant coach; Preletz, coach.

The 1942-1943 basketball season was the most successful in many a year at Liberty High School. With a record of sixteen wins and three defeats—all at the hands of Hazleton—we have reason to be proud of the team.

Starting like a house afire, the Bethlehem quintet won the first half championship of the East Penn League with ease and also took five independent games. The league victories included a 38-32 victory over Allentown, and a lopsided 60-30 victory over Hazleton—both on our court. At this time the Bethlehem hopes for an undefeated season were given a sudden jolt because of the graduation of Ed. Hoch and the ineligibility of Al. Saemmer.

The second half was opened with a 33-32 victory over Allentown at the Little Palestra. This was the first time Bethlehem had beaten them on their home court in over a decade. Following two more victories, Bethlehem lost its first game of the season, a 43-41 drubbing at the hands of Hughie McGeehan's Mountaineers at Hazleton. Starting all over, Bethlehem took their next three games and ended in a tie with Hazleton for first place. This brought on a playoff for the championship.

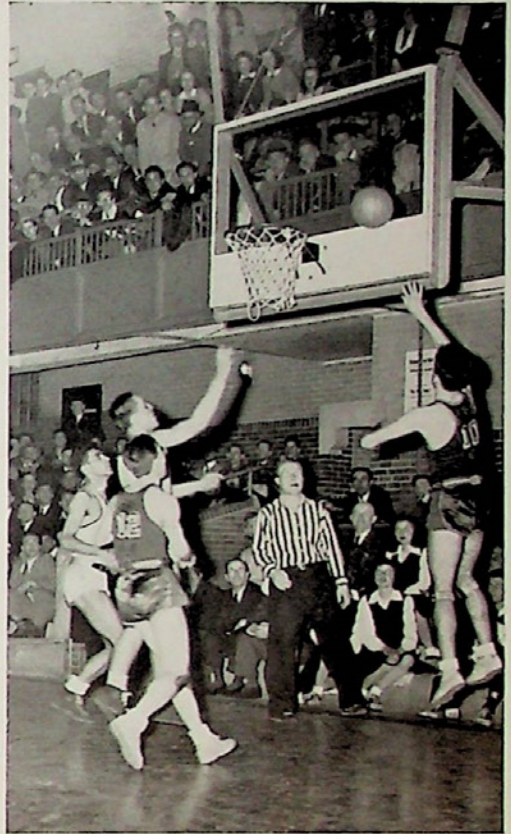

The first playoff was a very close game which was won by Hazleton by a 46-43 score. Because of Hazleton's victory, which netted them the second half title, a playoff game for the league championship was held. In this final game, with Bethlehem holding a two-point lead in the closing seconds, Hazleton tied it and went on to win a 36-35 overtime victory.

This ended Bethlehem's season, but we have reason to be jubilant of the fine record of the team. Scoring honors for the year went to George Gasdaska, diminutive forward, who was closely followed by Charlie Bednarik, tall rangy center. Al. Saemmer who played only ten games gained fourth place by virtue of his 130 points, an average of thirteen per game.

Wrestling

Coach: William G. Stark

First row: Zavis, Casilio, Williams, McKinnon, O'Leary.
 Second row: Coach Stark, Amelio, Thevenet, Unangst, captain; Artis, Day, Czakany.

The Bethlehem boys launched their season with a decisive 29-16 victory over Abington High. All the Bethlehem lads, with the exception of Captain Unangst, wrestled their first varsity bout.

Traveling to Forty-Fort January 23, the Liberty lads, in a thrilling and closely contested meet, dropped a 25-14 verdict.

Wednesday, January 27, found the Liberty grapplers showing the rafters to the Washington, New Jersey boys and defeating them by a 22-17 score.

The Red and Blue waged a dual meet against Muhlenberg's Junior Varsity, first college meet since P. I. A. A. prohibited them (however, the rule has since been modified) and defeated them by a 23-13 count.

Again on Friday, February 12, the Liberty matmen tripped the "Little Mules" by a score of 24-8 for their fourth win.

On February 19, Washington High avenged their previous mat defeat by registering a 27-14 win over the vaunted forces of Bethlehem High. This was Bethlehem High's last dual meet of the season.

Three stellar performers on the Red and Blue wrestling squad entered the P. I. A. A. championships at Penn State.

Captain Unangst, 145 lb. contender, was defeated 9-2 by Fuller of Waynesburg; and Bob Csakany, 185 pounder, lost a 2-0 decision to Crone of Shamokin.

Of the three Bethlehem representatives, Stan Thevenet, 138 pounder, wrestled his way to the final round but there lost a grueling battle to experienced Pat Krupper of Boswell.

Baseball

Coach: John W. Butler

First row: Manager DelGrosso, Garber, Kelchner, Gasdaska, Kocsis, Bednarik, Jones, DiAngelis, Emrey, Greenamoyer, Kopas, Manager Pacala.
 Second row: Coach Butler, Messies, Connors, Velas, Finn, Schweder, Goodman, Calvo, Partridge, Williams, Boyko, McFadden, Delluva, Coach Howard.
 Third row: Lukehart, Fritchman, LaRose, Cavote, Dillman, Carson, Harkle, Carpellani, Standing, Strein, Hunsicker, Sloyer, Valvaloge, Smalley.

Spirits ran high as the Red and Blue hurlers of Liberty High reported for duty. Few holdovers and experienced boys from last year's team were back for another season.

A few of the holdovers were Charlie Bednarik, Dick Emrey, Ed Connors, Bill Greenamoyer, Larry Kelchner, "Corky" Gasdaska, Charlie Jones, Bill Breisch, and Charlie Garcia.

Coach Butler was a bit puzzled and baffled as to the selection of a good combination; however, after a little weeding out, he succeeded in securing an outfit that provided quite a bit of competition for our neighboring clubs.

Archery

Archery is not a new sport; it was used years ago as a method of defense. The Indians in America used bows and arrows to stalk the animals and in the Middle Ages, this weapon was also used a great deal in warfare. People now engage in archery as a sport or hobby and in many army camps it is being used for a physical exercise.

This club, the "Liberty Bowmen," was organized in the fall of 1940. Miss Wilson is our adviser this year, and the present officers are as follows:

President .....	Ellen Diggs
Vice-President .....	Dudley Eifert
Treasurer .....	Marian Briner
Secretary .....	Jean Weidner

Several of last year's members are now in the armed forces or college. Paul Cowin, senior class president, was president of the club for two years; he holds many local, state, and national records. Ellen Diggs also holds some state records.

During the spring and fall, the club shoots on the side lawn. The lack of an indoor range, has prevented the club from being active during the winter. The club's aim is to promote archery and good sportsmanship.

The sophomore class proved to be the greatest lover of America's favorite sport since this class contributed about two-thirds of the baseball candidates this spring.

Under the direction of Mrs. Rabold, the swimmers have done excellent work in artificial respiration, as well as in the different holds and carries. Those seventeen years of age and over were eligible for senior life saving instruction, and those under the seventeen year bracket were taught the principles of junior lifesaving. The course was an arduous one, but the girls came through with flying colors.

Senior Life Saving Group: Jane Hilaire, Jeanne Serman, Marjorie Stahl, Lucille Stephan, Barbara Collins, Elsie Gemberling, Lois Matz, Marjorie Webb.

Our Life in Liberty Land

Once upon a time, many, many years ago (to be exact, three), there lived in Liberty Land, oodles and oodles of little boys with rosy cheeks and little girls with curly hair. These children were ruled by three wise counselors—Sir Gapp, Lady Luckey, and Sir Chiles.

Liberty Land was divided into a number of counties, each of which had two advisers, who reported, when they were called, to the royal family. The members of the royal family were King Edward Cummings, Crown Prince Richard Smith, Princess Rita Clayton, and Prince Thomas Horner.

During King Edward's reign, a tax of twenty-five cents was levied upon each subject. Toward the end of his sovereignty, the youngsters of Liberty Land held a Fairy Ball. This successful affair marked the beginning of the kingdom's road to fame.

The custom of Liberty Land was to have the crown prince succeed the king to the throne. In this manner, King Richard Smith came to rule Liberty Land. The other members of the new royal family were Crown Prince Paul Cowin, Princess Doris Handwerk, and Prince Frederick Knouss.

To increase the royal treasury, a great entertainment, entitled "Sundown" was held. For the same purpose the tax was increased to fifty cents. An unusual event occurred during King Richard's reign. Some of the subjects temporarily ruled the neighboring kingdom of Bush and Bull.

Again it was time to celebrate. A gala affair was held, and the honored guests were the subjects of an older kingdom. This occasion was marked by two new elements. For the first time in the kingdom's history, the ball was held outside of Liberty Land. Also for the first time, the boys and girls could invite subjects of other kingdoms. The queen of the ball was Rhodda Bachman. She was attended by four junior fairies. Thus a successful reign ended.

The following year King Richard was succeeded by Crown Prince Paul. The royal family now consisted of Crown Prince Andrew Hutchinson, Princess Virginia Noll, and Prince Charles Jones. It was during this year that a great book was published. It was entitled The Cauldron, and it was edited by the former King, Richard Smith. It contained the history and pictures of all the subjects of Liberty Land. A series of small balls were held in Liberty Land to build up interest in the football tournaments.

It was an annual tradition in this land to produce a play. Lady Crow and Lady Geissinger directed this production. After much work and heaps of fun, "Incognito," a three-act mystery, was given.

Besides being counselor of Liberty Land, Sir Chiles was a subject of another kingdom. This kingdom was fighting a war, and Sir Chiles thought it his duty to help defend his homeland. Sir Chiles was made an officer in the United States Navy, and the boys and girls of Liberty Land sadly watched him sail away. Sir Kernan was chosen to take his place.

Liberty Land, as you can see, had many strange customs. Toward the end of King Paul's reign, while the boys and girls were preparing to enter the next kingdom, "World," they celebrated Class Day. The last events which took place before going out into the World were Baccalaureate Service on June 13 and the Commencement Exercises on June 14. Thus ends the tale of the Liberty Landers, who lived happily ever after (?).

Last Will and Testament of the Class of 1943

We, the Class of Nineteen Forty-three, in order to form a more perfect high school, established the Sophomore Dance, insured the Class Treasury, provided half our male populace for the armed forces, promoted ourselves with highest honors, secured the blessings (?) of the Liberty Faculty for ourselves and posterity, and do now ordain and establish this "Last Will and Testament" for the Junior Class of Liberty High School.

*Listen, Juniors, and you shall hear
Of the gifts left you by the Seniors dear.
Three years we have tarried,
Heavy books we have carried;
Long days of toil we have endured,
But of that day we've been assured.
On the fourteenth of June in '43.
With happy hearts we take leave of thee.
All that we have we give to you,
So that you may suffer and bear anew.*

To you we leave our ambition (?).

We give you the pleasure of sitting in the front of the auditorium during chapel, so you don't need binoculars to see and earphones to hear what's going on.

To the girls especially we will the mirrors in all the lavatories, that make one look like the last rose of summer or a reasonable facsimile.

The Senior boys bequeath to the Junior boys Mr. Heller, who will show the "dumb enough to be Seniors" how to march the Army way in his physical "ouch" classes.

We ask you, as Seniors, to start walking through the front door—everyone else does.

We Seniors who became involved with Chemistry leave the odors in 314 to all Juniors who want to smell them.

You, the Juniors, may now have sole possession of the third floor and the pleasure of climbing the three flights of stairs to it.

The Senior girls running around with sparklers on their "third finger, left hand" bestow their appeal (?) to those Junior wolfesses who might need it.

The names for Mr. Nagy are passed on to the future Chem. students. See if you can make up some better ones, Juniors.

The Cauldron staff wills Room 312 and the work in it to all Juniors who volunteer for service.

Helen Gushen wills her gum-chewing ability to any girl who knows where to buy the gum.

Ed. Luckenbach drops his Chemistry talent to whomever can pick up such heavy stuff.

Rose Soda's nickname "Queenie" is willed to Ella Pali.

Franklin Collie, who wants to be a politician, leaves his strong, bass voice and ability in public speaking to Joe Albert.

Last Will and Testament of the Class of 1943

Edith Podberesky wills her acting ability to Betty Lewis.

Estelle Greene is the recipient of Ruth Sharer's shyness.

Rita Clayton leaves her dimples to Nancy Hall.

Howard Unangst gives his wrestling experience and skill to Asa Day, "an up and becoming" fellow.

Daniel Wetzel bequeaths his ability to keep score for basketball games to Charles Morgan.

Edward Cummings entrusts his brain to Joseph Albert.

Helen May leaves her natatorial ability to Betty DeLong.

Mary Jane Rush's "gift of gab" is bequeathed to Janet Gordon.

Stanley Gillen drops his "Liberty Life" sports' slants pen to Bill Woods, a prospective journalist.

*As we, each loving son and daughter,
Now depart from our Alma Mater,
We leave many a fond memory
Of the beloved Class of Forty-three.*

*We leave our prints upon the walls
And gum 'neath seats in study halls.
The chairs and desks still bear our names,
Our hearts and arrows, thoughts and aims.*

*We leave our teachers peace and quiet
Until those Juniors start a riot,
And in the baskets we leave our gum,
(They say 311 has quite a sum).*

*And to those Juniors underneath
We reluctantly bequeath
The lockers which we all adore
Crowded on the third floor.*

*The Sophomores, too, we have remembered,
To them, our chapel seats, we've surrendered,
We leave to them the Liberty
Which now thy assume so naturally.*

*We hope we've left a lasting impression
That won't be forgotten for many a session
Because we'll never, ever forget
The school which now we leave with regret.*

The ratification of six members of the Senior Class will be sufficient for the establishment of this "Last Will and Testament." Done in convention by the unanimous consent of the members present, the fifth day of June, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and forty-three. In witness whereof, we have hereunto subscribed our names.

Onward '43!

*The time: September nineteen forty;
The place: Our Hall of learning;
As eager students sauntered in,
For knowledge truly yearning.*

*From many smaller schools we came,
In this, our greatest quest.
To fuse our aims, our thoughts, our faith,
Thus making one school best.*

*Quite early we began to prove
That we were meant to be
The class to top all previous ones,
The class of forty-three!*

*It doesn't seem like three long years
Since first we saw this place,
Since first we walked about these halls,
To gaze at each new face.*

*Now high school days are left behind,
We will not dilly dally.
We'll see what makes this old world run,
To every cause we'll rally.*

*Our country once more is at war,
It's freedom is imperiled.
And from this class a group will go,
A lasting peace to herald.*

*But we're not afraid, we challenge life
To bigger kind of game,
We'll show our worth to all the world,
And go on to greater fame!*

By . . . Maryan Finkelstein
