alma mater

hail to alma mater dear!
where we've spent our high school years.
now to Liberty High we raise voices to extol thy praise.
in thy stately halls we've spent hours with hearts and minds content.
now to thee, dear Liberty High in our loyalty we cry:

chorus

Liberty High School, hail to thee!
loyal sons & daughters we,
in the future as the past,
we'll be loyal to the last.

Miss Marian Graham

Pep is more alive today than ever. It is so alive that students can feel it rush over them like a wave when they enter the gym for the spirit week pep rally. Students filled oceans of red and blue as they hear eyes are with 250 students play Liberty Forever. For the seniors it was enough to bring tears to their eyes, finally realizing that this was their last chance to be part of something so spectacular. The spirit lives within every student and will continue to grow with each graduating class.

Of all the things we will take away from Liberty, the most valued will be the friendships we have made. If we sit back to remember our first day of high school we'll remember the feeling we had when we walked into each class. Our eyes would scan the room for one of our close friends and, if worse came to worse, the sound of a recognizable name. But now, the friends we've had, the people we've met and maybe even those we had to sit next to, have become people we cannot live without. Our memories of high school will always include our friends, and even after we leave Liberty, the memories of these friends will bring us smiles forever.

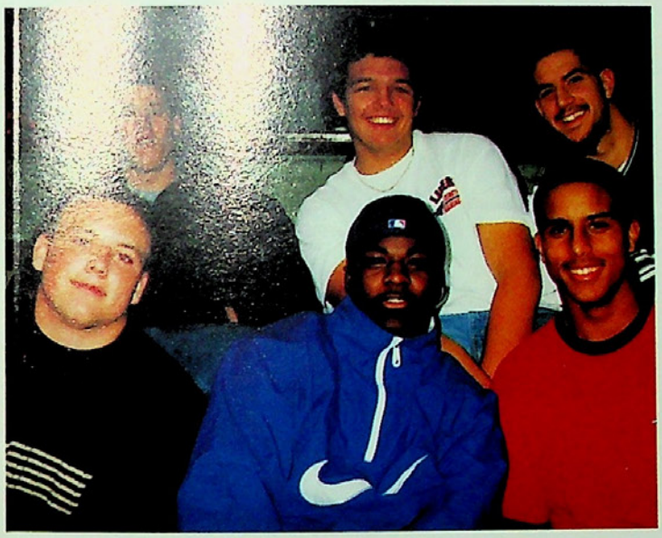
Above: Dylan Finelli (the happiest of all), Doug French, Dave Kelly, Ben Chando, Darren Fink, and Kyle Hall show their support for their friends in the student gov't b-ball game. Below: It looks like the football team doesn't just hang out on the field. Right: Odessa's cowboy shows she's not only willing to share a smile but her [illegible] as well.



Right: Stacia Thompson, Rachel Mack, Josh Bombino, Jesse Galle, Kim Brown, Molly Fraust, Kelly Dyson, and Ashley College show us that friendships formed by the cast members of Liberty Theater are unbreakable... until somebody else gets your part!

You don't have to go far to find reasons why Liberty is the best. Just walk through the Memorial Gym lobby and look throughout the display cases. You'll see trophy after trophy. From sports to academics to clubs like FBLA and DECA, Liberty has no reason to be modest.

Left: The Senior class sent a message to the rest of the school and everybody who drove down Linden Street! Right: "The trophy stays here!"... As predicted, Liberty proved to Freedom that "We're always one step ahead". Below: The Liberty High School Grenadier Band brass section plays their hearts out at one of the many football games.

"Bragging ain't bragging if you can do it."

Muhammad Ali

Top and middle left: The band shows their school spirit by playing for students during spirit week. No wonder they say their best excuse for getting out of class is being in the band! Amy Delgrosso and Katie DeLong wait patiently for their chance to give it to the Freedom majorettes!

Left: What a way to start the day! Liberty students were out on the field by seven a.m. to paint the endzones. This tradition gives the non-athletic types a chance to participate in the game! Below: Students work hard on their... arts and crafts? This is Liberty High School, right?

Above: Lights out... Dave Andrew clutches his teddy bear and blanket as he prepares for a good night sleep. Below: Showing off his more "feminine side", Jesse Galle gets ready for a night on the town!

diversity

Everyday you walk through the halls and see somebody you've never seen before. Maybe it was their clothes or the way they had their hair that made you look twice. Whatever the reason, nobody at Liberty looks the same. From preppie to punk and ghetto to grunge, we have it all and we're proud of it.

Just another day at Liberty. Enough said.

Above: Greyson Lutz must think that she is "walking on sunshine" with glasses like those. Below: Continuing a four year tradition, Mr. Pittsilois, who was joined by Mr. Smith and Mr. Cecchini, performed a "special little dance" for Mrs. Durante.

So what's next? Where do we all go from here? Among all of the uncertainty that we are feeling during these upcoming months, there is one thing that you can be positive of; our memories of high school will be remembered long after graduation. We, the editors of this yearbook, realize just how important those memories are. In order to make sure that they do continue on as a legacy, we have done our best to capture all the moments of the last four years that shaped our class into who we were on June 11, 1999.

The awkward, little freshmen that walked through the main lobby for the first time in September of 1995, have grown into a unified group of young adults, with enough courage to take on the world, and do that we will. All of our experiences here at Liberty, good and bad, have shaped us into unique individuals who, together, will long be remembered as the greatest class to grace the halls of this high school.

We all know that becoming the best wasn't an easy task and much thanks is owed to the very patient people that helped us along the way. Mr. Burkhardt, who shared his wisdom and wit, Mrs. Durante, who never lost hope and always found the best in each one of us, Mrs. Fulton and Mrs. Clewell, who kept us out of trouble, Paula, who kept us organized and smiling, and Miss Grant and Mr. Schaffer, who never let us down! We also owe thanks to Mrs. Gilliard, who spent many weekends in the computer lab working to beat the clock and make this book a success.

After all is said and done, this book is just a small tool in helping us to remember our days at good 'ol Liberty High, a school that will certainly never forget us! Good Luck Class of 1999. Go knock 'em dead!

Mr. William Burkhardt

to the class of 1999

As the sound of your footsteps fade with the laughter in the halls of Liberty High School, I recall the many experiences I encountered with you this year as your principal. Here within the shelter of the walls of this great school you have been taught leadership and responsibility, qualities which will enable you to meet the challenges you have yet to face.

You are a class full of heart. You have demonstrated this as scholars, musicians, athletes, actors, and friends. For four years, under the guidance of your teachers, you have grown to become men and women in whom we can be proud.

The thrilling acomplishments of the Class of 1999 throughout this year are far too many to recount in detail; but those accomplishments are a fact of which you can be proud. I am proud of your class, and the Class of 1999 will always be in my memory.

It is my hope that the echo of pride that is in my heart when I remember you would be equaled in yours as you remember your days at Liberty High School.

You must now take your place in this new world -- an exciting world, full of hopes and possibilities. As you take your place in the future, I sincerely wish you all the very best.

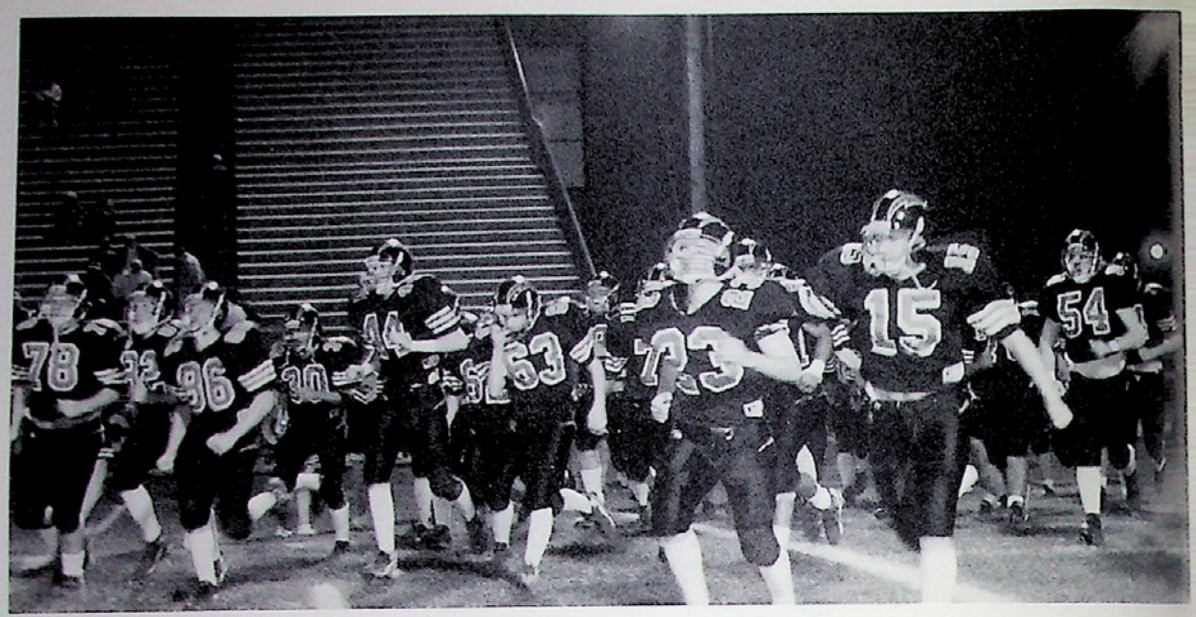
in the eye of the storm



"Here come the 'Canes!" The boys take the field hyped for another win! This year's Hurricanes were again led by 1997's Coach of the Year, Rich Heffernan and his tireless team, including Matt, the new trainer, and the unforgettable equipment manager, Bruce. The team was also lucky enough to have record-breaker Darren Mason, and athletes of the week, Nate Pogue and Bob McClarin. Along with All-Area Football Team starter, McClarin, the team was led by fellow captains Pogue, who broke the longest touchdown record with 102 yards, and Darren (Fa) Fink, who ended the season leading the team with 12 sacks.

Faced with adversity, this year's 'Canes broke records and provided endless entertainment for all. When starting quarterback, Mike Wykosky, got injured in the second game of the season, sophomore, Michael Schweder had to step up to the task of leading the team. Despite the fantastic efforts of young Schweder, the team was heavily reliant on their running game, which in plain English means one thing— "Mason". Junior, Darren Mason became a household name due to his achievements on the field. Accompanied by these outstanding individuals, is an even more outstanding team. Ask any of the guys and they will tell you that football is absolutely a team sport and they realized this year that you really are only as strong as your weakest link.

The season started out with another batch of golden opportunities- on a clean slate and with a clean record. The teams worked hard all year looking forward to their years on the varsity team and upholding the grand tradition of LHS Football. The boys seized the opportunity flying out of the gates and stomping their first three opponents, Allen, Stroudsburg, and Pocono Mountain, by a collective margin of 62 points. In the Freedom game the team came up a bit short, but that didn't dampen their spirits as they look forward to whooping Freedom next year in typical Liberty style. Finishing with a solid record of 3-6, their deterimation, spirit, and drive are powering their hopes for next year. Unerclassmen can rest assured that Liberty football is in good hands.

Soccer is a year-round sport. Though at Liberty they play only in the fall, many of these men are members of teams which practice and compete all year. On days when the voice of Mr. Burkhardt would enter the rooms at liberty announcing, "All practices for today are cancelled due to the weather," he would undoubtedly follow with, "except soccer." Neither rain nor cold nor dark of night could keep these players from wanting to better themselves and their team. It was this dedication which was the root of the team's success.

Under the lights and in the shadow of the new coca-cola scoreboard, the boys played their hearts out not only in games, but daily at practice. "We worked hard, we did well, that's what dedication is all about."

The JV Soccer team had a great season. They won just less than half of their games, and they learned a lot about the game of soccer and about each other. This season was about stepping it up, about taking over for the varsity players next year. It was about the challenge of working hard, not giving up, and mastering the game. These boys worked incredibly hard, and did rise to the challenge.

Throughout their season, the volleyball team was not like any other team in the district. The camaraderie clearly showed their teamwork. The sequence of serves, bumps, sets, and spikes was smoother than can be imagined and lead the team to victory on a regular basis. On and off the court the girls encouraged each other through the tough and seemingly impossible times. The long hours of practice paid off in each successful triumph. The Canes knew each others strengths and weaknesses. The key that kept the girls alive and eager to play was their positive attitude. As Monica Ney stated "This volleyball team is full of surprises and friendships."

perseverance

Throughout the field hockey season, various challenges faced the girls. These challenges were overcome with extreme perseverance when goals were reached and dreams were realized. This lead the team to become unified and stronger. The girls, together with their coach Tonya Thear, learned more about the sport and about themselves. Even though the girls had a tough season, everyday after school they could be found at the Lafayette field practicing their hearts out. Lead by their very dedicated seniors, these hardworking girls showed their energetic spirits through team cheers and encouraging words. What better way could perseverance be demonstrated?

Throughout the girl's season they showed commitment to both each other and themselves. Day by day, game by game, they showed improvement and better team-work. They were committed to giving their all even when it got rough. There were times when practice was not the place they wanted to be, but they went to practice with a good attitude and gave all they got. Towards the end of the season the commitment these girls had showed at both the games and practices. The team had four trumipahant wins and four ties. Cross country is not an individual sport. It is as much a team sport as football, basketball, or soccer. Without encouragement from family, friends, coaches, and teammates, it is impossible to succeed as a cross country team. Each girl on this team brings something to it. From the new freshmen to the seniors and captains, the girls were best friends, helping each other every step of the way. The girls on this team, along with their coaches, were able to produce that special something that makes them "different... because winning isn't normal."

the Lady 'Canes were extremely successful this past season; as a team and individually. The 'Canes played very hard and it showed because their goals were met when they made it to Districts. Standouts of the season were Amy Yencho making first team of the Mountain Valley Conference, Kristen Rohal honored to be on the second team of the Mountain Valley Conference, and Captain Jennifer Tannous was awarded the referees scholarship. Ranked as high as sixteenth in the country at one point this season by USA Today, the wresrling team focused on survival. The squad qualified for team districts and placed fourth. At regionals they placed fourth again, moving on to states and placing sixth. The team had 4 district champs: Mario Stuart, Brad Washburn, Brandon Mihalko, and Matt Dudeck. Stuart went on to become the regional champion. One of the triumphs of the season came during the defeat of Northampton in a dual match. There were four state qualifiers including Mario Stuart placing second, Washburn placing fourth, Mihalko placing seventh and Dudeck. The tough team triumphed throughout the season, states being no exeption.

excellence. This single word best describes the young group of men known as the J.V. and freshmen wrestling teams. Striving toward excellence and striving to attain their personal and team goals is not enough for these top athletes. They achieved and exceeded both, while never failing to blow past other teams in the region. Products of the strong Liberty tradition of heavy wrestling training, these guys were in top physical condition. The House of Pain, as the natatorium is sometimes called, was a home away from home for the swimmers this year. They met at the pool early in the morning and practiced after school far into the evening on a daily basis. There were no days off for the swimmers. Their hard work paid off. Alex Beatty, Todd Long, Brian Ellon, and Ryan Baumen qualified for and competed in the PIAA State Competition, and diver Anne Girvin went for the fourth time. Anne's senior season was a huge success; she completed the regular season undefeated. The achievements of these swimmers and divers are unparalleled.

Combining Freedom and Liberty, a crazier thing could barely be conceived. It was, and it worked. Combining the two powers proved to be a great advantage in Lehigh Valley Scholastic Hockey League action this season. The regular season record of 15-3 was good enough to secure a third place finish and a playoff bout against Parkland in the semifinals. The trouble was that Parkland handed BASD one of their three losses during the season. The game began by going down 2-0 in the first five minutes of play. Fighting back to 2-2 after the first period, the team endured the physical beating of the bigger Parkland team, and prospered 6-2 in the end. This win propelled BASD to a three game series with Phillipsburg for the LVSHL title. The undefeated Phillipsburg squad beat the BASD team, but the combination team captured second place in the LVSHL.

The only coed team at Liberty, the rifle team is often lost in the shadows of other winter sports. Not many people know that the rifle team is one of the best in the league. The team has been second in its league for the past four years, and Katie Florenz, Todd Snyder, and George Sampson were in the top ten in the league. The team had a great season, losing only three matches. They traveled more than in past years, competing with teams as far away as Abington. In a society where firearms are of questionable political correctness, these students were motivated by family and coach to look past that to the sport of target shooting.

Family comes first... the Liberty Hurricane softball team had many goals this year and those goals were achieved! Under the new direction of Coach Erie, Coach Schmalze, the scorekeeper Mr. Kvacky, and the leadership of captains Mandy Sterner, Ashleigh Robinson, and Kelly Raab, the Canes played their way to Districts. The team defeated all odds against them to prove they could play with the "high rank teams." They proved they were a high rank team. They came together as a family. The big wins of the season were against Easton, Northampton, and Whitehall. The pitching of Ashleigh Robinson, tough defense, and phenomenal hitting gave the Canes the win over Easton and a seat in Districts. The softball team has shocked many people by playing hard; they are truly an unbeatable group of girls! "The beginning of the season was tough, but they picked it up a few notches and played as a team.

sprinting to victory

This was a year of change for the track and field team. With an entire new coaching staff, the team had high hopes for the season. They had no idea what was ahead of them, and they may not have believed it had it been predicted. The Notary twins made their final Liberty season a memorable one with countless races that will stick in the minds of Liberty runners and fans always. The track and field team continues to be one of the most successful teams at Liberty, and several of the boys went to the state competition in Shippensburg the last weekend in May.

Their true dedication and hard work pulled forth four new school records in the 4x800 meter and 4x100 meter relays, pole vault, and the javelin. The team had one state qualifier, Emily Harlow, who threw 140 feet, setting her personal record while showing that "Liberty throwers really can handle big sticks."

This year posed a challenge for the boy's tennis team. It had lost its top two players as well as all of its seniors. Despite the fact that it was a rebuilding year for the team, they fought through and managed to keep their record above 500. excitement

The Liberty varsity cheering squad had so much fun showing their excitement this year. They cheered for football, basketball, soccer, and wrestling. These cheerleaders are always smiling and jumping up and down for some sport. They were all honored to participate in the National Cheerleading Competition in Dallas, Texas. enthusiasm

Cheerleading takes a lot of teamwork and enthusiasm. This year both the JV and Freshmen teams worked very hard together to accomplish their goals. Everyone was close and the friendships that evolved within the squad helped to achieve "V-I-C-T-O-R-Y." Enthusiasm is key; when you are excited about something and do the best you can, you succeed. Enthusiasm is what brought the team together. The JV and Freshmen squads had dedication, teamwork, enthusiasm, and the friendships which has made them be the best they can be.

powder puff

rough and tough

"Ready, set, hut one!" This chant is made by none other than Liberty's finest... the girl's powder puff team! Powder puff doesn't exaclty mean re-applying mascara,lipstick, or fixing your hair. Rather, it is a rough, competitive game which requires focus, agility and tremendous skill. Dedicated majorettes and cheerleaders sign up for this incredible team, taking each practice seriously. Why play a powder puff game, you ask? The reason is simple. Spirit Week! When the week arrives, the Powder Puff team plays their game, starting off the famous "Spirit Week". What better way to start off this week than with Freedom getting the usual pummel? Go Girrrrrls!

Every once in a while, an athlete sticks his neck out; he does something incredible. It is this athlete and so many like him that make Liberty High School the living legend that it is. The quarterback who breaks his arm, has major surgery, and comes back in a matter of weeks, the diver who qualifies for states four years in a row, and the cross country team that places second and seventh in the state two years running are only a few examples of the extraordinary talent and dedication that Liberty athletics has within its program. The only difference between ordinary and extraordinary is that little extra, and the Liberty athletes have given that extra. These are men and women whom have been recognized in the community for their accomplishments. The Cauldron staff salutes these all stars.

here one minute, gone the next

In 1995 we "Started Up" as the clueless freshmen, thinking that "You can't get any better than this." Sophomore year began and we knew that "Anything less would be uncivilized." Suddenly, in a heartbeat, we were "Jammin' into the next century" junior year. Finally this year has arrived and the class of 1999 is prepared to challenge any obstacle in their path. Spanning from spirit week, vulnerable underclassmen, to college applications and the stubborn faculty, Liberty hasn't been exposed to such a powerful and spirited class. The Class of 1999 showed their extreme passion as they blindfolded the school with a banner expressing "Class of 1999...We Are Better". Through it all, we remain to be known as a class which is "Here one minute, gone the next."

need we say more?

When the class of 2000 arrived, they announced "We're here", and became the largest class to enter Liberty. With leaders such as Jeff Lynam, Dave Andrew, Kate Bauer, and Kerry D'Entrone, their pride has grown and is leaving a memorable imprint. This next generation of students has created unity, great enthusiasm, and conquered many challenges throughout their journey to be the first graduating class of the new millennium. we have class... class of 2001

If you ask Sophomore Class President John Misinco who he thinks the best class at Liberty is, he will proudly reply, "The Class of 2001 is!" In fact, the Class of 2001 is one of the most spirited classes at Liberty in quite some time. Assisting Misinco in the difficult task of leading the class are Vice President Sean Crawford, Secretary Annie Rodgers, Treasurer Jessie Papesh, and the always dependable class advisors, Miss Jennifer Horvath and Mr. Michael Corrigan. The officers and advisors were very busy this year, as they organized the memorable Hawaiian Dance and are preparing to organize the prom for next year. Make way for the Classs of 2001, they will surely succeed and hopefully learn to ssspell!

the newcomers
class of 2002

Welcome little ones. The Class of 2002 may be small, but they have a large amount of spirit. As the freshmen, they get the short end of the stick and try very hard to get noticed in the large crowd of Liberty. During the annual pep rallies, they did a tremendous job allowing the rest of the school to notice their presence. This class didn't have a Spirit Week Class T-shirt, but their decorations and exuberant spirit made up for it. Led by Chantel Barrias, Drew Graf, Anne Halkias, and Molly Reynolds, these peppy freshman have affected Liberty in many ways. From their involvement in sports and student government, to theatre and band, these freshman can boldly declare that they are now offically a part of Liberty High School history. Although the upperclassmen would argue with the slogan for their Class T-shirt, "We're Just Better", this classy group of youngsters is very proud of their accomplishments in their first year at Liberty, and they have every right to be!

homecoming • dancing the night away

As day turns into night and stars begin to shine, the students of Liberty High School changed into formal dress and came to dance the night away. On the night of October 3, 1998, not even the rain could stop over 1,000 students from gathering in the old gym to participate in Liberty's 1998 homecoming dance. As the night went on and shoes came off, students got down on the dance floor. The court was announced and students cheered for their favorite couples. It was a night to remember.

spirit week

we'll be loyal to the last

Pride. Tradition. Fun. Spirit. These words are what make up Spirit Week here at Liberty. Both Liberty and Freedom students spend an entire week quarreling to show who is better. During this perilous week, Liberty students dress up for various themed days including: Pajama Day, Hawaiian Day, 70's/Clash Day, 80's Day, and Red and Blue Day. Students also spend many hours after school making decorations for their assigned hall according to their theme. Friday finally arrived, where students viewed the decorations and excitement grew for "Battle of the Classes" during the pep rally. That night, what was "Battle of the Classes", quickly became a battle between "Liberty vs. Freedom". Like our colors, our team shined brightly and became victorious once again. In the end, the good ol' red and blue does shine brighter than that of black and gold!

tunes and traditions

You can hear the pipes calling "loudly and proudly, down through the Glenn". This amazing pipe corps draws crowds as they begin to tune and circle up to play a familiar song. The entire school and city can tell you that there is no other band that has such an incredible group and attracts so many diverse cultures. The colour guard leads the entire Grenadier Band through the field shows and parades. The stunning red uniforms and tall bearskins that these boys wear are just the beginning of what is yet to be expected from the rest of the band.

Smiles, high leg lifts, and snappy routines. This describes the Majorette Squad of the Liberty High School Grenadier Band. These talented girls practice extremely hard and present themselves very well during halftime shows, parades, and pep rallies. The highland dancers are a select group of the majorettes that perform traditional highland dances. The dancers perform both inside and outside the school community. Whether it be at pep rallies, concerts, or even parties, they bring a Scottish feel to the atmosphere.

strings and the orchestra

Liberty's Orchestra, conducted by Greg MacGill, had a very busy year. The orchestra consists of a concert band and a string sectio with great senior string players: Sepi Bazi Peggy Sue, Megan Burkhardt, Kim Brow John Faul, Dianna Beatty, Christy Barth Tara Tachousky and Allen Sue. This year great performances included a winter and spring concert with the choir, two pop's concerts with Barrie students (one at Liberty and one at Barrie), and district and state competitions, Arts Jam, "Guys and Dolls", and of course Liberty's graduation.

On May 11th, the Liberty High School Orchestra traveled to Barrie, Ontario in Canada, to perform with the Eastview Secondary High School Orchestra. This has been a tradition for many years. Some events that they participated in were going to The Phantom of the Opera, Medieval Times, CN Tower, Toronto Metra Zoo, and Niagra Falls. The trip was well worth the countless hours of practice, and they will never forget the times they shared in "Oh Canada."

This year, the Liberty High School Grenadier Band performed an extremely memorable concert with special lighting, immpressive special effects, and wonderful performances. To make this all happen, the band came in to practice early mornings, Sundays, and weeknights. The auxilary units, otherwise known as the bagpipes, majorettes, colour gaurd, and pipe drums, worked especially hard on their marching, routines and breathtaking display. All the practices paid off when the largest audiences came to watch both Friday and Saturday night performances. Grenadiers, job well done once more..."Bravo!"

winter concert

heard on high

On a cold winter night the Liberty High School auditorium was heated up by the famous holiday concert. This year's annual Winter Concert was held on Friday, December 18, 1998. Many students, parents, and community members came to hear the Choraliers, the Acapella singers, concert choir, and orchestra perform wonderfully. The auditorium was filled with melodic sounds of the talented students. Students participating in this event were under the direction of Ms. Nancy Shumaker and Mr. Kevin Long. The winter concert is always a fantastic way to end school before the holiday break.

Miss Bellamy

On December 5th and 6th Liberty Theater once again wowed audiences with its fall production of "Father of the Bride." After many hours of practice and setbuilding by both cast members and Director, Eric Smith, and hard work by the crews, the show went on without a hitch. The production left ticket holders impressed with amazing performances and beautiful costumes provided by costume designer Stephanie Smith. It is safe to say that once again, Liberty Theater "knocked 'em dead!"

theatre crews behind the scenes

They receive minimal credit, not many know they are there, and no one realizes how many hours upon hours they put into making the shows great. And yet, they are invaluable members of Liberty Theatre, and a part of a great history. The tech crew, led by Gabe Traupman, Ryan Ide, and Peter Quinter work along side with Mr. Smith to make sure all of the transitions are smooth. Julia Shahda, the stage manager, whips everyone into shape backstage, and is in constant communication with the tech crew about how things are going on stage. Along with the prop and house crews, when their talents combine, they become Theatre Crews! Recieving no more than a little thanks, these selfless members give and give of themselves and never aspire to the fame and glory of the stage. Dedicated to the success of others, the crews are sure to always provide for a fantastic show!

Under the supervision of new adviser Jeanette Calderon, the Step Team returned back better than ever. Over the past several years, the Step Team has become well-known throughout the Liberty community for its stompin', and groovin' performances. This talented group of students managed to capture second place in a competition at the Ice House earlier in the year, only one point shy from taking home the gold. In addition they were the highlight of last year's Variety Show, performing an exceptional routine. No matter where this group is found, some lively, and spirited moments are sure to follow them.

Under the supervision of Miss Jane Kapsalis, Student Government is responsible for many of the exciting activities that take place at Liberty, including the Homecoming Dance, the Senior Citizen Luncheon, the Variety Show, pep-rallies and the morning announcements. In addition, this group of dedicated students has the opportunity to voice the learned interests of their fellow students to Liberty and LASD Administration in an effort to make Liberty a fun and enjoyable place for everyone. The future of Liberty is a cycle of constant change. It's a good thing it is being left in such capable hands!

in good times and in bad cauldron

The 1998-99 Cauldron staff consisted of a group of talented and dedicated students. They gave their time and energy after school, during study halls and on Saturday mornings, capturing the memories created at Liberty High School. In her second year of advisement, Mrs. Lisa Gilliard helped the staff design the best Cauldron edition yet. The staff, which included photographers, individual staffs for each section, and editors, all put forth their best effort. Julia Shahda, the editor-in-chief, Lindsay Birckhead and Mandy Sterner, co-section editors, of this year's staff, also dedicated much of their time to enhance the yearbook. The entire staff worked together, making this year's Cauldron a book to remember!

Read all about it....At several times throughout the year, you may have noticed a large group of people gathered around a Liberty Life staff member, anxiously waiting to get a copy of the latest edition of the newspaper. Once again this year, the Liberty Life staff managed to deliver the student's desire for news by producing six, high quality editions, including a special Senior Edition at the end of the year. In addition, the editors had the opportunity to attend Columbia University's annual Scholastic Journalism Conference, giving them new insights and ideas, all of which they have put to work in order to make Liberty Life the best newspaper publication possible. Heading the staff this year were Editors in Chief Ashleigh Graf and Gabe Traupman, who had the pleasure of working with returning adviser, Dr. Deborah Allan. Together, the three worked hard to make sure that Liberty Life continues to be the voice and vision of Liberty High School.

Young Writer has been a tradition at Liberty High School for many years. YW is a group of unique artists with special talents for writing, drawing, photography and art in general. This year Julie Zelko, Chris Tappert and Alex Kourtz, were all editors in chiefs with the ever so amazing Mr. Bozzone as adviser. YW events for the 1998-99 year included; a trip to Columbia University in New York City with The Cauldron and Liberty Life staffs, many coffee houses put together by Joe Williams, and a literary magazine with inverts from poets, artists, photographers and several quotes. YW is a group of free spirited, loving people who love to share their view of the world through poetry, stories and art.

RASPBERRIES

There's a red raspberry girl i used to know with gold tumbleweed hair and cracked fingers and whispers of lost days linger in her sky eyes as i question her about past lives a smile plays on her chapped lips cause i've never tasted the freedom she has and Jesus knows i've never tasted the pain of bleeding arms and legs and hands of nights no longer saved sanctified by a worn out man who's seen too many lost fires to come ashore she slips quietly from me past my world of greens and blues into her own of blacks and grays if i call her name will she run?
or can cut up souls never be sewn...?
and she looks back at me with questioning eyes as we walk hand in hand chaining our souls like only angels know how

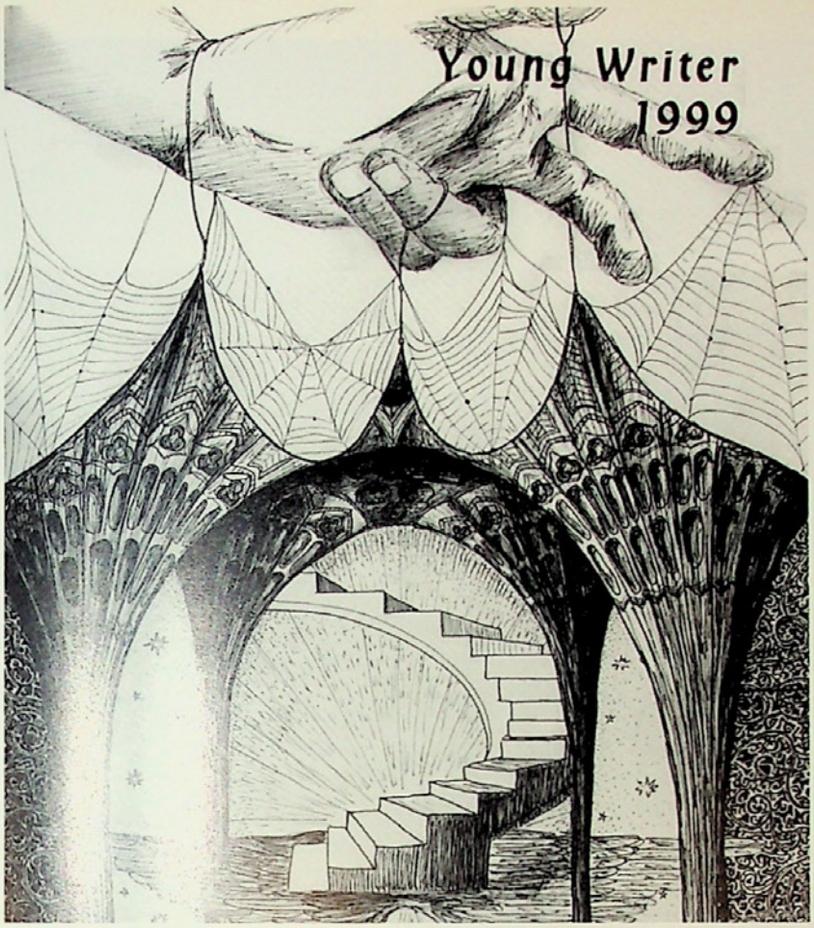
- Kate Mattina



THE LAND WHERE COMETS DIE

THAT COMET CAME THAT COMET WENT
SUCH WASTED MONEY THAT HEAVEN SPENT
TIMELESS BEAUTY
UNPARALLELED ART
GONE IN A HEART BEAT
THEN FALLS APART AGAIN
ONE SECOND TO THINK HEAVEN CAN'T BE BOUGHT
ONE SECOND TO REALIZE
THE LIFE THAT WE HAVE THE WORLD THAT WE LIVE IN AND WE'RE NOT DESENSITIZED
SUCH AWESTRUCK WONDER
LEAVES YOUR EYES SO SOON
IT MAKES YOU WONDER
AS YOU LOOK AT THE MOON
SHOULD I LIVE IN THIS LAND
WHERE COMETS DIE
OR SHOULD I LIVE IN THIS HOUSE
GETTING FAT, AND GETTING HIGH

- Paul Dugan

UNTITLED

I question the body
the eyes that become blind when seeing is most important the ears turning deaf when I must hear
I question the body
the arms always pushing away never pulling in the legs in motion not stopping dodging the real
I question the body
the mind racing trying to form words and meanings
the heart holding in pain and suffering
I question the body
the second toe longer than the rest
the knee restraining me setting up obstacles
I question the body
the mouth always rambling needing to be heard make my point known the actions I show being the entertainment
I question the body
why must we always play these hurtful games

The German Club is advised by Mr. Norwood and Ms. Booser. The officers for the 1998-1999 school year were Laura Dologite, Steve Midway, Valerie Orwan, and Corrie Tice. This years members are; Top Row: Ms. Booser, Natalie van den Heuvel, Lauren Wiesner, Kate Mattina. Row Tow: Steve Compos, Dave Fiscner, Ethan Tate. Row Three: Keith Godshall, Bryn Williams, Heidi Ruth, Steve Midway. Row Four: Esther Kraycik, Corrie Tice, Laura Dologite, Valerie Orwan. Row Five: Sonya Brotzman, Ankur Sheth, Nichole Dreher. Row Six: Elisabeth Fetsurka, Rachel Sewald, Emily Dornblaser, James Royer.

The students involved in the German Club meet randomly throughout the year to discuss activities and trips, as well as to support the German culture. They traveled to Lancaster, Pa this year which is starting to become a yearly tradition. The students have been keeping busy this year planning a trip to Germany. This will not be the first trip for some of the members, and they are excited to visit the country once again. Guten tag!

The Latin Club is only one of quite a few foreign language clubs. The members of the club are dedicated to learning about the Latin culture as well as Roman art. Their vast accomplishments continue to bring immense pride to the Liberty community.

foreign exchange far and away

The foreign exchange program allows students from all over the world join Liberty High School's family here in Bethlehem. These students have no clue what fun they are getting themselves into as they walk through the doors on their first day. Before leaving to go back home, the Cauldron got in touch with those students and inquired about their time as a Liberty High School student. As you read, the old red and blue struck their hearts as well.

Jenny Zander, Berlin, Germany

Do you have any memorable moments here at Liberty?

"Yeah, I liked Mr. Dunton, who I had for psychology, compartive religions, and anthropology. I also went on a trip with the German Club to Lancaster, PA."

What activities have you been involved in at Liberty?

"I was on the rifle team, and went on various field trips. It was fun!"

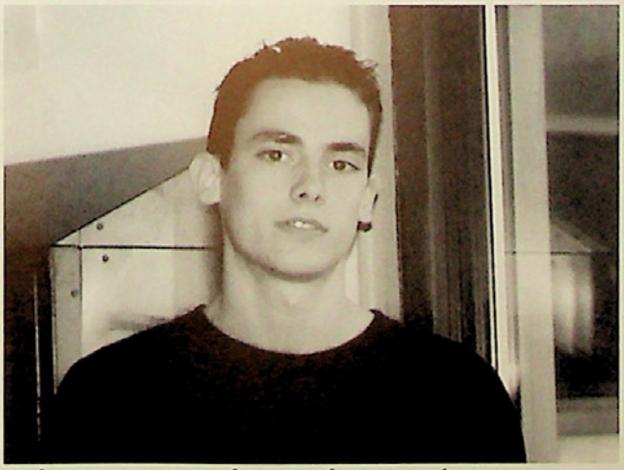
Do you have any memorable experiences here at Liberty?

"I was in a play and a musical. In the play, I was a mover, and in the musical, I was a gambler. My favorite teacher was Mrs. Bogusky, my drama teacher."

What activities have you been involved in?

"I was in theater, on the swimming team, and the tennis team. I think I was pretty good."

Lukas Bieri, Appenzell, Switzerland



Sebastian Wiech, Southwest of Germany

Do you have any memorable experiences here at Liberty?

"Overall, the experience of schooling here, and being a part of the American culture."

What activities have you been involved in here?

"I am part of the International Students Club, which was really fun. I am also painting a mural for Arts Jam!"

making the grade national honors society

The National Honors Society is one of the toughest clubs to become involved in here at Liberty. All those in National Honors Society must maintain a 3.5 GPA to remain in the club. Not only do they have to maintain a 3.5 GPA, they must be involved in many school activities ranging from sports to being in the school plays. On April 15, 1999, they held their annual blood drive where they collected 100 good blood donations. This beat last years record and of course, rival Freedom. They also went on a weekend trip to Boston where the visited the Boston [illegible] and went to the Boston Science museum. This group of students shows that [illegible] really does pay off.

students against drunk driving

SADD Students Against Drunk Driving is a club at Liberty that participates in certain activities that promote safety, awareness, and care towards others. This year, the SADD program performed a puppet show for adolescents about the dangers of driving drunk. In addition to that, they sold red and purple ribbons to show how many students are against driving drunk. The biggest endeavor the SADD program ventured into was the AIDS walk in Philadelphia, PA. This walk included all off the memebers of SADD who walked to find a cure for AIDS. Keep up the motivational "movements" and not so "SADD" turnouts!

swap students with a purpose

Students gather in early fall to pray for Liberty, the safety of all students, and to share in fellowship.

This student led bible study has played an influential role at Liberty for the past three years. Students from all religious, social, and economical backgrounds are invited to spend time openly discussing various beliefs on God. These young theologians dig deep into how the Bible can be directly applied to the lives of high school students. Displaying their true leadership skills, FCA members organized Liberty's chapter of See You At The Pole, an annual event where students gather to pray for the school and it's students. Known for their big and loving hearts these giving people are not afraid to express their beliefs, and take a stand for what they think is right.

photography club

a picture is worth a thousand words

The Photography Club, advised by photography teacher Mr. Creyer, is composed of a group of dedicated photographers. They have spent their time, both in photography class and after school, "developing" their talent. They meet to develop film, learn new techniques to improve their candids, and print pictures. Their amazing work can be seen adorning the halls of Liberty High School and has also been published in Young Writer and in the 1999 Cauldron. They continue to produce fascinating pictures!

helping others

The interact club, advised by Mrs. Ormesher, is a club dedicated to helping out around the community. For the past few years, they have traveled to the Sayre Day Care, where they read stories to the young children. They also make a trip to Lincoln and Hanover Elementary School's to make windsocks with them. They sponsored a young girl from Ecuador through an organization called Children International, and they also held a Bowl-a-thon to raise money for cystic fibrosis.

arts jam

a unique celebration for the arts

Presenting the one and only Arts Jam celebration! This year was the beginning of the first Bethlehem Area School District festival for the arts. Arts Jam was located on Liberty's campus, and lasted from 11am until 10pm. This "Jam" kicked off with a parade, which landed in the Stadium. All the participating schools from the district had their bands perform in a combined field show. This picturesque display of all the bands provided an artistic mood for the remainder of the day. Other attractions included various bands, poetry readings, acapella singers, orchestras, food, photography displays, cermaic displays, theatrical performances, and dance. Overall Arts Jam fed the most starving of artists and added vivid color to everyone's day!

prom in the still of the night

"i remember that night in June, the stars were bright up above..." Over eight hundred Liberty students journeyed up the mountain to dance the night away. The 1999 Junior-Senior Prom was held in Jacoca Hall, a beautiful glass tower that overlooked the setting sun. As the excitment went on, the crowd was presented the Prom Court and then the King and Queen. Dancing together as royalty, King Jim Reeves and Queen Leah Naylor, led everyone through the 'Still of the Night'. The entire area was full of activity which included a Ragae band and a horse and carriage ride around the mountain top. Even faculty and their dates had a blast. Much thanks is due to the junior class who spent the many hours necessary to make the night such a success.

you can bet you'll have fun

Oh what a night! After the sun had set, the king and queen had gone home, and the seniors of 1999 had attended their last Liberty dance, a night full of fun awaited the many who attended the Liberty High School post prom party. The party was held at Liberty, as usual, and was organized under the direction of Mrs. Carolyn Roman. There were all kinds of activities ranging from swing dance lessons, the human fly wall, rock climbing, sumo wrestling, and gambling! There was food and drink to satisfy the hunger left by a night of dancing at Iacocca Hall. Fun was had by all and memories were made that will last a lifetime! Liberty's Post Prom has become a tradition and will continue to be a success in years to come.

graduation

see you in September... nope!

Presenting the Class of 1999! On June 11, the Class of 1999 bid their farewell to Liberty High School. Commencement began with a beautiful fanfare performed by our very own herald trumpets. The orchestra then signaled the start of one memorable night to be shared by the anxious graduates. As the class processed into Stabler Arena, the audience went wild. What more should be expected from the heart of Liberty? Secretary Raegan Medgie greeted the audience by advising them to "sit back and relax, as we are feelin' great, feelin' fine, the graduating class of 1999!". Brooke McIntyre set the stage for the class speakers, Todd Theman and Allison Reszek, with a stunning reading of "On the Pulse of Morning" by Maya Angelou. Treasurer, Kristen Vazquez, then presented the class gift (the renovation of the Class of 1949 podium), followed by the Class President Matt Holt who recieved the first diploma and stated "Join me in turning our tassles from left to right and step forward into history." Lastly, Vice President, Julia Shahda, bid the class farewell as she recalled that "there are as many possibilities as there are stars in the sky...class, we are the heart of Liberty...so for the good, the bad, and all the inbetween, thank you for being so amazing by just being you...it's been fun. Farewell Class of 1999!"

Let's hear it for the boys! This graduating group smiles for their commencement...or is it for the party following?

Right: "Go back to when you were afraid of the dark..." Class Speaker, Todd Theman, asks the class during his very moving speech. Above: Faculty speaker, Allison Reczek, concludes her speech, "...and say simlpy, very simlpy, with hope..."

These gals decide to sit back and relax before their time is called to walk up that isle!

Alex Korutz holds back the tears as he listens to Katie Horenz's deep thoughts about graduation. It's ok to cry!

This time, instead of cheese, say "We're graduating!", girls!

These crazy chicks crack cool smiles seconds before commencement!

Tommy,
To a beautiful and radiant "soon to be senior". Thank you for listening to my senseless stories, starry nights, peanut butter, "Kicking beats", eating and drinking in front of you, time, and catepillars. You are incredible ... continue to make others smile and feel wonderful like you did for me. I love you!
Raegan
P.S. Hewhoa Tommy!

Raegan Medgie and Lindsay Birckhead

Raegan,
What can I say? Your one of a kind. Even though your leaving, I know that you'll always be close. Don't worry, I'll keep you up to date with all of the gossip as long as you promise to come back and help me with Cauldron. When ever you aren't sure about something, always remember, what ever you put your mind to , you can achieve. I'll miss you!
I love you! - Lindsay

Julie Shahda and Lindsay Birckhead

Julie,
Whose going to make me spit out my gum next year? I'm going to miss doing all of your work for you. Not really but I will really miss you. This year has gone too quickly. Thank you for listening to all my problems. Never forget our nights at school and your amazing cropping ability. Don't worry, over basketball season you'll be seeing a lot of me. Please promise me one thing, if I let go of my bitterness, so will you. Thanks for everything. We really did make the best yearbook ever.
Love always,
Lindsay

Sara, Katie, Kristi, Laura & Jen

The 1999 Cauldron, Volume 74, was printed in Gettysburg, Pennsylvania by the Herff Jones Yearbook Company. Under the guidance of company representative Nancy Junis, we, the Liberty High School Yearbook staff have once again produced a wonderful yearbook. All senior, underclassmen, and faculty portraits were taken by Christmas City Studios of Bethlehem, Pennsylvania. Christmas City Studio photographers also supplied the Sports Team pictures. Candid photographs for the Sports, Underclassmen, Senior, Faculty, and Student Life sections were supplied by Christmas City Studios and the Cauldron photography staff. Over eight hundred copies of the Cauldron were sold this school year. All seniors received their copy free of charge with the payment of their class dues. All underclassmen were charged either $50 or $55.

This year's book was printed on Bordeaux 100# paper (black and white). The cover design is Vibra Tex Matte Navy 41010 and Nova Tex Burgundy 1822 with Krinkle Grain. Endsheets are plain with a blue tone edge. The book consists of 336 pages, 16 of those in color. All dividers were prepared by Julia Shahda, Lindsay Birckhead, Amanda Sterner, and Mrs. Gilliard.

The Cauldron Staff would like to say "Thank You" to Dave Raub and Maureen O'Meara who supplied us with many pictures, all of the computer teachers who let us use the computers during their class times, and Dr. Allan's second period class, the secretaries for all their knowledge. We would also like to extend our thanks to Nancy Junis, from Herff Jones Yearbooks, for coming to help whenever we called and for all her good ideas. A special thanks to all of the employees at Christmas City Studios in Bethlehem for helping us out in a jam. Everyone has been great, we couldn't have done it without you!
