UNESCO Heritage status at risk?

BY MARIEKE ANDRONACHE
 Special to the Bethlehem Press

City council Sept. 20 decided to defer a decision on a proposed multi-dwelling complex of 40 apartments on West Broad Street because it would negatively affect the city's bid for recognition by UNESCO as a World Heritage site.

Councilwoman Dr. Paige Van Wirt, who not only met with officials involved with the UNESCO bid, but also with members of the Historic and Architectural Review Board, spoke passionately about her belief that the project should go ahead.

Van Wirt reminded everyone how the integrity of HARB is based on carefully examining sites and ensuring the city's heritage sites are protected, and how this is a perfect example of how imperative it is that the right people should also be appointed to boards such as this one.

Councilwoman Kiera Wilhelm reaffirmed that "nobody wants to jeopardize our UNESCO heritage status."

However, for Councilwoman Dr. Wandalyne Enix, this was not a gamble she wished to pursue, stating, "I'm not a gambling person."

Enix was not the only one on council to voice concerns about the approval of the project and its potential impact on a UNESCO designation.

Councilwoman Grace Crampsie Smith, who chaired the meeting, said she felt "it would be

BRIDLES AND BADGES Officers welcome visitors

The sixth annual Bridles and Badges Bethlehem Police Mounted Patrol open house was held Sept. 10 at the Quadrant Private Wealth Stable, with hundreds of area residents and supporters coming and going throughout the day. After a brief opening, at which Friends of the Bethlehem Mounted Police president Diane Mack welcomed attendees and Bethlehem Police Chief Michelle Kott thanked the officers, the public enjoyed a variety of experiences, including children's activities, pony rides, an Italian feast, merchandise, raffles, live music, food trucks and a mounted horse demonstration.

Calm during the storm

Former Valley resident experiences Ian in Daytona Beach

BY THERESA O'BRIEN
Special to the Bethlehem Press

My family moved to Florida in January 2021 and bought a house in Daytona Beach five months later. Although we had some heavy rains during our first year, we experienced our first real Florida storm when Ian came to town at the end of September. Ian hit southwest Florida as a category 4 hurricane, but was only a tropical storm when it reached Daytona Beach.

The attitude of my Volusia County neighbors to the storm – preparing long in advance, recognizing that forecasts change often in the days before a storm, and refusing to panic – was a refreshing change from the toilet paper-buying stampedes common in the North before a snowstorm. As new Floridians, we adopted the local attitude.

We had professionals cut down weak trees and prune tree limbs when we bought the house. We replaced three single-paned windows with impact-rated glass. Finally, we had bought a small generator – one that plugs into the house mains, and can power a large appliance like a refrigerator as well as some lights – and made sure we always had small propane tanks and five-gallon steel cans of gasoline on hand. When we heard (ironically, from Northern relatives) that Ian was likely to hit Florida, we looked at the weather forecast, but didn't obsess over it. We knew where the local shelter was – a public high school one mile from our house – and we knew we had food in the house. Our neighborhood, which is on an older section of the grid, tends to lose power easily, so we were not surprised when the power went out at 5:57 a.m. on Sept. 29.

We were disappointed, but not surprised, that the internet went out too. (We had battery backup for our router, so if the ISP had been up and running, we would have remained in business.)

After the rain and wind died down on Thursday, I did my typical four-mile run along International Speedway Boulevard, where the damage was minimal – leaf-strewn parking lots, a few signs down, some street lights out. Then my daughter and I drove around our own small neighborhood of Daytona Highlands, which is a mix of houses dating from the 1920s through the 1980s, with Italian cypress trees, live oak trees, palms, and palmettos.

The damage was fairly predictable. Unbalanced trees had split, and unpruned limbs had fallen. Wooden stockade fence panels had been blown down. A quick read of NextDoor.com indicated that some houses close to the Halifax River had water intrusion. And I had to pull a garbage bag's worth of my snowbird neighbor's leaves out of my pool.

Some of our friends never lost their power; others got it back within 24 hours. We were less lucky, and went about five days without power (other than our generator) or internet access (except through our phones, which never lost service). Although I didn't enjoy refilling the generator and driving to Buc-ee's gas station to refill the gas cans, our food never went bad, and I rescued a sizable amount of meat from the freezer of a neighbor who was out of town on business.

After my first real Florida storm, I still love it here. I'll take it over a Nor'easter any day.

Smoke Alarms

Smoke alarms are a key part of a home fire escape plan. When there is a fire, smoke spreads fast. Working smoke alarms give you early warning so you can get outside quickly.

FACTS

- A closed door may slow the spread of smoke, heat, and fire.
- Smoke alarms should be installed on every level.
- Roughly 3 out of 5 fire deaths happen in homes with no smoke alarms.

AREA DEATHS

Julia Brooks

Unitarian Universalist Church member

Julia Brooks, 84, died Sept. 26, 2022. She was of German ancestry from Temeschburg, currently Timisoara, Romania, and was a daughter of Julius and Elisabeth (Schneider) Theisz. She was the wife of the late Richard D. Brooks and of Dr. Ken Haruta.

She was a Portal student at Cedar Crest College and earned a degree, summa cum laude, in mathematics.

She taught mathematics and chemistry part-time at the Swain School, Allentown, and one year full-time in the mathematics department at Emmaus High School.

Wind and cold rain may have been appropriate, but it didn't help turnout for the 35th annual Celtic Classic Highland Games & Festival the Sept 23 weekend.

Celtic Cultural Alliance Executive Director Jayne Recker said attendance was lower than planned, but the event was still a success, with Celtic food, arts and pastimes enjoyed by residents and visitors throughout the weekend of Sept. 23.

Winners of the various competitions are:

Grade 3 pipe bands - Carnegie Mellon University, Pittsburgh

Grade 4 pipe band - Sean McGonigal Pipe Band, West Orange, NJ

Amateur Drum Major - William Bullard, Fall River, MA

Open Drum Major - Andrew Sheedy, Syracuse, NY

Fiddle Competition - Serafina Salvaterra, 13 + under, Alburts

Alannah Redmond, 14 - 18, York U.S National Highland Games

Championship - John Van-Beuren, Meridian, ID

Scottish Shortbread Baking Contest - Dana Doig, Coatsville

Faith and Begorra, Purveyor of Fine Irish and Catholic Gifts from Denville, NJ, had just the right thing for shopper Christina Nemes. She was looking for something special for her granddaughter and found these toddler kilts. "I'm going to buy this one; Mimi will love it," she said as she held up the Scottish red plaid one.

The O'Grady Quinlan Academy of Irish Dance is always a highlight of Celtic Classic. Performing several times on every day and many stages, they are dancing on the Tavern in the Glen stage. Based in Easton, the dance company actively trains through classes and camp. They have a busy schedule all year, including parades, competitions and public performances.

The "Steel City Rovers" are a great party style band with plenty of Irish stories to tell. They perform songs like "Seven Beer Itch" and "Guinness for Two". The band traveled from Hamilton, Canada, to perform at Celtic Classic.

'We Build Bethlehem' announced

BY ED COURRIER
Special to the Bethlehem Press

Chairperson Janine Santoro announced an upcoming "We Build Bethlehem" event at the Mayor's South Side Task Force Sept. 27 hybrid meeting held in the NCC Fowler Center.

"Building a Bethlehem for Everyone: What You Told Us and What's in Store" is scheduled for Oct. 26 from 6-7:30 p.m. at the NCC Fowler Center. Santoro asked those interested in attending to register at: <https://bit.ly/webuild-bethlehem>.

With National Hispanic Heritage Month continuing through Oct. 15, Santoro, Toni Fernandez from Community Outreach of Northampton Community College, and others spoke about several community events celebrating it happening around the city.

Benita Draper and Eric Fontanez from Bethlehem Area School District's Office of Equity Initiatives described what Bethlehem schools are doing to celebrate National Hispanic Heritage Month.

The Bethlehem, Easton and Allentown school districts in collaboration with Lehigh University, are offering conferences for male students on self esteem and social skills.

Downtown Manager Erin Zebertavage spoke about Festival Unbound and the LUAG's upcoming "What Matters Most" opening reception and community celebration scheduled for Oct. 7 at 5:30 p.m. in the South Bethlehem Greenway near Webster Street.

Adrienne McNeil, assistant from Lehigh University, said they are bringing back the Fall Southside Clean Up. Run by Lehigh students, it is scheduled for 10 a.m. at Farrington Square on Oct. 15.

Christine Wieder from the Bethlehem Area Public Library South Side Branch mentioned upcoming events like Housing Assistance Information for Nov. 15 and a Puzzle Tree Painting Workshop on Oct. 15. She also highlighted programs including After-School Homework Help, Conversational Spanish and South Side Stitches!

National Museum of Industrial History CEO Kara Mohsinger and Susan Vitez from Steelworkers' Archives promoted the Steel Weekend and Steel Workers Reunion 2022 free event held at NMIH Oct. 15 and 16.

Vitez mentioned they were involved with the free Northampton County Festival Oct. 8 at Louise W. Moore Park in Easton. Steeples and Steel Tours will start Oct. 29.

Southside Community Police Officer William Rodriguez said the Bethlehem Police Department participated in the National Coffee with a Cop Day at Zekraft Café Oct. 5.

Delia Marrero introduced herself as the new YWCA Bethlehem executive director and described an anti-racism initiative and other programs.

State Rep. Steve Samuelson (D) rushed in at the end of the meeting to share information on the recently-passed state budget, with increased funding for education, mental health and affordable housing programs. He said there will be a one-time funding boost in the state's property tax and rent rebate program for seniors.

Samuelson discussed the recently passed bill featuring five amendments to the state constitution. He said he voted against the bill. It would need to pass a second time before going on the ballot.

The Mayor's South Side Task Force regularly meets on the last Tuesday of the month.

Smoke Alarms at Home

SAFETY FIRST

- Install smoke alarms in every bedroom. They should also be outside each sleeping area and on every level of the home. Install alarms in the basement.
- Test all smoke alarms at least once a month.
- Current alarms on the market employ different types of technology including multi-sensing, which could include smoke and carbon monoxide combined.
- Today's smoke alarms will be more technologically advanced to respond to a multitude of fire conditions.
- A smoke alarm should be on the ceiling or high on a wall. Keep smoke alarms away from the kitchen to reduce false alarms. They should be at least 10 feet (3 meters) from the stove.
- People who are hard-of-hearing or deaf can use special alarms. These alarms have strobe lights and bed shakers.
- Replace all smoke alarms when they are 10 years old.

BETHLEHEM TOWNSHIP

Bethlehem Township Commissioners held a brief meeting Oct. 3 which resulted in taking care of various township issues.

Two resolutions, one pertaining to the attendance of Sgt. Daryl Lapointe at the Pennsylvania DUI Association's annual meeting next month, and one authorizing applications to the Local Law Enforcement Support Grant Program of the Pennsylvania Commission on Crime and Delinquency, were passed unanimously.

Among the motions passed were the adoption of an updated stormwater capital improvements plan, the adoption of a revised pollutant reduction plan and approving a 30-day public comment period, as well as a motion approving a letter of interest to the FEMA hazard mitigation grant program for the Easton Avenue Phase 1 Flooding Mitigation Project.

The board did vote to defer the motion authorizing to advertise for bid snowplowing/removal at Madison Farms to a later date.

Pertaining to the Sept. 19 courtesy of the floor discussions about a planned bicycle/walking trail at the Traditions of America in Green Pond, it was confirmed that a meeting between the commissioners and homeowners of the TOA will take place Oct. 18.

The next commissioners' meeting is Oct. 17.

Anderson Campus expands emergency room

A new emergency room has opened at the Anderson Campus just off Route 33 at 1872 St. Luke's Boulevard, Bethlehem Township, facing Freemansburg Avenue.

The facility includes a Level II Adult Trauma Center and increased capacity from 31 to 45 beds. The three-bed state-of-the-art trauma bay has dedicated radiology services, including an integrated built-in x-ray arm that extends over all three bays and is adjacent to the GE CT scanner. "This enhanced and enlarged emergency department will allow us to accommodate the robust patient volume we experience at St. Luke's Anderson in a much more efficient manner," says John B. Wilson, Chief of Emergency Medicine, St. Luke's Anderson Campus.

The campus was recognized as the second "Best Teaching Hospitals" in the country by Fortune/Merative 100 Top Hospitals and as one of "America's Best Maternity Hospitals for 2022" by Newsweek.

In the 3A finals, top seed Helena Lynn of Liberty, with sign, defeated two seed Lexie Warsing of Parkland, 6-2, 6-2.

'Canes Lynn wins 3A championship

BY KATIE MCDONALD
kmcdonald@tnonline.com

Liberty's Helena Lynn was crowned District XI Class 3A singles tennis champion, and Parkland's Lexie Warsing was runner-up after their match won by Lynn, 6-2, 6-2, last Friday at Saucon Valley High School.

It was the third time the players met this season, and all matches were won by the Hurricane sophomore.

"Each match has been pretty close, so I tried to stay on offense a lot, move her around, and come to the net," Lynn said. "It feels really good, and I definitely have liked the experience."

Warsing won the first game in both sets, but it was of no consequence compared to Lynn's steady demeanor throughout the match, including two big, come-from-behind games.

In the first set, Lynn was down 0-30 in the fifth game and won. In the second set, Lynn was down 0-40 in the seventh game and won.

"It was really hot out, so it was just who could stay in the point longer and play good, solid points to get back into the game," said Lynn. "I think I mixed up my serve locations, and that was definitely a strength of mine today."

Liberty tennis coach Chris Conrad has no doubt Lynn, the Hurricanes' first district tennis champion since 2003, has the potential to make a run at the PIAA State Singles Tennis Tournament, which is scheduled for next month in Hershey.

Bartolacci first in 2A tennis

BY KATIE MCDONALD
kmcdonald@tnonline.com

Moravian Academy's Chessie Bartolacci was crowned District XI Class 2A singles tennis champion, and Bethlehem Catholic's Cara Magliochetti was runner-up after their match won by Bartolacci, 6-1, 6-3, last Friday at Saucon Valley High School.

Both players won their semifinal match about 30 minutes before the final.

"I was tired in the beginning but there's something to be said for just keep playing and you'll get your energy back," said Bartolacci, who defeated Notre Dame Green Pond's Veronica Lynn, 6-3, 2-6, 6-1. "It was tough. Veronica's an insane player. She gave it her all, and I was a little scared there because she was doing really well, but I pulled through, and I think she played a great match and so did Cara."

Magliochetti defeated Northwestern Lehigh's Mallory Conner, 6-3, 6-4.

"I actually train with Mallory sometimes, so I know her and knew it was going to be a tough match. I felt confident once I started playing, but then I lost confidence in the second set and lost a few games, but then I stayed consistent and kept making balls," Magliochetti said. "I think I was hitting my forehand pretty well and had good pace on it and just enough spin when I needed to."

Bartolacci lost only one game to Magliochetti in the first set of the district final before the Becahi senior started to challenge the Moravian Academy junior in the second set.

"She started hitting more balls in, and I had to play smarter, hitting where I thought would

Hawks celebrate Coach Harmanos

BY KATIE MCDONALD
kmcdonald@tnonline.com

Sep. 27 marked an end and a beginning for Bethlehem Catholic tennis coach George Harmanos as the Lady Hawks won their final regular season match at home against Allentown Central Catholic, 4-3, and as Harmanos was celebrated in anticipation of his retirement later this month as head coach of Becahi's girls and boys tennis teams.

Harmanos's wife Mary Ann, son David, daughter Laura, and grandchildren were joined by players, colleagues, and friends at Becahi's home tennis courts on Illick's Mill Road to express their appreciation to Coach Harmanos after leading the Hawks for 95 seasons: 49 with the boys team and 46 with the girls team. (Son Mark was unable to attend.)

Speaking to everyone in attendance, Phil Magliochetti, father of Becahi's number one singles player Cara, joked that he doubts Harmanos told his wife "one down, 94 seasons to go," after his first season as head coach.

"The most important thing is the person and man that Coach is," Magliochetti said. "To me, not only is he a great example and mentor to our children but to us as well, and shows us what it means to be a man of faith, of high morals and values, and that has permeated to all of us. It's been an absolute privilege and honor to have him coach."

Harmanos began teaching math at Becahi in 1970 and retired from the classroom in 2013.

"At that time, all the coaches were teachers, so I wasn't coaching anything else, and they needed a tennis coach, and they knew I had a tennis racket. That was the pathway to 95 seasons of coaching," he laughed. "I'm definitely going to miss it. One of the things I loved about teaching was seeing kids when they were younger; in fact, people would mention to me, you should teach in

Becahi tops Easton, set to host Parkland

BY JEFF MOELLER
Special to the Press

Too often then he would like to think, Bethlehem Catholic head football coach Kyle Haas has had his club waste opportunities this season.

At Easton last Friday, fate was on his side.

The Golden Hawks had only 14 minutes of possession time, but they managed to produce three touchdowns in a much-needed, 28-14 victory over the Red Rovers.

With the victory, Becahi improved its mark to 4-3 overall. They will host Parkland next on Saturday night.

Quarterback Luke Thomas had a perfect 10-for-10, 120 yards, two touchdown evening with both of the tosses going to Jaiden Ellis-Lahay (37 and 18 yards).

Haas was impressed with Thomas's outing, and believed he had turned the corner after some sluggish outings.

"Luke had some tough games," said Haas. "But he saw the field a lot better, and he was able to stay in the pocket. He has become more confident, and can put it all together."

Becahi had just 32 plays from scrimmage, 22 of them running plays behind Jacob Sutton's 13 carries for 46 yards.

DJ Kelly brought back an interception 90 yards for a score, and Troy Miller swiped the other two passes.

It was a compact night for the Golden Hawks despite East running back Aidan Hutchinson grinding out 198 yards on 38 carries.

"They certainly controlled the clock," stated Haas. "We had one interception for a touchdown called back because of a block in the back. We really made the most of our chances."

"Cottingham Stadium can be a very difficult place to play. It is such an electric atmosphere there. You have to go out and play hard there. If you don't, it can be a nightmare."

"But our kids are very resilient. They didn't back down."

The Golden Hawks will meet Parkland (4-3), which blasted East Stroudsburg South, 57-8.

"Parkland is a good football team, but they are beatable like any other team in the league," said Haas. "You can't make mistakes against them. They have their quarterback back as well as some other people who were hurt. They have a good kicker who is a Division I prospect."

"It looks like they are at full strength now. They are a sound defensive team and have some weapons."

"We were happy to get the win against Easton, but we can't get too complacent."

NOTES AND PREDICTION: Sutton scored a touchdown against Easton, and Rahmel Terry had 14 yards on five carries. Ellis-La-hey had three catches for 59 yards, and Eric Wert had three catches for 31 yards. The Golden Hawks had three fumbles against Easton ... Parkland beat the Golden Hawks, 35-7, last season ... Beca began the week in first place in the District 11 Class 4A bracket, percentage points ahead of Central Catholic. The Golden Hawks have Freedom and Central Catholic left on their schedule. Haas believes his team can beat Central Catholic, but he sees Freedom as a "major challenge."

Luke Spang has completed 38 of 62 passes for 605 yards with five touchdowns and two interceptions. Trey Tremba has rushed for 573 yards with 10 touchdowns, and Jack Harrison has 13 receptions for 241 yards ... Beca wants to close the season strong, and Parkland will be a measuring stick. The Trojans seem to be putting it all back together ... Beca showed character coming out of Easton with a win. The Golden Hawks need to put some impressive wins together, and this could be the start. They will need to play mistake-free football, and they are healthy ... Have a good feeling here about the Golden Hawks. It will be a tight one. Haas will owe me a Sicilian pie from Dom's Westgate Pizza ... GOLDEN HAWKS, 28-26.

Freedom gets by Whitehall LHS falls to Hornets

BY PETER CAR
pcar@tnonline.com

The famous saying goes, "If it ain't broke, don't fix it."

For Freedom's football team, their recipe for success over the past month has been simple—give the ball to Jalen Fletcher.

The EPC rushing leader had himself another night, as Fletcher reeled off 267 yards and two touchdowns in last week's 33-17 victory over Whitehall. It was the fourth straight win for the Pates (5-2) and the common theme in those games has been Fletcher's dominance with a league-leading 958 yards rushing this season.

It was put on display right off the bat last week, when he scampered 63 yards on Freedom's second play from scrimmage to set up the game's opening score—a one-yard TD plunge by quarterback Ethan Neidig. The Pates put Whitehall behind the eight ball early, jumping out to a 14-0 lead to give them control throughout the night.

"We came out popping and it got a little messy for a while there, but I thought our kids were physical and we ran well and blocked well," said head coach Jason Roeder. "With the way the game played out, we were able to get the lead and have success on the ground, so it got to the point of why do we want to put the ball in the air? However, moving forward we do have to be more balanced."

The Pates put together 381 yards of total offense, all of it coming from the rushing attack. Neidig threw the ball only twice last week, with both passes intercepted by the Whitehall defense.

The Zephyrs (4-3) hung tough despite falling behind early, as Nigel Linton provided a big play in the first half, as he ripped off a 62-yard rushing score. A 23-yard field goal by Andrew Deutsch before halftime closed Freedom's lead to 21-10 at the intermission, but Freedom expanded their lead in the third quarter following a one-yard score by Fletcher.

Kyle Johnson put Freedom ahead 33-10 with 9:19 left in the fourth quarter with a one-yard score, but Whitehall battled back when Trey Dogmanits threw a 23-yard TD to Aiden Parvel three minutes later to make it a two-possession game to breathe some life back into the game, but it was too little, too late.

"We didn't play our brand of football on defense and I'm disappointed in that," said Whitehall head coach Matt Seneca.

LHS volleyball eyes top spot in EPC tournament

BY PETER CAR
pcar@tnonline.com

It's the calm before the storm, as East Penn Conference tournament action gets underway this weekend for most sports.

Liberty's volleyball team is certainly excited about that opportunity, as the Hurricanes come into the week undefeated at 16-0 and primed to gain the top seed in the EPC tournament when action gets underway Saturday afternoon.

The Hurricanes are excited about the opportunity to play for the league championship, which is something head coach Connor Swigart is hoping can come to fruition in the coming week.

"Of course our ultimate goal is to win but it is going to be great to have really good matches during the tournament and we are hoping we can get to the final," Swigart said. "Once that happens it is about that day, how we are playing and letting the chips fall where they may."

"It is always fun to finish with Freedom as a springboard to playoffs. The girls have been doing all they can to stay healthy and growing so we can be peaking for playoffs. Having said that we are trying to keep it one day at a time, as cliché as that may be."

Liberty closes the regular season with Easton and Freedom this week before awaiting the final seeding of Saturday's eight-team tournament. They'll rely Sydney Houchens, Bailey Corrigan and Lora Flynn to lead the offense like they have all season. Courtney Shire has been a rock in the back row and leads the team in digs and has been elite in serve receive. Ava Janny and Gianna Sciarra coming off the bench as defensive specialists is added depth that has proved to be vital.

"Our seven seniors (Lauren Zile, Lilly Parane, Patrice Kasten, Alyssa Rachwal, Ava Janny, Courtney Shire, and Sydney Houchens) have really set the tone for us this year," Swigart said. "They have been grinding and working hard the last four years in the hopes of having a season like this one. Coming into the year we were hoping for a chance at the EPC and District title and thus far we have been able to put ourselves in a place to compete for those titles. It doesn't get much better than being undefeated and not losing a set in league play, but more importantly, how well the team is gelling has been incredible. Things always spring up each season and we have been able to handle all the adversity and grow stronger from it. Our staff has been incredible at being able to take the temperature of the team and be able to press all the right buttons. When you have kids and coaches who are able to collaborate toward a common goal it is something special."

Bethlehem Catholic (10-4) closes out the season with Nazareth and Dieruff, as they look to clinch a spot in the EPC tourney as well. The Hawks came into the week seeded seventh in the conference, but are also battling with Northampton (11-5) for the final two spots in the EPC tourney. Both teams one more win in their final two games to clinch a berth.

Freedom (5-10) knocked off Easton last week to pick up a victory, but the Patriots will see their season end this week with matches against Dieruff and then Liberty on Thursday.

D-11 HOF features 3 former Hurricanes

BY PETER CAR
pcar@tntonline.com

The District 11 Hall of Fame latest class of inductees will be celebrated on Oct. 16 at the Center Hotel/Lehigh Valley in Breinigsville.

This is the fourth class of inductees to be honored, as 17 new members will be added in this class.

Liberty's Dan Persa highlights the Bethlehem contingent, as the three-sport athlete was the 2006 PIAA 4A Player of the Year. He led Liberty to two state championship game appearances and took home Big 33 MVP honors.

Legendary Central Catholic girls' basketball coach Mike Kopp highlights the list of inductees. Kopp won 1,045 games in his 46-year career to go along with five state championships, 22 District 11 titles and 18 league crowns.

Liberty's Mike Hartenstine and Janelle Thomas are also apart of this class of nominees. Bethlehem Catholic's Mike Guman is also in this class.

This is the second class to be inducted this year, as the third HOF class was inducted in April after being postponed due to the pandemic.

Gwen Armitage

A pioneer in athletic administration, Armitage was named the athletic director at Emmaus in 1974. She became the first woman AD in the state. Prior to that position, Armitage coached the girls basketball team to 209 wins, while winning nine league championships. In softball, Armitage had a record of 47-17, winning a league championship in 1970. She was also president of the Pennsylvania State Athletic Director Association, the secretary-treasurer of the East Penn Girls Softball League for three years and served as treasurer of the EPC from 1975-80.

Debbie (Christman) Collins

Collins flourished in field hockey, and won state gold in track and field at Emmaus, but made her biggest mark on the basketball court where she was one of the area's first great female players. Collins helped the Hornets win district titles in 1976 and 1978. She totaled 2,285 points in her career, finishing as the most prolific scorer in the state. She remains second in the area, behind Allentown Central Catholic graduate and District 11 Hall of Famer Michelle Marciniak. She also had over 1,500 rebounds in her career. Among her highlights was a 52-point performance against ACCHS that earned her a spot in Sports Illustrated's "Faces in the Crowd" section. She earned All-East Penn Conference and All-District 11 honors. As a senior, she averaged 26.7 points per game.

Dave Crowell

One of the greatest wrestling coaches in the state and country,

Crowell has had an outstanding career at Easton (1977-84), Wilson (1992-2003) and Nazareth (2003-present). He has earned over 550 coaching victories and 11 state championships. He has coached 23 state individual champions, at least one at each school. He also earned two National Coach of the Year awards.

Greg DeLong

An 11-time letter winner in several sports at Parkland, DeLong made an indelible mark on the football field where he was an all-league player and a Big 33 selection. He was the Gatorade player of the year in 1990. He was also a two-year starter in basketball and as a member of the track team he earned District 11 gold medals in the shot put, discus and on the 4x400 relay team. He also was a state silver medalist.

Mike Guman

A terrific three-sport athlete at Bethlehem Catholic where he graduated in 1976, Guman was an all-state selection on both sides of the ball in football and a Parade All-American. He was also the leading scorer for two seasons and a league MVP in basketball while scoring 1,372 points. In baseball, he was good enough to be drafted in the 13th round of the 1976 amateur draft.

Mike Hartenstine

Liberty High School's Mike Hartenstine excelled in football and track and field for the Hurricanes. He set the District 11 shot put record at 62 feet, 11 inches and was a PIAA silver medalist. In football, was a first-team all-league linebacker and tight end and a Big 33 selection.

Donna Kennedy

Kennedy made her mark in local sports as an athlete, coach and official. A 1979 Catasauqua grad, Kennedy is the Rough Riders' all-time leading scorer with 1,936 points. She helped lead the Roughies to the Colonial League's first two titles in 1976 and 1977. She was a three-time league and District 11 first-team selection, and holds the school's record for most points in a game (47). In addition to basketball, she was a three-time Colonial League all-star in field hockey and softball. In field hockey, she won Colonial and District 11 titles. In addition, she coached Salisbury to Colonial League titles twice in basketball and became one of the area's most prominent field hockey officials, working the 2000 PIAA finals.

Mike Kopp

Kopp earned his status as one of the greatest coaches in Lehigh Valley sports history by winning 1,045 games, the most in Pennsylvania girls basketball history. He coached for 46 seasons, 42 at Allentown Central Catholic. He led the Vikettes to five state titles, 22 District 11 championships and 18 league titles. Under Kopp, ACCHS became the only girls basketball program to win four consecutive state championships (2001-2004). The team won 28 consecutive district playoff games and 11 straight titles from 2000-2010. Kopp also spent 13 years as the school's athletic director.

Debbie Linton

The Catasauqua product could do it all on the track. She was a 1984 state champ in the 300-meter hurdles, establishing a record that stood until 2015. She won 11 gold medals in the Colonial League championships and 10 titles in the District 11 championships and was named All-American in 1984. She died in June 2006 after a battle with breast cancer.

John Maitland

A longtime Easton Area coach and administrator, Maitland is being recognized for his contributions to coaching and administration. He coached 25 District 11 and three PIAA Wrestling champions and founded the Pennsylvania Wrestling Coaches Association. As an AD, he co-founded the Pennsylvania State Athletic Directors Association (PSADA) and the District 11 AD association while winning numerous AD of the Year awards.

Bill Pensyl

An iconic figure synonymous with Bangor athletics and the State Belt, Pensyl was the Slaters boys basketball coach for 38 seasons. He also served as Bangor's baseball coach for 16 seasons. He amassed 449 wins in his basketball coaching career, leading Bangor to four Colonial League titles to go with a District 11 crown in 1988. His 1983 baseball squad finished fourth in the PIAA tournament. Pensyl has also been one of the area's most prominent baseball umpires for decades. He will join his son, Brad, who was inducted into the District 11 Hall of Fame in April.

Dan Persa

A three-sport athlete at Liberty who excelled on the gridiron, Persa threw for 5,779 yards and rushed for 2,526 yards in his career. He played in two PIAA title games. He was the 2006 Pennsylvania Class 4A Player of the Year. Persa earned the MVP Award in the Big 33 Classic and was the 2006 Maxwell Club Award winner.

Fred Ross

Like Pensyl at Bangor, Ross is another iconic coach who is synonymous with Stroudsburg football. He was the Mountaineers head coach from 1969 through 2010. By the end of his career, he was the third-most winningest football coach in District 11, totaling 272 wins. He was a five-time Coach of the Year and coached in two Big 33 Classics. The stadium at Stroudsburg bears his name.

Doug Snyder

Playing on hall of fame coach J. Milo Seward's final team at Allen, Snyder was a 1,000-point scorer in his high school career. After beginning his coaching career in Princeton, New Jersey, Snyder returned to his alma mater and made his mark as the head coach of the Canaries boys basketball program from 1997-2020. Snyder collected 364 wins at Allen to go along with 102 while coaching at Princeton. He led the Canaries to four league and four District 11 titles and guided Allen to eight PIAA tournament appearances.

Michelle Swantner

Saint Clair's legendary Swantner scored an amazing 2,857 points from 1980-1984, all without the aid of the 3-point arc. She is ranked No. 11 all-time on the PIAA's girls basketball scoring list and once scored 76 points in a game against Freeland. She led Saint Clair to three PIAA Class A tournament and four District 11 finals.

James Steidle

Steidle was one of Pottsville's all-time best coaches in two sports. He was the head baseball coach for 43 seasons, leading the Crimson Tide to 574 wins, two Schuylkill League titles, four District 11 championships and a third-place finish in the state in 1977. In 15 seasons as the boys basketball coach, he led Pottsville to 277 wins, seven Schuylkill League crowns and three District 11 golds.

Janelle Thomas

The 1995 Liberty High grad made her mark in long distance running. She won a total of five PIAA gold medals, three in cross country and two in the 3,200 meters in track and field. She held the PIAA record in the 3,200 meters for 14 years and also won the 3,000 meters at the prestigious Penn Relays. She was named a four-time All-American and competed in the Foot Locker National Championships.

Hawks eye Central

kmcaldonald@tntonline.com

Bethlehem Catholic's girls soccer team sits atop the city rivalry leader board, but there's another kind of rivalry looming for the Golden Hawks midweek when they take on Allentown Central Catholic, hoping to avenge last year's one goal, regular season loss and last year's one goal, district playoff loss to the Vikettes.

"We've both become very competitive," said Becahi coach Brad Kratzer. "Whoever has more heart is going to win that game."

The Hawks scored their seventh consecutive shutout on Monday afternoon when they defeated Liberty, 4-0, at Becahi.

"We're progressing and peaking at the right time. We're very much a possession-based team, so as long as we don't concede anything quick, it allows us to continuously keep attacking," Coach Kratzer said. "I think today was one of the better days. It's the work ethic of the girls, and they finally bought into the formation we need to play. We're finishing a little bit better, moving our feet quicker. Everything is better and quicker."

Liberty's offense had a tough time getting past the midfield in the second half of play on Monday thanks to Becahi's sound defense.

"We really try and make sure we're not flat in the back, so we have some movement and able to play in and around the back, and honestly, we're connecting really well and connecting all of our midfielders to help us move the ball," said Becahi defender Emily Pepe, who also celebrated senior night on Monday.

"I got to see this team grow from being more of a scrappier team to really being together and trusting each other."

Becahi senior Ashley Zuniga scored the Hawks' only second-half goal on an assist by Summer Hill.

"Summer honestly could have shot it herself, but she played it off to me, and I kicked it in the lower left 90," Zuniga said. "It felt great to score on my senior night. That's what I wanted."

Hill did score midway through the first half, after a goal by Maddie Nichelson and before Nichelson's header.

This week concludes the regular soccer season as the Eastern Pennsylvania Conference Tournament is scheduled to begin on Saturday. First, however, the Hawks have a score to settle with the Vikettes on Wednesday at Iron Lakes.

"We definitely are looking for revenge. They beat us in the district semifinal by one, and they scored early in the game, but I think we have a good chance of beating them," said Zuniga. "Our defense is holding it back."

BALL

"If we come out and play our brand of football, we can compete in this league, but if we come out soft like we did here [against Freedom], we're going to struggle."

Freedom now heads to Pleasant Valley (5-2) on Friday night to take on a reeling Bears' squad that has lost their last two games by a combined 84-14 total to Northampton and Parkland. An expected Freedom victory would push them into their final two regular season games against city rivals Bethlehem Catholic and Liberty with plenty of momentum.

"We just want to keep riding the wave we're on," Roeder said. "Winning four straight is always big, especially when the kids understand that we still have room to improve."

Liberty fell to 2-5 overall last week after getting thumped by Emmaus 49-0 last week. The Hurricanes had a rough night on special teams, as botched snap on a punt, followed by a blocked punt for a score, resulted in 14 first half points en route to the mercy rule.

The Hurricanes hope to rebound this week when they host Easton (2-5) at home Friday night.

college, but the fact that you saw kids develop as 15-year-olds and then become 18-year-olds, that's such a huge difference, and I always appreciated that, and you felt like you were making an impact."

Harmanos sees coaching as an extension of teaching; something he was able to share with all three of his children who played tennis at Becahi.

"I always felt that the values we were teaching in the classroom were the values I tried to teach on the tennis court. Fortunately, I've had great kids and we've had some great teams. I've also had some teams that hardly won any matches, and those were good memories as well," said Harmanos. "Winning was important, I'm a competitive guy, I love to win, but that wasn't the reason why I coached all these years." Harmanos knows that retiring from coaching will be difficult but necessary since both he and his wife turned 75-years-old this past summer.

"It's a multitude of reasons. Some are family things, some are personal things," he said. "I love coaching. I used to be a runner, and when I had to give up running because of bad knees, it was really hard, and giving up tennis is going to be hard, but I know that I have to do it. It was a great ride."

be the most effective," said Bartolacci. "Instead of hitting a hard serve and seeing where it goes, I was placing it more, which I have trouble with sometimes, but I think that was a big part of my game today."

Bartolacci also felt that she had a better mindset overall this year compared to last year.

"I think I had fun this year, and it worked out a lot better," she said.

Bartolacci will compete in the PIAA State Singles Tennis Tournament next month, and Magliochetti will compete in the District XI Doubles Tennis Tournament next week.

"She's definitely calm. She's collected. There are times when you can see very brief levels of frustration, but her calmness can kind of irritate her opponent when they are under duress. She's hard to break in terms of emotion and in terms of stability of play," Coach Conrad said. "Both here and at EPCs (Eastern Pennsylvania Conference Tennis Tournament) there was a different game plan in hopes of exploring some weaknesses, and Helena was able to follow the game plan, and we're pretty happy with the result."

Kid Scoop Together: Proof It!

This interview really stinks!

Skunks Tell All!

What if you could ask a skunk any question you wanted? What would you ask? Kid Scoop spoke with skunk authority P.U. Stenchmuck to learn about these smelly creatures from a safe distance.

We skunks are shy and gentle creatures. Yet the sight of a skunk is a fearful sight to many animals!

That's because skunks have a powerful and stinky weapon right under our tails—a VERY stinky spray!

However, we only use this weapon when threatened. Even then, we do everything possible to avoid sending the final stinky spray.

We hiss and stamp our feet. If this doesn't work, we raise our tail over our head as a threat.

If those warnings don't work, well, LOOK OUT!

How many kinds of skunks are there?

There are three kinds of skunks. Do the math problems to match the name of each kind of skunk with its description.

- STRIPED SKUNK
 $17 + 4 + 2 =$
15. It has a broad, hairless muzzle, like that of a pig. The back and tail are white.
- SPOTTED SKUNK
 $21 - 11 =$
10. The smallest of all skunks, it has a dot in the middle of its forehead. The stripes go in lots of different and wiggly directions.
- HOG-NOSED SKUNK
 $7 + 6 + 2 =$
23. The face is black except for one white stripe that runs from the nose to the shoulders. At the shoulders, the stripe splits in two parts, one running down each side of the body.

Skunk's Answer Grid

To find each answer, start at the compass square each time and follow the directions.

Q: How far can skunks spray?
A: Start at compass. Go 1 square north, then 1 square west.

Q: Do skunks ever run out of stinky spray?
A: Start at compass. Go 3 squares north, then 1 square west, then 1 square north.

Q: Where is the skunk's secret weapon?
A: Start at compass. Go 3 squares north. Next, go 1 square east. Then go 1 square south.

Q: What color is the musk skunks spray?
A: Start at compass. Go 4 squares north. Then go 1 square west. Next, go 1 square south.

Q: What are baby skunks called?
A: Start at compass, go 2 squares north.

Q: What is another name for a skunk?
A: Start at compass and go 1 square north. Next, go 1 square west. Then go 2 squares north and then 1 east.

Q: A skunk is about the same size as a _____.
A: From compass, go 2 squares north. Then, go 1 east and 1 south.

Grade: 12

Family members: Mom (Melissa), Dad (Faust IV), Sister (Luisa), Brother (Faust V)

Favorite subject(s): My favorite subject is History because it is a powerful aid in understanding the current political and socioeconomic climate.

Activities: Senior Class President, varsity girls soccer captain, MA Co-president of Model UN/Congress, MA Co-president of Special Needs Awareness Club, Captain of History Trivia team, District 10 violinist, Pennsylvania State Orchestra violinist, Comenius scholar, NHD medalist

Next steps: I would like to attend a 4 year college in order to study History or American Culture Studies.

Career goals: I would like to pursue a P.D. in American history and potentially become an analyst or teacher.

Heroes: My hero is Justice Sandra Day O'Connor who served on the Supreme Court from 1981-2006. I attended a historical Model Congress conference portraying Justice Blackmun, therefore interacted with former cases on which Justice O'Connor was particularly vocal. I truly admire how Justice O'Connor fearlessly assumed the role of the first female justice and paved the way for women in highly admired governmental positions.

Hobbies: I love to play my violin in orchestras, play soccer for my school team, and ski in Big Sky Montana.

Volunteer/community work: I volunteer at soccer camps and Mercy School for Special Learning events, and I tutor kindergartners in both English and math through the Edumate program.

Likes: I like to listen to history podcasts and go on hikes for peace of mind.

Dislikes: I dislike the overuse of the phrase, "at the end of the day," and disrespect toward one's elders.

Greatest accomplishments (so far): Playing in the Pennsylvania state orchestra, running 24 miles in 24 hours, and completing my Comenius Independent Research Project.

Advice for peers: Do not be afraid to join a club or an activity that your friends aren't joining. You will make so many connections with those who share your interests if you step outside of your comfort zone.

MORAVIAN ACADEMY NEWS

By Ellie Capobianco

A successful fall

The school season commenced Aug. 30, but as the winds chill and the leaves change, students have truly begun to settle into their academic schedules, celebrate athletic victories and participate in school wide events.

Country Fair, Moravian Academy's first public event of the year, was held on the Merle-Smith Campus Oct. 1. The fair featured student performances from vocal groups and orchestral ensembles. Student-run clubs created booths in order to fundraise for future events and young students played in the bouncy-houses and small amusement rides.

Although only a little over one month has passed since the first day of school, the Lions have achieved athletic success through their array of fall sports.

The varsity girls tennis team finished its Colonial League season with an undefeated record and sealed its victory through winning the Colonial League Tournament. In addition to capturing the title, the team also broke school history yet again through winning every single tournament match to do so.

The girls tennis team is not the only Moravian Academy athletics team to have made history in the first month of the 2022-23 school year. Despite having lost eight starting seniors last year, the girls soccer team managed to grasp a victory over Northwestern Lehigh. The Moravian Girls Soccer team had yet to beat Northwestern Lehigh in program history: the Lions won the game 1-0 on their home field.

Junior Alicia Gordon kicked the ball into the side netting to score a beautiful goal in the first half of the game. "I am so proud that I was able to play a part in this milestone for our school's soccer program," Gordon said. "Our team has worked incredibly hard this season and I'm so happy that this was reflected in our performance." The team is currently ranked fourth in the Colonial League and hopes to make it to the league finals, making school history for the second time this season.

The cross country team has an extraordinary freshman runner in their midst. Freshman Virginia Kraus has placed first in every girls cross country meet she has competed in thus far in the season.

The field hockey team is currently ranked second in the Colonial League and hopes to grasp the championship title this upcoming week. Its only loss was to Wilson Area early in the season; however, the team managed to tie Wilson in their latest game.

The boys soccer team has suffered a few losses this season, but junior captain George Husack is hopeful looking forward toward the last few games of the regular season. "We have been pretty solid in the back all season and the offense has hit a rhythm in the past couple of games," Husack said. "I think the best way to continue our growth is to keep putting in team effort and a positive mentality".

While there have been a number of athletic accomplishments, upperclassmen are beginning to submit both Comenius Independent Research Project proposals and college applications. The Comenius project allows students the opportunity to investigate an area of interest under a research advisor selected from the campus faculty. Senior Tayden Miller chose to submit a proposal to further research the analytics and strategies of NBA roster construction. "I am excited to have the opportunity to perform my own research on material that is outside of the school curriculum," Miller said. "It is a rare opportunity that I am grateful to have the opportunity to partake in".

Students on the Moravian Academy campus look forward to the rest of the school year with a sense of eagerness as a new head of school takes over, school spirit begins to rise, and sports teams compete in championships.

Finley Odell school's new head

Adrienne Finley Odell has been named the next Head of School at Moravian Academy in Bethlehem. Finley Odell has been serving as the Interim Head of School since July.

Finley Odell came to Moravian Academy from Roycemore School in Evanston, Ill., where she served as Head of School for five years. Previously, she spent seven years at Shorecrest Preparatory School in Florida, first as Director of Advancement and then as Assistant Head of School. She also served as Director of Development for seven years at The Calverton School in Maryland.

"There are so many things to be proud of at Moravian Academy," Finley Odell said in a statement. "From the outstanding academics, to the top-tier athletics, to the inspiring arts program, our campuses are filled with excellent people and programs that offer life-changing opportunities for young people.

"I am thrilled to have the

New head of School Adrienne Finley Odell holds a master's degree in Political Science from the University of Hawai'i Manoa and a B.A. in International Studies and Economics from Ohio State.

opportunity to serve at the helm of a school that is grounded in a storied tradition of academic excellence but is looking boldly forward at the future," she said. "I believe the ultimate purpose of school is to provide an inspired environment for young people to acquire a love of learning through authentic experiences, to gain a deep understanding of themselves and others, and to build confidence to make their own unique contributions to the world."

Bethlehem Area School District

Beck Pooley honored by state association

Dr. Karen Beck Pooley was inducted as the 13th member of the Pennsylvania School Boards Association's Allwein Society at the Sept. 26 Bethlehem Area School Board meeting.

The Allwein Society is a recognition program honoring school directors who are outstanding leaders and advocates on behalf of public schools and students. This prestigious honor was created in 2011 in memory of Timothy M. Allwein, a former PSBA staff member who exemplified the integrity, dedication and commitment to advance political action for the benefit of public education.

"It takes a significant contribution to public education to be inducted," said PSBA CEO Nathan Mains, who presented the award to Dr. Beck Pooley.

Beck Pooley, who had not been aware of her nomination, said, "Thank you. Thank you. Thank you. It's incredibly important and rewarding work, and I'm so proud of what all of us have been able to do for public education, for public school students, for funding that goes to public schools." She attributed her natural inclination for advocacy work to her parents, who are both educators.

Beck Pooley was nominated by Board President Michael Faccinnetto, Superintendent Dr. Joseph Roy and fellow public education advocates. They cited her advocacy efforts at BASD and beyond as the rationale for her nomination.

She organized and has led efforts on behalf of BASD Proud Parents, a group of parents and advocates dedicated to fair funding for education in Pennsylvania. The group petitioned legislators to resist efforts to privatize public education or expand the charter system in Pennsylvania.

Throughout her service, Beck Pooley has taken on increasingly broader regional and statewide roles as a public education advocate. She has partnered with fellow school board directors in the Lehigh Valley and surrounding region. She is a trusted source of information for elected officials and local reporters, authoring numerous op-eds on public education issues. She has participated in press conferences with Governor Tom Wolf and has been invited to provide testimony to House committees.

Beck Pooley began her board service in 2015. She is a professor in the Department of Political Science at Lehigh University, where she teaches courses on city planning, neighborhood planning and housing issues.

PSBA applauds Beck Pooley for her service and commitment to public education and public school students.

Survey says ... Readers trust newspapers

A statewide survey of Pennsylvania registered voters conducted in August 2022 by Public Opinion Strategies for the Pennsylvania NewsMedia Association (PNA) found:

- 85 percent of respondents trust local newspapers in print and online, which is higher than other news media. For more information, turn to PNA President Brad Simpson's op-ed that is part of the PNA National Newspaper Week package.

- 92 percent favor, including 64 percent strongly, current state law requiring public notices to be published in print newspapers.

- 92 percent favor, including 64 percent strongly, expanding the state Right-to-Know Law, which provides citizens the right of access to public records.

- 87 percent say, including 45 percent strongly, that local newspapers help keep people connected to their community.

- 68 percent of the Pennsylvanians surveyed say local newspapers are an important source for news during times of crisis such as the COVID-19 pandemic.

The "Pennsylvania's Newspaper Industry Makes a Significant Impact" report released last year by PNA shows:

- In 2020 the statewide economic impact of the Pennsylvania newspaper industry was $1.3 billion.

- In 2020 the combined impact of charitable giving and volunteerism from the Pennsylvania newspaper industry totaled $6.4 million, which is in addition to the $1.3 billion annual economic impact.

Federal legislation:
 • PNA supports the Journalism Competition & Preservation Act, or JCPA, which would allow news publishers to collectively negotiate with Big Tech for fair compensation for use of their content. For more information, see Trib Total Media President and CEO Jennifer Bertetto's op-ed on the JCPA included in the PNA National Newspaper Week packet. Visit the News/Media Alliance Safe Harbor Center.

- PNA also supports the Local Journalism Sustainability Act, or LJSA, which would provide a series of tax credits for news consumers, news organizations and local newspaper and broadcast advertisers. Visit the News/Media Alliance to learn more.

Shopping is an emotional experience. Finding that perfect pair of shoes, trendy new restaurant or quality home contractor is exciting for the consumer.

Knowing that your advertising message appears in a quality publication and will be seen by potential purchasers is exciting for the retailer.

Pennsylvania newspapers provide both audiences with what you need most. Pennsylvania newspapers engage readers and excite consumers.

Newspapers are a quality platform for advertising messages.

- 82 percent of news media consumers trust print ads.

- Nearly 7 in 10 Pennsylvania adults read a newspaper each week.

- Newspapers are rated as the top news source that operates in an ethical manner and has the public's best interest in mind.

- Newspapers engage consumers of all ages.

- Generation Z: Nearly 7 in 10 Pennsylvania adults, ages 18 to 24, read a newspaper each week.

- Millennials: Three-quarters of Pennsylvania adults, ages 25 to 39, read a newspaper each week.

- Generation X: Three-quarters of Pennsylvania adults, ages 40 to 54, read a newspaper

Next steps: I would like to attend a four-year college to study chemistry. I plan to narrow my field of study down during this time.

Career goals: There's still so much for me to learn and for the science community as a whole to find out, so I would be happy just to be a part of it.

Heroes: My mother, who insisted on becoming a fashion designer despite her teachers telling her she was "too smart" to do such a thing, and my father, who moved to the U.S. when he was 20 to pursue a career as a chef. He became a citizen in 2016.

Hobbies: As previously mentioned, I enjoy running and playing the drums, but I also like drawing in my free time to help refocus my mind.

Current job(s): I'm currently a dishwasher/food runner at the Tavern at the Sun Inn. I take food out to customers and then get to scrub the dishes clean.

Volunteer/community work: Although I haven't been as active as I would have liked to have been in recent months, I enjoyed my time helping out with the play at my old middle school, Northeast. I was a part of the stage crew in 7th and 8th grade, so it felt good to return and give back the experience that I had.

Likes: I like pretty much anything or anyone that can make me laugh. That's partially what inspired me to create the satire section of Liberty's newspaper.

Dislikes: Homework really takes up a lot of my time on weekdays. Some nights I'm up until 11 just to do the bare minimum. However, it really helps me understand what we discuss in class, so I think I just dislike the amount of time in a day.

Greatest accomplishment (so far): I am especially proud of cutting off almost seven minutes from my 5K race time since freshman year.

Advice for peers: It's okay to mess up sometimes. Just do your best to move past it and don't let it be the end of you.

LIBERTY HS NOTES

By Ryan Aburto

A roaring good start for the Hurricanes

Liberty HS started its 101st school year Aug. 29 and has not slowed down for a second.

The LHS football team currently has two wins, against Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg South. This is already one more win than last year, with four more games left in the season, including the Oct. 29 game against cross-town rival, Freedom HS.

For their halftime show this year, Liberty's Grenadier Band (LHSGB) presented "The Season of Soul".

Inspired by the Questlove documentary "Summer of Soul," the show begins with "Everyday People" by Sly and the Family Stone before moving into "I Want You Back" by the Jackson 5. Next is the bagpipe feature, "My Girl" by the Temptations, culminating in the grand finale of "Ain't No Mountain High Enough" by Marvin Gaye and Tammi Terrell.

The girls' volleyball team is currently undefeated with 16 wins. This includes their win against Nazareth at their annual Pink Out game, which raises awareness for breast cancer.

The tradition began years ago as a way to support coach Ginnie Rohn, who passed away in 2011. The game now serves to honor her lasting legacy. Special features of the Pink Out include Chick-fil-a at the concession stand and a decorated hallway outside Liberty's Memorial Gym.

Girls' field hockey is in a race to secure the last spot in the playoffs. Their last regular season game was Oct. 11 against Freedom.

The boys' cross country team is also doing exceptionally well, with seniors Emrick Leshko and Owen Reilly placing first and second respectively at their home meet on Sept. 20. Both the boys' and girls' teams raced at the iconic Paul Short Invitational Sept. 30, with the majority of runners achieving the fastest 5K time in their lives.

The Homecoming Game Sept. 30 against East Stroudsburg South featured celebrating members of the Homecoming Court as they walked down the track before the kick off.

The Homecoming King and Queen were announced at this time, with Avante Kendall named king and, in an unprecedented turn of events, two queens were crowned. Ailiegh Mulligan and Lillianna Paranee received an equal number of votes, so both were recognized as Homecoming Queens.

The Homecoming Dance itself took place the Saturday before the game in the science center parking lot.

Liberty students look forward to all upcoming festivities as the fall sports season winds down. Almost all sports teams have had their senior night by this point, which typically includes a walk out with each player and their parents, as well as a small gift and a sign made in their honor.

Football players and cheerleaders will be recognized at the Freedom-Liberty Bonfire Oct. 27. Come out and support your Hurricanes!

Freedom-Liberty Class of 1970 reunites

BY JENN RAGO
Special to the Bethlehem Press

Delayed two years due to COVID, the Freedom and Liberty high school classes of 1970 finally reunited for their celebration Sept. 26.

Organizer Paulette White Moll said, "The facility [Homewood Suites] was very good about working with us and honoring the original prices. Everything is now coming together."

White Moll explained the unusual connection between what we today see as rival schools. "We went to joint junior high schools - together - and were split up when they opened Freedom in 1967. In 1970 the senior class size was 500 at Freedom and 599 at Liberty. "Since 1970, Freedom has lost 55 classmates and Liberty has lost 106 classmates." White Moll said.

The reunion committee consisted of - Connie Walsh Sentz, Sally Messinger Maragulia, Cynthia Spooner, Veronica Bolcar Pavelko, Paulette White Moll, Steve Goosley, Sally Noel Billiard from Freedom, and graduates from Liberty - Jennifer Mease Ruyak, Kathleen Wambold Resh, Roy Resh, Aileen Wambold Modrick, Nancy Griffis Reinbold, Eileen Muschlitz, Andrea Sotak Soderich, Gary Hartney, Janice Smith, Natalie Epinger Chickey. The last reunion was in 2015, when they had their 45th reunion that also included both schools.

Freedom graduates Mark Wetzel, Cynthia Spooner and Connie Walsh Sentz share a moment at the LHS/FHS 1970 class reunion.

Reunion chairperson Paulette White Moll gets to relax at the 52nd LHS/FHS reunion. Moll graduated from Freedom.

That's where the majority of the damage was," Allentown Symphony Association Executive Director Al Jacobsen says.

The pandemic. A flood. No locusts. Maybe some Spotted lanternflies on center city Allentown sidewalks. Of course, Spotted lanternflies have been most everywhere in the Lehigh Valley region.

Miller Symphony Hall withstood it all.

And the Allentown Symphony Orchestra (ASO) 2022-23 season is underway.

The ASO "Classical Series" Opening Weekend is 7:30 p.m. Oct. 15 and 2 p.m. Oct. 16 with "Beethoven & Rachmaninoff," Miller Symphony Hall, Allentown.

The ASO continued performing in smaller ensembles and via live-streaming during the pandemic shutdown.

Then, a mechanical malfunction happened in Miller Symphony Hall. The end cap on a hot water pipe broke off in February 2022.

"At the time, no one was in the building, so unfortunately the leak continued for some time before it was discovered. It was on the second floor, so it spilled into the first floor.

Damages were estimated at more than $1 million. "Insurance covered the vast majority of the cost. We did receive some donations to assist," says Jacobsen. The damages necessitated canceling one concert.

Miller Symphony Hall will be ready for opening weekend of the "Classical Series," with the full 72-member Allentown Symphony Orchestra on the Main Stage.

"All of the painting and restoration work is complete. Everything has been restored and repaired. And in certain ways, it's better than it used to be," says Jacobsen.

"In the inner lobby, which is where the chandeliers are, the ceiling has been fully restored, with much more gold paint than what it looked like immediately before the accident.

"Right now, it's more back-office things, which is what we're working on," Jacobsen says in a phone interview with Lehigh Valley Press.

Concert-going is back to normal with a full schedule, not only for the Allentown Symphony Orchestra. See MILLER on Page B2

CURTAIN RISES

Act 1 DeSales University Theatre pays tribute to one of the most important figures in 20th Century musical theater with "Side by Side by Sondheim," Oct. 13-23, Schubert Theatre, Labuda Center for the Performing Arts, Center Valley.

The music revue recognizes the wit, wisdom and genius of the late Stephen Sondheim (1930 - 2021), one of Broadway's greatest composers and lyricists who is credited with reinventing the American musical.

His timeless works, including the musicals, "Into the Woods," "Sweeney Todd" and "Sunday in the

"It is hard to overstate

Stephen Sondheim's influence on the American musical theater. He exploded our notions of what a musical could be or could be about. His shows found a way to make the most unsuspecting stories sing," Bell says.

"While other composers and lyricists wrote about the emotions typically worn on the proverbial sleeve, Sondheim instead wrote about the rumblings beneath the surface and, in doing so, he redefined the art form," adds Bell, who is choreographer of the Act 1 production.

The title of the revue is derived from the song "Side by Side by Side" from "Company."

Music and lyrics are by Sondheim with music also by Leonard Bernstein, Richard and Mary Rodgers, and Jule Styne.

The revue is tied together with narration written by Ned Sherrin. The narrator explains what show the songs are from, and provides background on why a See DESALES on Page B5

Classical series

"It's been hard with the pandemic and then the flood," Allentown Symphony Music Director and Conductor Diane Wittry says.

"We're very happy to be back with the full concerts and in-person audiences," says Wittry, who is in her 27th year leading the ASO.

The Oct. 15 and 16 concerts feature Eric Lu, piano, for the Beethoven "Piano Concerto No. 3." Also on the program: Rachmaninoff, "Symphonic Dances," and Tailleferre, "Overture for Orchestra." The Allentown Symphony Chorus precedes the Rachmaninoff.

"I selected Eric Lu just after he won the Leeds International Piano Competition. And at that time, he was 21 and virtually unknown as a soloist," Wittry says, adding, "I took a leap of faith because I felt that he was going to be a really big name. The weekend of Oct. 8, he's playing with the Chicago Symphony, with Riccardo Muti conducting.

"The Tailleferre piece that we're opening with is by a female French composer. It's very rarely performed, but a lot of fun," says Wittry in a phone interview with Lehigh Valley Press.

The Tailleferre work has been performed five times in the past seven years in the United States, according to Wittry.

Germaine Tailleferre (1892 - 1983) was the only female in "Les Six," a group of six composers who lived in Montparnasse, the Left Bank, Paris, France.

The "Classical Series" is preceded by "Meet the Artist," noon Fridays prior to a concert, beginning Oct. 14, with a discussion by Wittry and performers. The event is free and open to the public.

The ASO "Classical Series" continues with "Bernstein's On The Town," 7:30 p.m. Nov. 12 and 2 p.m. Nov. 13. Soloist is Kelly Hall-Tompkins, violin, for the Barber "Violin Concerto." The program includes Vaughan Williams, "Symphony No. 5," and Bernstein, "On The Town: Three Dance Episodes."

"Our soloist for the November concert was soloist several years ago and she was a judge for the Schadt Competition," says Wittry. The 24th Biennial Schadt String Competition held by the ASO was in March 2022.

Wittry will be on the podium for the ASO "Holiday Pops" concert, 2 p.m., 7:30 p.m. Dec. 17, headlined by Broadway star and DeSales University of Performing Arts graduate Phoenix Best.

It's the second year for the ASO "Holiday Pops" concert. Says Wittry, "I love creating these community-based events."

Tom Dressler, choir director, College Hill Presbyterian, Easton, will prepare the choruses, which include, in addition to the Allentown Symphony Chorus, choirs from First Presbyterian Church, Allentown, and College Hill Presbyterian Church.

The high school chorus featured for the Holiday Pops concert will be the Parkland Chorale with Director Alison Lagan.

"Dvorák's 'New World' is 7:30 p.m. Feb. 11 and 2 p.m. Feb. 12, 2023. Soloists are Mimi Stillman, flute, and Frances Duffy, harp. Duffy is principal harp, ASO.

Stillman performs the "Flute Concerto" by Zhou Tian. "We've featured him two times before. We commissioned 'Rise.' He will be in attendance," Wittry says, adding, "We haven't had a flute soloist for a very long, long time, so this is exciting."

The program includes Grant Still, "Ennanga," and "Dvorák," "Symphony No. 9, 'New World.'" Still (1895 - 1978) is an African-American composer. The concert will include dancers from DeSales University.

"Daphnis And Chloe" is 7:30 p.m. March 11 and 2 p.m. March 12, 2023. The program is Boulanger, "Of a Spring Morning" and "Of a Sad Evening"; Ravel, "Rhapsodie espagnole," and "Daphnis and Chloe: Suite No. 2," and Chris Rogerson, "New work for orchestra and chorus, featuring the Allentown Symphony Chorus.

Lili Boulanger (1893 - 1918) died at age 24. Her older sister was composer and teacher Nadia Boulanger.

Lili Boulanger is said to have composed the works in the last three months of her life.

"The reason I paired her with Ravel is because her orchestral colors and textures were so compatible," says Wittry.

Rogerson is the ASO composer-in-residence. "His career is taking off, too. We're very lucky to have him and catch him at this point in his career," Wittry says.

The Ravel features the Allentown Symphony Chorus, for which there are auditions Oct. 27 and Nov. 3, with details on the ASO website.

The "Classical Series" finale is "Tchaikovsky's Fourth," 7:30 p.m. April 15 and 2 p.m. April 16, 2023. Soloist is Leonard Fu, violin. The program is Coleridge-Taylor, "The Song of Hiawatha Overture"; Elgar, "Violin Concerto," and Tchaikovsky, "Symphony No. 4."

The concert is the Bill Fenza Memorial Concert, sponsored by Joan Moran. Fenza, who died in 2020, and Moran were married.

"Leonard Fu is the Schadt Competition winner. The Elgar is the one that he won with. Coleridge-Taylor was also a British composer and was mentored by Elgar. So, I think that's a really nice connection there. And ending with Tchaikovsky Four. What a fantastic piece to end the season with," Wittry says.

Pops concerts

In addition to the "Holiday Pops," Wittry will conduct two other pops concerts, each of which a pandemic postponement.

"The Brubeck Brothers - A Dave Brubeck Celebration" is 7:30 p.m. Jan. 21.

"I really wanted to do this concert because I am personal friends with Chris Brubeck, one of the sons. We've done a lot of concerts over the years," Wittry says.

Chris Brubeck plays trombone and electric bass. Dan Brubeck plays drums. They will be accompanied by a keyboard player and guitarist. The group will perform "Take Five" and other jazz pieces played by Dave Brubeck (1920 - 2012).

"They're going to tell childhood stories and have pictures and video," says Wittry. The concert was originally to have been presented in January 2021.

The other pandemic postponement pops concert for the 2022 - 23 season is "The Music of John Williams," 7:30 p.m. May 6, also to be conducted by Wittry. The concert, originally scheduled for September 2021, will feature the Easton High School Chorus.

The 2022-23 Pops Series opened with "From Broadway to Hollywood," Sept. 24, and concludes with "Disney in Concert: A Magical Celebration," 7:30 p.m. July 15, 2023.

Wittry reflects on the 2022 - 23 ASO season:

"This whole season brings back some people that we've had a relationship with.

"One of my goals is to continue relationships with composers, living composers over multiple years and also identify women composers and composers of different ethnicities."

Wittry was asked about the effect of the pandemic on the ASO:

"We lost a full year of live performances with the orchestra playing and audiences attending.

"During the pandemic and with trends across the United States, as people began exploring music online, it opened up their ears and curiosity. So the program this year, features persons of color, women, unusual works and world premieres."

The ASO and Miller Symphony Hall has many milestones upcoming:

ASO Associate Conductor Ron Demkee has announced his retirement. Demkee conducts a pops concert of Elton John songs in 2023. Demkee's final concert before retirement is a pops concert of the music of Ella Fitzgerald and Frank Sinatra in 2024.

"My 25th anniversary concert was delayed two years," says Wittry, referring to the ASO concert, "The Pines of Rome," April 23 and 24, 2022.

The 25th anniversary of the National Schadt String Competition is part of the 2023 - 24 season.

The 100th anniversary of Miller Symphony Hall is part of the 2024 - 25 season.

The 75th anniversary of the Allentown Symphony Orchestra is part of the 2025 - 26 season.

Pandemic lessons
Wittry recounted lessons learned from the pandemic:

"We all appreciate so much more the opportunity to go to a live concert and sharing that experience. Before we took it for granted. I can't tell you how many musicians came in and thanked us for having concerts. There's a feeling of gratefulness and appreciation that came out of the pandemic.

"Because of Zoom and this ability to converse with people in other parts of the country and the world, it exposed us to new ideas and challenged us to think differently.

"The last thing is the way that the last two years opened up our minds to explore new repertoire, to do pieces that you maybe wouldn't have programmed but now you're delighted to do them."

The Family Concert, 2 p.m. Feb. 25, 2023, returns in person.

"That's really about exploring all the music instruments," says Wittry.

"Last year, we took the music into the schools. We did a touring 'Peter and the Wolf.' It's important for them to hear the music and attend a concert in Miller Symphony Hall, and take them to another world."

Jacobsen has made sure that world goes round, pandemic or not.

Miller Symphony Hall closed down in March 2020. Remembers Jacobsen:

"The last concert was a BRE rock show, March 12, 2020, Steve Hackett of Genesis. And that was the day that the governor announced that everything was going to close down the next day."

That would have been Friday the 13th. The Ides of March was two days away.

Zoom stream

"We remained active in many ways. El Sistema went online March 2020. They began doing Zoom the week of March 23. The program only went down for a week," says Jacobsen.

"We had to cancel concerts that spring and summer [2020]. In the fall, we began to have concerts with invite-only audiences that then were streamed, with members of the orchestra as well as jazz groups. We remained active through the pandemic.

"We did that in-house. We had amongst our staff and stage hands some expertise in videography. We made some purchases of new equipment. We could record and edit the videos in-house, which was really a huge savings."

The live-streaming continued through 2020. In June 2021, the ensemble sizes were increased. The first live, in-person concert, with limited seating, was in July 2021 with jazz on the main stage.

Streaming of jazz concerts continued in July and August 2021. The online audience dwindled.

"A lot of the people who had been watching were buying tickets to come in person."

Live, in-person, Allentown Symphony Pops concerts resumed in September 2021. The live in-person Allentown Symphony "Classical Series" resumed in October 2021.

Jacobsen reflects: "There were still a lot of unknowns. We planned that fall with October and November [2021] so that the instrumentation was a bit smaller. And if we needed to, we could reduce the number of musicians on stage. We ended up not having to do that."

Federal funding

Jacobsen says the budget of the Allentown Symphony Association, which owns and operates Miller Symphony Hall and the Allentown Symphony Orchestra, has returned to its former status:

"We are back where we've been. Historically, the budget was $3 million. Now it's about $3.2 million.

"We were very fortunate. Because we continued streaming, we were able to fundraise."

Jacobsen says sponsorships and grants got the organization through the pandemic times.

"We received PPP [Paycheck Protection Program] loans. Those were forgivable loans. We received several grants that filtered down from the CARES [Coronavirus Aid, Relief and Economic Security] Act at the state and county level.

"The other notable one was SVOG [Shuttered Venue Operators Grant]. Those grants really saved us, in addition to the fund-raising and managing expenses.

"All of the staff, including myself and Diane [Wittry] did take a pay cut during the pandemic."

Jacobsen estimates that stimulus and Covid funding totaled "a little over $1 million."

Inflation as a cost of doing business has impacted the organization.

"We do have union contracts that have been agreed to. We planned for wage changes. When it comes to purchasing supplies and costs from vendors we've seen increases like so many others because of inflation."

Jacobsen agreed with Wittry that lessons from the pandemic pertain to the importance of live performance:

"From a professional standpoint and what we do, one takeaway is that it did show us how meaningful and valuable live performance is.

"What we're seeing, and we're seeing this across the country, we're seeing this in the sports area, and entertainment, one of the negative things is that it broke people's habits. That is something that a lot of us are still dealing with.

"At the Allentown Symphony, we've done a real good job of hanging onto the majority of season subscribers for the 2022 - 23 season for ASO classical and pops, compared to 2019 - 20 [a pre-pandemic season in the "Before Times"]."

"We are at 94 percent of the number of subscribers. And we have new subscribers this season. The challenge, though, we're seeing is the single ticket sales. Holiday pops is selling well. But single tickets are not where they were before."

BRE, which produces concerts at Miller Symphony Hall, presented three shows there in Spring 2022: Straight No Chaser, which was postponed twice, and Get the Led Out and Joe Jackson. Each concert sold well.

The pandemic produced a knock-on effect of cancellations, postponements and rescheduling:

"Because of so many cancellations, it definitely disturbed the market," said Jacobsen.

Finding right words can be a struggle

Dear Jacquelyn,
I recently met up with a friend I haven't seen in months. We were catching up and she mentioned that she just lost her job. I was at a loss for the right thing to say and said nothing at all. What do you say when someone shares an unhappy life event?

Dear Reader,
Finding the right words when someone is struggling is not easy. We find that words seem trivial and fail us. This is especially true when we are caught off guard. We immediately find ourselves searching

RESPECTFULLY YOURS
By Jacquelyn Youst

for the right thing to say. You were not prepared for your friend's unfortunate news, and felt that you needed to say the "right thing" simply because you didn't want to say the wrong thing.

When a friend is experiencing a rough patch, it's natural to feel awkward and uncomfortable. But, it's better to appear awkward than uncaring.

The best you can try to do is say something encouraging, such as "I'm so sorry to hear that." Your words don't have to be something profound and deep to make a difference.

You could say, "What can I do to help you?" Or you could say, "If you want to talk, I'm here to listen."

Show that you care and that the person is not alone. Don't overthink things. Overthinking will get you stuck between options for what to say and nothing will come out.

Please know that it's not rude or bad manners when you find yourself lacking the perfect words. Being available, lending your ear, and showing compassion are the very essence of good manners.

It's a blessing to have people in your life who are comfortable enough to share life's ups and downs without judgment.

Respectfully Yours,
Jacquelyn

The power of one

He seems like the least person to be called "powerful."

His longish hair always hangs down over his face and he keeps tossing his head to get his hair out of his eyes.

His voice is soft. His speech is hesitant and he's laid-back to the point of seeming lethargic.

But don't be fooled. Robert is one powerful guy. I've gotten a kick out of watching how this unassuming guy is transforming a neighborhood.

He's changing it from a street of strangers where no one knew his neighbors to a street of caring people interacting with each other.

At first, during my early conversations with Robert, we just exchanged a few words as I walked by. Gradually, we talked a bit more, agreeing that the neighborhood had changed so much.

For decades, older people owned homes along Robert's block. Most were in failing health and kept to themselves.

Eventually, one by one, they put their homes up for sale.

Robert can't get credit for bringing a much younger crowd to the neighborhood. The real estate market that continues to bring in people from all over the country changed the demographics as younger folks brought homes.

Still, it was a street of strangers with little or no interaction of neighbors.

I told Robert about my own neighborhood where we found a way to gather people together in an unthreatening way. Because so many are now "snowbirds" hailing from places around the country we devised a simple party plan.

This is how it works. Each Friday during season we all bring what we want to drink along with a folding chair, setting it under a big oak tree. The chairs are placed in a big circle where residents can easily introduce themselves and meet their neighbors.

It's a great way to have a party. No one has to do any work, it's easy to talk with people and when cars drive by and see us there, sometimes they pull over and join us.

When I told Robert about it, he said he needed to find a place on his block where people could gather. Robert recruited another couple and they went all out to plan a neighborhood block party. They got permission from officials to close the street because it's a dead end without much traffic.

It hasn't taken place yet and I'm not sure how it will work out. But it already accomplished its purpose: It got people talking.

For his part, Robert went around gathering e-mail addresses so he can keep residents informed.

When one neighbor said she needed someone to water her plants while she was away, Robert volunteered to do it.

When he saw an ambulance pull up at the home of an elderly resident, he went over to help. Informed by the EMT that the 93-year-

WARMEST REGARDS
By Pattie Mihalik

old woman wasn't going to make it, Robert and his wife went to the hospital to be with her. "No one should have to die alone," he said.

When the elderly woman rallied and was sent home, Robert went to see her neighbors, asking each one to provide a meal for the woman. He drew up a schedule so she would have food every day.

The woman was stunned to have such an outpouring from her neighbors. She told me she lived on the street for decades and never had a visit from a neighbor. Now, she is enjoying the comradery when neighbors bring her food and chat a bit.

It's no longer a street of strangers and Robert deserves much of the credit.

What it showed me was "the power of one."

We tend to think one person can't do much to bring about drastic change.

Robert proved otherwise.

He remains at the heart of his neighborhood activity.

My friend Andy also proved "the power of one."

When he moved into our Rotonda West neighborhood he was excited to put his pontoon boat in the canal behind our homes.

For Christmas, he put lights on the boat and offered free rides to anyone wanting to come along.

He got ridiculed for that. "Doesn't he know the canal is only a spittoon, not the ocean," some jeered.

That was more than 10 years ago. Since then, dozens of pontoon owners form a convey and join Andy in offering rides to anyone wanting to join the fun.

A few pontoon owners have moved into the community just for those canal conveys.

Hundreds of people have come on the rides, enjoying seeing the wildlife and discovering the joy of being outside in nature.

For St. Paddy's Day the lighted boat parade included a bagpiper and Irish songs.

I was on the bank of the river along with more than a thousand people, enjoying the music, singing along and then seeing the lighted boats.

It was fun for all. The thought that ran through my head was that it one man, my friend Andy, that made all this a community event.

It's the power of one. We tend to think "we're only one." We think one person can't do much to bring about change.

Sometimes it just takes one.

Much of the good that happens in a community started with one person with the desire to make things better.

Look around in your own community and I bet you'll find some of the improvements started with the spark of one person's vision.

Bypass surgery technique and aftermath

Q. I may have to undergo bypass surgery and I heard that it can really mess up your mind. Is that true?

If you have coronary bypass surgery, you could suffer from what some in the healthcare profession call "pump head."

During traditional surgery, a patient is put on a heart-lung bypass pump to oxygenate and circulate blood. This machine may create clots that could harm the brain.

In addition, a surgeon handling the aorta, the main heart artery, can free bits of accumulated plaque and these can block blood vessels in the brain.

Some patients report a memory loss. Or, they say they are confused. Some feel that they just aren't as mentally sharp as they had been.

These side-effects seem to be more common among people who are older, drink too much or suffer from high blood pressure or lung disease.

There's a lot of disagreement among experts over the entire subject of the mental effects of bypass surgery.

One study indicated that only half of those undergoing bypass surgery developed memory or thinking problems within days after the operation, and that these problems continued for five years.

However, other researchers found that mental deficiencies are common after bypass surgery, but that most people recuperate in three to 12 weeks. The pump-head phenomenon led to the development of "beating-heart bypass." It's done without using a heart-lung machine. About one in five bypass operations is now done with a beating heart.

In a bypass, an incision is made down the center of the chest to expose the heart. The surgeon takes a section of healthy blood vessel, often from inside the chest wall or from the lower leg, and attaches the ends above and below the blocked artery so that blood flow is diverted around the narrowed portion of the diseased artery. This eases angina, the chest pain that comes when there is an insufficient supply of oxygenated blood.

Because the heart beats constantly, it needs a steady flow of fuel. If a fuel shortage is serious, you have a heart attack and muscle begins to die. Heart attack is known officially as "myocardial infarction."

The surgery usually takes between three and six hours. On average, surgeons repair two to four coronary arteries. After surgery, patients spend a day or two in the intensive care unit. Recovery takes six to 12 weeks.

About 500,000 Americans a year have coronary bypass surgery. For every 100 Americans who undergo it, one to two die within one month and two to three have a stroke. The long-term results of the surgery are excellent.

Among the techniques in development is minimally invasive heart surgery which uses smaller incisions (about three inches) and has many benefits. It may be an option for some patients.

Walk, or run, in-person or virtually, for LCCC 'Fall Fitness Fest' 5K, 10K

Lehigh Carbon Community College (LCCC) and its Foundation will hold the Fall Fitness Fest 5K and 10K event Oct. 29 to benefit LCCC students and the college's food pantry.

Participants can also choose to complete the race virtually Oct. 23-29.

LCCC's live event will take place rain or shine on a challenging, picturesque route on the college's main campus in Schnecksville. Registration begins at 7:30 a.m., with the 10K run starting at 9 a.m. and the 5k Run/Walk at 9:10 a.m.

Prizes will be awarded at the conclusion. The first 100 registrants will receive a free t-shirt. Free food will be available.

Participants of the Virtual 5K Run/Walk or 10K Run can complete the race anywhere, in their neighborhood, on the trail, around the track, and anytime between Oct. 23 and 29.

Use a fitness tracking app or wearable device to track your time. Once completed, download your recorded time and send results to foundation@lccc.edu no later than 6 p.m. Oct. 30. Results should include: Hr:Minute:Sec along with your full name, city, town and state. Also, feel free to share photos.

The race is geared to motivate LCCC students and employees, as well as friends, family and alumni, and the community to get out and exercise, while raising funds to benefit LCCC students. The 2021 "Fall Fitness Fest" raised more than $11,000.

LCCC Spring semester registration offered

Registration for classes offered through the spring 2023 semester at Lehigh Carbon Community College (LCCC) is now available to all new and continuing students.

Students can register online for courses that are offered in person, online or remotely, or in a hybrid format.

The 14-week spring session starts Jan. 23 and ends May 15, 2023.

In addition, LCCC offers several accelerated spring semester options. There are two seven-week sessions: Jan. 23 - March 12, and March 19 - May 15. A 10-week option begins Feb. 20.

Registration for the accelerated winter online session, Dec. 19 - Jan. 19, 2023, is also available now.

Information: www.lccc.edu/winter
New students can apply for admission at www.lccc.edu

Tuition and fees for LCCC's winter session and spring semester are due on or before Dec. 7, and after that date are due at the time of registration.

A payment plan is available and can be set up through the myLCCC portal. Students can pay online or in person at the Business Office in Schnecksville, as well as sites in Tamaqua and Allentown.

Information: LCCC Admissions Office, 610-799-1575.

Turning Point LV awareness vigil on domestic violence

Turning Point of Lehigh Valley's annual event for "Domestic Violence Awareness Month" is the "Candlelight Vigil," 6:30 p.m. Oct. 19, Charles Chrin Community Center of Palmer Township, 4100 Green Pond Road, Palmer Township.

Doors open at 6 p.m. The event is free and open to the public.

The theme of this year's vigil is "Every1KnowsSome1," emphasizing that domestic violence can happen to anyone and is more prevalent than many realize.

A "Week of Action" is planned Oct. 17-23 to engage advocates, partners and the public.

There will be two "GiveForDV" Giving Days," Oct. 19 and Nov. 29.

Each year in October, advocates, survivors and supporters recognize "Domestic Violence Awareness Month."

This fall, Turning Point of Lehigh Valley is joining the National Network to End Domestic Violence in its national and statewide combined campaign for "Domestic Violence Awareness Month" and "GiveForDV," created by the Pennsylvania Coalition Against Domestic Violence.

The goal of the joint initiatives is to start a coordinated national conversation about domestic violence and how people can contribute to changing the narrative on this overshadowed, but fundamental topic, then build on that conversation to raise awareness, increase donations and volunteer efforts, and deepen community engagement by connecting nationwide.

One in four women and one in seven men will experience severe physical violence by an intimate partner in their lifetimes, according to statistics. Anyone, regardless of gender, race, sexual identity or orientation, or socio-economic status, can become a victim of domestic violence.

This year's campaign theme, "#Every1KnowsSome1," strives to highlight how common domestic violence is and that it is more than physical violence.

In fiscal year 2021-2022, Turning Point reached more than 3,500 adults, children and teens in Lehigh and Northampton counties who experienced or witnessed domestic and intimate partner abuse.

10th SOTA 'Authors' Luncheon

CONTRIBUTED PHOTO

The Society of the Arts (SOTA) 10th "Luncheon with the Authors" was Oct. 8, Lehigh County Club, Salisbury Township. An estimated 170 attended the event, which benefits the Allentown Art Museum. From left: Maryann Dattilio, "Luncheon with the Authors" Co-Chair; Fiona Davis, author, "The Magnolia Palace"; Brittany Sweeney, emcee, PBS39; Stacy Willingham, author, "A Flicker in the Dark"; Liz Scheier, author, "Never Simple - A Memoir," and Diane MacConnell, "Luncheon with the Authors" Co-Chair. At the luncheon, authors spoke about their books and answered questions. The 2022 luncheon was the first all in-person luncheon since 2019 for the event. The 2020 luncheon was held online because of the coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic shutdown. The 2021 luncheon was in-person except for one author.

The 'House' whisperer

AT THE MOVIES
By Paul Willistein
pwillistein@nonline.com

You may need a good rinse afterward.

In "The Good House," Hildy Good (Sigourney Weaver) is a Realtor who lists high-end homes that would show well on the "Million Dollar Listing" reality TV show. The houses that Good represents for sale don't need home staging.

Good is another matter. She needs more than staging. She needs an intervention. She's buying red wine by the case and sneaking it into the cellar of her house. She's doing this even though she claims to be in rehab and has told her daughters that she has stopped drinking alcohol.

Good needs to make, ahem, good, on closing a sale. A pending sale won't do. Her own home mortgage is expensive. And the Range Rover she drives may be repossessed.

There are traumatic triggers that we see in flashbacks that may explain Good's attempts at self-medication. Fortunately, for Good, her rendezvous with Frank Getchell (Kevin Kline) becomes an intervention of sorts.

Sigourney Weaver ("Avatar," 2009; Oscar nominee, actress, "Gorillas in the Mist: The Story of Dian Fossey," 1988; Oscar nominee, supporting actress, "Working Girl," 1988; Oscar nominee, actress, "Aliens," 1986) gives a brave, disarming and charming performance as Hildy.

The film's directors' and screenwriters' use of direct address, whereby Hildy (Weaver) looks directly into the camera lens and, in a confidential tone, talks to the audience, as an aside or inner monologue, is used too frequently and become awkward.

Kevin Kline ("I Love You to Death," 1990, based on the true story of Frances Toto and her unsuccessful attempts to kill her husband, pizza shop owner Anthony Toto, in Allentown, Pennsylvania, in 1984; Oscar recipient, supporting actor, "A Fish Called Wanda," 1988) underplays the role magnificently.

It's the third time that Kline and Weaver have teamed up on the big screen. They costarred in the comedy, "Dave" (1993), where they were in another house, The White House, with Kline as stand-in for president of the United States and Weaver as the real First Lady. They also co-starred in the drama, "The Ice Storm" (1997), which took place in another dysfunctional New England house.

In supporting roles are Morena Baccarin (Rebecca), Rob Delaney (Peter) and David Rasche (Scott).

Directors Maya Forbes (screenwriter, "Trolls 2: World Tour," 2020; screenwriter, "A Dog's Journey," 2019; director-screenwriter, "The Polka King," 2017; director-screenwriter, "Infinity Polar Bear," 2014; screenwriter, "Monsters vs. Aliens," 2009; Emmy nominee, TV's "The Larry Sanders Show," 1996, 1995, 1994) and her husband, Wallace Wolodarsky (director-screenwriter, "Seeing Other People," 2004; Two-time Emmy recipient, TV's "The Simpsons," 1991; "The Tracey Ullman Show," 1987) direct from a screenplay they co-wrote with Thomas Bezucha (director, screenwriter, "Let Him Go") based on the best-selling novel by Ann Leary.

"The Good House" shows nicely. Buyer beware: It's a real fixer-upper. Remember, it may be "The Good House." But it might not be "A Good Home."

"The Good House," MPAA Rated R (Restricted: Under 17 requires accompanying parent or adult guardian.) for brief sexuality and language; Genre: Comedy, Drama. Run time: 1 hour, 44 minutes. Distributed by Roadside Attractions.

Credit Readers Anonymous: "The Good House" soundtrack includes "Reflections of My Life" by Marmalade, a perfect Yacht Rock tune for a Yacht Rock movie; "Bring It On Home to Me," by Sam Cooke, and "Down to Zero" by Joan Armatrading.

At the Movies: "The Good House" was seen in the Movie Tavern at Trexlertown.

Theatrical Movie Domestic Box Office, Oct. 7-9: "Smile" turned that frown upside down for a second straight week at No. 1, with $17 million, in 3,659 theaters, $49.8 million, keeping the animation and live-action musical comedy, "Lyle, Lyle, Crocodile," starring former Lehigh Valley resident Winslow Fegley, opening at No. 2, with $11.5 million, in 4,350 theaters, and the star-studded comedy "Amsterdam," opening at No. 3, with $6.5 million, in 3,005 theaters.

4. "The Woman King" dropped one place, $5.3 million, in 3,342 theaters, $54.1 million, four weeks. 5. "Don't Worry Darling" dropped three places, $3.4 million, in 3,324 theaters, $38.4 million, three weeks. 6. "Avatar" 2022 re-release dropped two places, $2.5 million, in 2,040 theaters, $23.3 million, three weeks. 7. "Barbarian" stayed in place, $2.1 million, in 2,160 theaters, $36.5 million, five weeks. 8. "Bros" dropped three places, $2.1 million, in 3,356 theaters, $8.8 million, two weeks. 9. "Terrifier 2," opening, $825,000, in 886 theaters. 10. "Top Gun: Maverick" stayed in place, $800,000, in 1,127 theaters, $714.6 million, 20 weeks. 16. "The Good House" dropped two places, $347,210, in 989 theaters, $1.5 million, two weeks.

Movie box office information from Box Office Mojo as of Oct. 9 is subject to change.

Unreel, Oct. 14: "Til," PG-13: Chionye Chukwu directs Jalyn Hall, Danielle Deadwyler, Frankie Faison and Haley Bennett in the drama based on the true story of the lynching of a black teen in 1955 in Mississippi.

"She Said," R: Maria Schrader directs Samantha Morton, Carey Mulligan and Patricia Clarkson in the Drama based on the 2019 book by Jodi Kantor and Megan Twohey that let to the #MeToo movement about sexual assault in Hollywood and movie producer Harvey Weinstein.

"The Whale," No MPAA rating: Darren Aronofsky directs Brendan Fraser, Sadie Sink, Hong Chau, Ty Simpkins and Samantha Morton in the Drama. An overweight English teacher tries to make amends with his teen-age daughter.

"Halloween Ends," R: David Gordon Green directs Jamie Lee Curtis, Kyle Richards, Andi Matichak and Stephanie McIntyre in the Horror film. The spine-tingler about Michael Myers and Laurie Strode concludes. Or does it?

The following is the proposed Amendment to the Hanover Township Zoning Ordinance without Exhibits "A" and "B":

ORDINANCE NO. 22-

AN ORDINANCE OF THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF THE TOWNSHIP OF HANOVER, COUNTY OF NORTHAMPTON, COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA, TO AMEND THE OFFICIAL ZONING MAP OF THE HANOVER TOWNSHIP ZONING ORDINANCE CHAPTER 185 OF THE CODIFIED CODE OF THE TOWNSHIP OF HANOVER TO PROVIDE FOR THE AMENDMENT OF CHAPTER 185 SECTION 185-8 OF THE CODIFIED CODE OF THE TOWNSHIP OF HANOVER BY REZONING OF A CERTAIN TRACT OF LAND LOCATED AT 300 GATEWAY DRIVE AND CENTER STREET, HANOVER TOWNSHIP, PENNSYLVANIA FROM COMMERCIAL CENTER DISTRICT (C-2) TO PLANNED INDUSTRIAL BUSINESS DISTRICT (PIBD); REPEALING ALL ORDINANCES OR PARTS OF ORDINANCES INCONSISTENT HERewith; PROVIDING A SEVERABILITY CLAUSE; AND PROVIDING AN EFFECTIVE DATE.

WHEREAS, pursuant to the Pennsylvania Municipalities Planning Code 53 P.S. 1010 et seq., of the Board of Supervisors of the Township of Hanover, Northampton County, Pennsylvania desires to amend Chapter 185 Zoning, Section 185-8 of the Code of Ordinances to provide for the amendment to the Zoning Map to rezone certain property located at 300 Gateway Drive and Center Street, Hanover Township from Commercial Center District (C-2) to Planned Industrial Business District (PIBD); and

WHEREAS, the Board of Supervisors of the Township of Hanover, Northampton County, Pennsylvania finds that the proposed amendment will promote, protect, and facilitate the public health, safety and welfare; and

WHEREAS, The Board of Supervisors of the Township of Hanover has conducted a public hearing pursuant to public notice concerning the following amendment to the Hanover Township Zoning Ordinance as set forth hereinafter.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED AND ENACTED by the Board of Supervisors of the Township of Hanover, County of Northampton, and Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as follows:

SECTION 1. The Board of Supervisors of Hanover Township, Northampton County, Pennsylvania, under powers vested by the "Second Class Township Code" of Pennsylvania and the authority and procedures of the "Pennsylvania Municipalities Planning Code," as amended as well as other laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, does hereby enact and ordain the following amendments to the Hanover Township Zoning Ordinance, as amended.

SECTION 2. ZONING MAP. Chapter 185 Zoning, Section 185-8 Zoning Map of the Codified Code of the Township of Hanover is hereby amended by amending the existing Zoning Map, as revised, by changing the current zoning classification of the land at 300 Gateway Drive and Center Street, Hanover Township, Northampton County, Pennsylvania highlighted in yellow on the map attached hereto as Exhibit "A", and described in the tax parcel numbers which are attached hereto as Exhibit "B", from the current Commercial Center District (C-2) to Planned Industrial Business District (PIBD).

SECTION 3. If a court of competent jurisdiction declares any provision of this amendment to be invalid in whole or in part, the effect of such decision shall be limited to those provisions expressly stated in the decision to be invalid, and all other provisions of this amendment to the Hanover Township Zoning Ordinance shall continue to be separately and fully effective.

SECTION 4. All provisions of Township ordinances and resolutions or parts thereof that were adopted prior to this amendment to the Hanover Township Zoning Ordinance and that are in conflict with this amendment to the Hanover Township Zoning Ordinance are hereby repealed.

SECTION 5. This Ordinance shall become effective in five (5) days.

PUBLIC NOTICE
DRINKING WATER PUBLIC NOTIFICATION

(September 12, 2022) The Borough of Catsauqua has approved the Catsauqua Municipal Water Works to discontinue the addition of fluoride to its drinking water. The motion was brought forth at the August 29, 2022, Borough Council meeting. The Council approved the motion to terminate the practice of adding fluoride.

This notice serves as advanced notice to customers and medical professionals of the transition from a fluoridated to a non-fluoridated system. The transition is expected to be complete in 2022. Customers will not notice any changes in their service and will be notified when the transition is complete.

The Borough of Catsauqua thanks residents for their patience and cooperation as we make this change. For more information on fluoride in drinking water, please use the following resources:
