

Horn, Lloyd E.

Bethlehem Captain In Portable "PX" In So. Pacific

A portable post exchange, designed by a young second lieutenant for mounting on a trailer, makes it easier for Marines on a South Pacific island to get their supplies of "pogey bait" (candy) and smokes. This is a view of the portable job, dismounted and ready for action. Back of the counter are, left to right: Pvt. Lloyd E. Horn, 20, of St. Joseph, Mo.; Second Lt. Robert I. Lord, 24, of

Nashville, Tenn., who designed the "PX"; Capt. William B. Simpson, 25, of 34 West Church Street, Bethlehem, Pa.; Thomas R. Graf, 28, storekeeper second class, USNR, of Los Angeles; Pvt. Robert G. Smith, 19, of Marshfield, Wis., and Cpl. Chester V. Johnson, 24, of Coeur de Alene, Idaho. All except the officers are employed in the "PX."
