

Thomas, Harold P.

Now Lieut. Colonel

AUG 1 1944

Major Harold P. Thomas, who is on leave as head of the department of education and director of the Summer Session at Lehigh University, has just been promoted to the rank of Lieutenant Colonel, his wife has been informed. He has also been transferred from Africa to Italy where he will now make his headquarters in directing the special services educational program for that area.

Lt. Col. Thomas, a veteran of World War I, accepted a commission late in 1942 and has been in service overseas most of the time since then.

August 1, 1944