

Nuss, Gerald

Soldier Talks to Sunday School

During the session of the primary department of St. Peter's Lutheran Sunday School Sunday, Corporal Gerald Nuss, stationed at Fort Lewis, Wash., who is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Nuss, of Finady Avenue, on a furlough, spoke to the children and teachers of the department on Sunday morning of his work in the service.

He stated that he was missing St. Peter's Church activities in which he took part while at home. He is a former secretary and librarian of the primary department and attended the Luther League meetings.

Corporal Nuss plans to attend the Holy Communion service next Sunday morning in St. Peter's Church. He will return to Fort Lewis Monday.
