

DeWalt, Harold

Corp. Technician

Harold DeWalt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence DeWalt, Butztown, now wears the chevrons of a corporal technician. He attended an ordnance school at Aberdeen, Md., where he learned instrument repair work. He is now stationed at Goffs, Calif., and is home on furlough. He was employed for two years by the Morris Jewelers, entering service January 20, 1943.

July 24, 1943